CN Lines in West Get Welded Rail

WINNIPEG — They're taking the clickety-clack out of railroading.

In Canadian National Railways' Transcona yards in Winnipeg, miles of continuous welded rail are turned out by the carloads for the railways' new Symington freight yard and Western Canada lines. Welded rail is linking 39-foot sections of rail by high-speed welds into quarter mile lengths.

In the west, CNR is laying welded rail between Geikie, Alberta and Yellowhead, B.C.; between Clair and Meunster in Saskatchewan and Rivers and Quadra in Manitoba.

Instead of 240 clickety-clacks to the mile, passengers travelling over these sections of CN lines will only hear 8 clicks per mile. No clacks!

CEREB PALSY [illegible]

The Edmonton Cerebral Palsy clinic has now functioned for ten years. During this period 725 crippled children from Northern Alberta have been examined in Edmonton, two-thirds of whom have turned out to be cerebral palsied. In all instances where the mentality of the child warranted physical and educational training they have received active treatment in the clinic. Duration of this treatment has varied from one month to several years. Where treatment has been continued, all children have shown excellent improvement. Some have gone on to suitable employment and inclusion in the general employment [illegible].

Although the backlog of untreated cases which existed prior to the advent of the clinics has been largely caught up, there is still a birth rate of seven cerebral palsy victims in 100,000 of our population per year. As the population increases, the problem will not only persist but increase in proportion, since no method of preventing this condition has, as yet, been discovered.

TELEVISION SHOWS TOO TOUGH FOR CHILDREN?

Here is the kind of television fare your children may see between 3:30 in the afternoon and 7:00 at night. At any time during this period youngsters may witness violence as shown in the above photographs. Experts are divided on whether sex and violence as seen on television is harmful to juvenile viewers. Some say that it is the seed of juvenile delinquency while others say the sight of brutal acts as portrayed on the screen may purge children of similar feelings. Most violent shows appear on U.S. networks while children's programing on CBC is kept strictly on the light side with locally produced educational shows and network cartoons.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Government Co-operation Leads To Community Owned Natural Gas System At Lac la Biche

By [illegible]

EDMONTON — Biggest news item to come out of the Legislative Building in the capital last week was a daring $57,000 robbery.

Four hoods who had obviously cased the job with [illegible], broke into the building early in the morning, bound and gagged two night attendants, and made off with a safe from the office of the civil service credit union.

When you stop to think about it, the Legislative building is a fairly easy place to rob. There are only a couple or so men on duty at night and the building is in a part of the city which isn't visited too frequently by police on their regular patrols.

Usually though there is no point in pulling off a robbery in the building because government offices aren't in the habit of keeping large amounts of cash on hand.

The robbers obviously knew the night they picked was the one night in the month when the credit union office would be loaded with cash. At the end of every month the credit union manager stocks up on money to cash pay cheques for civil servants. The money was left in a small safe in the [illegible].

The consensus around the building is that leaving the money in the safe was a bad mistake especially after the restaurant operator in the nearby Highways building was robbed of $17,000 just a month ago. The credit union money could have been locked up in one of several big vaults in the building.

The joke making the rounds of government employees last week was that some civil servant was so unhappy about his salary reclassification he decided to make up for it all at once.

CELEBRATE TURNING ON OF NATURAL GAS

Mike Maccagno of Lac La Biche is Alberta's lone Liberal MLA. But you wouldn't have guessed it last week when that town officially turned on its new $210,000 municipal natural gas system.

Mike, who cares quite a bit more for his constituents than he does for party politics, invited Premier Manning and Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman to be guests of the town for the occasion.

They took him up on it and sat at the head table as some 300 townspeople attended a banquet to congratulate themselves on being the first community to finance its own gas system through the local sale of revenue bonds.

Party politics were forgotten. Mike paid tribute to the premier and the treasurer, saying that without their co-operation Lac La Biche would not have had its own gas system. And Premier Manning paid tribute to Mike telling the audience how hard he worked on getting government cooperation for the project.

Later, the premier turned the valve and Mr. Hinman touched off a gas flare to mark the official turning on.

It was a big day for Lac La Biche. Town council declared it a civic holiday but hundreds of children turned up at school in the afternoon to meet the premier and the provincial treasurer.

Most of the 150-mile drive to Lac La Biche is on gravel, but the road had never been in better shape. Don't know whether the premier's visit had anything to do with it but the graders were out two abreast putting the road into condition.

GOOD CROP FOR 1960

Across the length and breadth of Alberta this week farmers are busy harvesting their 1960 grain crops, and the consensus of opinion is that it is a good crop.

In the Edmonton area the average yield is running around thirty bushels to the acre. In the Calgary and Lethbridge areas the yield varies from 15 to 30 bushels. Peace River district reports yields of 20 to 25 bushels. The only dark spot is in east-central Alberta where dry weather has reduced the yield to around eight bushels per acre.

The total wheat yield is estimated at 101,000,000 bushels, down [illegible] from last year. The average yield for the whole province is estimated at twenty bushels to the acre compared with the 20-year average of 19.[illegible]

Estimated yields of other grains are: oats 113,000,000 bushels, barley [illegible], flax [illegible], rye 1,800,000.

CNT Trains Men For New Jobs

EDMONTON — Eighteen Canadian National Telegraphs employees here last week who thought that school was something they left far behind found themselves back in the role of students facing what is possibly the toughest curriculum they will ever come up against.

The group was hand-picked to receive a 16-week training course in microwave theory and practice. The course is designed to make them experts in their field and to equip them to the fullest for their new jobs ... maintaining C N T's new $25 million Grande Prairie Alaska microwave defence network. As the system's main function is defence communication, maintenance is extremely important.

On completion of the course in mid-December the graduates will be sent to maintain two, sometimes three stations on the network. This in places where the snow builds drifts 15 to 20 feet high, where the temperature during the winter drops to 50 below and in some cases where the only access to a station is by aerial tramway.

Miracle In The Bush

In the wilderness, 400 miles due north of Winnipeg, is a nickel orebody so huge that it's changing the economy of Prairie Canada, writes Norton Anderson in The Financial Post.

[illegible] is the orebody that its full dimensions won't be measured for years. But, even today, some experts say it will outstrip the free world's richest [illegible] Sudbury, Ontario.

Sitting smack on top of all this wealth is Thompson, model town [illegible] of the bush, built to [illegible] 15,000 Canadians from a rock-and-spruce wilderness.

Already $350 million has been turned into this project: $125 million from International Nickel Co. of Canada (including $3.5 million on the town proper) $60 million from Manitoba Hydro, $5 million from Canadian National Railways, $60 million from construction firms.

Men and businesses are needed in this "city of tomorrow." There's money to be made in this northern community.

And the future looks bright. Inco has built at Thompson the first full integrated nickel plant in the free world, [illegible] production at 75 [illegible] per year [illegible]

FALL CULTIVATION IN THE CONTROL OF WEEDS

Thorough fall, or post-harvest tillage, has a very important place in the control of some of Western Canada's worst weeds, including Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle.

Early completion of harvest in most areas has presented an excellent opportunity this fall to follow recommended cultural practices. Full advantage should be taken of this situation wherever possible.

Pen Pal From Australia Bridesmaid At Mannville

MANNVILLE. At her recent wedding to Mr. Herbert den Ouden in McQueen Memorial United Church, the former Miss Gladys Norma Cundal was attended by Miss Shirley Bryson, who came from Australia for the wedding. The two girls have been pen pals for 11 years.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cundal of Mannville and the groom's parents live in Holland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white nylon organza over taffeta, the scooped neckline trimmed with nylon applique and the long sleeves fashioned with lily points at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was caught to a tiara of seed pearls, rhinestones and mother of pearl sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red tea roses and stephanotis.

Miss Bryson wore a ballerina-length gown of apricot crystalline, the full skirt fashioned with pleated back. Also a bridesmaid, Miss Tilly Bryko of Edmonton chose a similar gown in old gold tone. Each wore a headpiece to match her gown. They carried bouquets of autumn-tinted daisies and sweet peas.

As flower girl, Judy Neff wore a frock of green silk organza with matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of daisies and sweet peas.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Mr Robert Cundal of Edmonton, and Mr. Joseph Van Haegle of Wainwright. Ushers were the bride's brother, Mr Lorne Cundal, and Mr Robert McCauley, both of Mannville. The bride's cousin, Mrs. Bruce Bennett of Edmonton, played the wedding music and Mrs. Reginald Lugg of Mannville was soloist.

At a reception for 200 guests in the Orange hall, the groom's sister, Mrs. J. Van Haegle, received guests with the bride's mother. Later, a wedding dance was held.

For a wedding trip to Jasper, Banff and British Columbia, the bride changed to an olive green suit with white feather hat.

Mr. and Mrs. den Ouden will make their home in Wainwright.

To reduce its expenses, Canadian National Railways is placing strong emphasis on its program of capital expenditures and on the improvement of work methods. Dieselization, hump yards, centralized traffic control, integrated data processing, operation research and work study are but few of the many measures being implemented to achieve a higher level of productivity.

1961 CHEVROLET IMPALA

Designers have applied smooth, graceful lines to the 1961 Chevrolet Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne passenger car lines. Roodlines, as noted here in the Impala sports sedan, are freshly contoured and are separately styled for each series model. Overall body design features gently sloping lines. Rear trunk deck lid now opens even with the top of the bumper, affording easier loading and unloading. Fuel tank has been repositioned for greater safety. The Impala sports sedan is one of 20 body styles in the conventional Chevrolet line.

Ward-West Vows Exchanged At St. Saviour's Anglican Church

Of wide interest was the four o'clock wedding in St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion, on Saturday, August 20th of Miss Jean Isabelle West to F/O Alden Bennett Ward. White and rose gladioli decorated the church for the double ring rite conducted by Rev. W. A. Champness. Organist for the occasion was Mrs. Melvin Hill.

Parents of the bride are Mr and Mrs. Fred West of Vermilion and the groom is the son of Mr and Mrs. Harry Ward of Sackville, New Brunswick.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of peau de soie and Alencon lace, fashioned with lily point sleeves and Sabrina neckline. Her shoulder length veil of net and lace medallions fell from a crown of iridescent sequins. She wore a necklace of pearls, a gift of the groom, and carried a cascade bouquet of red sweet heart roses.

In effective color contrast to the bride's white, similar dresses of midnight blue crystalline with matching [illegible] hats were worn by the attendants. They carried bouquets of white shasta daisies. The maid of honor was Miss Lois Bulmer and the other attendant was Mrs. Gordon Oswald.

The bridegroom was attended by F/O Al Haggart of RCAF station, Cold Lake.

Ushers for the occasion were Kenneth and Garry West, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. West chose an ensemble of mid blue silk with hat and gloves to blend. Her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses.

During the signing of the register Mr. John Webb sang two solos "God Bless This Day" and "Because", accompanied by Mrs. Hill.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom were honored by a salute from the Bald Eagles of RCAF station, Cold Lake flying in formation over the church. A light Cessna aircraft flown by Fl. L. Bob Cockburn showered the happy couple with confetti.

The reception in the parish hall which followed, was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr Laurence Coe and fittingly replied to by the groom. The toast to the bridesmaids was proposed by the groom and F/O Al Haggart replied.

Telegrams of congratulations were received from Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lizotte, Winnipeg, Mr and Mrs. Jack Kerr, Kamloops and Mr Roy Woodrow, Resolution Bay.

During the reception songs were rendered by Miss Elaine Shetsuff accompanied on the piano by Mrs. James Day and by Mr. Tom Watts accompanied by Mrs. Hill.

The guest book was in charge of Miss Florence Galloway.

Assisting the Happy Hour group in serving were Mrs. Fred Scott and Dorothy, Mrs. Vallie Watt, Miss Patricia Stewart and Miss Sandra Klashinsky.

The wedding cake was served to the guests by the Misses Betty and Joyce McCrae, cousins of the bride, assisted by Miss Joanne Mitchell.

For going away the bride wore a Carribean blue dressmaker suit with matching hat and black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Following a motor trip to New Brunswick the young couple will be at home at RCAF station, Cold Lake.

Mannville Bride-Elect Honored

neighbours gathered in McQueen Memorial United Church hall to honor Miss Connie Gerhart, on Friday last Sept. 23rd. During the course of the evening's fun all enjoyed vocal duets by Miss Dawn Kreiler and Miss Gail Mercer accompanied by Miss Lynne Kreiler and a reading by Miss Miriam Ewing.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a sing-song and a questions and answers game which proved most amusing. Miss Gerhart was presented with gifts drawn [illegible] and Lorraine Bee who were dressed as nurses while the presents were contained in an exact replica of the U of A hospital, of which she is a graduate nurse. Mrs. Norman Tardi of Edmonton made the presentation. Assisting in opening the gifts were Connie's mother Mrs. A. Gerhart, her sister Judy, her maid of honor Miss [illegible] and Mrs. Norman Tardi. ...TO LATE, SON, I'VE ALREADY HAD IT!

HERE! THE GREATEST SHOW ON WORTH! CHEVROLET

SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear — the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. A car so right for you in so many ways that once you compare it with the rest of the crop you'll agree nothing else near the money measures up to it.

We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and manoeuvring) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher — just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, headroom has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more legroom, too — front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely — what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details that make this sensationally sensible '61 Chevy a new measure of your [illegible].

NEWS from ISLAY

CANADIAN BIBLE SOCIETY SPEAKER

Rev Mr John Sorochan of the Canadian Bible Society formerly the British and Foreign Bible Society will visit Kitscoty Oct 13th and will be in Islay Friday Oct 14th at 8 p.m. He will show a film "In the Footsteps of Livingstone" depicting missionary opportunities in the heart of Africa. This is for all young and old. Support the Society in its work of sending Bibles where needed and wanted. The film will be shown in the church and is a non-denominational enterprise.

Mr and Mrs Gordon McLachlan of Andover Mass, who have been visiting Mr McLachlan's brother Howard and family at Irwinville were calling on old time friends in Islay. They noticed many changes as it has been a long time since they left here. Gordon at one time assisted at Darrah's. Mrs. McLachlan was the former Miss Emma Mersereau and worked in the Bank of Montreal here. They now go on to the west coast by car with the Howard McLachlans. It was nice seeing them again but their stay was all too short.

SUNDAY CHURCH SCHOOL AT 9:30 a.m.

MORE GIRLS NEEDED

The 4-H club needs two more girls in order to be a club. The six girls already signed up are very very anxious to form [illegible] so an appeal is being made to all mothers who have a girl eligible to belong to the club to make an effort to have her join. Don't disappoint the six. These girls and their leader, Mrs. Moncrieff, have suggested Friday evening at 6:30, twice a month. They have even offered to keep any girl from the country, after school and for supper in order that she might be able to be a club member. Mothers, these girls are asking your assistance. Remember, too, the leader gives her time gratis.

CONVERT U. K. TO FIVE PINS

One Canadian manufacturer of bowling equipment in Glasgow, [illegible] is making strides in converting Englishmen from their traditional lawn bowls to the Canadian game of five pins. The firm has already sold $800,000 worth of equipment in Glasgow, London and Sheffield. There is opposition however from U.S. promoters of the American 10-pin game. Hopes from the Canadian game are pinned on the fact that the ball is of a size that can be handled by the whole family.

Crime In Your Community

"Armed Robbery" is the subject of the current booklet prepared by the RCMP under the general title of "Crime in Your Community".

The booklet is the fifth in the series which was instituted several years ago in the belief that the volume of crime in certain categories could be greatly reduced by acquainting the owners of business establishments and the public generally with certain simple measures by which they might safeguard their property, their goods and themselves from the criminal before the intervention of the police became necessary.

Made up of illustrations in silhouette with brief explanatory captions the booklet is directed at the more lucrative targets of the armed robber such as banks and business establishments, but discourages any notion on the part of the private citizen that he is immune from this type of crime.

The booklet recommends the instruction of employees in points of physical identification and the exercise of constant vigilance on the part of all personnel to enable them to detect the loiterer, the suspicious-looking character, the bogus workman, i.e., the potential hold-up man. It outlines certain precautions by which robbery may be averted or at least made more difficult such as safeguarding excess cash, not discussing payroll or other cash deliveries in public places, the frequent changing of routes and messengers engaged in such deliveries and methods of escorting messengers.

The use of "bait-money" is advocated. That is, the retention in a special section of the cash drawer of bills whose serial numbers have been noted. Victimized establishments are advised to retain hold-up notes, with as little handling as possible and to warn employees to touch nothing pending the arrival of the police. Simple warning signals are also discussed as is the advantageous placing of certain types of alarm systems.

A section of the booklet is devoted to a comparatively new system of identification by means of film strips. Each strip contains one of some 180 hairlines, 220 sets of eyes, 200 chins, 42 ears, 32 noses, 8 pairs of glasses and various styles of hats and wearing apparel. The individual transparent strips are superimposed to form a composite image. Witnesses are asked, for example, to select a strip bearing a hairline resembling that of the suspect and to this is added the selected chin, eyes, nose, ears, etc. until a likeness of the suspect is assembled. Remarkably accurate results have been achieved and an all important feature of the method is the speed with which the completed image can be produced.

Copies of the booklet are being made available to police departments in Canada for distribution [illegible] business establishments [illegible].

Minister To Visit Local Congregation Jehovah Witnesses

At the conclusion of the weekly Bible study meeting at the Friesen home last Sunday night Abe Friesen, presiding minister of the local congregation of Jehovah's witnesses, announced a full program of activity for the duration of this week when Mr. Paul Vouk, circuit supervisor for the group in eastern Alberta, will visit here.

"The greatest desire of all men in our time is that for peace," Mr Friesen stated in announcing the event. "In a world that is harassed continually by the prospect of armed conflict, and in which a place of safety cannot be found any more it has become imperative for men to seek peace. But peace is not something that comes to man automatically," he continued. "All must know the things that make for peace and must practice them in their every day lives. There is a book that not only shows the way to peace but also helps us to practice the principles of peace. That book is the Bible and a study of it is a must if there is to be any hope at all for those who love peace."

Mr Friesen added that the purpose of the visit of the travelling minister is to help the congregation here to become better acquainted with their own Bible and with ways of living it and sharing its good hopes with others. "All week there will be Bible studies held, people will be visited in the interest of Bible [illegible]ion and special meetings will feature the theme "For Peace". On Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m. a public talk will be held at 4305 49th street on the subject "Seeking Peace with God and man." All who yearn for peace will find these meetings most upbuilding and everyone will be very welcome," he concluded.

Alta. Civil Service Donate to Charity

Mr G. S. Audley, Secretary of the Alberta Civil Service Welfare Fund Committee, has announced a further list of donations made to charitable organizations throughout the Province.

The Alberta Civil Service Welfare Fund is maintained by monthly deductions from the salaries of all government employees and the majority of the fund is donated to worthwhile charitable organizations. A percentage is retained for the alleviation of distress in welfare cases among government employees.

The following donations were made: Canadian National Institute for the Blind, $1,100.00. John Howard Society of Alberta, $750.00.

The Welfare Fund Committee annually receives many requests for contributions and no request is turned down without investigation. The fund has contributed some $800,000.00 to individuals and welfare organizations since its inception in 1941.

SHOWER FOR NEWLYWEDS

A shower was held on Sept. 23rd for Wayne and Elaine Green, the former Elaine Everett, in the B.C. gym. A good crowd attended and enjoyed an evening of dancing to the music of Henry Eyben and Albert Cleland. Carl Eyben, on behalf of their many friends extended best wishes for a long and happily married life to Elaine and Wayne. Lane and Janice Arthur then wheeled in a miniature "Moren Machine Shop" on a decorated wagon, loaded with gifts which were presented to the young couple. Upon completing opening of the gifts Wayne very sincerely thanked one and all. Lunch was then served by the Willowby ladies. The newlyweds are making their home in Vermilion.

While extending congratulations to Brent and Hazel Macnab on the birth of a son, everyone was saddened over their misfortune in having fire destroy their home and contents. While practically everyone for miles around responded to the call for help, the fire spread so rapidly nothing could be done. Brent plans on leaving in the near future to take up his defence position with the Vancouver hockey team.

ATTEND RALLY AT COLD LAKE

A number of ladies from the Auburndale district attended the W.A. and W.M.S. rally at Cold Lake last Wednesday, thanks to Evelyn Cunningham and Thelma Luychuk who were the drivers. A lovely trip at this time of the year, but it was noticed that not much harvesting had been done in the north. The Cold Lake and Grand Centre ladies were wonderful hostesses. A most interesting and profitable program was enjoyed and a conducted tour of the lovely new W.M.S. hospital at Cold Lake was a very fitting climax to the day.

INITIATION AT B.C. SCHOOL

Last Friday saw many grotesque costumes at school as it was the annual initiation of the grade 7 class into the Students' Union. A dance was held at night to recorded music.

Mrs. Cleland Sr. who had been a patient in the hospital has now returned home, while Mrs. Wyn McInnis is confined there having a bout with the flu bug. Best wishes to both for a speedy recovery to health.

Alf Green of Edmonton has been at the home of his brother Gordon this past week doing some carpenter work. Agnes is expected to join him for a few days.

Mrs. Majury and daughter Reta from the city were week end guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Gordon Larsen.

Red Cross Strives To Meet Objective

Within the next few days some 14,000 Alberta householders will be receiving a personal letter from Red Cross.

Purpose of this mass Red Cross correspondence is to try to achieve the 1960 Red Cross provincial objective of $522,700. With only three months to go until the end of the year the current Red Cross campaign is short some $56,000 of reaching its goal.

In an effort to make up this shortage an appeal for funds is being made through the mails to residents in districts which have not had an organized Red Cross campaign this year. The territory being covered by the campaign extends from Athabasca in the northern part of the province to districts touching on the U.S. boundary in the south.

Receipts to date in the Alberta Red Cross campaign amount to $466,380.

YOUR FIRE DEPARTMENT YOUR SAFETY

Voluntary Home Check Wise Plan For Safety

YOUR home is your castle! This tradition is sacred to the program of voluntary home inspection by the fire service. That is why the inspection of any home is subject to the friendly wish of the owner or tenant, without involvement of any kind.

If a fire fighter knocks at your door, let him in. His aim is to help you uncover fire hazards and bring them to attention.

He will ask to see kitchen, basement, yard.

You can refuse if you wish. If you are wise you will accept his suggestions as have hundreds of thousands of Canadians.

What he has to say concerns the safety of your home, perhaps your own life. There's no expense to you and it doesn't add to your taxes.

He wears a fire fighter's uniform and bears credentials. His shoes are clean. He doesn't call in bad weather so that he won't dirty the floor.

He's a person of pleasant personality carefully selected for the job. If his call is inconvenient he will leave courteously.

He is at your door either under a planned municipal program or at your own invitation.

While public and commercial buildings in Canada must submit to a rigid fire inspection, the home and the owner's privacy are respected. Nevertheless it is in the home that three-quarters of all fires occur [illegible] with tragic loss of family life.

EFFECTIVE APPROACH

More and more across the nation voluntary or [illegible] home inspection has been established as an effective approach to the problem. While the program [illegible] during Fire Prevention Week it can apply [illegible] the year.

[illegible] inspectors [illegible] flammable liquids and stove ashes, smoke pipes and chimneys, and faulty or frayed wiring. They look for obviously unsafe or doubtful conditions. They will give you a private and personal written report on their findings without use of your name and without gossip about the neighbours. And they will not advise on repairmen or equipment suppliers.

REST UP TO YOU

It has been a completely friendly call, and the rest is up to you.

As the fire services say, "The best fires we fight in the home are those that never happen."

Cattle Market Outlook

(Summarized from "Ottawa Report on Agriculture")

To date cattle prices have remained quite stable in the face of increasing production.

The United States continues to play a supporting role to the Canadian market although the major influence has been the substantial increase in domestic consumption. The U.S. domestic consumption has remained strong holding up prices despite increased marketings. Stable prices are expected to continue for the remainder of 1960 even with a four per cent increase of cattle on feed and the expectation that the U.S. farmer will increase marketings by six per cent in the current quarter over last year. United States cattle prices are expected to ease downward after the end of 1960 but no sharp drops are anticipated.

Canada's inspected slaughtered cattle have increased 13 per cent over last year while exports of cattle and beef have dropped by 29 per cent. A 12 per cent increase in domestic disappearance has kept the market in balance to date. A somewhat lower beef price and a substantially larger proportion of choice quality meat has contributed towards Canada's increased consumption of beef. Choice quality carcasses have increased almost 20 per cent over the same period last year. Although there are 5000 more cattle going to market now than at the first of the year it is expected that the domestic consumption will offset the increased marketings and hold Canadian prices fairly stable until the end of the year.

Prospects are for marketings to reach two million carcasses in 1960 as compared to 1.75 million marketed in 1959. Present indications are that Canadian farmers will continue to expand beef production even though the price outlook for 1961 is lower. Factors contributing to this continued beef expansion are the dim outlook of wheat production and the new efficiency of much animal beef feeding operations.

BED-WETTING: How Can I Correct My Child's Habit?

By the age of four, most children have good bladder control and will not wet the bed. But some children at this age have not yet learned the "dry habit" and the parents are faced with the problem of the bed-wetting child. Normally it's not hard to correct if the proper steps are taken. The child of four who is a bed-wetter needs your understanding help. Wetting when it occurs in a child of four or over, is usually at night. It may happen only once during the night or three or four times. Some wet their clothes during the day usually when excited and busy over their games. If a school-age child wets himself by day, the most usual time is in the hours, at recess, during noon hour and in the after - school period, rarely during the school hours. He may not have realized the need to urinate until it was too late to reach the toilet. Such a child should come home from school and go to the toilet before going out to play and perhaps be made to play near home for a few days so he can reach a toilet when necessary.

What Makes Your Child Do It?

Every child has wet the bed at some time in his life and may continue to do so, once in a while, until adolescence. However, where it occurs more or less continuously, there is reason for consultation with the family doctor since the bed-wetting may be a symptom of a more serious condition. When your doctor considers an individual case, his examination includes not only such things as the possibility of infection of the bladder or kidneys, abnormality of these organs, or irritation of external parts, but also any emotional factors which may be contributing to the condition. Such varied reasons as the arrival of a new baby in the house, the inability to make friends at school, or the departure of a loved one on a long trip, may have a great deal to do with bed-wetting. Thus, it is not a simple matter to determine the cause. Your doctor having carefully weighed the importance however, of all factors, is in a position to deal with the problem. Now you can easily see that if you treat your child's bed-wetting as just "a bad habit" when one of the above factors is to blame you are being unfair to the youngster. You will be making a very grave mistake that will nearly always make the problem worse, often to the point that the bed-wetting habit continues long after the original cause has been taken away. But you say, the doctor has checked off all the above and none applies to your child. Yet, he still wets his bed. Then you've got to seek other causes. His habit may have been set up in a number of ways. This time instead of checking your child, check yourself. Your training may have been faulty. This is a very common source of the trouble. Some parents tend to become a bit careless and say "Oh, he'll outgrow the habit some day". Or they're too indulgent and take the attitude that their child is too delicate to be trained or excuse him by saying he has a weak bladder (or weak kidneys) and can't help it.

Sometimes your child will get his habit during a long illness when he has been kept in bed for long periods. And what about it when your child wants to go during the night but the toilet is too far away?

Consider Your Child's Feelings

Have you ever thought what your bed wetting child feels about it? After all, it's his problem. His habit can have serious effects on his future so that long after the bed-wetting is outgrown the harm to his character remains. It may happen in this way. If he's conscientious he may develop a feeling of utter hopelessness, lying awake for hours, fearing to go to sleep and wet himself. Shame and lack of self-confidence may drive him into seclusion and he won't want to play with the other children. The belief he has a weak bladder could convince him wrongly, that he is a sick child. If you punish or scold him he may develop a guilty feeling that he is "bad" and it is possible for him to mope over it so that his personality and his school studies suffer. Such a situation is likely to make him very unhappy and irritable. He becomes a difficult child, hard to get along with.

How To Treat Your Problem

From what we now know of bed-wetting, it becomes plain at once that each case calls for careful study. You will seek the physical causes and correct them and check your training of the child. If your child still doesn't gain the dry habit you will take further steps in consultation with your doctor. Be sure something isn't upsetting him emotionally. Family quarrels, expecting too much of the child in manners, neatness or immediate obedience, a change to a new neighborhood and a new school any of these may be the cause. Your child should be helped to understand that he can be aided. Replace his feeling of helplessness, guilt and shame with self-confidence and optimism by encouraging him and letting him feel you are not finding fault with him. Correct his wrong ideas about weak kidneys and nervousness or any ideas he may have picked up about inheriting his troubles. Above all, you will know better than try to solve his problem by scolding, beating, shaming or bribing. It may help to cut down his drinking of milk, water or other fluids for several hours before bed-time. Have him go to the toilet before retiring. Your child will usually do his wetting at the same time each night. Find out this time and then try waking him up about half an hour earlier for a trip to the toilet. Make this a habit. And every time he does the right thing towards breaking his bed-wetting, praise him. In some cases a "gold star" chart helps build in your child a feeling of cooperation and enthusiasm. It gives him a picture of his successful progress in breaking his unfortunate habit and will hasten the time when he is at last free of this problem.

Albert West, Pioneer Citizen, Dies at Banff

Albert Moorby West, pioneer citizen and businessman of Vermilion, died suddenly on Thanksgiving Monday, October 10th at Banff. He and Mrs. West had motored to the resort town on Thursday to spend the holiday week-end with their daughter Claire and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Langridge.

As many of his friends know, Mr. West had undergone several operations to his legs in the past few years. On Friday one of his legs gave way and in the resultant fall he suffered a broken hip. Taken to the Banff hospital, the hip was set Monday morning. Although coming through the operation, he passed away late Monday afternoon. He was 70 years of age on June 13th.

ALBERT MOORBY WEST

Albert, as he is so widely known, came to Vermilion on May 30, 1909 to join the firm of Craig Brothers. In the succeeding years he became known as an indefatigable community worker and booster, serving as president of the Board of Trade, of the Athletic Association, being an active member of the Elks, of the curling and golf clubs, and through the years helping many other organizations which contribute so greatly to the welfare and activity of the community.

On May 30th, 1959, Mr. West completed fifty years as an active business man of the town, the first to ever achieve that long span of service. In recognition of his many contributions to the community over the half century Mr. West was presented with a plaque by the Chamber of Commerce.

In paying tribute to Mr. West for his innumerable endeavors to speed the welfare of the town and district over the years, reference cannot be omitted to his outstanding contributions to the musical culture of the community. In the old days of the town he sang stellar roles in such sacred oratorios as "Elijah", "The Messiah", "Crucifixion" and many others. The entertainment world saw Mr. West in Gilbert and Sullivan operas, many other light musical comedies and even vaudeville, which the audiences thoroughly appreciated. Although noted chiefly for his tenor voice, Albert was also rated highly as a cornetist. For nine years he was solo cornetist in the old Vermilion citizens' band, acting also as assistant conductor to the 25-piece band.

When he came to Vermilion in 1909 he brought with him an enviable reputation as one of the top athletes in western Canada. His greatest athletic triumphs were probably on the soccer field as he played with several western Canada and provincial championship clubs in the early days.

Many people will remember him for his friendliness, for his never failing interest in the young people and the way he used to take note of their achievements with letters of congratulation and encouragement. Older folks will miss his kindly greeting around the store. Always at his place in Craig's, or seen about the street and at public functions of the town, it is safe to say that no man will be missed more in Vermilion than Albert West.

Left to mourn his death are his sorrowing wife Isabel, two daughters, Mrs. E. P. Langridge (Claire) at Banff, and Mrs. T. K. Holte (Marjorie) of Winnipeg. There are six grandchildren. Mr. West is also survived by three brothers, Ernest, Reginald and Laurence, all of California.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, October 14th at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the First United Church, Vermilion. The Rev. F. Andrews of Mannville will officiate. Interment will follow in the Vermilion cemetery. Moyer's Funeral Home have been entrusted with the last rites.

Three New Kinsmen Are Initiated

A meeting of the Vermilion Kinsmen club was held on Monday, Sept. 26th at the Hub Cafe. There were fourteen regular members present, also two guests from Grande Prairie.

Three new members were initiated, Orest Chomyc, Guy Farley and Paul Diemiert. The guest speaker, Keith Inman, gave a very enlightening talk on firearms.

The zone meeting, held at Wainwright on Sept. 25 solicited Bob Anderson and Jim Ferguson as zone representatives to the district convention committee for 1961. Every success is wished the two Kinsmen in their efforts in having the convention at Vermilion next year.

The next meeting will take place on Monday, Oct. 17 at the Hub Cafe.

Students At Clandonald, Mannville Win Governor-General's Medals

Frederick Wayne Goddard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard of Clandonald, has been awarded the Governor-General's medal for obtaining the highest marks in the grade nine June departmental examinations for the Vermilion school division.

Wayne, who is 15 years old, passed with honor marks.

He was a student at the Clandonald public school and his teacher was his mother, so the winning of the highly coveted medal is an all family affair. Wayne is continuing his school career at the Clandonald Separate school.

Mrs. Goddard had ten grade nine students write the high school entrance exams in June. All ten passed, three of them with honors. This is a most remarkable record, by far the best in the division.

Ken Johnson Wins in Vegreville School Division

Kenneth Johnson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Johnson who live south of Mannville, and a student of the Mannville school, has received word that he has won the Governor-General's medal for obtaining the highest standing in the grade 9 examinations in the Vegreville school division. Ken's teachers were Mrs. Lillie Park and Mrs. Mary Morrison.

The brilliant young student is enrolled in grade ten at Mannville this term. When interviewed he expressed himself as exceedingly pleased with the news, not only for his sake, but also for that of the Mannville school.

Town Buys New La France Fire Engine

Vermilion's new fire engine was delivered this week by the La France Company of Edmonton, giving the town possibly the best equipment for fire protection of any centre in the province.

The new equipment is a fire truck with a front mounted pump, the first of its kind in Western Canada to be specifically made for both urban and rural fire fighting. The pump is capable of 600 gallons per minute. The watertank on the main chassis carries 700 gallons. An additional feature on the truck is a portable pump which can be carried by two men and can pump water from a slough or water hole to the truck or directly on to a fire. This is a decided advantage in rural areas.

A representative of the La France Company, also one from the Alberta Fire Commissioner's office, will be in Vermilion later this week to fully test the new equipment and to demonstrate all facets of its use to the local fire department.

With the acquisition of this engine the old 1913 "oil burner" will be offered for sale to the highest bidder.

Britannia Rebekah Lodge Observes 45th Anniversary

Commemoration of the 45th anniversary of Britannia Rebekah Lodge No. 18 which was on July 27th, was greatly enjoyed at the home of Sister Edith Logan on Wednesday, Oct. 5th.

It was a beautiful afternoon, one of the many enjoyed in our province this fall, making it possible to appreciate the beauty out of doors during a picture taking period. Seven members of Fern Rebekah Lodge No. 66 of Minburn and Innisfree were welcomed by Sister Callas, the Noble Grand, and response was made by Sisters Kufeldt and Dickson of that lodge.

The charter members, Sisters Cameron and Witherbe, and Senior member Sister Keys were acknowledged and the latter read a story of the work and life of the lodge since its formation that she had written especially for the occasion. She read the names of the twenty-two Oddfellows and Rebekahs who had passed on during the years in our district.

Sister Cameron cut the three-tiered birthday cake which had been made and decorated with the three links and appropriate design by the hostess.

Appreciation of the privilege of thirty-three members gathering to enjoy the happy occasion was expressed by Sister Witherbe with several of the others adding their sentiments. It was agreed that the endeavor to perform the mission of Rebekahs had drawn very closely the bonds of friendship.

Later the Noble Grand, Sister Callas, thanked all who had contributed to the entertainment, the lunch or the inevitable clean [illegible] and sister [illegible] ... of Rebekah lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod Feted On Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod of Wetaskiwin were honored recently on the event of their golden wedding anniversary. A family dinner followed by a reception was held at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Luther Thompson.

Many old friends and neighbors called during the afternoon and evening marking the occasion by hearty congratulations and fitting gifts of esteem for the honored couple. Mrs. Grace Propp, a niece, was in charge of the guest book.

Messages of congratulations were received from Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Lt.-Governor Percy Page and Premier E. C. Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod were married in Tisdbury on Aug. 30, 1910, and farmed for a number of years at Trochu, before moving to Mannville where they farmed until the time of their retirement eleven years ago.

In 1904 Mr. McLeod in company with three others drove a herd of cattle from the State of Montana to Trochu where they all filed on homesteads and settled. At that time there were vast plains of prairie grass and few neighbors, but it was not many years before the country became settled and much land brought under cultivation.

Mr. and Mrs. McLeod enjoyed their pioneer days to the full, and recall many interesting incidents of that far-off time.

They have three daughters and one son, Mrs. Luther Thompson (Mary) of Vermilion, Jean of Edmonton, Mrs. Clive Dorey (Irene) of Clandonald and John of Mannville. There are three grandchildren.

Fire Prevention Week

It is awfully difficult to write a Fire Prevention Week article. Everything has been said many times before and it is hard to give old words a new twist.

And yet, notwithstanding the many times that the various messages of Fire Prevention have been placed before the eyes and ears of the Canadian public, Canada's per capita fire loss record keeps getting worse each year!

What is it in our make-up that causes us to be so careless with fire, as a nation? It has to be a lack of care, because experts in the field of Fire Prevention tell us that well over 90% of all fires are caused by plain old-fashioned carelessness!

The modern man of the house will heed a manufacturers' warning and locate his television set so that it is well ventilated, to avoid heat build-up. The same man, however, will dispose of hot furnace ashes in wooden or cardboard containers without giving a thought to the possibility of his careless action causing a fire!

The modern housewife will drive her children to and from school to avoid any chance of their being hit by a car. The same woman will then return home and try to take spots off a favorite garment by rubbing them with gasoline, completely oblivious to the fact that such rubbing generates enough heat to explode gasoline vapours!

Many people wouldn't drive a car with bad brakes or faulty steering. The same people however, think nothing of using 30 ampere fuses in the wiring circuits of their home, apparently not caring that in so doing they have effectively muzzled their electrical watch-dog!

We are always glad to see our children return home from school and settle down in the house for the evening. We feel that they are safe at home. Are they? Of the 82,421 reported fires in Canada last year . . . 66,464 occurred in homes! Of the 556 lives lost in fires in Canada last year . . . 233 were children! Are you still certain that your children are safe at home? Or do you feel that you should carry out this check list on your property:

1. No fuses in use over 15 ampere rating. 2. No rubbish or litter stored in attic or basement; 3. No fireplace used without spark screen. 4. No "homemade" wiring installations; 5. No overloaded electrical circuits. 6. No hot ashes in other than metal containers. 7. No flammable cleaning fluids; 8. No frayed electrical appliance cords; 9. No oily or paint-soaked rags in workshop; 10. No smoking in bed.

A home which passes the above check list with flying colors can pretty well be considered a "fire-safe" home. A "yes" answer to any of the above questions spells danger, unless the condition is remedied immediately. Of course we can't guarantee that you will never have a fire, no matter how careful you are! After all, lightning does occasionally strike a building and cause a fire, and short of a complete lightning rod installation, there isn't much that can be done from a preventive point of view as respects lightning.

Lightning, however, is a lowly fourth on the list of the most common causes of fire. The others, in order of statistical precedence are: Men, Women and Children. The home where everyday common sense rules of Fire Prevention are observed by every member of the family, is extremely unlikely to ever suffer a fire.

Why not make sure that your house is in the "fire-safe" category? Then you can really feel that your family is: Safe At Home!

RATS ON THE MOVE

A heavy infestation of Norway rats in the Paradise Valley district has been discovered indicating Alberta is under constant rat pressure. Heavy infestations of rats can only be prevented by keeping bait stations out and in good working order. The bait is supplied free from the M.D. office and the pest control officer demonstrates its proper use. Can more be expected than to be provided with bait and shown how to use it? There is more. Alberta's Pest Control Act states plainly that it is contrary to the laws of the province in ranges 1, 2, and 3 west of the fourth meridian to refuse to keep bait stations in working order. A pest control officer may under the Act, issue a notice to an offender. If the notice is disregarded, the offender may be summoned to court, charged under the Act and fined accordingly. The Act seems harsh and appears to infringe on personal liberties but when one person's negligence becomes a menace to the neighborhood action must be taken.

ROYAL WINTER FAIR

Had a holiday lately? A popular opinion is that big holidays are expensive. A person can leave Edmonton November 10th, spend 6 days at the Toronto Royal Winter Fair and arrive back in Edmonton November 20, meals enroute, sleeping accommodation every night, plus admission etc. for $187.00 or $18.70 per day. Equally reasonable prices are available for side trips to Niagara Falls, Montreal, St. Lawrence Seaway etc. This is an opportunity to see Canadian agriculture on review and meet old friends. Further information is available from your D. A. or railway agent.

VEGETABLE STORAGE

Only first class produce free from damage and disease should be considered for storage. A basement storage room is built against a north window which provides ventilation and promotes circulation. The inside walls and ceiling require insulation. A thermometer is hung in the middle of the room and the temperature is kept between 32 and 40 degrees F. Peat moss sprinkled with water on the floor keeps the humidity in a cold room about right. Darkness seems to be an aid in the preservation of vegetables and the room should have adequate shelving and bins. Moist sand does the best job of keeping roots but small quantities can be kept very well by wrapping in paper. Your D. A. has plans for a cold room.

DATES

The Lea Park Cattle Association's annual heifer and steer calf sale will be held October 19th. The Lloydminster Exhibition Fall sale of purebred cattle sheep and swine will be held October 21 in Lloydminster. The North Eastern Artificial Breeding Association operates seven days a week offering sires in all common breeds of cattle—phone 636 Vermilion before 10.00 a.m.

CHOOSING PICTURES

Pictures in themselves are not useful, yet they serve to add interest and decoration to a room. They can help to add a "homey" touch and are a means of expressing family taste. They should be selected carefully, mounted and framed properly and placed tastefully.

PLACING PICTURES

A picture should be hung so that it can be looked at. The centre of the picture should not be higher than the eye level. It is better to have your pictures hung too low rather than too high. The fastener should be hidden by the picture. If using nails on plaster, drive them through crossed cellulose tape. This prevents the paint from chipping.

FRAMING

The frame should add to, rather than detract from the picture. Ornate frames are more suited to a plain mirror than a picture. The picture is decoration in itself and should be the centre of interest instead of the frame. The width of the frame should be in scale to the size of the picture. The most effective colors for frames are neutral grey, brown, white or black. Unfinished wooden framing can be purchased through most lumber yards. The pieces can be mitred to make a frame.

MATS

ILLUSION WITH PICTURES

UNITED CHURCH W.A. HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

The monthly meeting of Islay United Church W.A. was held on Thursday with Mrs. Gladys Roebuck and Mrs. Janet Hancock, hostesses, serving a delicious lunch. The ladies were pleased to meet with the two lady teachers of the school, Miss Janet Hall and Mrs. Ima Shaw at tea time. In the absence of the devotional leader, Mrs. Sweet read a paper on "The Layman and his Minister", written by a layman. Mrs. Sweet heard the paper at conference. It was most interesting and one that the laymen could learn something profitable from to himself. Plans were laid for the annual chicken supper Oct. 19 and Rotary banquet Nov. 4th in the community hall. brushes and many new paint jobs are in evidence.

New TV antennas are making their appearance since Lloydminster is on the air. Reception is better now and the programs are improving.

Mannville and District Local News

Mrs. Alf Gerhart has as her guest her mother Mrs. Sauer of Southey, who is here for the occasion of her granddaughter's wedding.

Roxanna Manz received a letter and a box of chocolates from the Hon. Gordon Taylor, as winner in one of the games led by Mr. Taylor during the street opening ceremony. The game was the "Squatting Game". Naturally this young miss is quite thrilled with the gift and the thought of being remembered.

Lois and Dud Staden and family, Joy and Len Manz and family were visitors to Ponoka over the long week-end at their sister Faye's and family. Fay has only recently moved into a new home there.

An unusual pleasure was experienced recently by Mrs. Mike Symborski when her sister arrived by plane from Hawaii, where she has been living, all decorated with the traditional lei around her neck. The fragrance from the exotic flowers was quite evident in the entire waiting room at the airport, and when Mrs. Symborski showed them to your reporter the blooms, though slightly discolored, were still delicately perfumed making it easy to envision the lure of that exciting country.

Mr. and Mrs. Singh and their nine month old child have arrived from England at Mannville where Mr. Singh has joined the staff of Mannville high school.

A surprise party was held for Mrs. Nicoll on Wednesday, Oct. 5th at the home of her daughter, Joy Manz. A birthday cake resplendent with 83 candles and made by Joy, graced the tea table. Mrs. Nicoll plans to spend the winter with her daughter Mrs. Ina Bensmiller and family at Rocky Mountain House.

Exceptionally good yields are reported from surrounding farming areas. We would like to make comparisons, so come on folks, send in your results.

ALANDALE NEWS

The weather has been very agreeable, some have finished combining and baling while threshing is getting on very well. Warm, sunny days the first part of this month were so different from last year at this time with all the snow and cold.

Rev. MacKay left a grand message to a large congregation on his last Sunday in Vermilion. His sermon "Christian Contentment" was a challenge to all.

It was indeed a kindly act of those few families to prepare a dinner for the MacKay family along the way, as reported in a recent issue of the Standard.

Deepest sympathy to Mrs. Curtis Wilson and families in their recent bereavement on the loss of a dear husband and father. Mr. Wilson was an esteemed western pioneer loved and honored by all who knew him.

The new Hub Cafe is certainly a great asset to Vermilion, and from all appearances it is fully appreciated and well patronized. The pastry cook is to be congratulated on the delicious cherry pie.

We were pleased to see the Rev. W. N. Blackmore's picture in the last Observer. He has been recently appointed secretary of the inter-board committee on recruiting. Previously Mr. Blackmore was Boys' Work Secretary of the Board of Christian Education. Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore will be remembered in Vermilion and district and Elk Point.

On Oct. 2nd Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Hogaboam accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldock, all of Camrose, to Vermilion, to visit relatives and friends for the week-end. The next day they called at the Homer Campbell and the Schoonermaker homes north of town.

MARWAYNE NEWS

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Trading Stamp Issue Before The Court

By [illegible]

EDMONTON—Last fall when two major grocery chain firms introduced retail trading stamps into Alberta for the first time, the provincial government cracked down quickly.

A ministerial order was passed under the Licensing of Trades and Businesses Act outlawing trading stamps. Under that act any retailer who fails to comply with orders and regulations is liable to lose his licence, so the two chain stores lost no time in withdrawing their stamp schemes.

Nothing much more was heard about trading stamps until mid-August when a grocer named Joseph Keller appeared on the scene in Edmonton and took out a licence to operate a store in a building which previously had been operated by the Independent Grocers' Alliance. IGA, it should be pointed out, was one of the chains giving away the trading stamps.

Soon after he opened in Edmonton's west end, Keller began offering trading stamps. Licence inspectors ordered him to desist, later cancelled his licence.

Last week Keller appeared in police court on charges of issuing trading stamps and of operating without a licence. It was the first court test of the validity of Alberta's anti-trading stamp laws, and a case which may set a Canadian precedent.

Whatever happens, the case is bound to go from magistrate's court to the Supreme Court. If Keller wins, the provincial government will appeal. If it goes the other way, Keller probably will appeal.

Needless to say, the big eastern grocery chains are anxiously awaiting the results of the Alberta case, as are other provinces which have similar legislation or are considering introducing it.

TWO MORE COUNTIES . . . SCHOOL BOARDS OPPOSE

Two more counties have been set up in Alberta, but not without the usual cries of anguish from school board trustees who seem to feel introduction of the county system is a reflection on their abilities as administrators.

The new counties are the County of Smoky Lake No. 13 and the County of Lacombe No. 14.

In both cases the municipal district councils passed resolutions asking the government to establish the areas as counties. In both cases the local school division boards opposed the move.

Smoky Lake was probably the most vociferous, with at least one school trustee charging the government had actually "forced" the school ratepayers of the district into a county against their wishes.

But under the Alberta County Act a request for county status may come from either the MD council or the school division board, but it needn't be a joint request from both.

School trustees are inclined to resist formation of a county because it means the school division board ceases to exist. Instead, schools are administered by a committee of the county councils. Many educators also oppose the idea, because in a county the school requisition is subject to ratification by the council.

TEMPEST IN TEAPOT

Invariably, the fuss which attends establishment of a new county is a tempest in a teapot. Of the 13 counties formed in Alberta since 1951, none has since voted to revert to the old municipal and school system.

Smoky Lake and Lacombe will be electing county councils this fall, and county status will become effective January 1st. A provincial order-in-council paving the way was passed by the cabinet last week.

HUB CAP SPINNERS

Earlier this year regulations were passed under the Vehicles and Highway Traffic act to ban the use of dangerous hub cap spinners on cars. The regulations were aimed at spinners with protruding spikes and blades likely to cause injury to pedestrians. But police in the province apparently interpreted the new law to include every type of hub cap spinner. Last week Highways Minister Gordon Taylor announced the regulation will be repealed and replaced by new rules which will be "clear-cut" and easy to understand.

W.M.S. and W.A. Hold Joint Fall Rally

Anticipating the day when "all will be one" the W.M.S. and W.A. in the St. Paul United Presbytery of the United Church of Canada held their Joint Fall Rally in the Cold Lake United Church. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Jeffrey of the Cold Lake Federation and Mrs. Barr, of Vermilion replied. Miss Kurman, Bonnyville led the opening devotions on the theme "Jesus is the vine" and Miss P. Porter, Lloydminster chose "Responsibility" as her theme for the afternoon devotions. Mrs. Knapp, Cold Lake president of W.M.S. She showed delicate and colorful pictures by African artists which she had bought in Leopoldville, Congo. In a round table discussion on "Lake Whitney Camp" with Mrs. Demerez, Cold Lake, Mrs. Shortt, Kitscoty and Mrs. Boorse, Ashmont taking part, it was brought out that while the camp was well attended money is urgently needed to wipe out the deficit on this year's operations due to the improvements installed. A solo by Mrs. Sinclair, Cold Lake was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Anderson, Wainwright, graciously [illegible] all those who had helped to make the rally so successful. The delicious morning coffee, dinner and afternoon tea served by the women of the Cold Lake Federation and Grand Centre W.A. were greatly appreciated by the 90 visitors and their drivers. What Causes Nervous Habits In Your Child?

Health Unit Notes

The expression "a nervous child" has different meanings for different people. Some think of the bed wetter or thumb sucker; others will picture the over-active easily excited child or the thin whining youngster who tires easily. To many it means the nail biter, or the child with twitching habits.

The child who is easily excited, or who tires quickly, does so in most cases for some reason other than disease or defect in his nervous system. Sometimes a physical condition such as malnutrition or chronic fatigue is to blame. Frequently the trouble lies in the child's fears and worries building up a tension within him. Such fears and worries of which he may not even be aware may seem foolish to a grownup but they can be terribly real to him. The fear of not being loved by his parents is probably the most common one. If you expect him to behave with grownup manner, or you are bringing him up under too strict a discipline he will feel insecure in your love.

Arrange a medical examination. You doctor may suggest taking the youngster to a child guidance clinic or a mental health clinic where specialists are available on children's behavior. Your provincial health department can inform you where such clinics exist. In any case, easing up on your discipline on the child and not expecting too much will often help greatly.

Why He Bites His Nails

A child bites his nails to get relief from some pressure or anxiety too strong for him. Twisting a strand of hair or biting the lips are similar actions. Your child won't stop biting his nails because you dislike his habit and tell him he "mustn't". And he won't stop just because you tie his hands, or put bad tasting stuff on his fingers, or try mechanical gadgets such as metal mittens. He can't. He doesn't even realize he's biting them sometimes. He just has to do something about the tenseness inside him and nail biting gives him some relief.

The tendency in a child past the age of infancy to bite and chew things is a common signal of inner tensions. Nails are tough, insensitive and painless to bite. But once the habit has begun, the rough edges of the nail and the exposed nail bed cause irritation and this provokes more biting. Direct restraint such as bandages or splints only intensifies and worsens the anxiety and strain that are the real basis of the trouble. What causes the uneasiness is often hard to discover since it may have been started weeks or months before. It will take patience and understanding on your part to help your child overcome his habit.

Try This Course of Action

To help the nail biter, make his nails smooth and lessen the irritation by soaking them in olive oil. Next look for the possible cause in his physical and emotional health.

Check on his general physical condition, reviewing his eating and sleeping habits. Make sure they're in line with what are considered to be likely needs for a child of his age. He should be gaining in weight steadily and his color should be good. Does he tire readily? If so, something is amiss. Again, ask yourself if he is getting enough activity, running, jumping, climbing, lively outdoor play.

Now, how about his emotional well-being? Here is likely where the real trouble lies. Build up your child's self-confidence by making him feel that he can do things himself and that when he really needs help you are ready to give it. Show him you are proud of the things he is learning to do for himself. If you keep him too dependent on you, however, he may reveal his need for more freedom by nail biting. He may show his anxieties and fears in the same way if you expect too much of him and give him reason to fear that he won't be able to measure up. Or it may be something in his school situation — facing work that is continually too difficult, or a teacher who is very severe — that is troubling him.

Too much excitement is bad. While he needs new experiences, overstimulation will cause strain. Avoid too much playing and competition with older children, too much noise and rushing about, too many movies, radio programs and TV. Set an example of happy behavior in the home. Bossing, nagging, scolding will take their toll. If your child over three persists in nail biting gain his cooperation by developing his pride in manicured and well-kept nails. Keep assuring him that he is bound to be successful eventually. When he slips back into the habit, overlook it and give him further encouragement.

Twitching Needs Doctor's Attention

Sudden rapid movements that are repeated frequently at more or less regular intervals such as blinking of the eyes, twitching of the face, turning of the head, are called tics or habit spasms. Sometimes they start from local irritations such as a head cold or an ill-fitting collar or coat. But in every case there is some emotional strain. He may be a sensitive child who feels anxiety in a situation that wouldn't bother most children. Possibly too much is being expected of him — more than he can perform easily in manners, neatness, school achievement.

A doctor should be consulted. There may be a physical factor such as infection (St. Vitus Dance or rheumatic fever), something wrong in his daily routine such as insufficient rest, or emotional tension at home or in his school. There's no use telling him to stop the habit as here again as with nail biting he's hardly aware of it. He does it without any conscious thought.

When It's a "Compulsion" Habit

Many children require things to be done "just so", and worry if they are not, such as wanting clothes laid out in a certain way or bedding arranged in a specific manner. These "compulsion" habits, as they are called, are common about 6 to 10 years of age. If your child shows such behavior it may mean you are being too strict with him. As long as the "compulsions" don't interfere with your child's ordinary routines, they needn't be taken seriously. But if they take up a lot of his time, such as excessive hand-washing to avoid germs, it's time to see a doctor.

Excellent Construction Progress on Finest Agricultural Centre in the West

As can be seen from the above Standard staff photo, excellent progress is being made on the new agricultural centre on the Vermilion fair grounds. Since the photo was taken the entire steel framework has been completed, the roof put on, and at the present time the cement block walls are rapidly taking shape. The huge building will be completely enclosed before the onset of winter and work can be carried on in the interior regardless of the weather.

A contract for $212,000.00 has been awarded to Permanent Construction for the complete structure. This does not include the artificial ice plant, but does include the necessary piping in the floor.

At the present time $195,400.00 is available for the building. This includes $100,000.00 Dominion grant, $60,000.00 donation by the people of the town of Vermilion, $22,400.00 provincial grant, $5,000.00 from the Kinsmen, and $5,000.00 from Rotary.

The amount available still leaves a gap of $17,000.00 to complete payments for the structure itself.

FARMERS TO THE RESCUE

Realizing that the new building will be a great asset to the agricultural interests and the farming population of the area, farmers are now flocking to help the mammoth project. The suggestion was made by a livestock man that beef and dairy animals and hogs be taken for donations, and that these be sold at public auction. The idea caught on and voluntary donations of stock have now been received from Homer Campbell, Jack Cross, Don Wilson and Sandy MacMillan. Anyone else wishing to donate to this district-wide project please phone Angus MacMillan at 25.

The agricultural centre will be a great asset to the community, offering accommodation for every type of agricultural and fair time promotion, including 4H club work, as well as the recreational facilities which will be available there.

Banner Year Ahead For School of Agriculture

Second Largest Graduating Class In History In Prospect

The Vermilion School of Agriculture and Home Economics opens on Monday, October 24th. This year will see the second largest graduating class in the history of the school. Not since 1947 when the school re-opened to enrollments swollen by returning veterans, has V.S.A. seen such a large second year class. Number of first year students will be down somewhat from the all-time high reached last year, due largely no doubt, to the re-opening of the Fairview community college.

Preparations for the reception of this bumper crop of young men and women are well in hand now and staff is busy making certain nothing has been overlooked. It would appear that the V.S.A. is headed for a banner year.

V. S. A. STAFF FOR 1960-61

The staff for the coming year is: J. A. R. Palin, acting-principal; Miss Haworth, school nurse and Dean of Women; Mrs. Parlee, dietitian; Miss Rasson, staff stenographer and librarian; Mrs. Johnson, instructress in clothing; Mrs. Wright, home management; Mrs. Bell, secretary; J. Stone, field crops; D. C. Folk, farm buildings; A. Beggs, assistant instructor in farm buildings; R. J. Godwin, Botany and Agriculture; J. K. MacKenzie, farm motors; R. M. Ratepayers' Meeting and Trustees' Convention at Kitscoty Saturday

On Saturday, October 22, a Ratepayers' Meeting and Trustees' Convention will be held at the Kitscoty high school which should be of particular interest to parents with children of school age and to ratepayers in general. An educational and informative program has been arranged.

Dr. W. R. Swift, Deputy Minister of Education for the Province of Alberta, will speak on the Cameron Commission on Education. This address alone merits the attendance of all bodies concerned with our educational problems. Members of Home and School Associations should make every effort to hear this address.

T. C. Weidenhamer, Secretary of Alberta School Trustees' Association will speak on Provincial Grants for Education.

Mr. J. H. Blockridge, Superintendent of Schools, will have as his topic "Under Achievement in Our Schools". This address will be followed by a panel discussion during which four prominent citizens of the area will discuss the problems of the student who is not obtaining the results of which he is capable.

This topic is of utmost importance, not only to the student and his parents and teachers, but also to the taxpayer who is paying the shot.

Lunch will be served during the afternoon and you are assured of an interesting and profitable session on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 1:00 on at the Kitscoty high school auditorium.

Edmonton Citadel Band To Play In Vermilion Legion Hall October 22-23

Bandmaster George Freeman Will Direct Group of 24 Musicians

This week-end, the Edmonton Citadel Band of The Salvation Army will be visiting Vermilion. On Saturday, Oct. 22nd at 9:15 p.m. the band will be presenting a Festival of Praise at the Canadian Legion hall, and on Sunday, Oct. 23 at the same venue, participating in meetings at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. with another festival at 3 p.m. Major Reg Hollman, Commanding Officer of Edmonton Citadel will be conducting the meetings. Chairman of the Festival of Praise will be Mr. Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. Outside meetings in Mannville and Vermilion, notably at the Vermilion Municipal Hospital, are also included in the band's schedule.

The bandmaster is George Freeman, well respected in The Salvation Army musical world and whose leadership has contributed much to the good reputation of this musical force of 24 men. Also accompanying the band will be the guest soprano soloist Mrs. Len Sampson whose high calibre of singing is becoming well known throughout The Army in Canada.

The bandsmen represent a wide range of occupations, including military musicians, managers, a carpenter, a school inspector with four university degrees, an engineer, high school and university students and Salvation Army officers.

One of the Salvation Army officers in the party is Brigadier G. Voisey who spent fourteen years as a missionary in Africa. Another officer, Brigadier W. Lorimer, has held several responsible positions in the Army and is at present superintendent of the Salvation Army's hostel for men in Edmonton. Three Dutchmen, an Englishman and a New Zealander included among the bandsters give this fine musical combination an international flavor.

Included in the band's varied programs will be vocal solos, instrumental solos and quartettes, group singing, elocution, a piano duet and testimonies.

Major Hollman, a corps officer of many years experience, will be the speaker on Sunday.

Sudden Death of Ed. Baldwin

Mr. Baldwin had only returned to his winter home but a short time ago and was playing cards with friends when he passed away.

He had made his home for many years during the winter with Mr. and Mrs. George Van Vanden Deiler at Oliver.

One hundred and twenty-five students attended the initiation dance in the evening. A special attraction was the performance of "The [illegible]" by high school orchestra.

A pep club which will encourage sports and cheer at 'A' team games has been formed under the direction of Mrs. Maddocks.

The high school has begun a ten-day campaign for the purpose of selling magazine subscriptions. The deadline is Friday, Oct. 21. We would appreciate all support given toward this effort.

House league games are again under way, with volleyball and football being played during the noon hour.

We wish to thank the High school for the wonderful time we had at their initiation dance. It was much enjoyed by those who attended.

Wm. J. Macnab, Pioneer Business Man, Farmer, Dies at 92 Years

William James Macnab, pioneer business man and farmer of Vermilion and district, died in the Vermilion hospital on Thursday evening, October 13th. He was 92 years of age on Sept. 26. For practically all that time he had enjoyed good health and had been very active. His health started to fail early this year culminating in his death Thursday.

Mr. Macnab was born at Wallace, Nova Scotia, on Sept. 26th, 1868 and came west in 1897. From then until 1905 he railroaded in British Columbia. Much of that time was spent in the booming mining towns of that era, many of which are now "ghost towns".

In 1905 Mr. Macnab came to Vermilion and opened a general store on the corner now occupied by Texaco Service. He was a member of the first council of the town of Vermilion and a charter member of Vermilion Masonic Lodge No. 24. In 1919 he sold his town business and commenced farming in the Buffalo Coulee district, which has been the family home ever since.

Predeceased by his wife two years ago, he is survived by one son, Brenton A. Macnab, two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Oct. 17 at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the Auburndale United church, with interment taking place in the Mount Auburn cemetery. The Rev. W. A. Champness officiated.

Meyer's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

No Permanent Rat Control Without Tidy Premises

No permanent rat control can be achieved without tidy premises. According to Alberta's Assistant Supervisor of Crop Protection and Pest Control D. Stelfox, this will be the keynote of the rat control conference to be held at Oyen on October 24th and 25th.

Department of Agriculture representatives and municipal pest control officers will present reports on the rat situation as it is today. Those who took part in the original rat control program will outline conditions as they were ten years ago on farmsteads, garbage disposal grounds and storage premises along Alberta's eastern border. We hope by this procedure, says Mr Stelfox, that a clearer picture will be gained of the ten years of progress in rat control.

The conference workshop will also discuss modern methods of rat prevention, the effectiveness of these control measures and the development of good public relations.

August Traffic Statistics

What group of urban Alberta citizens, drivers, passengers or pedestrians are most liable to be injured in traffic?

Passengers, the Alberta Safety Council said Saturday on the basis of a study of police reports.

In August for example the figures are typical: 109 passengers injured, 79 drivers and 61 pedestrians. In addition 21 bicyclists were injured, three motorcyclists and two "scooter" operators. One scooter operator was killed as well as two pedestrians and one driver.

These figures, the Council stressed, are for urban areas only. Comparable figures for rural areas under the jurisdiction of the R C M P were not available.

Across the whole province during August the Council continued the death toll 28 brought the total for the year to 191 which is 2 per cent above the corresponding 1959 figure. The injury toll for August was 646, bringing the year's total to 3,481, a decline of 12 per cent. The accident toll shows only a slight change 2,050 for the month, 14,291 for the year. The comparable 1959 figures are 2,088 and 14,137.

Reflecting multiple-injury and multiple-fatality accidents, a pronounced trend in Alberta, the 28 fatalities occurred in 24 accidents and the 646 injuries occurred in 432 accidents. Property damage for the month is estimated at $874,858.

A comparison of August figures with those of the same month last year showed the following: the R C M P reported more accidents, fewer injuries and the same number of deaths (24). Edmonton reported fewer accidents, injuries and deaths: three deaths compared with four in August of last year. Calgary reported fewer accidents and injuries and one death each month. Medicine Hat reported fewer accidents and injuries and no deaths in either month. Lethbridge reported no deaths and improvements in the other categories. Camrose reported five accidents, an improvement. Red Deer reported fewer accidents and injuries and no deaths compared with one last year. Drumheller and Wetaskiwin also reported better records for August.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Soon Hallowe'en night will be upon us and a group of we ladies would like to sow a little seed for thought.

The waste of the present custom of scores and scores of children going from door to door asking for treats is quite apparent to everyone. The treats handed out are dumped into a big sack and much of it is eventually wasted. This is easy to see the next morning when half eaten apples, pop corn balls, suckers, etc. are noticed scattered about the streets.

There are probably 650 households in Vermilion each of which must spend a minimum of $1 (and probably much more) on Hallowe'en treats. To what end, just waste. There may be the odd hard up family which enjoys the treats, but very few.

Now for the idea. Why not have each family donate this money to some worthy charitable cause such as the Vermilion Retarded Children's school. Just think if 500 families say diverted their money at just $1 per family, what a handsome amount it would be.

It might be depriving the children of some fun, also a few stomach aches, but it would be eliminating a lote of waste and the money would be doing some good whereas now, it is wasted.

ASS'T D. A.

The Vermilion Agricultural office has been very fortunate to have Mr. Dan Peters appointed assistant district agriculturist. Dan hails from Lacombe, graduating from the University of Alberta in 1958 with B.Sc degree.

SUMMERFALLOW

At the Experimental Farm, Scott, Saskatchewan, over a 37 year period it has been found that summerfallow started on May 15th yielded 2.3 bushels of wheat more per acre than summerfallow started July 15th.

CROPS

In grain rotations oats and barley produce better on stubble land than wheat. Oats and barley on stubble land respond better to nitrogen fertilizer than wheat does. If wheat is grown on stubble land it produces better after oats and barley than after wheat. Diseases that winter over on stubble are particularly serious in flax and barley. Flax and barley should never be sown on the same land two years in succession.

BUDGETING (Planning)

Farm managers have planned future operations for generations mentally, written, formal and informal. The modern farm manager sets out his goal and compares it with what would happen if he continued in his present way. He compares his [illegible] plan of action with an [illegible] tive. The real purpose of [illegible] ing is to figure out which of several business alternatives promise the best profit. The standard budget forms are only to make certain that no points are missed. Budgeting is an absolute necessity in modern business planning.

REMEMBER 4-H

It's now time to organize 4-H Beef Feeding Clubs.

Claysmore Clippings

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr and Mrs. Frank Pidruchney who were married in Vermilion on Saturday. Mrs. Pidruchney is the former Edna Fry. Several from this district attended the wedding and reception which followed in the Elks hall.

Mr and Mrs. Percy Hawley were Sunday supper guests at the Alan Olstad home.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Semeniuk and Mr and Mrs. Kochan were Sunday afternoon visitors at the Steve Warawa home. They were all supper guests at the Pete Pidruchney home.

Pleasant Valley

Crops have now practically all been safely gathered in, but let's hope the winter storms do not begin yet for awhile.

Everyone is busy taking advantage of the lovely weather. Storm windows are going on, and in the fields tractors are busy preparing the ground for another season. There seems to be lots of vegetables and potatoes for the winter. Bulbs are plentiful in the stores. The writer hopes you have yours planted.

Mrs. Sylvia Gould arrived home from Edmonton where she spent a week visiting friends. Elsewhere in this issue will be found a story of the writer's visit to Victoria in company with Mrs. Cummings.

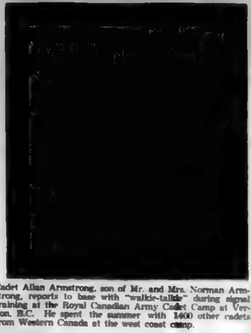
Premier Manning Commends F.U.A. Membership Drive

PREMIER E. C. MANNING

"It is a recognized fact that the man close to the soil is a man close to reality and this has been a major factor in the change in Alberta from virgin land to a balanced economy in a little more than fifty years.

It is important that this voice of the farmer continue to be heard in all the affairs of our Province and this can best be achieved through a strong active and representative farm organization. It is of benefit to farmers individually and collectively and to the Province as a whole if the organization can speak with authority on behalf of a substantial majority of those engaged in our basic industry Agriculture.

I commend to the attention of those farmers not already members the fact that the membership drive of the Farmers' Union of Alberta will be held on November the 14th this year. I sincerely hope that the response is such that the Union will achieve an all-time high in its membership and effectiveness as an agency working for the interests of the farmer, the community and our Province as a whole."



Cadet Allan Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Armstrong, reports to base with "walkie-talkie" during signal training at the Royal Canadian Army Cadet Camp at Vernon, B.C. He spent the summer with 1400 other cadets from Western Canada at the west coast camp.

W.M.S. Plan Drive; Great Need For Babies', Children's Clothing

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held Thursday, Oct. 13. Vice president Mrs. Hill presided and asked the members to rise and observe two minutes of silent prayer for the president Mrs A. M. West, who is in sorrow.

A Thanksgiving worship service was conducted by Mrs. C W Barr, Mrs Brown and Mrs. S H. Carroll.

The United Church is sponsoring a drive during this month of October for clothing for overseas relief.

There is a great need for good used clothing of all kinds, particularly for babies and young children. This clothing does not need to be white, colored clothing is very acceptable too. Clean, old nylons are made use of by Korean women. They unravel them and reweave the thread into curtains and other things which they sell. This helps them earn their living. If you have clothing to give, pack it in a box and leave in the United church hall labelled "For Overseas Relief".

Mrs Maskell reported 33 Busy Bees at her last meeting.

Mrs. Ed East is [illegible] Monthly and World Friends secretary and is now ready to receive subscriptions. Those who wish to subscribe or renew their subscription please bring the money to the next meeting.

Mrs Rookes reported thirty home and hospital calls made. Mrs. Manson Barr reported that the W A will hold a rummage sale Oct. 22 in the church hall at which lunch, tea and coffee will be served, proceeds of which are to go the W.M.S. Mrs. Barr gave a very interesting report on the W A and W.M.S. joint rally which was recently held at Cold Lake.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah after which lunch was served by Mrs. C. Barr and committee.

Holy Name Parish Donate Organ To Retarded Children

"Let there be music", and so music there is at the Vermilion Retarded Children's school.

This music is by organ and is through the courtesy of Holy Name parish and Father Landrigan with the aid of Jim Champion who last week presented the instrument to the school for retardates.

Needless to say, there was great enthusiasm among the students with plenty of help for the teachers in pumping the pedals.

Sincere appreciation is expressed by the executive of the Retarded Children's Association to Holy Name parish.

Ches Waldenburger new lessee at Sunnyside

Ches Waldenburger is back in the business world in Vermilion and is the new proprietor of the Sunnyside Esso Service station advertised elsewhere in the Standard this week. The former proprietor ... APPRECIATION

To the so many people and groups who have sent me get well cards, been so wonderful in visiting me, sending me endless gifts of fruit and treats and bringing a car up here to take me downtown and around so many times, all I can say is "Thank you and thank you again.

Roy Walker.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Dr. Stephens and the nurses for their care and attention while I was a patient in the Vermilion hospital. I also would like to say thank you to all the kind friends who sent flowers, gifts and get-well cards.

Proceeds of Raffle Donated to Retarded Children's School

The goodly sum of $35 was presented by Mrs. Vi Toner to the Retarded Children's Association on behalf of the "Flying Canaries" ladies fastball club.

This amount was raised by the team by raffling a hand-made cushion, with the winner being little Miss Brenda, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Louie Myshak.

This is the second donation made to the Retarded Children's school by the organization and their help is most sincerely appreciated by the executive of the school.

DODGE DART IS EYE-CATCHER AGAIN IN 1961

Ultra-modern design, featuring crisp, functional lines from its new grille to its sweptline rear deck, sets out the 1961 Dodge Dart as the "class" vehicle in its price field. This uncluttered sculpturing accentuates the exclusiveness of the Dodge Dart image. Exterior re-designing isn't the only improvement it boasts. The best quality upholsteries and appointments are to be found in the vehicle, in addition to improvements in the "slant six" and V-8 powerplants which assure owners of increased economy and efficiency of operation. Pictured here is the Dodge Dart Phoenix two-door hardtop.

DANGEROUS STUBBLE FIRE

What could have been a catastrophe happened on Saturday when Matt Dixon's car backfired and set some stubble on fire which soon spread with the high wind prevailing that day to some grassland and then to Cliff Cruthers' stubble field where three filled granaries sat. With the wind shifting everyone was alarmed as Cruthers' house was in the path of the flames but [illegible] came to the rescue as did the Vermilion fire engine and crew and the fire was checked before any real damage was done. With everything so dry [illegible] everyone is advised to be very careful.

Mrs. Fred Haines has been very busy helping out at her sister's home, Mrs. Bagley, in town while she underwent an operation, as well as keeping up with her own work.

"IT WILL ALWAYS DO TO CHANGE FOR THE BETTER"

The pharmaceutical manufacturers are engaged in a continuous search to find better drugs. No matter how good any medicine works, they are always trying to create a newer one that will be still more effective.

Each year we destroy medicines which have been replaced by others. They have become worthless. When you consider the research cost of producing new drugs and losses from obsolete ones, it is amazing the average cost of all prescriptions is only about $3.00.

Vermilion Girl Graduates

The second annual presentation of certificates to students who have successfully completed a 40-week training course certifying them as Nurses' Aides was held recently at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton. More than 100 students of the 200 eligible members of ten Edmonton School for Nurses' Aides classes were able to be present director of Nursing Aide education for the Alberta Depart- for the impressive ceremony. Mrs. E. M. Shaw of Calgary, ment of Public Health, presented certificates to the successful candidates. Among those who took part in the ceremony were, left to right: Mrs. Shaw; Mrs. Ann Kofman, Tofield; Miss Jennie Dronyk, Two Hills; Miss Dar[illegible] Taylor, Vermilion; Miss Veronica Supernault, Viking, and Miss Mary Johnston, Grand Centre.

Apathy Absent at Elections; American Type Campaign Supports Candidates

MANNVILLE Certainly no one could accuse Mannville students' union of apathy in their elections this year. Indeed they do credit to any party wishing to hire campaign managers. Upon entering the high school halls one was greeted by a profusion of picture posters, cleverly designed cartoons and students campaigning up and down the corridors. Those candidates seeking election attempted speeches and were good-naturedly jeered at; finally silence was granted whereupon candidates did themselves proud. A tape recorded speech of one candidate was well worth listening to, and offered constructive thinking. The entire election was run on the same principle only on a much smaller scale as the Nixon Kennedy elections, but by no means lacking in fervor. Each group supporting their candidate, used familiar "cheercalls", and the din present in the hall was very much similar to that at election headquarters in provincial elections.

One group sadly informed your reporter their candidate had been kidnapped, so they were pulling a presumable effigy in a cart, loudly proclaiming their displeasure. Principal Smith admitted all the confusion appeared to be enjoying this last day of campaigning, which could take place lunch time or recess breaks only, as much as the students.

This paper is of the opinion that this was a good thing for the students and much enthusiasm will be infused into future elections in our country, we hope by these endeavors for good citizenship. Results of elections will follow next week.

You'll never be popular if you spend all your time taking advantage of your right of free speech.

SQUARE NOTES From Circle 8

The Circle Eight's "open House" was a tremendous success. Our prospective new members were very enthusiastic and all the square dancers really did their part to help the beginners enjoy themselves. We were very pleased to have a whole square in attendance from the air base at Cold Lake, also visitors from Clandonald and Islay. We thank one and all for coming.

Lessons will commence this Tuesday, Oct 25 in Johnny Maxwell's rumpus room. If you have not already signified that you would like to try square dancing it isn't too late. Just put on some flat shoes and be over at Johnny and Cora's at 8.30 Tuesday evening. Should you find you are not interested – which all square dancers doubt very much – you are not obligated in any way to continue. It is planned to have the lessons completed before the Christmas and New Year's parties so that all beginners will be full-fledged square dancers by then.

The first regular dance will be held at Bowtell hall on Friday Oct. 28 at 8.30 p.m. with Johnny Maxwell calling. We are looking forward to seeing you then and to all our dances on the second and fourth Friday of each month.

Fellow Square Dancers will be sorry to learn that we have lost a truly ardent supporter of square dancing in the person of Mabel Lindsay of Edmonton. Mabel had made several visits to our club over the past seven years with her husband Jimmy and will be long remembered by all.

Princess Anne W. I. Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Princess Anne W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. George Mead on Oct. 13, with twelve members present.

The meeting was opened with "O Canada" followed by the Creed. Roll call was answered by twelve pretty teen agers. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The [illegible] care of Retarded Children was discussed and an[illegible] Mrs. Wm. McIntyre and Mrs. Mac Mead volunteered to go to the Handicraft meeting with Mrs. Mudryk. Mrs. Wm. McIntyre kindly donated a lovely woollen blanket to be raffled for Christmas [illegible] of several districts. Mrs. Rock Mead and Mrs. Fred W[illegible] are making the tickets.

A special meeting is to be held at Mrs. [illegible]'s home for study discussion [illegible] Canada and World Affairs on Oct. 28th. A new member [illegible] Stewart [illegible] heartily welcomed to our group. Mrs. Frank Gibson is to be invited to our next meeting, Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. Fred Stewart.

A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Geo. Mead, Mrs. Ralph Strome and Mrs. M. Simonet.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clifford Sheppard (nee Dorothy Axley)

Islay United Church Scene Of Pretty Fall Wedding

A pretty August wedding was solemnized in the Islay United church with bouquets of gladioli at the altar and sweetpeas in the window when Dorothy Jeannette Axley, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs W Axley of Islay became the bride of Mr Robert Clifford Sheppard, eldest son of Mr and Mrs E F Sheppard of Kitscoty. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev James Shortt of Kitscoty. Mrs W Waterfield played the wedding music.

The bride looked radiant as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her waltz length gown was of Chantilly lace [illegible] tiers of nylon [illegible] and taffeta. The skirt was styled with three tiers of Chantilly lace each tier terminating in a fine scalloped edging. The slim fitting bodice with lily point sleeves and sabrina neckline was accentuated with a rosette design of pearls and sequins. A pearl and sequin crown held in place her fingertip [illegible] illusion net veil with wide [illegible] with rhinestones. She carried a cascade of red roses and net.

Attending the bride were Miss [illegible] McGuigan and Miss [illegible] Axley sister of the bride. [illegible] were identical dresses of white organza embroidered with mauve on each tier with wide mauve taffeta cummerbunds. Mauve net crowns and white gloves with mauve ribbons completed their ensembles. Each carried a bouquet of white roses.

Lynn Axley, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl in white nylon with mauve accessories and carrying a basket of mauve and white sweetpeas.

The groom was attended by his [illegible] brothers Brian and Ken Sheppard. Billy Axley brother of the bride was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a heart shaped lace cushion.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. [illegible] wore a sheath of white and red chiffon with matching duster, white corsage and accessories. The groom's mother chose a dusty rose lace sheath with pink corsage and beige accessories.

Mr Benjamin Axley and Mr Jack Allen ushered the guests to their seats which were trimmed with white ribbon and sweetpeas.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Jack Allen, cousin of the groom sang "The Wedding Prayer".

Following the wedding there was an open reception held in the Islay hall with the ladies of the Islay W.A. catering and providing a lovely supper. Mr Shortt asked the blessing. Mr James Munro, uncle of the bride proposed the toast which was ably responded to by the groom. The hall was beautifully decorated with mauve and white streamers and an archway of flowers and ivy, also with bouquets of gladioli and sweetpeas. The bride's table was laid with an embroidered cloth, centred [illegible] cake baked by the bride's mother and decorated by Mrs. Gerritts of Kitscoty. It was embedded in pink tulle and sweetpeas. During the reception Mrs. Allen sang another beautiful solo "Because". Miss Elaine Sweet was in charge of the guest book in which about one hundred and seventy signed.

An open dance followed in the evening with the Western Aces supplying the music. Mr Dalt Torrance was the very able floor manager.

For travelling the bride changed to a white chiffon [illegible] with red embroidery and [illegible] white duster and accessories with red corsage.

The young couple travelled to Banff, Lake Louise, Radium and Vancouver for their honeymoon, coming home via [illegible]. They are now making their home in [illegible].

Out-of-town guests for the [illegible] were Jim Munro of North Battleford, Mr [illegible] F T King, Mr and Mrs. D. Mark and family, Mr and Mrs. Jack Allen and Betty, Mr and Mrs. H. OF HEALTH, WEALTH AND HAPPINESS

It is fairly safe to predict that most everybody in Canada wants health, wealth and happiness and it is equally safe to say that most everybody disagrees to some extent on how those blessings can be achieved.

Often the methods used to obtain wealth certainly do not bring either happiness or health. For example, if our government forced us all at gun point to slave hard for ten to twelve hours per day at assigned jobs, there is very little doubt but that we'd become a powerful and wealthy country for a time. We would not be happy, however, and our energies and initiative and inventiveness would wither fast. Some nations, at this very moment in history, are doing just that, forcing their people to produce for the State at a tremendous speed in an effort to catch up to us. They have made great progress in some lines but have fallen far short in others. There are indications that the people have tired under this regimentation and coercion, and some of the governments are now using incentives more like ours to get production out of the citizens. Russia, for example, is rapidly adopting many of our capitalist incentives.

Canada probably has the best system of all. We do not aim for wealth alone. Our governments use persuasion far more than coercion to encourage us to produce. We are not the wealthiest people in the world, but we are a healthy and happy people.

It would be a blunder, in my opinion, if we changed our course and aimed at wealth alone. If our spiritual values - freedom, happiness, self-reliance, etc. - were sacrificed in order to assure wealth, wealth would turn to ashes in our mouths. Fact is, the wealth we did gain in such a manner would not last, because human beings, like race horses, cannot be whipped to the tape too often or the spirit dies.

There is a great deal of talk about economic growth these days. Some economists seem ready to sacrifice almost anything to achieve it. Most Canadians, however, while eager to see economic growth, are far more eager to hold onto the spiritual values which, in the long run, would make such growth a real and lasting thing.

Make Check On Whooping Cranes

REGINA — Irwin Barker, flyway biologist with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, is expected to arrive in Regina this week to begin a field check of whooping cranes resting in the province in preparation for their 2,000-mile flight from Wood Buffalo Park in Canada to Aransas Wildlife Refuge on the coast of Texas.

It is his intention to check any reportings of whoopers sighted in the province and to attempt to establish the whereabouts of any whooping crane young.

Later Mr Barker will conduct further research on the flight pattern of whooping cranes in parts of the Dakotas and along the Platte River in Nebraska.

In an effort to assist ornithologists in the difficult task of tracing the birds, F G Bard, director of the Saskatchewan Museum of Natural History, has requested the public to watch migrating flocks of Sandhill cranes and to report any large white birds seen travelling with the Sandhills. Birds sighted in flight may be reported by mail and will provide valuable data for tracing the migration south of the whoopers. If a whooping crane is sighted in stubble with a flock of Sandhill cranes, a telephone call to the museum or the game warden in your locality will enable personnel to field check the birds. Reports of this kind have already been checked this year, affording rare research opportunities.

This magnificent bird may be recognized by their height, standing about four feet tall, white plumage, black [illegible] and moustache, and [illegible] pate. Young whoopers are less [illegible] identified, since their plumage has a ruddy brown cast, similar to that of the Sandhill crane.

WARRANTY ON NEW CARS TRIPLED

With new models making their bow in dealer's showrooms almost daily now, there's good news for Canadian buyers. The prices are down on several models, same as last year on most others. Warranty protection has been tripled to now the highest ever with guarantees covering one full year or 12,000 miles. Many models are shorter, narrower, easier to garage and park.

Alberta Fire Average 12 A Day

Today approximately 12 fires occurred at as many Alberta points. Tomorrow and each day thereafter, another 12 will cause thousands of dollars damage to property and perhaps loss of life in Alberta. These are average figures compiled from the reports of the Alberta Fire Commissioner's Office at Edmonton.

During 1959, there were 4,674 fires in Alberta resulting in a total property loss in excess of $7 million dollars, or 5.89 for every man, woman and child in the province. In addition to the great loss of property, 46 persons lost their lives. The figures for the first six months of 1960 reveal 2,147 fires have occurred in the province with a loss of life for 19 persons.

The appalling loss of property and life through fire in Alberta has cost the people of Alberta, indirectly through increased insurance rates and other expenses, more than $60,000,000 since 1950. The loss of life exceeds 400 or a total approximately equal to the entire population of the village of Airdrie in southern Alberta or Willingdon, east of Edmonton.

The Fire Commissioner reports fully one third of the fires which occur in the province are caused by smokers' carelessness. Fire fighting officials have stated the number of fires will decline in direct proportion to the number and size of ash trays in use throughout the Province. In spite of an education campaign that has been going on for several years, smokers still forget cigarettes left in ashtrays and still smoke in bed. The consequences are often costly and frequently fatal.

Other common causes of fire, according to the Fire Commissioner's report, are in order of frequency: faulty electric wiring, stoves, furnaces, boilers, hot ashes, open fires, and lightning. It is significant that lightning, the only cause which is primarily uncontrolled by man, ranks among the lowest of the fire causes. The two highest frequency factors are careless smoking habits and improper use of electricity, both of which are easily eliminated by a small amount of care.

The sum of provincial reports for 1959: 556 lives lost, $120.5 millions of property consumed, 82,421 fires reported.

The proclamation sets out the magnitude of the human loss over the last ten years: 5,358 lives and an estimated 16,000 seriously injured and scarred.

The direct out-of-pocket waste of the decade to the living and working places of Canada was more than one billion dollars. Such a sum is double the ten-year cost of all our universities and colleges. It is twice the cost of a St. Lawrence Seaway. Perhaps ten times the billion dollars was the indirect loss to the national economy. Nor does the figure include forest fire waste.

HOLDING THE LINE?

Tragic as is the record, there are heartening, if short-term aspects.

In 1957 our fire losses reached an all-time high. Probably no nation in the world had ever before exceeded Canada's per capita property cost of fire for that dismal year: $8.05.

While it's the "large loss fires" ($50,000 and more) which run up the yearly bill, Canada's [illegible] fire fighters believe, and with reason, that fire prevention education starts in the home.

For it is in the home that three-quarters of all fire deaths occur.

Consequently the fire fighter particularly directs his country-wide message this year to four million homes: CHECK YOUR HOME AGAINST FIRE HAZARDS.

Comes too the enduring slogan: DON'T GIVE THE FIRE A PLACE TO START. And giving voice to the hapless victims of fire, especially children, women and elderly folk: DON'T [illegible]

Federal, provincial and municipal authorities join with industry and public spirited organizations in backing the campaign. Joint sponsors are the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, in support of fire prevention drives in 2,700 municipalities.

What Makes My Child Dishonest?

Health Unit Notes

You may be worried because your child lies and steals. You wonder if your training has been faulty or if he has a streak of evil in him. Such actions by your child may be a part of the business of growing up. You can guide him safely through these problems if you understand why he does these things and then take the necessary action.

No Head For Figures — Yet!

Because it's hard for grown-ups to enter into the child's world, parents sometimes deal unwisely with his fancies, calling them lies. Your four-year-old tells somebody he has "hundreds and thousands of dollars" in his bank. He has heard some adult use these words so he uses them too. His ideas of amounts and quantities are vague. He'll learn to be accurate in time as he deals with real things and gains an understanding of what they mean.

Some children live in more of a fairy tale atmosphere than do others, particularly those who lack playmates. If a child hasn't plenty of interesting things to do and others to play with and lacks lots of warm affection from his parents, he may use his daydreams to give him his badly needed companionship. He may even invent a wicked character whom he blames for his bad deeds.

To meet such imaginative stories, let him know you regard it as a very good story and nothing more by such remarks as "Well, now that's a very interesting story, but how did you tar your blame?" Avoid making him feel you don't trust him.

You can help him gradually learn to tell the real from the unreal in many little ways. Perhaps one day while washing up for lunch he may be full of pretendings. When he finishes his talk, you can say "That's a wonderful make-believe. Now I'll tell you something I really did this morning." Then you can describe making a batch of cookies, leading him off to lunch and the cookies. Also, when reading stories to him, point out which stories are "made up" and which are about things that actually happened.

Seek the 'Why's Behind the Lies

He may come home with some pretty wild yarns, or talk big to impress other children. He isn't telling lies to deceive in an adult grownup sense. His natural desire to feel important is being denied. So he makes up startling stories to get attention. Don't neglect this appetite for attention any more than you would his need for food. Also give him sufficient toys and playthings. He should have playmates of his own age.

If your child is a chronic liar, seek the reasons. The real problem is not with the lies but with the "why's". Children are not "honest" by nature. They develop honesty by the examples you set. Remember that point whenever you have him tell a door-to-door salesman you're not in or make a promise and don't keep it.

Avoid tempting him into lying by asking such questions as "Did you write on the wall?" If you are sure he wrote on the wall, show him how it ruins the appearance and that you are displeased. His feeling of guilt will be punishment enough. If he persists in such action, then deprive him of his crayons, but avoid harshness.

Must Be Taught "Mine" and "Thine"

The young child may take an article that isn't his. He says it's his own for a simple reason . . . he just wants to use it at that moment. And this desire for possession lasts only as long as does his interest in it. How soon he learns the lesson of private property will depend on what he sees and hears in the family life. Some families are very casual in their use of another's clothing or toys. No wonder a small child has a hard time distinguishing "mine" from "thine".

Your child should learn this distinction as soon as [illegible] Don't let him get [illegible] taking other people's [illegible] [illegible] "cute" [illegible] [illegible] and let him feel that you disapprove. Punishment by depriving him of certain privileges should only be used as a last resort.

Give him a place to keep his things. Let other members of the family respect his possessions and not insist he give them up to a visiting child. Encourage him to share his playthings but if he doesn't want to give them up, some other toy should be found for the little visitor.

The Inner Need Behind the Steal

If you discover your child in a theft, don't punish him or humiliate him by drastic measures. A child of school age rarely steals just to possess an article. Occasionally he keeps on stealing because he's learned that his wants are easily satisfied without his being caught. But usually there's a deeper reason, the need to satisfy some driving inner need.

He may be under pressure to contribute to a school cause and since he can't get the money from his parents, he steals. It may be spite, stealing from somebody who has been abusing him. Or [illegible] wanting to be like his friends in having the same things. It [illegible] be a gang matter, to get the approval of the others. Even an unselfish reason, such as to help out at home without his parents knowing what he has done. Find out, then, why the child has stolen. The majority of cases can be handled by the parent. The theft shouldn't be allowed to work out [illegible] way to the [illegible] advantage. Don't let him keep the article. Don't reward him for returning it. The article should be returned and if it cannot, make him pay for it out of his allowance. However, don't take away his entire allowance for a period of weeks or you may find you've driven him back to stealing. Above all, don't let him feel that he has lost your love and confidence.

Face such situations frankly and keep up a friendly relationship with the child. If the problem should persist, or if the child who has been stealing appears to have been emotionally upset for some time, then it's advisable to consult an expert at a child guidance or mental health clinic.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alberta Political Scene Quiet; Little Interest in New Labor Party

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — It's hard to imagine the Alberta political scene being any more quiet and serene than it is at the moment.

The next provincial general election is a good two and a half years or more away. Premier Manning's government is about as secure as it ever has been with 60 of 65 seats in the House, and it's still too early to start getting excited about a federal election.

The only event coming up which may cause a little excitement is a by-election expected to be held in the late fall or early winter in the central Alberta riding of Didsbury.

J. L. Owens, the Social Credit member for Didsbury, died late in September. Under the Election Act the riding must have representation during the next session of the Legislature so a by-election can't be too far off.

Didsbury has always been a fairly safe Social Credit seat, so it is highly likely the voters there will return another government supporter.

On the other hand a by-election always gives the protest voters a chance to express their displeasure with the government, if they have any, without any danger of defeating the government. And in view of Premier Manning's overwhelming victory in the last general election there is an outside chance the Didsbury voters may decide they should provide the premier with a little more opposition, for the time being at least.

[illegible] Alberta is in the political doldrums. The Liberal and Conservative provincial parties, leaderless and still not recovered from their stinging defeat in 1959, are doing little or nothing to keep the political pot boiling.

Sizable Social Credit Representation at Ottawa Predicted

There's a lot of noise being made elsewhere in Canada about the CCF and organized labor merging to form a new party of the left, but in Alberta you don't hear of much action.

Things aren't likely to liven up too much until Prime Minister Diefenbaker calls a federal election. It will be interesting to see what Alberta does in the next Dominion vote. Last time Alberta joined the rest of Canada in the swing behind Diefenbaker to see what he could and would do and sent a full slate of Tories to Ottawa.

My guess is that it won't happen again. Alberta is traditionally an Opposition province. The last election was the first in years which sent a majority of government supporters to the federal capital from Alberta.

Don't be surprised if Alberta has a sizable delegation of Social Credit members in Ottawa again after the next federal election.

Dewberry W. I.

The October meeting of the Dewberry United Church W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Kruger with seven members and two visitors [illegible] The singing of a hymn was followed by reading from the Bible by Mrs. W. Young and from the Upper Room by Mrs. J. Proud.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's report given. It was decided to cancel the annual fowl supper for this year. In place of it the W.A. will hold a bazaar and tea on Nov. 26 and at which there will also be home baking, home produce and candy for sale. A motion was made and seconded to ask for donations of print to make bazaar articles.

Mrs. Kruger and Mrs. J. Porter volunteered to help with the planning of the congregational dinner on Nov. 1. A motion was made to send $10 to CARE.

Benediction brought the meeting to a close after which lunch was served by the hostess. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. N. E. Jones.

School Bus Drivers Desire Provincial Organization

The second annual provincial executive meeting of the Alberta School Bus Operators Association was held at Red Deer on Sunday Sept. 18th from 1 to 6 p.m. The general president, Adolph Kotyshyn of Two Hills was in the chair and general secretary Jos. P. Dubuc of Vegreville attended in this capacity.

The following regional directors were also present: Earl Baker, Namaka; Peter Lyschuck, Cherhill; Cal Bingham, Cardston; Vera Leinhuisen, Cardston; Jos. Marus, Smoky Lake. [illegible] directors W. A. Lun of [illegible], and Mike Kueffler of Alliance were absent.

The secretary was instructed to follow up diligently on the possibility of amalgation with other such movements in Sask. and Ont. Photostatic copies of the membership list will be made available to commercial firms upon payment of an associate membership fee of $25.00.

The second annual fall convention will be held at Strathmore on Sat. Dec. 3rd. [illegible] Baker is convention chairman in charge.

This association is an absolutely free, independent, [illegible] body, not connected in any way whatsoever with any other parent body or union. Its main objective is to generally look after, and further the interests of the contract school bus operators, to work towards greater safety and courtesies in driving habits, economical operation and complete the harmonious co-operation with school divisions and counties in Alberta, as well as with the Provincial highway traffic board.

The annual membership fee is only $3.00 which proves for itself that this is a non profit organization, whose existence is purely for the good of operators and others involved.

The chief goal is ultimately 100 per cent enrollment of the 1800 or more contract bus operators in Alberta.

The special services commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Alliance Chapel held from Oct. 7th to 10th, witnessed the return of many who were responsible for the institution of the Alliance in Vermilion. Pictured in this group, from left to right, are: Mrs. Axel Swanson (formerly Jean Bell), the first bride to be married in the Chapel; Rev. Gordon A. Skitch, now of Kitchener, Ontario, who was superintendent for this area at the time of organizing the Alliance work in Vermilion; Mrs. Tena Bell of Edmonton, who was the first secretary-treasurer; Rev. Edward Kirk of Three Hills, still well remembered here as the first pastor; Mrs. William Ducey of Edmonton, one of the first members, and a very well known pioneer resident of Vermilion; Mr. Arpad McLennan of Three Hills, who was the first Sunday School superintendent.

Pleasant Valley News

Here we are [illegible] home [illegible] Park. It is nestled in sunny Alberta, Mrs. C[illegible] and the writer decided a trip to the moon, but hearing that [illegible] was no accommodation for [illegible]ly ladies we landed at Victoria, only 3½ hours from Edmonton. The trip by air was [illegible] enjoyed as it was a [illegible] day and the views were [illegible]. The roses and dahlias are a sight to behold, and the weather feels much like July. Long drives were taken every day sight seeing. Cordova Bay was visited where a new shopping centre was opened. Such gaiety right at the water front, all the children received treats and the music sounded as grand. The Mattick gardens with all the flowers and plants were visited many of these we had not seen before.

Another sight seeing tour was [illegible] Park. It is nestled in a [illegible] spot with a hotel and [illegible]. You can order chicken on the wing. What did we have Daisy that was so good but we [illegible]?

[illegible] was the next place, peacocks, swans, ducks, and all the lovely birds in the cages. One can look for miles over the ocean rustic old [illegible] notices the older folk [illegible] and reading and [illegible] the lovely air. It is really a little bit of heaven for old folks. One really has to see it to enjoy the beauty there.

The Crystal Gardens is [illegible] worth a visit where a little [illegible] was [illegible] here and there. We hope that they will grow.

One evening we dined at the Princess Mary restaurant vessell. This is something wonderful, too. Just as we entered we met Mrs. Dr. King and her folks enjoying it too.

There is a poem about the Princess Mary, and it goes like this:

"A gallant lady, the S.S. Princess Mary.
She's pensioned from the service
And shackled to the ground.
So spiced with ancient memories
Dramatic and profound.
With 'er riggin' all [illegible]
And 'er 'ull shipshape [illegible]
She's now a restaurant vessel
To please her master's whim.
But her timbered soul ain't sleepin'
As 'er flag waves lazily
For [illegible]'s broodin' for the billows
Of choppy misty seas.
Abroodin' for the schedules
An' the 'arbors in the chuck.
Where there's fisher folk what's kindred
To the vessel's noted pluck."

Classified ads. in the Standard are living up to their reputation as being little wonder workers. Rev. and Mrs. MacKay and Family Receive Warm Welcome In Toronto

45 Hammersmith Ave.,
Toronto, 8, Ontario.
October 11th, 1960.

Dear Friends of Vermilion,

The MacKays have arrived safely in Toronto a little over a week ago, at supper time.

The trip east was very pleasant, especially the hour spent at the Kitscoty picnic shelter. The panorama of color through Michigan was beyond all explaining.

Thursday night was spent with friends in Windsor.

Sparky travelled well — but missed his companion "Spot" very much. It seems that Sammy was an unusual character at the border as Customs officers had to read up on their regulations before they allowed him to cross over. A lot of queer birds cross the border . . . but apparently not many real birds.

Arriving Friday night at 6.00 o'clock the house was ready and waiting. Two lovely bouquets of flowers greeted us, one in the front room and one in the dining room, but the boys were more impressed with the hot casserole and lemon pie and frig full of good things that awaited our coming. The people have been very kind in the many ways they have helped us to get settled — but for all that the days do seem longer here than in Vermilion.

As we said, we arrived Friday at 6 p.m. and by Saturday noon we had purchased our TV set. It is lovely, an Electrohome, 23-inch screen with Swedish walnut cabinet. We are all getting a great deal of pleasure from this very thoughtful gift from all of you.

David and Jimmie have been to school one week today. They do miss all their friends in Vermilion but seem to be making friends here. They are learning very young that "new friends are like silver, the old friends like gold". We are just one block from the Kew Beach park on Lake Ontario. It is just beautiful down there now. Whenever we get a moment or two we go for a walk on the board walk beside the lake, pick up bits of driftwood, horse chestnuts and acorns. The boys go down to the lake shore to play ball. They tried playing on the front street like they used to do, but found it too busy and the cars go by too fast.

The discipline in the school is rather rigid. Jimmie was checked up the first visit to the office to register for school. He was asked a question to which he replied "No", and was promptly informed that he was to answer "[illegible]".

David came under the stern rod of discipline today. He was going down the stairs two at a time. When checked up he was told to go to the top and come down properly so thoughtlessly he went up to the top two steps at a time. He did not realize what he had done until McCarthy lowered the boom.

Donnie goes to kindergarten in the same school as the other boys. He attends every afternoon and enjoys it very much. Although he rebels at home to an afternoon nap, in kindergarten he seems to enjoy it, also the fruit they are given to eat every afternoon. Donnie says the children wigglearound a lot during their nap. I can [illegible], can't you?

Stephen misses Donnie greatly when he is away, however, he has a lovely black squirrel in the back yard that he spends much time watching. He tries to help the squirrel out by gathering [illegible] and acorns. When the squirrel has his share, the older boys plan to send the rest to their classrooms at school in Vermilion.

Many, many thanks for the lovely letters we have received from so many. It is a joy to have some of you drop in on time for coffee. We sit and read your letters together and give thanks for the many happy years we spent among you. No matter where we go it seems that Vermilion will always be "home".

Although our cartons are not unpacked we are amazingly well settled. Each room seems to bring you closer to us, as every corner displays a gift from someone, bringing memories and associations.

The packers did a wonderful job, we find we are one lovely cake plate ahead. Fortunately the birthday cake that it came under was gone — or it would have arrived too.

We feel a little like Paul must have felt when he wrote back to his beloved people.

In closing we want to thank all of you for everything you have done for us, not only at the time of our leaving but throughout all the years we were with you. Your prayers, your understanding and your fellowship have added immeasurably to our whole life.

We shall be following the work in Vermilion with great interest. Through the cooperation and understanding of the people, great strides have been made in spiritual matters. We pray for the continual success of the charge under the guidance of your minister.

As ever,
Chauncey and Claire
MacKay and boys.

78% Alberta Road Program Complete

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways announced today that 300 miles of grading has been completed this season on main and secondary highways which constitutes 78 per cent of the program. This compares with 67 per cent completion in 1959.

The Minister also advised that 200 miles of stabilized gravel base course constituting 72 per cent of the program has been completed; only 65 per cent was done at the same time a year ago.

2[illegible] miles of asphaltic [illegible] has also been completed constituting 73 per cent of the program. 71 per cent was completed in 1959.

1[illegible] miles of double surface treatment or 85 per cent of the program has been completed. This compares with 74 per cent a year ago.

2[illegible] miles of seal coating has been applied which is 100 per cent of the program. The seal coat operations were completed last year by this time also.

During the season 2,221 shifts have been lost throughout the province due to rain and inclement weather. In 1959 2,352 shifts had been lost up to the same period.

If the present excellent fall weather continues through October it will provide an opportunity for the contractors to complete a large volume of work.

Every minute of every day for the past 12 months someone, somewhere, has bought a new Ford Falcon

'61 Falcon at your Ford dealer's today

FALCON [illegible] — one of Ford of Canada's fine cars . . . built in Canada

Remarkable record for a new car, isn't it? But then, the Falcon is a rather remarkable car.

It has honest room for six, combined with handy size and dimensions that make it terrific for driving in traffic, a pleasure to park. It delivers up to 35 miles to a gallon, with 85 lively horsepower designed for Canadian roads and loads. (There's an optional 101 horsepower engine available in the '61 Falcon if you want even snappier performance.) The Falcon runs so smoothly and quietly you sometimes forget the engine is on. Trunk room is generous, visibility practically unlimited. And as for style, in all modesty, it really is a beauty!

433,440 Falcon owners (one for every minute of every working day) live all around the world. One of them lives in your neighbourhood. Why not have a chat with him yourself?

Since 1941 he has been a district agriculturist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture working at Drumheller and Calgary until his retirement in 1959. Mr Bell served as secretary-treasurer of the Alberta Aberdeen-Angus Association for a period of four years following its organization in 1917. He is a life member of the Agricultural Institute of Canada and has been active in church, Chamber of Commerce and Red Cross activities. For a number of years he served as mayor, councillor or on the school boards of his community.

The head offices of the Canadian Aberdeen-Angus Association, with the appointment of Mr Bell will remain in Calgary at 7[illegible] 29th Ave. N.W.

During the past ten years, the registrations of Aberdeen-Angus cattle in Canada have increased by 95 per cent and membership in the Association at 1,300 in 1960 has doubled since 1950. 72 CUPS FROM 1 LB. COFFEE

The average Canadian housewife is doing the coffee-producing countries of the world and her own husband an injustice, according to Jorge Canavati, commercial attache of Mexico in Canada, reports The Financial Post.

He told delegates to the 13th annual convention of the Tea and Coffee Association at the Seigniory Club, [illegible] that husbands should hold out for "an old fashioned" cup of coffee. Ten years ago he said, an average U. S. housewife got 46 cups per pound of coffee and today she gets 62 cups. The average yield in Canada is 72 cups per pound.

Appeal for Safe, Sane Hallowe'en

In an effort to promote a sane Hallowe'en, the council of Municipal District of Vermilion River is asking, through the columns of the Standard and Lloydminster Times, that activities be confined to that which is humorous, not damaging. The advertisement inserted by the council is designed to make a person think. It is directed chiefly to older young people.

PARENTS SHOULD CAUTION CHILDREN

In Vermilion little in the way of mischievous damage is done but people are finding that handing out treats to as may as 200 kiddies during the evening is just a little expensive and decidedly tiring and irksome to older folks. Parents would do well to caution their children about calling on homes where older retired people live, and not to be persistent if no one answers the door at their homes. There is a feeling among people in town that handing out treats has now gone too far and should be discouraged. Many people are donating the monies expended on treats to worthy charities.

Better Deal On Big-Ticket Items?

Challenge to Canadian appliance makers is seen in this year's move by our auto industry, which is tying itself to warranty guarantees for 12 months or 12,000 miles. Watch now for producers of refrigerators, automatic washers and dryers and the like to stretch warranties on dependabilities of their products.

Keep This Out Of Canada

It is most devoutly to be hoped, says The Financial Post, that Canada does not adopt TV debate as a method of selecting its political leaders.

That the leadership of the free world should be to such an extent determined by this dreadful device is quite appalling. Kennedy and Nixon are both providing top-notch entertainment. They both have quite remarkable memories. They both have fast minds and glib tongues.

The trouble of course is that these are not qualities which have much if anything to do with the quality of the men, with their real understanding of affairs, with their judgment or with their real wisdom.

Already the miseries of public life are great. But to [illegible] established that all candidates for senior office must expose themselves to the tawdry spectacle of a TV debate will mean that many very able people who could probably serve their country well will totally refuse to participate, The Post says.

Letters to the Editor

ON HALLOWE'EN

Editor, Vermilion Standard

Dear Sir — I am quite in accord with sentiments expressed by "Two Sympathisers" in the last issue of your paper. Moreover, I read the opinion expressed by an eminent physician that the ingredients used to obtain the highly colored confections [illegible] on such occasions are a definite cancer menace. Since coming to Vermilion a few years ago I have spent around $5.00 each year to treat all and sundry who threatened "tricks or treats" at Hallowe'en, and on the following morning found my windows soaped.

This year instead of wasting my money on Hallowe'en treats so called I intend to make a donation to some worthy cause believing that if most of the residents of Vermilion had the intestinal fortitude to take similar action this foolish Hallowe'en custom would die a natural death and a lot of good would be done thereby.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

GREEN LAWNS DURING DRY SPELLS

R. H. Turley Canada Department of Agriculture Experimental Farm, Saanichton, B. C. sprayed 750 square feet of lawn with one quart of dye mixed with 11 quarts of water. The turf remained green during the dry season and when more favorable conditions returned the grass resumed normal growth. The dye is no substitute for good lawn management but merely a means of giving the lawn a great color in off seasons.

$2.00 PENALTY FOR HORNED CATTLE

The original legislation of the Horned Cattle Purchases Act was intended to promote more wide spread dehorning of cattle and reduce losses resulting from cattle with horns. Every animal marketed with horns is levied a penalty of $2.00 per head against the seller of such cattle. The money so collected is paid into a trust fund and used for livestock improvement. This fund has built Alberta's Veterinary Services Laboratory, purchased a new performance Testing Ranch, pays the 20 per cent bull bonus and supplies the initial grant to Artificial Breeding Associations.

HOGS ON INCREASE AGAIN

The Meat Packers Council of Canada hog survey indicates hog production will stop decreasing and now will begin a gradual increase. Sow breedings across Canada are on the increase, curtailment of hog marketings has been stopped and a more normal seasonal increase seems apparent. Average marketings in Canada during September were 4300 per week higher than in August.

IMPROVEMENT OF HOG QUALITY IMPERATIVE

The Federal Government increased the bonus of grade "A" hogs to $3.00 and removed the bonus on grade "B" hogs. If this bonus system had been in effect last year Alberta's farmers would have received $800,000 less in premiums than they did. If Alberta's hogs had been 35 per cent "A" instead of 22.3 per cent, the hog producers of this province would have received 300,000 more in premiums than was realized under the old bonus system.

FARM RECORDS

Farm records do not accomplish much in themselves but if the recording is accurate they will give (1) a past performance of the farm business (2) a system by which the operator knows the cost of current operations (3) provide basic information for future production plans (budgeting) (4) and provide detailed information for income tax filing. As soon as accurate records are established sound management begins. This is the first basic step in a farm management group. Your District Agriculturist is prepared to establish such a group in any community that really wants to improve management.

THE APPLE SEASON:

Almost everyone enjoys apples and there are so many ways of serving apples that a family need never tire of them. Apples have a wider variety of uses than any other fruit. They can be served with any course raw or cooked, hot or cold and are available in many forms — fresh, canned, frozen and dried.

BUYING APPLES:

Buy apples by grade whenever possible.

Buy apples by variety according to cooking and eating quality.

Buy firm tart apples for cooking purposes.

Buy the largest amount that can be stored conveniently.

GRADING:

When apples are shipped from one province to another they must be graded, packed and marked in accordance with the Federal Government's standards.

During grading, apples are "sized." This means that each package of any grade contains apples of uniform or specified size range, the largest apples not necessarily being in the highest grade. While there may be slight differences in sizes permitted provincially, a diameter of two and a quarter inches is the minimum size for apples graded according to Federal regulations.

Grades of apples in order of quality are Canada Extra Fancy, Canada Fancy, Canada Commercial or "C."

In each of these grades apples must be one variety, mature, hand-picked, clean, sound, properly picked and have a specified minimum color for the variety and grade. In general, the lower the grade the lower are the color requirements. Other than that the grades are based on the degree of freedom from various defects such as bruises, insect injury, stem puncture, russeting or other blemishes.

APPLE RECIPES:

If you would like some new suggestions for serving apples you might write to this office for a copy of "apples." This is a twenty page booklet of tested recipes prepared by the Consumer Section of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

Mannville Home and School Association Hears Delegates

MANNVILLE: A poorly attended meeting of Home and School members was held on October 20th. President Russell Whitson was in the chair, and paid tribute to Chailey district members who travelled 20 miles to attend.

It must be [illegible] also that as this was teacher convention time some of the absentees had just cause to be away. Mr. Whitson thanked the Principal Angus Smith who had foregone a banquet and social evening of the convention to be present at this meeting. Reports of secretary and treasurer were approved and adopted as read.

An interesting highlight of the evening was a report given by two students of Mannville high school who were delegates to the recent Study of United Nations course held at Banff School of Fine Arts. Both boys, Gordon McLaughlin and Kenneth Nash presented very informative and thought provoking accounts of their experience, disclosing many pertinent facts. Gordon dealt with Recreational Activities, and was a witty speaker. Kenneth outlined various courses studied, and felt that the time was well spent, both expressing sincere thanks to H and S group for making their attendance possible.

Mrs. George Younge then gave a concise report on Home and School Seminar held recently at Vegreville, which purpose was to acquaint people with contents of the Cameron Report, and interest the Home and School Groups in studying same.

Following this a lively buzz session took place by members on topics: A. Should grade 10 and 11 Departmental Examinations be re-instated? B. Is [illegible] standing the only goal at which our school should aim? C. Should the weaker students be weeded out before they reach grade 12?

Much stimulating discussion ensued, with the conclusive thought posed as a question "Are we catering to Mediocrity?"

Pleasant Valley

There are numerous grass widows around the district as several of the men are off hunting.

The ducks are now leaving, or rather gathering at larger lakes. Some of the smaller ponds are now frozen over.

The church supper at Islay was greatly enjoyed. It was such a lovely evening that people travelled from far and near.

The Chatsworth tea was also enjoyed on Saturday and some lovely home baking was sold as well. Congratulations to the club for their wonderful achievement in the winning of the award.

Friends here are sorry to learn of Leonard Giles' accident, but glad to hear that he is doing favorably in an Edmonton hospital.

Happy Hour Group Plan Meetings

A meeting at the home of Mrs. Grace Stewart in September got the Happy Hour Group of St. Saviour's W.A. back into action after the summer recess. The last meeting held at the home of Sheila Hicks found the members a little less happy as it would be the last last time that Gladys Fooks would be present for some time to come. Residence in Forestburg will make it a little difficult for her to attend the monthly meetings. However Gladys says that she will be back in about eight years, and in the meantime told the group how to make good coffee. She has been the chief coffee maker as far back as any like to remember. She also had a long spell as president, banquet convener, Dorcas secretary, sick visitor, and other slightly less important than good coffee making positions.

A specially nice lunch helped revive spirits and Gladys was presented with a souvenir spoon of Vermilion along with the very best wishes of all the members.

The Happy Hour group members are continuing to say the W.A. [illegible] daily at 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. This timing gives the members a sense of union in their prayers, but if 7:30 a.m. is missed and are doubtful at 7:30 p.m. then say them when one does remember, rather than wait for the next day.

USED CLOTHING NEEDED

The Anglican social service centre in Edmonton urgently needs good used clothing at this time of year. With this in view the next meeting will be in the parish hall on Oct. 27 to enable the members to assemble their donations of clothes and pack them on the spot.

EVERYONE WELCOME

Old friends or newcomers to town are most welcome to attend this, or any of the meetings as either guests or prospective members. A call to Mrs. Champness, phone 66, president Jessie Stephen, 406, secretary Bea Kern 241, Marj Tillet 266, or any member will give all details and provide company for a first appearance.

HEINSBERG

Rev. Dicker Anglican minister for the Frog Lake reservation, has now commenced his duties there.

Mr. Hunt, school principal for the Frog Lake school is having another classroom built. A new residence is under construction for the teacherage.

Mrs. L. Kapjack and Johnny spent Thanksgiving week-end at Saskatoon, visiting with the former's mother.

Mrs. Ina Maxwell went to Edmonton last week-end to visit with her daughter Doreen. While there she had the misfortune to have a bad fall. The doctor taped her up and she has to remain there resting for at least a month.

Louie Kapjack, John Maleny, [illegible] Mazepa, and two other friends left Saturday morning for a big game hunt. The season opened Monday.

About six weeks ago Oscar Vinge one of the ferry men lost his spectacles out of his pocket over the end of the ferry when it was tied up on the north side. He has now recovered them as the water is low and he fished them out with the pike pole - none the worse for their long immersion.

New Venture In Education Planned By Vermilion School Division

School Film Library Organized

A "new" venture in education has been announced by the Vermilion School Division. Its schools are now part of a new film federation provided jointly by the National Film Board and the Alberta Department of Education. Under this program twelve centres, two in Vegreville, five in Two Hills and five in Vermilion Division, will participate. In Vermilion these centres are Paradise Valley, Kitscoty, Marwayne, Dewberry and Vermilion. In each case the other schools grouped around each of these centres will also be involved.

Under the new plan 275 different titles are included. All are 16-mm. sound, and many are in color. As examples, here are a few of the titles. In science, The Electron, The primary Cell, Jet Propulsion, Fuels and Heat; in social studies, Teddy Bears at play (the Koala bear of Australia), Report on Cyprus, Arabian Bazaar, Iron from the North; in music, Jose Iturbi, Vronsky and Babin, Ignace Paderewski, and several other world-renowned performers; in English, Julius Caesar, Better Reading, History of the English Language; in health studies, Care of Hair and Nails, Endocrine Glands, Teeth are to Keep, Safety in the Home. Films are specifically allocated to special grades of the school, depending upon content, type of development, and curriculum. Most subjects are included.

A recent visitor to this area, to inaugurate this program, has been Malcolm Bell, Regional Representative of the National Film Board, which has provided half of the films as part of its educational work. He has emphasized the singularly educational nature of these films, and that, though they are professionally produced, they are completely unrelated to commercial entertainment types. Mr. Bell says "Well made educational films provide in sound and sight, materials related to school courses, just as texts and reference books also do, but in words and charts. Many things can be better explained by seeing them so that films, properly used, provide a form of experience and enrichment that no other medium can quite duplicate."

The other half of the library is provided by the Audio-visual Aids Branch of the Alberta Department of Education. The Supervisor of this Branch, Donald S. Hamilton, has organized a system of teaching guides for these films which is now available to each school. With these each film may be properly worked into the regular curriculum. He will soon be a visitor at each school, to deal with the best use of films and to work with groups of teachers in developing procedures. It is likely that he will do some of this work, also at the forthcoming teachers' convention.

A special feature of this library is that each centre each month one film will be for adult groups only. These are films related to the requirements of Home and School Associations or other clubs interested in an educational topic. Otherwise, all films are for school use.

Inquiry by the Standard at the Divisional Office brought out that this film library has been in the planning stage for almost a year. Film Federations are not new, but this one is new in that it is basically a school venture. There are absolutely no unauthorized school films included except those for adult groups interested in educational topics. The School Board has been in on the development from its inception and is interested in its possibilities of enriching the teaching done in its schools. If it turns out to be as effective as it now appears it should, the program will be continued and developed.

The Superintendent of Schools, J. H. Blocksidge, when interviewed by the Standard, pointed out that this was no small venture. The value of films alone is probably well in excess of $20,000. The number and quality of teaching films has very greatly increased in recent years, and it is his opinion that this is one of the best selections he has seen.

Further, this is an experiment in the use and distribution of educational films which is a first in Alberta, and the first joint venture of the two sponsoring bodies: the N. F. B. has long been in this field as the largest producer of Canadian educational films, but has not, until now, tried an exclusively school project as part of its extension work; the Alberta Department of Education has been in the field of distribution for many years, but has never before gone directly into the field as it is now doing. Mr. Blocksidge pointed out particularly the tremendous amount of organization and planning done by Mr. Bell and Mr. Hamilton and expressed the appreciation of the area for such fine assistance.

In discussing the new project with John David, Supervisor of Instruction in the Vermilion School Division, we were impressed by the enthusiasm and interest which it has developed. He pointed out that much of the planning has been done in the Principals' Association, where concern was expressed that there might be a feeling in the community that this is entertainment. He pointed out that the Divisional Bulletin regarding this film program says in part:

"Please note that there is, in some quarters, a deep distrust in the use of films in school. Maybe there has been justification in the past. There must be none in the future. We are pledged to educate our children to the limit of their potentials. Films can supply a form of experience not found in books, or the lives of children. Let us see that not one solitary reel is used foolishly."

Mr. David summed up the matter when he said, "This is a wonderful opportunity to improve education in our schools. But good intentions and good planning don't necessarily produce good results. It remains to be seen how effectively we can develop the program now."

This appears to us to be a promising development worth watching with interest. It is something that most Home and School Associations in the area will probably explore in one of their programs in the coming winter.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

Sunday, Oct. 23rd was the opening day of the Alliance Witness subscription campaign. Mr. E. Clendenning, campaign manager spoke briefly to the Sunday school and in the morning service in support of this effort.

Both services were taken by the pastor Mr. Schroeder. In the morning he spoke on the subject "Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother", the fifth in a series on the Ten Commandments and in the evening the sermon topic was "Bleating Sheep and Lowing Oxen".

Rev. Frank Chapman also spoke in the morning service; together with his wife, the former Winnie Wilson and family, he will be sailing from New York early in November for Africa to continue missionary work on that continent.

Special vocal music was provided by Mrs. R. Tidsbury, Mrs. Muriel (Mia) Thiessen, of Kamloops, Mrs. Lota Francisco, Miss Dorothy Grinde, and Miss Margaret McLennan accompanied the various selections on the piano.

Out-of-town visitors in the services included Hazel Habstritt, Edmonton, Margaret Sturt, of Lloydminster, Evelyn Hetherington, Wainwright and Donna Rottorff, Lloydminster.

Vermilion, Dewberry Breeders In Lacombe Hog Draw

Twenty-one applicants were picked at the final draw for Lacombe swine breeding groups which took place recently at the Lacombe Experimental Station. Seven of the successful applicants were from Alberta, one was from B.C., three from Saskatchewan, four from Manitoba and six were Ontario breeders.

Superintendent J. G. Stothart and Animal Husbandmen Dr. Howard Fredeen were in charge of the draw. Each applicant whose name was drawn was eligible to purchase one of the breeding groups consisting of one boar and three gilts. Alberta recipients from this area were W. H. Duncan, Vermilion, and M. R. McLean of Dewberry.

Mr. Stothart pointed out that the final draw does not mean that the Lacombe Station is discontinuing its experiments with Lacombe pigs. This is the last time however that this method is to be used for distribution because it is felt that there are now sufficient numbers of [illegible] in Canada to supply the anticipated demand. This breeding stock will still be available from the Experimental station at periodic intervals.

Mr. and Mrs. Sextus R. P. Cooper of Vermilion, who were married for sixty years on Tuesday, October 25th. Married at St. Mark's Anglican church in Baldur, Manitoba, the couple came to Vermilion in 1907 and have lived here ever since. Observed Diamond Anniversary Oct. 25

To but few couples is given the blessing to enjoy sixty years of married life. Residents of the town of Vermilion since 1907 Mr and Mrs S R P Cooper observed that notable anniversary celebrating their diamond wedding on Tuesday October 25th. This well known and esteemed couple were married at St Mark's Anglican church at Baldur Manitoba on October 25th 1900.

The groom of sixty years ago was born at Holland Landing Ontario on March 26 1873 [illegible] from Toronto to Manitoba in the fall of 1897 and to Baldur in 1898. There he met his future bride who was born at Rock Lake in [illegible] Manitoba, on Oct. 28, 1880. The couple were married on the 25th 1900 and continued to live in Baldur until the spring of 1907 when the move was made to Vermilion Alberta. Here they have since resided raising their family of seven children and taking an active part in the life of the community.

Besides rearing her family Mrs Cooper has always taken a keen interest in the work of the church. She is a past president of the W.A. of which organization she has been made an honorary life member. She is a Past Worthy Matron of the Queen Esther Chapter Order of the Eastern Star.

Mr Cooper founded his own newspaper at Baldur in 1900, "The Gazette" selling it at the end of 1906 to enter newspaper work in Vermilion. He commenced as a partner in Vermilion's original newspaper "The Signal", in 1907. In 1909 he established his own newspaper "The Vermilion Standard" which he actively managed until 1935. The business continues in the family [illegible] and operated by four of his five sons.

The former editor Mr Cooper has contributed much to the general welfare of his home town of Vermilion. Besides supporting all worthy causes through the columns of his paper, he served a total of seventeen years on the town council and school board. He is a past president of the Board of Trade a past president of the Vermilion agricultural association, and was for year after year either president or secretary of the curling club. He also found time to serve his church on the vestry and as lay reader for many years.

Mr and Mrs Cooper had a family of seven children, six of whom are living. Sadness entered their lives in December, 1930 when their elder daughter Blanche Mrs Sidney H Collis, who had lived in London, Eng. since 1920 passed away a victim of cancer. Their second daughter Grace Mrs A Hebert lives at Windsor Ontario. There are five sons, Vernon, Ashley who is a member of the legislature for Vermilion constituency, Ruthven, Newt, Douglas and Percy all of whom are married and live in Vermilion.

There are twenty-one grandchildren and twenty-one great grandchildren.

One grandson, Pilot Officer Chap Cooper R.C.A.F., son of Mr and Mrs Vernon Cooper gave his life for his country in 1944 when after eleven operational tours over Germany his bomber failed to return.

Mr and Mrs Cooper spent their diamond wedding in their own home where their five daughters-in-law were hostesses at a family gathering. During the day many old time friends called in to congratulate and wish the fine couple continued happiness.

Messages were received from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, the Right Honorable John Diefenbaker, Prime Minister of Canada, His Honor J Percy Page, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta; Hon Ernest C Manning, Premier of Alberta, Mr [illegible] Smallwood M P, Mr Ashley H Cooper, M.L.A., Mr R Ireland, acting mayor town of Vermilion, Mr A MacMillan, President of the Chamber of Commerce and the Vermilion Masonic Lodge.

Besides this beautiful flowers were received from the Rector and St Saviour's vestry and parishioners, St Saviour's W.A., Town Council and people of Vermilion, Queen Esther Chapter, O.E.S., Past Matrons, O.E.S. Mr Sidney Collis, Joan and Tony, London, England, while Mr and Mrs Krause presented a boutonniere and corsage, and Mr and Mrs Buckingham a fruit basket.

Besides these there were many lovely cards and individual gifts, all sincerely appreciated and treasured.

How about that [illegible] now?

Innisfree Building Two New Rinks, New Phone Office

INNISFREE. The two M L.A.s serving the area, A W Gordey of Vegreville and Ashley H Cooper of Vermilion, together with Charles Harvey and Jas Acton of the Provincial Parks Dep. spent last Saturday at Innisfree.

The morning hours were spent at Birch Lake just about one mile south of the village, where a site for some beach and picnic ground development was looked for. Following lunch a conference was held with members of the village council, Mayor Walter Kravetz and secretary Walter Tym, Board of Trade secretary W Taylor, Mrs. M Tym representing the ladies' view point, Mr Chomik, principal of the Innisfree school.

Following the meeting the visitors were shown the new out door skating rink now being constructed by means of the recreational grant from the Alberta government and the new three-sheet curling rink also under construction.

Nearing completion is a new building which will house the Innisfree telephone exchange. Added accommodation was necessary as Innisfree has recently commenced 24 hour telephone service, an added convenience much appreciated by subscribers in the area.

C. G. I. T. Organize At Marwayne

The Marwayne C.G.I.T groups started the year with a very successful cook-out. The two groups hiked to Johnson's pasture where they ate supper and sang songs around the campfire. After hiking back to the church the two groups separated and held their election of officers.

Officers of the Senior group are: President — Isabel Gray; Vice Pres. — Donna Giles; Secretary — Gail Gardiner; Treas — Carol Johnson; Club Reporter — Shirley Hale.

Junior group officers are: President — Sharon Johnson; Vice Pres. — Barbara Shaw; Sec'y — Donna Gawley; Treas — Linda Fleming; Club Reporter — Donna Robbie.

Leader of the Senior group is Mrs Gardiner and Junior leader is Miss Carol Richardson.

Helping with the handicrafts will be Mrs. Dave Kvill and Miss Helen McCourt. All are sorry that Mrs. Johnson can't be with us this year, she will be missed very much.

The groups have decided to hold their meetings on Wednesday nights instead of Thursday because the World Affair tests on Friday were affecting attendance. All the girls and their leaders are looking forward to a very interesting and full year.

The first Canadian canal with locks was built on the St. Lawrence just above Montreal in 1779 by the Royal Engineers.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr and Mrs. Cooper wish to extend their sincere thanks for the flowers, gifts, cards and visits, and for the multitude of good wishes received on the occasion of their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

Lodges Farewell Departing Members

To honor two departing couples Mr and Mrs. William Fooks and Mr. and Mrs Ross Boake, Queen Esther Chapter O.E.S. and Vermilion Lodge No. 24, A.F. and A.M., held a joint farewell on Sunday afternoon in the Masonic Hall. The gathering was exceptionally well attended by members of the fraternity, their wives and husbands. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of the Queen Esther Chapter, and an extremely enjoyable social afternoon spent.

On behalf of Queen Esther Chapter, Mrs. Ruby Inman, Worthy Matron, presented Mrs. Fooks and Mrs. Boake with the traditional white Eastern Star bibles. Mr Fooks and Mr. Boake received Masonic lapel pins, presented to them by Ashley Cooper, Immediate Past Master.

Mr and Mrs. Fooks move this week to Forestburg, while Mr. and Mrs. Boake plan to reside in Edmonton. By a coincidence both couples came to Vermilion seventeen years ago, and are now leaving at the same time.

Many and sincere were the wishes for happiness and contentment extended to Bill and Gladys, and to Ross and Muriel, with the admonition, "Come back often", being frequently heard.

Alliance Couples' Club Meets

The opening meeting of the fall season of the Alliance Chapel Couples' club was held in the chapel on Thursday Oct 20th with a record crowd in attendance.

Activities for the evening began with a supper at 7:00 o'clock, followed by a variety program. A hilarious TV production kept the group well entertained. This included "Truth or Consequences", "Army Days" well garnished with the [illegible] commercials.

The guest speaker Wm B. M[illegible] brought a very interesting talk entitled "Don't be a Baby".

The very successful meeting was concluded with coffee and anniversary cake from the 25th anniversary celebrations of the chapel observed recently, and the election of John and Gwen L[illegible] and Abe and Hazel Dicke to the executive for the coming months.

Household Children's Association: Mrs. H Marfleet, Mr and Mrs. Duncan Currie.

Memorial Fund First United Church: Mrs. G F Stephens, Miss Margaret Stephens.

Gifts were handed in for the mental hospital bazaar, groceries for hamper raffle and dimes for the sunshine box.

Plans arrangements were made for the tea and bake sale to be held October 29th in the Legion hall, all members to help on that day.

Dentists DO Prescribe Fluorine

TORONTO. — Dentists do prescribe fluorine says D. A. Cheetham, D.D.S., chairman of the Fluorine Committee of the Grey Bruce and Dufferin Dental Society in Ontario.

Replying to critics who say "if fluorine is so effective why do the dentists not prescribe it?" Dr. Cheetham said in the first place there is no question of the effectiveness of fluorine in reducing tooth decay. This fact has been thoroughly investigated and has been endorsed by all leading health authorities in Canada and the U.S.

He added that dentists prescribe fluorine in various forms, including tablets, washes to be applied to the teeth and in tooth paste. However, Dr. Cheetham said these methods are much more costly and much less effective than having fluorine added to the municipal water system.

Meanwhile, the Health League of Canada announces that Rosthern and Tisdale in Saskatchewan and Burns Lake, Campbell River and Lake Cowichan in B.C. have started fluoridating their water supplies, bringing to 74 the number of Canadian communities using artificial fluoridation.

Panning for gold! What an interesting day was enjoyed on October 15th when brothers Bill and Herb McPhee and Billie and Raymond Wilson accompanied Orley Omness to Lea Park. There Norman and Lorne McPhee joined the group. Bill has had experience in panning gold and gladly passed on his knowledge which was very much appreciated. Efforts were not in vain, gold can be distinguished in the washings and quite large "nuggets."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martens of Chilliwack, B.C., arrived at the home of their daughter Mary, Mrs. Wendy Wilson, on Oct. 19, continuing on to Rabbit Lake in Saskatchewan to visit daughter Elsie and John Pauls and sons.

Mrs. Stella Mayers is helping at the Jimmy Armstrong home while Mrs. Armstrong is in the hospital.

While Don Wilson and Orley Omness were west of Edmonton they called on Mr. and Mrs. Pete McCormick (May King) at Hinton. May is well known hereabouts and was asking about her friends. A call was made at Lake Wabamun to see Mr. Arthur Lord who is well and anticipating a visit to England to see his sister who is over 90. They also called at the Walsh home in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson of town were recent workers at the Omness home. While Orley was away a shed 16'x24' was shingled in short order. Oh yes, the women can drive nails too. The help and the company was much appreciated.

Eric Nelson's breakers from south of town are doing some breaking at the Jim Armstrong farm.

On Oct. 23rd Mr. and Mrs. Idelore Nelson and Leslie attended church service in Lloydminster. Grandson Owen Lacusta was christened.

On Tuesday of this week Mr. and Mrs. Gus Throndson motored to Lloydminster to see the latter's brother Johnny and Barbara Nelson. Johnny has been in the hospital.

Closing thought: "Christianity is in its very heart and essence not a disembodied spirituality but life in a visible fellowship — the Church."

Changed!

Volkswagen's engineers make three major improvements to the World's most successful small car.

You can't tell the new VW just by looking. You have to drive it. All the changes have been made within the car, for example: More powerful engine. Engine power's up 10%. Now the Volkswagen leaps away from lights. You scoot up hills, whistle round bends and fly down highways faster than before. And overtaking is safer because there's more reserve power in every gear.

The engine itself, although increased to 40 horse power, still retains its famous economy. A pleasant thought.

Synchronized first gear. Now you can shift down to first gear without stopping the car. At low speeds you change straight down with a flick of the wrist and zoom away. This eliminates a lot of stop-and-start driving. Four synchronized speeds is a luxury rarely found even in the more expensive cars. But to have it in a car of Volkswagen's size and price is quite amazing. The ratios of all four gears have been changed too so you can use every ounce of extra power developed by the new engine, the new VW is as nimble as a needle in traffic and more fun than a fair.

Increased luggage space. Volkswagen's luggage space is now an ample 10 cubic feet; 5 behind the back seat and 5 up front (VW's engine is in the rear of course). Now the Volkswagen goes to market and runs all the way home with your groceries under the hood. Or takes a long vacation with all kinds of luggage neatly stowed away.

The VW is constantly being improved. Since 1948, no less than nine hundred improvements have been made to the Volkswagen. Yet it still remains basically the same car with the same styling. That's why a VW may grow old but never obsolete — and why it retains its value. The Volkswagen is an honest product. While there are other improvements in the new VW, it is Volkswagen's philosophy not to change for the sake of change but to search continually for new ways to improve a great idea. Some of these improvements in the De Luxe Volkswagen are also in the Custom model. Whichever you buy, we think you get the best value in the world.

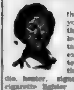
Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority



The battery is the "heart" of your car, and the most neglected of its vital organs. We expect the battery to operate the wipers, radio, heater, signals, headlights, cigarette lighter and all the gadgets that fit into the lighter. Yet we seldom think of feeding the battery until it drops dead from exhaustion.

There are two simple tests, say Shell's automotive experts, that keep the "heart" pumping. Here's what you or your service station attendant should do:

1 Take off the caps on the top of the battery and check the water level in each opening. If the water is below the level indicated, have some added.

2 Take a specific gravity reading with a hydrometer. Every service station has such a gadget, if you don't happen to have one. A reading below .1175 means that the generator is not charging the battery properly.

One reason some car batteries fail prematurely is that the nuts holding them come loose allowing the battery to vibrate. Tightening the nuts keeps the battery firmly in place.

And when you drive over rough roads, take it easy. Your car's heart will live much longer that way.

Dewberry 4H Off To Flying Start

DEWBERRY The Dewberry 4-H club got off to a flying start on Wednesday, Oct. 12th under the leadership of "old faithful" Don Braithwaite.

As this was the first meeting this fall much organizing had to be done. Bill Hawrylak is Mr Braithwaite's assistant.

The remaining officers are President Dennis Garnier Secretary Joanne Gray, Treasurer Ernest Garnier; Social Convenor Mary Garnier; Club Reporter Evan Finlay.

In the treasury is the surprising sum of $94.18 which it is felt won't last long with so many capable spenders in the club.

Not many members have procured calves yet but intend to do so before the next meeting on Nov 9th. It is also hoped to have several new members by that time.

"A SADDER AND A WISER MAN"

For years Mr. Delayit suffered from pains and headaches. Patent medicines gave temporary relief but each year his condition grew worse. Despite the advice of his family and friends, he neglected visiting a phyisician for help.

When Mr. Delayit finally consulted a doctor he learned that delay had given a malignant disease a firm foothold. A cure now was doubtful. Had he been wiser sooner he would have visited a physician at the very first sign of trouble and probably been cured long ago. Don't be a "Delayit."

The regular monthly meeting of First United Church W.A. was held in the church hall with 18 members present. The meeting opened with the reading of the W.A. motto followed by theme hymn. Devotional service was led by Mrs. Seuffert using as her topic "Thanksgiving".

The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Roebuck and approved as written. All correspondence was read and dealt with. A cheque for $100 was sent to St. Stephens College Plan, Edmonton, and a plus gift of $15 to St. Paul United Presbytery Recreational Association for Camp Whitney.

Roll call answered with number of visitations made during the month to hospital, shut-ins and newcomers. Mrs. Dale Williams gave a most interesting report on the day spent at the second joint rally of the W.M.S. and W.A. St. Paul United Presbytery in the Cold Lake United church. There were six ladies from Vermilion at this meeting. A conducted tour of the W.M.S. John Neil hospital was part of the program.

It was decided to hold the Christmas bazaar in the church hall Dec. 5th and that donations of aprons, etc., would be welcome.

Another call has come for good used clothing to be sent to the Vancouver depot for Overseas Relief, especially mitts, socks and baby clothes. This parcel should be packed by the end of the month to meet our requisite.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah, and serving of lunch by the hostess. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Geo. Webb Jr.

Mannville W. A. Plan Jingle Tea

MANNVILLE Members of the McQueen Memorial United Church W.A. met at the social rooms on Thursday Oct 13 in the evening with a good attendance. Worship service was led by Mrs. Annie Hubbard and a film on the Mission Study was much enjoyed by all giving those present a great deal of food for thought.

Plans were made for the Sector supper in the near future, namely the first week in November at which ladies of the church prepare the supper and at the same time act as hostesses at this occasion.

Reports of a recent wedding catered to by the W.A. were heard and proved most gratifying. Plans were discussed for the coming Jingle Tea to be held this month. President Mrs. Nettie McFadden was in the chair and conducted the meeting which ended with a lunch served by the hostesses.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

With the days getting shorter, it's time to make sure the headlights of your car are in top working order. Although easy to maintain, the headlights are among the most neglected of all safety aids. Follow these simple rules:

Turn lights on in low position and check to see that both are lit. Then flick on high beams and check again.

With lights shining against garage wall, check to see if the beams are "cock-eyed". If even slightly off-centre, they not only rob you of illumination but may glare in the eyes of the approaching motorists. They should be adjusted by a mechanic.

Dirty lenses can diminish the effectiveness of lights by as much as one-third. A wipe with a damp cloth is usually enough to keep them clean.

If lights are erratic in any way, have your garage man check the entire wiring system.

And as added precaution, be sure to check your parking lights, tail lights and stop lights. It's smart, too, to carry extra fuses in your glove compartment and know how to replace a blown fuse in an emergency.

Pre-School Opening Conference Held By Ag. Teachers

Thirty-two instructors from the Olds and Vermilion Schools of Agriculture and the Fairview Community College held their annual three-day conference at the Olds school to discuss the 1960-61 curriculum, and to compare notes on teaching methods. The three agricultural education schools, operated by the Alberta Department of Agriculture, have a combined enrollment of more than 250 boys and more than 50 girls. The classes began Monday of this week.

Vermilion River Cattle To Be Blood Tested Starting December, 1960

The Federal Health of Animals Branch will begin blood testing all cattle herds in the M.D. of Vermilion River in December 1960. This is a compulsory program somewhat similar to the T. B. test. It differs from the T. B. test in that all cattle will be tested, except calves under 9 months, spayed heifers, steers, and officially vaccinated cows under 36 months of age. Bulls are blood tested. Furthermore the compulsory calfhood vaccination program in effect since 1952 has cut down the incidence of Brucellosis in the area.

The compulsory calfhood vaccination was one step in a co-operative Federal - Provincial scheme to eradicate Brucellosis from Canada. The federal government entered this vaccination program only if blood testing could be done after 5 to 7 years of compulsory vaccination. The vaccine was supplied by the federal government who also kept the records. The provincial government made a grant to pay for the veterinarians to do the vaccination and the municipality organized the program. Following the original agreement the M. D. of Vermilion River after seven years of compulsory vaccination was gazetted to be Federal Brucellosis Control Area February 1959.

Cattle vaccinated under the compulsory vaccination program will react negative to the blood test after 36 months of age. Veterinarians and properly trained technicians approved by the Federal Health of Animals Branch will take the blood and submit the samples to the Animal Diseases Research Institute Laboratory, Lethbridge, Alberta. The whole operation is under the supervision of Dr. Harry Morris, Federal Health of Animals veterinarian. The veterinarian or technician doing the job will contact cattle owners a few days in advance of the test personally or by telephone. Farmers are responsible [illegible] that the blood can be taken [illegible] ... [illegible]

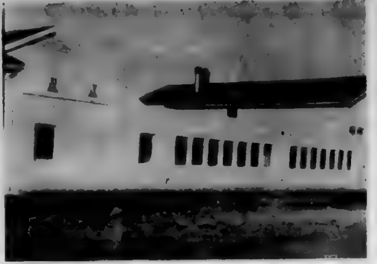
Clandonald Separate School Opens $100,000 Auditorium

Hon. A. O. Aalborg Commends Cooperation of School Boards

The Honorable Mr. A. O. Aalborg, Minister of Education for the Province of Alberta, officially opened the new $100,000.00 addition to the Clandonald Separate School on Sunday afternoon, October 23rd, after addressing the large gathering present for the occasion. Bringing congratulations and greetings from the government, and in particular from the Department of Education, Mr. Aalborg presented on their behalf a framed picture of an Albrta scene to the principal, Sister Stephanie.

The Honorable Minister of Education in speaking of the tremendous growth in school population in this province, pointed out certain statistical facts which emphasized the present incumbent government's efforts to meet these pressing demands. In referring to the separate school system, Mr. Aalborg noted that there were today sixty Catholic separate school districts and four Protestant separate school districts functioning in the province of Alberta. With reference to grants being paid by the provincial government towards the support of separate schools, Mr. Aalborg stated that the present government has always tried to honor the rights of minority groups and would continue to do so in the future.



In referring to the present tuition agreement between the Clandonald Separate school board and the Vermilion District school board which occasioned the construction of the addition to Clandonald school Mr. Aalborg stated that he was very pleased to see such close cooperation existing between these boards and said that such could well be a model for others throughout the province.

Mr. Art Lawrence chairman of the Separate school board welcomed the three hundred who attended the opening and in his remarks paid special tribute to the Sisters of St. Joseph who have staffed the separate school at Clandonald [illegible] years.

Speaking on behalf of the Archbishops of Edmonton Very Rev. C. Landrigan of Vermilion brought greetings and congratulations to the Separate school board and ratepayers of the district.

Very Rev. A. Gillis of St. [illegible] the Evangelist Parish, Edmonton, who was pastor of St. Columba parish for ten years and who was instrumental in the construction of the separate school here stated that the establishing and maintaining of separate schools finds justification in the Catholic philosophy of education which is founded on the concept that man is a composite thing, made up of body and soul, and that insofar as he is destined for an eternal life, man's education here should be directed towards his preparation for that afterlife as well as for his fulfilling his role in secular life. "This is what we understand by educating 'the whole man'," he said. The Very Rev A. Gillis reviewed briefly the work that was done during his pastoral care of Clandonald and paid tribute to members of the first school board of the Separate school district who laid the foundations for the existing separate school [illegible] today.

Representing the Vermilion Divisional Board Mr. J. K. Whiteside, divisional trustee, expressed his pleasure at being present at the official opening of the new classrooms, science room, typing room and gymnasium-auditorium and extended congratulations to the Separate school board in their completing this project which now provides for the accommodating of all the Catholic children coming within the scope of the parish of St Columba.

A congratulatory message from R. F. Bouey on behalf of the architects, Rensaa, Minsos and Ashley of Edmonton, was read by Fr. C. Nearing, chairman for the occasion, after which were introduced the other members of the Separate school board [illegible], Messrs Bill Specht and Pat Convey, as well as Mr J. H. Blackstock, Superintendent of Schools for Vermilion Division, and Mr John David, Supervisor of Instruction, and the present staff of Sisters and Mrs. [illegible] teaching at Clandonald.

Cutting the ribbon to symbolically mark the opening of the school, the Hon. Mr. Aalborg marked another [illegible] in the history of the Clandonald Separate school district — a monument to the [illegible] of the district who have [illegible] so many sacrifices to give to their children the opportunity of obtaining their education under Catholic auspices.

Among former [illegible] present for the opening were Fr. John Nowakowski of [illegible], Misses [illegible] Nowakowski, Barbara Campbell, Marie O'Neill, Joan Leslie, Mrs. Marvin Little, Mrs. Cliff Good, Walter Coulter, Mrs Homer Campbell, Mrs. H. Tymofichuk, Mrs. Sid Cusack, Mrs. James Martin Jr., [illegible] McCormack, Kenny and [illegible] Tkachuk.

Also present were Mr. J. R. Robson, secretary of the Vermilion school division and Councillor John Anderson of Dewberry, as well as the Rev. John Chernewski of Derwent, Rev. R. German of Lloydminster and Rev. J. F. Lesarzynski of Clandonald.

The program closed as it opened, with choral selections rendered by the high school pupils under the direction of Sister Stephanie with Miss Anne Hagen piano accompanist. The ladies of the C.W.L. served a wholesome lunch and coffee to all present in the auditorium.

Auditorium is Feature of New Clandonald Separate School

Officially opened Sunday, October 23rd by the Hon. A. O. Aalborg, the addition to the Clandonald Separate High School features bright, cheery classrooms and a much-longed-for auditorium and gymnasium.

STUDENTS
—and the others who do the REAL DAMAGE

One of the basic rights of our form of Government, and consequently, of our way of life, is the right of the individual — that is you and your father, and your friend and his father — to the peaceable possession of his property.

On Hallowe'en this right is sometimes violated—BUT GOOD—and the person who suffers damage usually accepts its good naturedly — but don't push him too far. Remember, what you are doing to him may also be happening at YOUR HOME—even at the same time!

There is one type of mischief however, that is never in season — and that is damage to road signs or the removal of them. This is a particularly dangerous trick in that it could mean injury, or even death, to some unsuspecting car driver and his passengers. Those signs are placed where they are for YOUR benefit — not for the benefit of any governing body. YOU could be the one to suffer harm by their mutilation or removal.

Please refrain from wilful damage to either private or public property.

The Only Child . . . Has He Special Needs?

Health Unit Notes

Popular opinion on raising an only child ranges all the way from the envious "that lucky youngster will be getting all the breaks in life" to the pitying "All you can expect is a spoiled and pampered brat!"

Bringing up an only child can present a challenge but just as there are advantages and disadvantages in the day-to-day coping with larger families, so with the one-child household.

To begin with, the only child does not present a unique problem because every first child in any family comes into this category. All parents have the fun and tasks of a small three-unit group for at least part of their parenthood. It is when a lengthy time intervenes before brother or sister comes along — if at all — that the parents of an only child may run into certain difficulties.

The Advantages . . .

With only one child to take care of, parents are presented with many opportunities. Events too expensive or troublesome for the large family — like taking in a ballet or ice show or going on an interesting trip — can be more readily shared by parents and child. More time and energy are available for building play areas in backyard or basement. Spared the efforts of meeting the needs of many children, mother and father can concentrate on following through the interests and activities that will enrich the child's life. And fewer family frictions can mean more sympathetic understanding and attention.

As for the only child who happens to be "gifted", the possibilities are tempting — more money to encourage and nourish special abilities in music or dancing, science or art, mechanics or collections. Special skills are developed in a variety of ways. Stimulation comes from contact with people and books and current events, visits to museums, art galleries, concerts, places of business and industry. Activities are not hampered because of demands on parents' time by other children. Money is more likely to be available for the lessons and materials needed. A "contented" atmosphere, unbroken by the stresses and strains in larger family groups, can be capitalized on.

The Disadvantages . . .

But the pitfalls that face the parents of an only child can be many and it's here that much of the criticism and fear about an only child arises. Basically, such a child finds himself in a world lacking some important things which normally help in the development of the healthy, well-adjusted adult. One factor is the support which children in the same family give to one another (particularly in relation to their parents). Such support comes out of shared secrets and loyalties and experiences. He misses, too, the world of make-believe enriched by play with brothers and sisters especially if he spends too much time solely in the company of parents.

Again, being an only child tends to emphasize him too as the centre of attention, so it's no wonder that many lose all sense of proportion of their own importance and become truly 'spoiled'. However many parents aware of these pitfalls skirt them successfully and are rewarded by bringing up an only child "that is different" different that is from the dire forecasts of pessimistic friends and relatives.

Love . . . But the Right Kind

Without doubt the greatest concern aroused in parents by the only child is the feeling of his loneliness. It's only human then that so many parents try to make up for this extra attention and care unfortunately so often to the point of overindulgence. The youngster is constantly in the spotlight. It becomes his measuring stick for love. The more attention he gets the more he figures daddy and mummy love him. Therefore (he reasons) by demanding more attention he'll get more love and pretty soon the parents are being run ragged by trying to feed an appetite that simply can't be satisfied. The result is truly the "spoiled child".

But this need not be the typical picture. A child is not spoiled by love. [illegible] basis for a child's healthy growth. It gives him self-respect and con[illegible] all-important feeling of security. What can make the child spoiled and demanding is the smothering overprotective kind of love which cuts him off from learning the things he has to learn and gives him a distorted view of the world he's got to grow up in. Surrounded by adults, he feels he must try and live and think like adults. Pushed and prodded from within and without, it may be just too much for any small child.

Playmates Fill a Need

What can be of considerable help to the only child is the opportunity to grow up like other kids. If he can't have the benefits of brother and sister companionship then the next best thing is to supply him with the closest substitute — playmates his own age. Very early in life he needs to play with other children to create a hubbub, get into arguments and have [illegible] settled, learn to give and take in a group, stimulate and be stimulated by other children. All these contacts which come naturally to children in larger families seem to be important for a healthy development. They learn for themselves in their own way the business of getting along with others.

A nursery school is excellent for the three and four year-old. For other age levels the kindergarten, Cub, Brownies, neighborhood groups and clubs, camps, are advised. A word of caution: too often such children are thrust into groups and expected to behave "sensibly" at once. Instead, they withdraw or want to cling to their mother, getting a cold reception or scolding for their behavior.

The only child may need to be introduced gradually into appropriate group play until he becomes [illegible] and strange people. No matter what group is involved, parents should give the child their warm support and understanding, inviting playmates in, supplying space and equipment for play, if possible, and encouraging discussion and activities. By giving as much time to the development of such "group" situations as they do [illegible] sions they relieve the only child of what could be one of his greatest handicaps to good social [illegible].

About [illegible]

Guiding the behavior of the only child is basically the same for children of larger families and this subject is rather lengthy in itself.

The [illegible] wants to know what he can and can't do. This gives him more confidence and security than when soft and yielding parents are continually giving in to his wants. He should have responsibilities that will make him feel part of the family group and not its centre. By letting him grow at his own pace without being pushed or held back, he will learn to take the ups and downs of life without being made too cocky by the former or too crushed by the latter. The only child needs to be directed but such direction can be given in a way that leaves no doubt in his [illegible].

Alberta Turns Forecast Deficit Into Tidy Surplus for Year

By [illegible]

EDMONTON. — Hardly had the government begun thinking about calling a byelection in Didsbury riding than it was faced with the necessity of holding a second one this fall or early winter.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gladys Robinson, 60, Social Credit member for Medicine Hat constituency, died last Friday in Edmonton's University hospital. She had been in the hospital since the end of August.

Later the same morning, the cabinet passed an order calling a byelection for Didsbury on Nov. 30th, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Social Crediter J. L. Owens just about a month earlier.

Nomination day for Didsbury is Nov. 16. At least three parties Liberal, Conservative and Social Credit have announced their intentions of contesting the vote.

It probably will be a few weeks before the government [illegible] a by-election date for Medicine Hat but under the Election Act a vote must be held in time to give the [illegible] representation during the next session of the Legislature.

Provincial Auditor Keith Huckvale last week released the province's public accounts for the last fiscal year, and it showed that Alberta ended the year once again in glowing [illegible].

A $18 million deficit which had been forecast by Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman turned into a $13,[illegible] surplus. [illegible] $30,[illegible] more than had been expected.

The total actual revenue for the year was $334,416,904 compared with the original estimate of $264,219,250. Total actual expenditures were $228,156,831 as against the government's estimate of $231,[illegible],524.

Largest single revenue item listed was fees including oil and gas revenues which totalled $156,[illegible],940. The federal-provincial tax agreement brought in $33,345,983. On the spending side the largest single expenditure was $97,247,654, spent by the welfare department. Education cost the province [illegible].

POLIO IMMUNIZATION BY ORAL VACCINE

From the provincial health department comes word that within a year or two Alberta may swing over to the use of an oral vaccine in pill form for its program of immunization against poliomyelitis.

Experiments to date seem to indicate the oral vaccine — which is made from a modified live virus — provides more effective protection. If this proves to be the case, there's little doubt Alberta will change over.

Under the present immunization program Alberta is using Salk vaccine, which is made from killed virus. Recommended dosage is three initial shots followed by a fourth booster shot about four years later.

In Alberta the incidence of paralytic polio is up this year in contrast to most other parts of Canada where the incidence is down. B.C. is among the exceptions. So far this year there have been 147 polio cases in the province against 33 at this time last year. There have been 8 deaths, compared with four last year.

Health officials don't know for sure, but they feel the increase is normal. [illegible] upswing in the incidence of polio every four or five years. Without the immunization program, it probably would have been worse.

Studies have shown most of the Alberta cases this year are of Type 1 virus, the type that is most resistant to Salk vaccine, and the type most likely to cause serious after-effects.

Even so, there probably are quite a few Albertans who have not taken the trouble to be inoculated against the disease. The latest available figures, to the end of last year showed 205,[illegible] persons had received one or two doses, and 138,880 had received three or more.

The October 20th meeting of the Greenlawn Goodwill club was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Jones with twenty members and three visitors present.

The financial statement was read and it was noted that $30.00 was cleared on the layette.

Plans were made for a shower to be held in Greenlawn hall on Oct. 29th in honor of Maureen Mathews, also for catering to the reception and committees were elected for the different tasks.

A motion was made to give the community club a donation of $50 in aid of the hall in hopes that a set of grates would be purchased for the furnace. The club decided to purchase a set of [illegible].

Each member was asked to donate a [illegible] flour sack [illegible] to be kept in the [illegible].

[illegible] was won by a [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Ayers. The [illegible] brought to a close [illegible] and [illegible] serving lunch.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 10. A record number of prairie agriculturists will be headed to Toronto over CNR lines to attend the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Nov. 11-19.

According to J. S. Stephens, CN's general passenger agent, reservations for the railway's all inclusive tour to this annual show window of Canada's agricultural achievements already are far ahead of previous years.

Operating from Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Regina, Brandon and Winnipeg, the CNR tour is of the package type. That is, the low price covers rail tickets, lower berths and meals on the Super Continental between the Prairie points and Toronto. In addition it includes a six-night stay at Toronto's King Edward Hotel, admission to the Royal Winter Fair and Royal Horse Show, and a sightseeing tour of Niagara Falls and Toronto.

Truck Registration For Winter Work To Commence Monday

Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, announced today that truck registration forms became available on Monday in the Highways Building, Edmonton, and in the offices of the District Engineers at Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Calgary, Grande Prairie, Peace River, Edson and St. Paul.

The registration forms must be completed in full in duplicate and both copies must be turned in at the point of registration or returned to the Department of Highways, Highways Building, Edmonton. Truckers in the Edmonton area are asked to return them directly to the Highways Building. After the form has been checked, entered and numbered in the Edmonton office one copy will be returned to the trucker and this copy must be presented to the Engineer on the job when the trucker answers the call for work. The registration form must be completed by the trucker before a Commissioner for Oaths.

It is essential that the registration forms be completed in every detail. $120,000 has been set as the amount of earnings [illegible] expected that this amount will be [illegible] through the [illegible].

The truck registration system is one that originated in Alberta three years ago and is designed to share the work among the [illegible] dump truckers who are wholly dependent on this work for a living. It is not a guarantee of employment but rather an endeavour to give as many truckers as possible some cash income during the winter months.

Only one truck per owner may be registered and the plan is not applicable to people who use the dump truck as a side line and who are not dependent for their major income on the dump truck.

Last year large firms and some who had substantial businesses endeavoured to register a truck. Such attempts are wholly unfair to the program and can only be looked upon with disfavour by all of the people of the province who recognize this program to be an endeavour to provide a little cash during the winter months for those who need it the most.

Truckers who are not ready to go anywhere in the province where the work is should not register. Last year on one occasion it was necessary to contact 56 truckers in order to fill [illegible]. This is not only costly [illegible] the work and is not [illegible] who want to [illegible]. Truckers who are not [illegible] whether the haul is [illegible] should not register [illegible] trucker is called [illegible] repeated is assumed [illegible] does not need the work [illegible] winter.

ARCHDEACON WORKS FROM HELICOPTER

Rev. W. J. Gilling 43, archdeacon of Toronto, took to the air in a helicopter so he can do a better job of directing Anglican Church expansion on the ground. With maps on his lap and a camera over his shoulder he dipped and dove for two hours speculating on properties which may be used for the building of new churches. Mr. Gilling said "many people think a subdivider has to set a[illegible] for the Church. That's not so, we compete for land with [illegible]ry and probably pay more because we don't have the ma[illegible] to keep as close track of real estate."

JOHN W. G. MORRISON, Q.C.

Thought to be the oldest practising lawyer in Canada, Vermilion's J. W. G. Morrison celebrated his 90th birthday on Wednesday, October 26th. He was widely feted by numerous town organizations including the Chamber of Commerce, where Melvin Hill was spokesman; at Rotary with Carl Heckbert paying the honors; and the Masonic Lodges.

Born at Sydney, Nova Scotia on October 26th, 1870, he is a graduate of Dalhousie University with the degrees of B.A., M.A., LL.B. He moved to Edmonton in 1907 and to Vermilion in 1911, where he has been practising law ever since. His record of public service in Vermilion will probably never be surpassed.

J. W. G. Morrison Honored At Rotary Club Meeting

On the occasion of District Governor J. S. McCormick's official visit to Vermilion Rotary club last week it was thought to be appropriate for the meeting to do honor to one of its members, J. W. G. Morrison, who celebrated his 90th birthday last week.

S. Carl Heckbert, a member of the club and a long time friend of Mr. Morrison, was chosen to present a eulogy of his life of service to his country and particularly to this community in so many different ways.

Mr. Heckbert said in part that John William Geddes Morrison, M.A., LL.B., Q.C., was born in Sydney, N.S. on Oct. 26, 1870. He was educated in the Sydney schools and at Dalhousie University, receiving the degree as indicated above. He was early interested in newspaper work, was city editor of the Sydney News and later the Halifax Herald.

"J. W. G." as Mr. Morrison is affectionately known by his many, many friends in this community, came west in 1910. For a time he was news editor for the Edmonton Journal and for several years was correspondent to this paper.

In 1911 Mr. Morrison was admitted to the Alberta Bar and purchased the law practice of C. L. Freeman at Vermilion. At ninety years of age Mr. Morrison still attends to this law practise daily, walking back and forth to [illegible].

Mr. Morrison has long been interested in education and for a great period of time he was member and chairman of the school board in Vermilion. He has been active in municipal affairs serving as councillor for some years and as mayor for sixteen years. During his incumbency such major projects as installation of water and sewerage systems became realities. He was president of Alberta Municipal Association in 1930.

During his whole life in Vermilion Mr. Morrison has been an active Board of Trade member, having been secretary for many years.

Vermilion owes the present library building to Mr. Morrison's foresight. He was instrumental in obtaining a large portion of the funds for its construction from a client and former resident of this town.

Mr. Morrison was for many years a director and vice-president of the Vermilion Agricultural Society and a long-time honorary president of the Canadian Legion. During all of his life here Mr. Morrison has been a loyal member of Vermilion Lodge A.F. & A.M. He was master of the lodge and for several years acted as secretary. He also served as Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Order and as Grand First Principal of Royal Arch Masons in Alberta. He is a member of the Scottish Rite and Al Azhar Shrine Temple, Calgary. He is an honorary life member of Vermilion Lodge.

"J. W. G." was on several occasions a candidate for the Conservative party in the federal elections. That he was not elected is a matter of regret as he would have made a worthwhile contribution to the House of Commons' debates.

As Mr. Heckbert said in conclusion, "Mr. Morrison is extremely highly regarded by thousands of people and is still active as a Rotarian of which he was a charter member of Vermilion." He attends regularly the weekly meetings of the Chamber of Commerce.

After Mr. Heckbert's address Angus MacMillan piped in an oversize birthday cake which was carried by Secretary Ken Greenwood. President Elmore Stewart of Vermilion Rotary then presented Mr. Morrison with a gift whereupon the Rotarians and their wives sang "Happy Birthday". Everyone present wished him many more of them.

Spring Livestock Sale to Replace The Fall Event

Acting on the suggestion of district breeders, the Vermilion Agricultural Society will not hold a sale of purebred livestock this fall but will accede to the suggestion made and to the further suggestion of the Department at Edmonton and stage a mammoth sale of purebred beef cattle in the spring, with arrangements also to be included for a sale of purebred hogs. [illegible] and details of essential regulations will be announced in the Standard in the near future so that all intending sellers will be in a position to make the most careful selection of animals to be offered.

In order to achieve the ultimate in the distribution of only high quality livestock, careful selection will be a "must" and culling will be conducted on a basis which will eliminate all but the highest quality stock.

Annual Meeting Of Vermilion So-Creds At Myrnam Nov. 7

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Social Credit Association will be held at Myrnam this year and the date is Monday, Nov. 7th. The short notice is due to the imminence of the provincial convention which will be held on Nov. 21 to 24th.

Anyone wishing transportation to Myrnam from here should contact the president Castle Scott or secretary Ashley Cooper.

Remembrance Day Programme Announced By Canadian Legion

As usual, the Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion has arranged a program for Remembrance Day. At 10:30 a.m. November 11th, Legion members and Ladies' Auxiliary members will leave the Legion hall and march to the cenotaph. All ex-service men and women in the town and district are invited to join with the Legion in the parade and the ceremonies at the cenotaph, and the service in the Columbia theatre immediately afterwards. Medals will be worn.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony at the cenotaph and the service in the theatre.

Rev. W. A. Champness, [illegible] of the Legion, will be in charge of the service. Major Frank Fane, M.P. of Vegreville, will be the speaker.

Lodges, clubs, organizations [illegible] be welcome to place wreaths. It is important however that everybody wishing to lay wreaths should notify President Alex Callas or Secretary F. H. Buckingham by 6 p.m. Nov. 10th. This is required so that a list can be made and the names called in regular order. Wreaths can be obtained previous to Nov. 10 from Lawrence Webb.

SMOKER PLANNED

Immediately after the service in the theatre a smoker will commence at the Legion hall. Ex-service personnel and Ladies' Auxiliary members and husbands and wives will be welcome. This is a time and occasion when old soldiers get together.

TAG DAY SATURDAY

On Saturday, Nov. 5 the Legion ladies' auxiliary will be on the main corners in Vermilion canvassing for the Legion Poppy fund. This fund is used only for assistance to ex-servicemen and their families who get into difficulties. President Callas of the Vermilion branch asks that citizens be generous in their giving. This important fund does not nearly meet the needs in this district. As Mr. Callas says, "It is hoped that donations will at least be as generous as last year."

Council Makes Changes In Peddler's License

At the last meeting of the council of the town of Vermilion it was announced that the sewerage extension and lagoon was nearly completed and flow into the lagoon would commence next week.

Recently a change was made in the licensing by-law and [illegible]; on January 1, 1961 the license fee for peddlers of food stuff, including bread and pastries will be $10.00 per day.

The council is at present making a review of all existing traffic by-laws for the town. Newspaper publicity will be given in the near future of any important changes to be made.

"In loving memory of many dear ones, and on behalf of those who give these memorials, I ask you to receive these gifts on behalf of Knox United Church congregation, and to dedicate them to the glory and praise of Almighty God."

These words completed a project whereby twelve pews were donated to the Knox United Church at Islay by families in memory of departed dear ones who had looked on this as their church home.

The pews were dedicated at the fifty-fourth anniversary service of the church on Sunday afternoon. The guest speaker was the Rev. Frank Andrews of Mannville.

Adding greatly to the anniversary and dedication service was the music by the choir directed by Mrs. Lila Waterfield and including an anthem, a duet "In the Garden" by Mrs. Jean Alley and Mrs. Janet [illegible]; a solo "[illegible] House", by Mrs. Ken [illegible].

The pews were dedicated in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bothwell, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Vandalism Causes Serious Power Failure; $200 Reward Offered

Canadian Utilities officials announced this week that cause of the 45-minute power interruption in northeastern Alberta last Wednesday evening Oct. 26, was due to broken electrical insulators, damaged by rifle bullets.

Almost 18,000 Canadian Utilities customers were affected. During the same week two other instances of damaged insulators were found.

$200 REWARD OFFERED

In an effort to stamp out this dangerous, malicious act, Canadian Utilities is offering a reward of $200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons found guilty of shooting insulators on its power lines.

Every year lives are endangered by irresponsible persons who use power line insulators as rifle targets. The above instance is the latest example.

Shooting electrical insulators not only endangers the life of the marksman responsible, but the lives of many other people as well. A hospital may be without power, a fire alarm in your community could be put out of operation. This practice is much more than just an inconvenience to the power company. It can quite literally be fatal.

Broken insulators can go unnoticed for a short time in dry weather, but the first rainfall can result in a flash-over, causing a power failure. Repairs are made only at great danger to the life of the serviceman, not to mention the inconvenience caused to the consumer public.

PUBLIC ASKED TO CO-OPERATE

Canadian Utilities is determined to supply constant, dependable electric power. The public is urgently requested to report any information or knowledge of the identity of the guilty party or parties to the local representatives of Canadian Utilities Ltd., or the RCMP in your community.

[illegible] give you a cheque for $1,000.00 you would smile too! The Standard photographer caught [illegible] in a happy mood judging from the smile — and no wonder. President Jim Ferguson of the Vermilion Kinsmen Club has just presented Mr. Heckbert with a cheque for $1,000.00 as a donation to the new agricultural building. The Kinsmen pledged $3,000.00 in all, presented $1,000.00 when making the pledge and have now fulfilled their promise in a remarkably short time. The presentation took place at the regular monthly dinner meeting of the Kinsmen.

Mr. Heckbert is the secretary of the building committee for the new centre and gave the club a comprehensive report of the progress being made both physically and on the fund raising campaign. On behalf of the entire committee and the community at large, he thanked the Kinsmen for their [illegible].

A guest at the dinner meeting, Ashley Cooper M.L.A. complimented the Kinsmen for their fine effort and for their community work, and noted the short time it had taken the club to fulfill their pledge. Although small in actual numbers, said the speaker, the Kinsmen Club by this example can achieve great undertakings.

Teachers Consider Proper Convention Planning; Appoint Venance To Public Relations Committee

A meeting of the teachers of the Kitscoty-Islay sub-local was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Trask, sub-local president, on Oct. 26 at Islay.

Among the many important items discussed at the meeting was the Constitution of the joint convention of the Vegreville, Wainwright and Vermilion Locals.

The main idea underlying the Constitution was to ensure proper convention planning so that the educational worth of the teachers' convention may be further enhanced. In accordance with the Constitution, each Local would be responsible for planning the convention educational program in respect of one of the following divisions: Primary and Elementary, Junior High and Senior High. As a natural corollary to this, it was decided to set up a curriculum committee. Mrs. Shaw was elected to represent the Primary section on the curriculum committee, Mrs. Jack [illegible] to represent [illegible] section, Mr. Moncrieff the Junior High school section and Mr. Regehr the Senior High school section.

At the convention it was further decided to set up a public relations committee as it was realized that the interests of education would best be served if happy relations existed between the teachers and the public. Bad relations are usually the result of misunderstanding. It would be the duty of the public relations committee to remove any such misunderstandings. Mr. Venance was elected as the sub-local representative on the public relations committee.

The teachers' Christmas party was discussed and it was decided to continue [illegible] happy tradition.

Mr. [illegible], Superintendent of the Vermilion School Division was specially invited to the meeting to lead the discussion on Developmental Reading. In his most [illegible] talk on the subject Mr. [illegible] pointed out the different fields in developmental reading and put forward many worthwhile suggestions as to the method of implementation.

Support The F. U. A.

The F.U.A. is making an all-out effort to increase its membership this year. In the past few years the organization has been doing an excellent job on behalf of its members but has been badly handicapped by its small budget. The F.U.A. needs more members and it needs more money to carry on its important work.

There is no sound reason why the majority of farmers should not wish to belong to the F.U.A. for it must be recognized that if farmers are to improve or even maintain their position in the economy of the nation they must be at least as well organized and influential as other groups.

Four Leading Causes of Fire Deaths

A report on the injuries from burns suffered by a six-months-old child in a central Alberta community received by Austin E. Bridges, Provincial Fire Commissioner, emphasized the need for continuation of practises publicized during the recent Fire Prevention Week across Canada. The fire which was started by a small child playing with a cigarette lighter in a clothes closet, was discovered at its inception. Immediate rescue and attention to the blaze minimized the loss.

Commissioner Bridges pointed out that deaths from fire in 1959 totalled 46, and already in 1960 death toll from fire in this province is up to 29, including ten men, nine women and ten children. Of these, eight were in rural areas and 21 in urban areas.

The four leading causes of fire resulting in death last year were (a) collision of trains and vehicles involving flammable liquids and fire, (b) accidents with gasoline lamp and motor car gas tanks, (c) children playing with matches, and (d) oil heaters.

"WILLS"

Both the formal will and holograph will are valid in Alberta. The formal will must be signed by the person making the will in the presence of two witnesses. The holograph will is written and signed by the person making the will. Before making a will seek legal advice as the average person isn't aware of the different ways of disposing property and the complications that may arise. A will is probably the most important document a farmer ever signs because in many cases it provides a blue print of the farm and family future.

PREMIUM FOR WARBLE FREE STOCK

Meat packers drawing supplies from Wichita, Kansas, have announced that cattle owners marketing lots of 10 head or more between November 15th and May 1 will be reimbursed $1.00 per head for warble free cattle. These cattle are certified treated sixty days prior to slaughter by the owner.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST?

I am not making any money it costs too much to produce. How much does it cost to produce? Every farmer, every manufacturer has a different cost of production, different cost of doing a job. The operating cost is much different depending upon whether you cover all the expenses or just those necessary to keep period where the life of machinery, etc., becomes a factor we operating. To operate for a long must consider fixed costs. But for short periods of time days or months the fixed costs remain the same and if variable costs are covered a profit can be made. Farm management groups work on prices and costs as they affect the individual farm.

FOCUS ON FABRICS

As predicted by fashion experts three color families have taken the lead in fabrics this fall. These three families are browns, the greens and the purples. All colors have a greyed down look making them appear smoky and subdued. Brown is probably the biggest color family and the newest browns are combined with purple.

THE GREEN OR PURPLE LOOK

The purple family "caught on" quickly. According to Miss Nancy Paschuk, Clothing Specialist with the Department of Agriculture, purple has proven a "best seller" by retailers. Miss Nancy Paschuk advises careful selection of accessories if you decide to wear purple. The depth and intensity of the color both have a bearing on the choice of colors in accessories. If there is a secondary shade in the fabric it is a good idea to repeat it once in hat or handbag. For example if the purple has a red fleck the hat might be in the red tone.

Other millinery possibilities include a matching hat of a light amethyst, a pale blue, a sapphire blue or green. As for style, a youthful looking hat will do much to offset purple's reputation as being an older color.

Your jewelry, says Miss Paschuk should be chosen to complete the outfit. Consider the brightening effect of gold, amethyst, sapphire, emerald and ruby-colored stones.

TEXTURES AND WEAVES:

Fabrics this fall have a porus look. These new gauze weaves offer a look of bulk but are still light in weight. Second to the gauze weaves are the grainey or pebbly crepes.

Hard finished worsteds are continuing to hold their own and twill weaves remain important in all fabrics. Brushed surfaced fabrics are also common. Knits and fur fabrics are gaining popularity.

Milk House Plans

Two excellent booklets containing milk house plans are now available to install bulk tanks available to Alberta farmers. One set of plans, designed for dairymen who are planning to install bulk tanks gives detailed information on size layout and specifications. The other set is for those with milk coolers and gives similar information.

Both booklets are published by the Canadian Farm Building Plan Service and can be obtained from any district agriculturist or from the Extension Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

To avoid mistakes, be sure to specify in the request whether the milk is handled in a bulk tank or in cans.

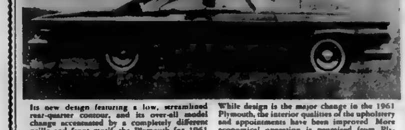
PLYMOUTH FEATURES ALL-NEW DESIGN FOR '61



Its new design featuring a low, streamlined rear-quarter contour, and its over-all model change accentuated by a completely different grille and front motif, the Plymouth for 1961 epitomizes the ultimate in modern passenger car styling and function. The result of this major remodelling achievement is the creation of a slim, streamlined and eye-catching silhouette. While design is the major change in the 1961 Plymouth, the interior qualities of the upholstery and appointments have been improved. More economical operation is promised from Plymouth's "slant-six" and V-8 engines. All of these improvements give this Chrysler of Canada product the mark of "top quality" for 1961. Pictured is a Fury two-door hardtop.

A happy gathering was held on Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dalt Torrance. They had a surprise visit from Mrs. Winnifred Torrance's sister Beatrice (Mrs. Everett) and her daughter from Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Milton Torrance and wee son of Edmonton, a niece of Mrs. W. Torrance.

Hallowe'en passed by quite peacefully until 2 a.m. when the fire siren was set off, arousing most of us quite suddenly. It got some of the men out in time to see who the culprits were.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Tuesday, Nov. 1st saw operations at the Auction Mart back to normal, with a fine crowd and a good selection of livestock. Weather conditions have certainly been with us all. On offering were the following: 241 cattle, 220 hogs; 2 horses, and 6 sheep. Prices were steady with last week's report, the bulk of steer calves finding a ready outlet and ranging from $20.00 to $20.85 per cwt. Heifers sold from $17.00 to $18.50, good cows 11.00 to 12.25. Yearling replacement steers $18.00 to $19.25, and heifers from $14.50 to $16.75.

Mr. Archie C. Thompson contributed the highest selling lot of steers and heifers. One lot of 5 steers weighing 2870 lbs. sold to Younker Bros. for $20.80 cwt. One lot of 10 heifers weighing 4710 lbs. sold to Mr. Topilka for $18.10 per cwt.

Hogs were in very good demand, weaners from $8.00 up to $14.50. Feeders brought up to $21.25 per cwt., and sows averaged $63.00.

Feeder cattle have a ready outlet. Make sure you market your livestock with the firm which is interested in seeing you get the most out of your product. We sort and sell cattle to suit all kinds of buyers. Every livestock producer has different quality and prices, and most buyers want different quality and prices. At our ringside you will find these two dominant factors. You as a producer and buyer can benefit from it. We guarantee satisfaction. Support your home town competitive market.

Giant Funnel in Place

One of the finishing touches to the superstructure of the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada — the placing of her giant 64-ton steel and aluminum funnel — was completed on Oct 9. The 27,300-ton liner, launched last May, is scheduled to go into service between Liverpool and Montreal in April 1961. Owing to the weight of the huge funnel the ship had to be moved from her fitting out berth at the Vickers-Armstrongs Yard at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, down to where the giant hammer-head crane was holding suspended the gleaming buff-colored funnel with its red and white checkered house flag. The whole operation of lifting, moving the ship, and putting the funnel into position was completed in 60 minutes.

Miss Donna Schneider Becomes Bride of Mr. Donald Weston

At a pretty double-ring ceremony on Sept. 24th in St. Anthony's Catholic church, Lloydminster, Miss Donna Schneider became the bride of Mr. Donald Weston. Rev. Father Gorman officiated.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schneider of Clandonald and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weston of Maidstone, Sask.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon organza over satin, the skirt of which was appliqued with sequin embroidery. Sequin embroidery also highlighted the neckline of the fitted bodice with lily point sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a crown of rhinestones and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendants were Misses Judy Wouters, Marilyn Brake and Kathy Doyle. They wore similarly styled dresses of chiffon over taffeta in shades of blue, mauve and aqua, carrying bouquets of pink, yellow and rose carnations.

The groom was attended by Dewaine Fisher, Gerry Stevenson and Keith Weston.

The organist was Mrs. George Cummins and the soloist was Marlene Lorenz. Ushers were Murray Bourassa and Ted Dick.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schneider chose a beige suit with pink accessories and the groom's mother chose a wine sheath and matching bolero with white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

The wedding breakfast was held in the Prince Charles banquet room at Lloydminster. Acting as master of ceremonies was Mr. T. D. Throwers, employer of the bride. Rev. Father Gorman proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. A toast to the bridesmaids was given by Mr. Dewain Fisher.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the bride's home with a large number of friends from Clandonald attending.

After a wedding trip to Banff and Nelson, B.C. Mr. and Mrs. Weston will make their home in Lloydminster.

Whooping Crane 'Home' for Winter

The first migrating whooping crane to arrive on the traditional Texas gulf coast wintering grounds was sighted at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge last week.

Last spring 31 whoopers left the refuge for the northward trip to Wood Buffalo National Park in northern Alberta.

Two whooping cranes spent the summer on Matagorda island near the Aransas refuge and did not go north.

Pleasant Valley

The weather is still very nice. A carload from this district journeyed to Kitscoty on Thursday evening to the chicken supper and concert. This was greatly enjoyed. It was nice to see our old neighbor, Mrs. Harry Gordon.

The men of the district have returned from the hunt with three bags full. It was all the same and a roast was sent to Granny down the lane.

Mrs. Sylvia Gould is spending a holiday at Elk Point visiting relatives.

Fred Gould has been helping Eric Elliott to install an oil furnace. Tom Sherwood has also installed one. These folks ought to be quite comfortable this winter.

Percy Golby is home for two weeks' holiday.

An enjoyalbe evening was spent at Mrs. Dupruit's home on Friday night. The roast beef and lemon pie were delicious.

Mrs. Gillies spent a few days with the wife and a day was spent in Lloydminster.

On Saturday Mrs. Ada Fraser was visited at the Vermilion Valley Lodge. What a lovely place with every comfort and care. The folks there are very pleased to have visitors at anytime so don't forget them.

Improvements To The Skating Rink At Marwayne

MARWAYNE — The new skating rink house in Marwayne is well under construction with Mr. Len Espetveidt as chief carpenter and volunteer helpers.

It is built on a cement foundation and when finished will have two dressing rooms, waiting room with coffee bar, furnace room and a ticket room. There is also space for toilet facilities, however these will not be installed this year. Propane gas will be used for heating and the water is readily available for flooding.

$1,000 from the Recreational grant, part of the Alberta Government [illegible] plan, was designated to be spent on this project. More money is needed and donations will be gratefully received.

There will be a caretaker in charge and supervision during free skating time will ensure good behavior on the ice.

A grand opening is planned with fancy dress, clowns, etc. when the rink is ready. This will be another very worthy accomplishment for the town this year.

Vermilion Hunters In Special Clique

There's something about Vermilion goose hunters that apparently attracts other Vermilion goose hunters ... or maybe, like big Barnsmell, it [illegible] all other shooters away. Each group thought the other vaguely familiar — and when they got together after the shooting to compare notes, they were all from Vermilion, [illegible] none had the faintest idea the others were any other place but in Vermilion. The groups were composed of Cam Tough, Darryl Curran, Glen Gibbons and Gib Harrison, Ken Caron, John Stewart and Walter Fullerth, the latter of Innisfree. Board of Transport Commissioners Holds Packed Meeting, Beauvallon

BEAUVALLON — Over two hundred people packed the community hall at Beauvallon in the Vermilion constituency on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 25th to attend a sitting of the Board of Transport Commissioners of Canada. The sitting arose from a request by the Canadian Pacific Railway for permission to remove the station agent from Beauvallon. The company claimed insufficient revenue from that point as the reason, as well as the fact that a highly qualified agent was not being used to the full extent and that he could be used to much better advantage elsewhere.

Representing the Board of Transport Commissioners was District Inspector F Gillis from Calgary. The CPR was represented by Mr J Macnabb of Edmonton. Mr John Dudar, reeve of the Eagle M.D., was chairman. Attending to see that the rights of their constituents were upheld were the federal and provincial members, Major Frank W Fane, M.P. of the Vegreville constituency, and Ashley H. Cooper M.L.A. for the Vermilion provincial constituency.

Mr Gillis outlined the request which the Board of Transport Commissioners had received from the CPR leading to this meeting. Mr MacNabb gave the reasons, making a very strong case, for the railway in making the request, stating that they had put off asking for the removal of the agent for the past three years. An open question period brought forth many questions and answers.

Both Major Fane and Ashley Cooper spoke strongly on the advisability of continuing the agent at Beauvallon for another trial year. Major Fane stated that he would press the matter further when he returned to Ottawa within three weeks.

Mr. Cooper in the [illegible] plea of the meeting, pointed out that the decision to remove the agent was apparently based on the returns for the three years prior to [illegible]. These years, stated Mr. Cooper, were recession years for agriculture, due to poor crops and poor prices, climaxed by the almost total crop failure in 1959. As the prosperity of the farmer suffered so suffered the economy of the CPR in the area. With the very good crop harvested in 1960 the economy of the area was bound to become far more buoyant with resultant benefits to the railway. He therefore thought that in all fairness the agent should be left at Beauvallon for another year.

The decision of the Board of Transport Commissioners will be announced at a later date.

Following the meeting the Beauvallon Board of Trade entertained a number of the visitors at a luncheon in the hotel.

Reduction In Long-Haul Telephone Rates Effective November 6th

MONTREAL. — Reduction in long-haul telephone rates which will save Canadian telephone users more than $300,000 annually were announced Tuesday.

The lower rates will become effective Nov. 6th according to H. G. Young of Montreal, chairman of the Trans-Canada Telephone System an organization comprised of the country's eight major telephone systems.

The lower rates apply to calls which involve the use of the facilities of three or more of the member systems. They represent another step in a long series of such reductions over the past twenty five years.

Toronto-Regina $2.95 (3.05); Saskatoon-Vancouver 2.15 (2.40); Halifax-Victoria 3.70 (3.85); Winnipeg-Edmonton 2.25 (2.40); Montreal-Edmonton 3.20 (3.40); Montreal-Penticton 3.50 (3.75); Grand Falls, Nfld. - Vancouver 3.70 (3.95).

The Trans-Canada Telephone System has steadily reduced long haul telephone rates over the past 25 years. For example, in 1935, a daytime station-to-station call from Montreal to Vancouver cost $8.25. In 1951 the same call cost only $4.90, and the latest reduction brings this down to $3.50 — less than half the 1935 rate.

Member organizations of the T.C.T.S. are: Avalon Telephone Co. (Nfld.), Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co., New Brunswick Telephone Co., Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, Manitoba Telephone System, Saskatchewan Govt Telephones, Alberta Govt Telephones, and B.C. Telephone Co.

In conform with the new Trans-Canada rates, new rates for calls between Alberta and its neighboring province, Saskatchewan are being introduced. These schedules [illegible] the same general pattern [illegible] reductions of long haul station-to-station calls. For example, the cost of a daytime 3-minute station to station call from Cereal [illegible] to Regina will be $2.[illegible] compared with the present rate of $2.[illegible] on the same type of call from Calgary to [illegible] will be $[illegible] compared with the present rate of $[illegible]. However, in the case of some very short haul calls across the border there will be slight increases in rates for all types of service. For example, the cost of a three-minute station to station call from Medicine Hat to Maple Creek will be increased by 15 cents, or cost of the same type of call from the Hat to Swift Current will be increased by 10 cents.

This increase in short haul calls across the border is in [illegible] longer duration in some cases short haul calls of six minutes [illegible]

Doreen Perkins Bride Of Mr. Ralph Dicke

The bride, the former Miss Doreen Perkins, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay D Perkins and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe B. Dicke.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown with bouffant skirt of nylon net and Chantilly lace with motifs of pearl sequin trim bodice. The dress was designed with semi-scoop neckline and lilypoint sleeves. A matching crown of nylon net with mother of pearl sequin trim held the bride's chapel veil of illusion [illegible]. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and her only jewelry was of cultured pearls, a gift from the groom.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Miss Grace Perkins, the bride's sister. Miss [illegible] was bridesmaid. [illegible] completed their ensembles and [illegible] tended the groom. Ushering the guests were Mr Ben Francisco and Mr Alton Curtis. Pianist was Mrs J M Schroeder. A duet was sung by Mr and Mrs Ben Francisco during the signing of the register.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs Perkins chose a dress of mint green lace over taffeta with which she wore beige accessories. She wore red roses en corsage.

A floral sheath dress of beige was worn by the groom's mother. Her dress was complemented by accessories of coral and she wore red roses en corsage.

At a reception at the Anglican church Mr Tom Davis proposed a toast to the bride. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth centred with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with small American Beauty rose buds. Two pink candles concluded the setting.

The bride's travelling costume was a turquoise sheath dress with matching bolero and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Guests from out of town at the wedding included Mr and Mrs Wm [illegible] Vegreville, [illegible] Mr and Mrs [illegible] Newman, Edmonton [illegible] James, Mr and Mrs Wm James [illegible] Perkins [illegible] James [illegible]

Mannville Bride Honored at Shower

MANNVILLE. — A crowd of more than 75 people were present the evening of Oct. 21st, to pay tribute to Miss Merilyn Mercer, a bride-elect of November. Interesting games and contests were much enjoyed at the shower sponsored by friends and neighbors of Merilyn, and of the family. One of Merilyn's bridesmaids, Miss Merna Whitson, very charmingly made the presentation of gifts, which were opened by the guest of honor assisted by her grandmother Mrs. C Mercer, her mother Mrs W Mercer and Miss Merna Whitson. Many were the beautiful and useful presents [illegible] for which Miss Mercer graciously thanked her friends. A lunch served by the hostesses closed an enjoyable evening.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Cities Evince Little Interest In Redistribution of Legislature Seats

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — There's an old adage that people get the kind of government they deserve.

If it's true, Edmonton and Calgary will have no comeback no matter what happens when seats in the Alberta Legislature are redistributed prior to the next general election.

The two cities have complained periodically that, on the basis of population, they don't have sufficient representation in the House.

And they've had some justification for the claim. The two [illegible] cities, along with Leth[bridge] and Medicine Hat and Red [Deer] have around 52 per cent of [the] province's voters, yet they [have] 29.2 per cent of the [seats] in the House. Rural [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the voters and [illegible] of the M.L.A.s.

During the last session of the Legislature [illegible] committee was set up to study the [illegible] [illegible] plan of [illegible] and submit its report [illegible] [illegible] from any interested [illegible] group or organization [illegible] [illegible] submit briefs.

Last week the committee held its first hearing and there were [illegible] three briefs to be heard. None had been received from the [city] of Calgary.

[Edmonton] Chamber of Commerce submitted a brief in which it said city dwellers should have the same proportion of representation in the House as rural residents. The Alberta Progressive Conservative Party presented a brief which said substantially the same thing.

The only other brief was from the Town of Jasper Place on Edmonton's western outskirts, which wants to become a separate constituency represented by its own member in the House.

Hon. F. C. Colborne, minister without portfolio and chairman of the redistribution committee expressed disappointment that no submission had been received from anyone in Calgary. As a result there will be no hearings in Calgary.

THREE CITY MEMBERS ON COMMITTEE

Of course there are enough city M.L.A.s on the committee [illegible] to see that the cities' problems are studied. But how can you blame the committee if it decided the cities aren't particularly interested in more representation.

And one of the questions committee members may ask themselves is how much work city members do on behalf of their constituents between sessions of the Legislature.

I don't know what the situation is in Calgary but my guess is [that] in Edmonton the average elected backbencher doesn't have much contact with his constituents. For one thing, city dwellers aren't in the habit of calling on their MLAs for information [or] assistance in taking advantage [of] government services. Why should they be when all the government offices are so close at hand?

Another factor is that the two major cities were only broken into several single-member ridings prior to the last election. Before that members were elected for the city as a whole. Now that each district elects its own member it would be possible for voters to have more contact with their representatives, but the idea doesn't seem to be catching on.

AVERAGE RURAL M. L. A. KEPT VERY BUSY

In the country ridings the situation is entirely different. The average rural M. L. A. is kept on the hop constantly dishing out information and acting as go-between for his constituents in dealings with the government.

The committee isn't likely to have any quarrel with the request from the Town of Jasper Place. With a population of nearly 30,000 it's the biggest town in Canada, maybe even in the world. Yet it hasn't its own representative in the Legislature. At present it is split up between two Edmonton ridings.

Spokesmen for the town pointed out that Jasper Place has problems which don't arise in the city. Not only that, there's the odd time when the city and the town don't see eye to eye on common problems.

Committee members also will be adjusting boundaries of some rural ridings, and will likely take a special look at the huge northern constituencies where travel restrictions make it almost impossible for members to do a proper job of looking after their constituents.

Family scenes such as this make wonderful movie material.

Memories in Motion

Some time ago an item in a newspaper caught our attention. It concerned Hollywood and the products in [illegible] print programmed. Now it's "Do-It-Yourself" [illegible]. The article went on to explain that famous names in the Hollywood movie industry had [illegible] discovered how much fun it was to make their own home movies — with their own "casts" — their homes, their children, their neighbors and [neighbor]hood activities given star billing.

[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] as well [illegible] [illegible] them just what [illegible] [illegible] all of you now [illegible] [illegible] time — that home movie[-making's] more fun than winning an "Oscar"!

With a movie camera in hand — and you can now own one for as little as $36.95 — every family activity is a potential scenario. The children at play with a new pet, [illegible] [illegible], visitors at the house ... Junior at a Scout jamboree ... a sports event, a [illegible] parade — the possibilities are practically endless. And, in every case, a few reels of film can capture those happy times so vividly that they can be relived by the family and shared by your friends every time you [illegible] [illegible].

For home movies that are every bit as smooth as the professional product, there are a few simple points to remember. First of all, plan your story theme in advance — whether it's Father on the [illegible] way or Sister's seventh birthday party. To avoid [illegible] [illegible] than a collection of unconnected snapshots, don't take isolated shots. Instead, your camera should shoot in sequences. Take the complete action of any one incident before going on to the next sequence, building continuity by a succession of sequences that tell the entire story just as it happened.

To create interest and variety, some of your shots should be taken at a distance; others will be more effective as close-ups. One shot may require 10 or 12 seconds to make its point, while another may need only 3 or 4 for the full effect to register.

Other points to remember are: check to be sure the action is not lost against a cluttered background before you take the shot, try "framing" your picture by using foreground objects to set off what's in the background, don't let the sun shine into your lens; take your close-ups of people in open shade to cut down on strong shadows; use several angles on one subject for a real movie sequence; end on a high note — something impressive to match the mood or atmosphere of your story.

Someone once said, "Home movies are memories in motion stored in film cans for the future." That they are, and more. They're also fun to make and fun to show off.

Jealousy . . What Can I Do About It?

Health Unit Notes

Jealousy is called the green-eyed monster for a very good reason. It's a powerful emotion in adults. In a young child, it can be so intensely bitter as to warp his whole personality. Jealousy should be avoided or minimized where possible. A newcomer in the family is one of the commonest causes of jealousy.

If the child knows well ahead of time that a new baby is coming, he can gradually get used to the idea. An only child under six years will find it especially hard to share his mother's love. He can't realize yet that it's possible for his parents to love two or more children all at once. He thinks of love as being something that is limited in quantity like a bag of candy. If a second or third child gets some, there is less for him.

The preparation and bustle for the new baby's coming can leave a child feeling very lonely and out of things. Most parents nowadays appreciate the importance of making a special effort to reassure the "old baby" that they still love him. But it often takes some planning to convince him. Help him to see that it is his baby too, and in this way develop his acceptance of the new situation.

If there is to be reshuffling of the household arrangements to accommodate the new arrival, do it well in advance. Present any changes involving the older child as being something of a promotion for him because he is growing up, whether it's going to nursery school or giving up his crib or his room. The person who is to care for him while the mother is in hospital should [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] and be a friendly person.

Everyone is preoccupied getting mother, baby, and luggage settled. It is so much better if the child can be taken away from the house on some jaunt that is fun for him. Then, after calm is restored, his mother relaxed, he can arrive home and run straight to his mother's arms. Better not to stimulate any interest in the baby. Wait until he asks. Don't make him feel he has to love it and share with it.

Combatting Jealousy

This is where the father can step in most effectively if — and this is important — he has built a mutually satisfactory relationship with the older child long before the new baby has arrived. He can do little companionable things such as taking Junior along when he checks the furnace or waters the lawn. Evenings and holidays, they can play a few games, those the child thinks are fun, or do a little reading or talking.

For awhile parents can help by discussing the baby as little as possible in front of the child. When friends and relatives arrive to see the newcomer, gently bring the older one into the spotlight. The hardest thing for big brother to take is anxiously to watch the visitors bring parcels for baby but none for him. If people only realized how much wiser it would be to come and see a "new baby" but bring the gift for the "old baby"! Parents can cover up by keeping a secret supply of gimcracks, and when the older child is overlooked, bring one out.

Letting big brother help with baby can do much to reassure him and make him feel important. He can help bring in the diapers or get baby's bottle from the refrigerator. Sometimes he may want to drink from a bottle too. Give it to him. There's no danger of his returning to bottle feedings. An older child whether boy or girl can get a lot of satisfaction out of having a doll with enough improvised equipment to be able to imitate mother's care of the baby.

If at all possible, mother should try to give the older child some time of his very own during the day.

While baby sleeps she might take her mending out beside his sand pile. Another day, she could read. It helps him to feel he is getting at least a share of his mother.

Jealousy Has Many Faces

Not all children obviously show their jealousy. Parents who are aware of a child's natural feelings when a baby comes can make sure they are giving the older child lots of hugs and praise whether he is acting jealous or not. When the child finds he's doing all right even if he has a rival, the experience of sharing will strengthen his personality.

But where the older child feels he's losing out, he can't help feeling unhappy and jealous. His jealousy may be out in the open, and he may attack the baby. Or, it may come out indirectly. He may suck his thumb, stutter, not eat, not sleep. He may be just plain mean and with great thoroughness go to messing up the house. He may even love the baby at the same time but his hugs of affection for it are apt to be violent. Moping or being obsessed with the baby are two of the most damaging types of jealousy and may require professional advice.

It's natural for parents to be disturbed at displays of jealousy but to handle the child's behavior in a [illegible] manner such [illegible] [illegible] worst fears ... he isn't loved or wanted anymore. Instead of crossness or rebukes, try to gather the culprit up in an affectionate hug, tell him you understand how he wishes there were no baby to take your time. Tell him too that you need him more now than ever. You are helping him to bring his feelings into the open. He won't feel so guilty and unhappy. His wonderful parents understand and still love him.

Rivalries

Real or fancied favoritism can greatly upset the family life as the children grow older. In many cases parents unconsciously provide grounds for the slighted child's feelings. Mothers and fathers often make unfavorable comparisons. "John was always so careful with his clothes but just look at you!" Mary never was so [illegible]. A father may be quite impatient with a small delicate son and be quite [illegible] for [illegible] approval [illegible] his husky daughter because he admires [illegible].

It's understandable too for a child to be jealous of admiration or affection shown by his parents to a child outside the family. It shows how dependent and close is the relationship between a child and his parents. For this reason, parents are wise to refrain from giving too much attention to little outsiders in their own children's presence.

In fact, basis for jealousy is by no means limited to the family group nor to any age but may be extended to grandparents and other relatives, to teachers and playmates.

Each may be idolized by the child and thus become somebody special to be "possessed" by him only. One of the most common examples among adolescent children is seen in early young love experiences. Threats to this feeling of possession can arouse intense jealousy.

Adequate preparation and the provision of genuine extra approval or affection during the crisis help to lessen the jealousy and enable the child to control these damaging emotions.

Handling Quarrels

If parents [illegible] [illegible] try to avoid [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] all the [illegible] [illegible] of approval and affection [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] be some quarrelling between the children. As long as each can stand up for himself, it's better for the parents to stay out. Such spats are one way to learn how to get along together. If in order to prevent actual [illegible] the parent has to interfere, it is more effective to distract attention than to lecture. Remain friendly while firmly suggesting [illegible]. Young children are not endowed with any special or instinctive love for brothers and sisters but this grows as they enjoy a happy secure family life together.

Orest Woywitka and Lil Jarock Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

On September 21st the Greek Catholic church in Vermilion was the scene of a pretty fall wedding featured in white, when Lil Jarock, daughter of Mrs. Kay Jarock, became the bride of Mr. Orest Woywitka, second son of Mr and Mrs. Mike Woywitka of Vermilion. The church pews marked with white gladioli and white bows made a pretty picture. Rev. Father Starodub and Rev. Father Cherkowski performed the ceremony.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of soft white organza with long lily point sleeves featuring a picture neckline. Occasional sequins on the full skirt individualized the portrait gown. A plain four-tier veil fell from her half circle crown of sequins and pearls. Her jewelry consisting of three strands of crystals with matching drop earrings was a gift from the groom. The bridal bouquet was of variegated American Beauty roses.

The bride was attended by five lovely bridesmaids, Sylvia Wysocki, Joann Wysocki, Barbara Kalynchuk, Lillian Woywitka and Jean Pue. They were white organza party dresses with rhinestone tiaras and matching jewelry. They carried bouquets of lilac roses. The maid of honor, Mrs. Florence Kather, twin sister of the bride, chose a blue-green sheath with white accessories.

Attending the groom were Ewen Woywitka, Gary Woywitka, Joe Wysocki, Emil Yarmuch and Peter Wasylik. The ushers were Louis Jarock, brother of the bride, and Alexander Duch, cousin of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose a plain purple sheath with a corsage of yellow roses and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a sheath in deep blue and her corsage was of red roses with white accessories.

Following the marriage ceremony the bridal party entered the Elks hall where a reception was held and many guests awaited their arrival. The master of ceremonies was Mr. Wm. Woywitka who proposed the toast to the bride and groom. Rev Father Starodub and Rev. Father Cherkowski gave blessings and offered congratulations. The groom responded to the toast and thanked the guests for their kind wishes. A delicious hot supper was served and greatly enjoyed.

The happy young couple met most of their wedding guests during donations where they received many good wishes and donations of lovely gifts.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip through the western States, to Vancouver and on the return journey Radium Hot Springs and Banff were visited. They are now making their home in Vermilion.

FACING THE WINTER

We've had our first snow in Manitoba and there's frost in the air most of the time. We talk grumpily about another long winter in the offing but secretly some of us like it.

I can still remember that old feeling of satisfaction when the house was banked up, the storm windows fitted, the doors weatherstripped and the woodbox full. To be provisioned and snug against a winter wind is to know a real glow of satisfaction. With modern windows, concrete foundations, modern heating and all the rest, some of that joy may be lost. Not all of it, however. Especially this fall when there has been such a good long stretch of harvest weather and the bins are full.

I always think of fall and winter as times for consolidation, for chinking up the fortress of our lives, for family fun or "togetherness" as they call it these days.

The Canadian nation right now is facing a sort of Economic Winter. We should be chinking up, consolidating our position, acting with restraint and prudence. If we do, we can weather this Economic Winter without much difficulty.

I think we will. I think Canadians are going to demand restraint and prudence from government, labor unions, and business. We know that wage demands are foolish when so many are without jobs, that price increases are foolhardy when present prices are being resisted; and that government spending can only lead to higher taxes and higher prices.

So let's get the weatherstripping on and face this economic winter sensibly. Only in that way can we be ready for the economic spring that's sure to come.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

It was Home Missions Sunday at the Alliance Chapel on Oct. 30th. Pastor Schroeder preached at both services. In the morning he made the appeal and received a pledge offering on behalf of Home Missions. In the evening the sermon was the sixth in the series on the Ten Commandments "Thou Shalt Not Kill".

Special music was provided by Mrs. Wayne Mathews, a vocal solo, Ron Mix a saxaphone solo, and a vocal duet by Albert Mix and Rev. Schroeder. Pianists were Margaretta Clendenning and Mrs. Ron Mix. Ben Francisco led the singing in the evening service.

Mr and Mrs. Jack Myers of Wainwright were guests in the evening service. He is regional director of Youth for Christ and was in town on business for that organization. A guest in the morning service was Miss Cora Harris, home on furlough from missionary work in Japan. Miss Harris is the sister of Mrs. B. Tory and is well known locally.

Several carloads of ladies of the chapel attended the Ladies' Missionary rally held in Edmonton on Thursday, Nov. 3rd at Beulah Alliance church.

A Hallowe'en social for the young people was held in the chapel on Oct. 31st.

Paradise Valley

On Tuesday evening the Paradise Valley hall was filled when the Rotary Club of Lloydminster sponsored a banquet to the residents of Paradise Valley and district. The P.V.W.A. of the United Church catered to the enjoyable affair. As usual these ladies outdid themselves and many were the compliments they received for the plate they provided ... home cooking at its best. The Lloydminster club went all out to entertain their guests. The program consisted of skits, singing, bagpipe music and what have you. It was the most successful evening ever held in the hall. Mr Hanson, the guest speaker, gave a very interesting outline of the ideals of Rotary. Thank you Rotarians.

Patients in the Lloydminster hospital include Mrs C. Stoddart, Mrs. Fred Brassington, Mrs. J

F.U.A. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Edmonton, October 27, 1960. On September 9th letters were sent out to all farmers who had been members since 1955 requesting that they do not wait to be canvassed for 1961 membership but instead forward their fees direct by mail. Results have been gratifying. Over 15 per cent have already responded and returns are still coming in steadily.

Membership kits have been mailed this week to all locals in preparation for the drive on November 14th. On that date there will be 3,000 canvassers out throughout the province.

From the reports of the activity in all areas we are confident there will be an excellent canvass this year and all signs point to an increased membership.

In 1896 "Dorothy Dix" (Mrs. Elizabeth M. Gilmer) began her column for personal advice in a daily newspaper. It was the first popular "advice to the lovelorn" feature in newspapers.

Vermilion Offers Fire Fighting Services To Surrounding Areas

At the regular meeting of the town council held on Monday evening, rates were set for the local fire department attending calls outside of the town limits. These will be as follows:

Basic charge for fire engine	$50.00
Mileage	$1.00 per mile one way
Men	$1.00 per hour per man

The ability to offer this service has been made possible by the acquisition of the new fire truck. A temporary fire-proof addition is to be made to the present hall to store the new engine. It is hoped to construct a new fire hall a year from now.

CONSIDERING MUSEUM

The council is investigating the possibility of federal and provincial assistance in the building of a museum. It has been decided to start collecting old machines and other articles of local historical value in anticipation of the museum being built within two or three years. Anyone having articles of interest who wish them in a museum is asked to contact Dr. A. B. King or Claude Brennan.

It was decided at the last meeting to send Dr. King and George Martin to represent the town at a civil defence meeting in Edmonton in the Jubilee auditorium on Dec. 7th.

C.G.I.T. TO PRESENT KNEELING BENCH

The C.G.I.T. will present a kneeling bench to the First United Church at the service on Sunday morning, Nov. 13th at 11:30 a.m. All interested are invited to attend.

Vermilion Tigers Organize For Coming Hockey Season

Gerry Svensson Re-elected President Of the Local Club

The Vermilion Tigers are all set for the coming E.A.H.L. season with Gerry Svenson being re-elected president, Reg Ireland vice-president and team manager, Tom Wilson secretary-treasurer. The members of the executive are Joe Brower, Bert Moore, Irving Gordon and Murray Miller.

LOOKS LIKE BIG LEAGUE

It looks as if the E.A.H.L. will be further increased in size this season as North Battleford has applied for a franchise. All the same teams as last year, namely Lashburn, Neilburg, Maidstone, Lloydminster, [illegible]hewan, and Cold Lake, Bonnyville, Vermilion and St. Paul are anxious to battle it out in the league again. The St. Paul team is an entirely new organization, the Hornets having folded up according to reports.

Vermilion Tigers are now examining coaching prospects as well. Several new comers are reported to be interested in places on the team.

Projects which the Tigers will undertake this season are a $100 raffle, turkey bingo, printed programs, season tickets, family nights.

The team has also undertaken the equipping of the dressing room in the new rink as something special.

The first coins issued for use in Canada were five and fifteen sol silver pieces struck by Louis XIV of France in 1670.

W. C. Martin Ltd. Changes Ownership

An interesting business transaction was completed this past week when the heating and plumbing firm of W. C. Martin Ltd. was purchased.

New owners are George Seuffert, Clarence Lyssons and Alex Callas. These three men have been with the firm twenty years, fourteen years and twelve years respectively. The same efficient and courteous service will be continued by the new owners.

Curtis Martin opened his business in 1932 in what is now the John Deere building, later moving into premises on 50th avenue and then into the present location, purchasing it from Ken Isley.

Appreciation for the past years of patronage is expressed by Mr. Martin in the advertising columns of The Standard.

Merle Malin Is New Mayor of Mannville

MANNVILLE — Merle Malin is the new mayor of Mannville succeeding veteran Mayor A. F. "Bert" Williams who retired from the office voluntarily. Mr. Malin came to Mannville in 1952 from Edmonton. He erected a new store here and has operated a successful business ever since. He served previously on the council in Mannville.

"Bert" Williams as the village affectionately knows him, has served Mannville faithfully and well for countless years past and has done much to further the progress of the village over the years. He is remaining on the council as a member and will continue to do his share in shaping Mannville's future. For all he has done Mannville citizens are deeply grateful.

News from the Halls of V.S.A.

After registration on Monday, October 24th, when 21 girls and 116 boys enrolled for the winter term at V.S.A., the second year students, with some staff assistance, embarked on a Welcome Week program. On Tuesday evening the newcomers were taught the school songs, the school yell and the school dance, all unique to V.S.A. Wednesday evening was Introduction Night, when second year students became acquainted with the freshmen and then introduced them to the entire student body. Mixer games and activities rounded out an exciting evening's program.

The following evening saw the annual contest between new and old, as the second years battled the first years and two-in-one in friendly games of basketball and volleyball.

After a Friday night interlude, in deference to the free night tradition, the welcome program resumed on Saturday afternoon, with Frontiersmen's Day. Students engaged in out-of-doors contests with cross-cut saws, bucking horses and horse harnessing, etc. That evening the Staff Reception was held in the gym, with group competitions and dancing for entertainment.

Sunday afternoon the students were treated to a spirited game of football between Wainwright and Vermilion football teams on the V.S.A. grid. With plenty of time remaining, they were then introduced to the game of soccer on the ample level lawns near the dormitories.

Monday evening, Hallowe'en, an outdoor campfire supper was held, followed by a variety program staged by the second year students in the gym. The night was topped off by an hour's dancing before supper and bed.

On the succeeding Saturday evening the newcomers returned the compliment by displaying their histronic talents. A gratifying number of the local high school students took advantage of the open invitation extended them by the students of V.S.A. to attend this function. V.S.A. may be said to be off to a grand start for the 1960-61 term.

Welcome Week is an annual feature at the V.S.A. It is at variance with the traditional practices of other schools. Here the newcomer is sincerely welcomed as a member of the student body. No juvenile horse-play is favored. It is the V.S.A. custom to do everything possible to integrate the freshmen students into the student body and ensure that these people become imbued with all the enthusiasm for V.S.A. felt by all those who have been students here in the past. That it has been successful can be amply testified by the spirit and vigor with which the entire student body takes part in the profuse extra-curricular program offered.

Town, District Canvass For Civic Centre Funds

Members of the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce and the Vermilion Agricultural Society are busy throughout the town and district in an endeavor to obtain sufficient funds to take care of the completion of the new and splendid agricultural and recreation centre which is fast approaching completion in the exhibition grounds.

Substantial grants have been made available by the Dominion Government, the Town of Vermilion, the Provincial Government, the Vermilion Kinsmen Club, the Agricultural Society and the Vermilion Rotary Club.

Towns folk so far solicited have contributed most generously as have the few rural townships where canvassers have been, and it is sincerely hoped that in view of the wonderful services which can and will be provided through the existence of this fine building that all who possibly can will make their donations as generous as possible.

The Agricultural Society through its canvassers will be glad to accept livestock for inclusion in a giant sale which is set for Nov. 19th at the Vermilion Auction Mart. Mr. Clarence Lovig, proprietor of the market, has donated the market for the sale together with his own services and those of his staff and it is hoped that a great many calves, hogs or pieces of usable machinery may be donated and offered for sale at the scheduled auction. All offerings should be brought to the auction market on Saturday morning Nov. 19 and credit will be given donors in each case.

The new building in addition to being used extensively for agricultural purposes will be a community building in the truest sense of the word, rooms of varying sizes being made available in the future for 4-H club work of various kinds, F.U.A. gatherings, etc., and it is hoped that every person within a radius of fifty miles of Vermilion may have at least some part in the financing of this fine structure which will be ready for occupancy early in the new year.

DISTRICT PROJECT

When the canvassers call will you be ready with your donation? If you are not at home when they call or are missed in some way any director of the Agricultural Society or member of the Chamber of Commerce will gladly accept your donation of cash or your offerings for the sale and see that you are given credit therefor. It is particularly impressive that this structure is a district and not by any means a town project.

Earlier School Closing for The Winter Months

Schools in Vermilion will close 15 minutes earlier for the winter months, dismissal time being 3:45 p.m. instead of 4 o'clock. The change is effective on Monday next, Nov. 14th.

Starting on Monday the school hours will be from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.; and from 1 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. This means a shorter noon hour.

This slight change will allow the school busses to leave 15 minutes earlier with earlier home coming on the bus routes the objective. These new hours will be observed from Nov. 14 through the short winter days to March 31st.

The change of hours was the result of a resolution received by the local school board from the Home and School and as a result of a petition signed by parents along one bus route.

Curlers!

Thirty two skips have been appointed and are to pick up their own rinks. The names of these should be handed in to Gus Mireault or Frank Wilkinson by Nov. 14th. Get busy.

Country Curlers

Rinks from the country wishing to curl until their own ice is ready may do so by paying $1 per month per man. Contact the above named officials by Nov. 14th.

Paradise Valley Fire Damage Set At $50,000

PARADISE VALLEY — Two main street business establishments here were destroyed by fire Monday afternoon causing damage estimated at about $50,000. Paradise Valley is 30 miles southwest of Lloydminster, 15 miles southeast of Vermilion.

Fire chief Montie Hoskins and men assisted by trucks from Lloydminster and nearby McLaughlin concentrated efforts on saving nearby buildings as the blaze had gained too much headway in the building destroyed.

Lost in the fire was Floyd Henry's store and Greenwood's cafe. Chief Hoskins reported later that in controlling the fire the three firefighting departments had saved a number of other buildings.

Lady Curlers To Meet Nov. 16th

A meeting of all ladies interested in curling will be held in the curling rink on Wed. Nov. 16th at 2:30 p.m. All ladies interested in curling please attend.

GOLDEN WEDDING RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaughlin will hold an open reception at their home in Vermilion on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Tuesday, Nov. 22nd from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. All friends and acquaintances please accept this as your invitation.

The Mobile T.B. Free Chest X-ray Clinic will be in Vermilion from Nov. 24th to Nov. 28th inclusive, and is offered free to the community in the interest of tuberculosis control. The clinic will be held at the Legion hall.

Every available person should take advantage of having a free chest x-ray for his or her own good. Usually in early stages tuberculosis shows no symptoms but can be discovered by x-ray, as can other abnormalities such as tumors, heart condition and cancer. Early discovery means early recovery. No news is good news.

Reports will be sent confidentially only to those who show some significant abnormality, in from two to four weeks time.

The co-operation of everyone in the district in attending this free chest x-ray clinic is asked. It is hoped to have a 100 per cent. attendance.

National Retarded Children's Week November 13th to 19th

In an effort to acquaint the general public with the work of Retarded Children's Associations across the nation and the world, "National Retarded Children's Week" is being celebrated Nov. 13th to 19th.

Vermilion is close to this problem, having a school for the retarded with ten pupils attending classes daily. Their motto "They Can Be Helped" is indeed true.

The immensity of the problem is over-powering when it is realized that on this continent alone, there are more persons affected by mental retardation than any other physical handicap — thirty men, women and children in every thousand. This involves more than five million families.

There is hope for retarded children as five out of six can grow into self-supporting adults if they are given the chance to receive proper schooling.

Their appeal is to you. Their hope is you. Your dollars are needed, your active support and pressures on governing bodies to assist the retarded child in obtaining his rights to education, are needed. Your faith in these children is needed.

Their hope is in you. They can be helped.

Hon. Alfred J. Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs, was guest speaker at the rural-urban banquet and meeting held by the Vermilion Rotary at Islay. Accompanying Mr. Hooke from Edmonton was Mr. Rene McMullen, Alberta agent-general from London, England. From the left are Mr. McMullen, who spoke briefly, Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. who introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Hooke; Mr. Elmore Stewart, president of the Rotary Club and chairman of the enjoyable event. —A Standard Staff Photo

Rotary Rural-Urban Meeting At Islay Features Sparkling Address, Banquet

[illegible] the members of the Vermilion Rotary club hold a rural-urban meeting in a neighbouring community, with each Rotarian taking a member of that community as a guest. Friday night the village visited was Islay. Every Rotarian was in attendance with his guest, an excellent meal was served by the ladies of the United Church W.A., the guest speaker Hon. A. J. Hooke [illegible] humor and serious thinking in an interesting address and the event could be described as an overwhelming success.

President of the Rotary club, Elmore Stewart, welcomed the guests, assured them there were no ulterior motives and that it was purely an act of good fellowship. He outlined the origin and history of Rotary clubs in an interesting manner.

The club quartet of Ken Greenwood, Wally Duncan, Ben King and Gus Mireault pleased with songs. Ben King led in community singing, and many and varied were the introductions of the Islay guests.

Gordon Ross thanked the ladies for the delicious meal, so efficiently served while Jim Robson toasted the visitors, provoking a reply by Lloyd Brown.

First speaker of the evening was Mr. Rene McMullen, agent general of Alberta from London, England, where he has represented Alberta for 13 years.

Ashley Cooper introduced Hon. Alfred Hooke, the guest speaker, who delighted the audience with his wit at the commencement of his talk and with the wisdom as it progressed. The talk was entwined with the history and development of Alberta.

Thanks of the club for an entertaining and interesting talk were expressed by George Webb.

Mr. Webb who was convenor of the committee in charge of the very successful rural-urban event was in turn thanked by President Stewart for arranging such an outstandingly happy and successful meeting.

The Eleventh Hour of the 11th Day

The eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month will slide into eternity as usual on Friday.

For the forty-second time it recalls one of mankind's great hours of destiny. On a foggy fall day in 1918, history kept an appointment in a railway car in the little town of Senlis, 45 miles north of Paris, when the generals picked up their pens to halt the big guns that had poured death and destruction over much of the world for more than four years.

And for forty-one years the first two minutes of that historic hour have belonged to the memory of those who gave their lives in the "war to end wars;" in the bigger conflict that followed 21 years later and in all the little wars that have marred the restless peace between world wars.

FORGOTTEN CHAMPION

Included in this mass remembrance, shrouded in the mist of years, is the identity of a quiet, modest man who first claimed the right of his fallen comrades to this national tribute.

Edward George Honey rests under a bare mound of earth in the little cemetery at Northwood, Middlesex, England, where he died in poverty in 1922, after he had safely planted the minutes of remembrance in British tradition.

Mr Honey was an Australian journalist, working for a living in London's Fleet Street under the pen name of Jarren Forrester when he wrote a challenging article in the London Evening News on May 8, 1919.

"Cannot we," he asked, "spare some fragment of these hours of peace and rejoicing for a silent tribute to the mighty dead? Individually, yes, but nationally? I ask five little minutes—five silent minutes of national remembrance—a very sacred concession."

Peace was new and precious in the spring of 1919, the wounds of war still raw and tender. Mr. Honey's appeal met instant response and he was present at the first official rehearsal. But it was found that his "five little minutes" were too much to ask. Great crowds could never hold an immobile, [illegible] attitude for five full minutes. So the silent tribute was [illegible] two minutes instead.

Tuberculosis conquered Mr Honey two years after his appeal for remembrance conquered the public mind.

A friend wrote of the last time he saw him: "Sitting before the fire, he was bent and frail although he was only 36 years of age. Each violent fit of coughing racked his body which consumption had reduced to a mere shell. He sat there with his overcoat buttoned up to the chin."

Such was the destiny of a champion who asked only to be an unknown soldier in the legions that are honored on Remembrance Day. The friend said he never wanted to be officially connected with the Silent Tribute. It was enough to see his idea adopted — the sacrifices of the men who fought beside him remembered in a ritual sacred to their people.

Young Canada's Book Week

(GUEST EDITORIAL)

Young Canada Book Week . . . what does it mean to you? Just another "week"? — or do you share the belief that the virgin [illegible] of our children's minds can best freshen and grow [illegible] the influence of that magical tool of learning, the good book? Even an ordinary book contains within its covers a store of energy waiting to vitalize the reader — and the great books have have enclosed within them energy which has sparked and transformed men and nations through countless ages.

If you do believe in the power of the book, then Young Canada's Book Week has a special place in your life. It is a community effort to bring better books to more children. You will make certain that your homes, schools, community [illegible] those paths of living frequented by our children are lined with books. Children's minds are curious and seeking. They want to know the how, the what, the why, the where of all that surrounds them . . . they have the need to wonder. That wonder and that curiosity can be fed by the written word — or can be starved by the lack of it. Each life is a seeking and yearning, its colours as myriad as the rainbow shades — and each life is a reflection of external forces on the individual spirit. If we are to survive as individuals, as a nation, as a world, the spirit must be strengthened by the great truths discovered through the ages.

Learning and skill and excellence of minds are as never before needed to support and develop our society which is complicated, interwoven and world-wide. Ignorance is neither a protection nor a justification. We must understand, and even more important, our children must understand what is happening in Africa, what is coming to pass in China, the effects of atomic radiation, how the food resources of the world are being used. We are in peril if we do not know, and moreover the time is short.

In their struggle for domination, the Iron Curtain countries, Russia, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia do not underrate books. They are more plentiful and cheap than any other source of pleasure and mental stimulation. We must offer our children the same or better opportunity for knowledge understanding and pleasure.

Young Canada's Book Week, under the patronage of Her Excellency Mme Vanier, crystallizes the place and importance of books in the lives of children, young people and the adults they will become.

This week is the spur to action by adults to provide the children in their community with worthwhile books, at home, at school, at the library.

M. D. VERMILION RIVER BRUCELLOSIS BLOOD TESTING

Your full co-operation is requested and required to facilitate the smooth and efficient operation and progress of this Brucellosis Eradication programme.

It should be clearly understood that the blood testing of your adult cattle is the natural second phase of the whole plan which began several years ago when you elected to have compulsory calfhood vaccination in your municipality.

Calfhood vaccination plays an important role in reducing Brucellosis infection to a point where a test and slaughter programme can be introduced to eliminate the disease. Cattlemen, however, must recognize that vaccination provides about 65-75 per cent protection in animals that are exposed to infection.

For this reason it is obvious that to completely eliminate the disease a well organized program of testing and removal of infected animals from the herd as well as a rigid checking of all additions before they are allowed contact with your home stock is essential.

When a vaccinated herd with no clinical abortion has positive animals, it has been found that in most cases the infection is in the udder and that the milk contains live Brucella organisms. Milk from such cows can readily spread the disease to other cattle and to humans.

Blood samples will be taken from all cattle except calves under 8 months, steers and vaccinates less than 3 years old providing proof of vaccination (ear tag or certificate) is present.

As the final certification of the area is based on the total cattle population, all animals will be counted and listed.

To collect blood samples, the animals must be well restrained, and equipment should be so modified that the animal's head and neck may be extended through the front of the chute and held firmly to one side.

If all necessary repairs and modification to equipment are made before the testing commences, much inconvenience and unnecessary delay will be avoided and the whole operation will be accomplished in a fraction of the time. If you do not have the necessary facilities on your farm for restricting animals for blood testing you are earnestly requested to prepare same prior to December 1, 1960.

As the work will be performed on a regular systematic basis by townships, you are requested not to postpone the test if at all possible.

CNR PREPARES FOR GREY CUP TRAFFIC

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7. — Grey Cup fever, in epidemic proportions, is breaking out all over the West. According to F. N. McKenzie, passenger traffic manager for Canadian National Railways, it seems to be more widespread than ever this year. He reports that requests for train reservations to Vancouver are pouring in to the CNR's passenger sales offices in all three prairie provinces.

Mr. McKenzie said that over the past few years, the football fan has discovered that half the fun of seeing Canada's greatest sports spectacle is to board a train with several hundred other fans to share their enthusiasm en route.

"The trend is now fully established," he said, "and this year we expect to use more equipment than ever before to handle this traffic." He cautioned that the special low Grey Cup fares coupled with the big demand for space made early reservations imperative to avoid disappointment.

One of the CNR's "football" specials leaving Winnipeg the night of November 23 will have Stu Davis and all the gang from CBC's Red River Jamboree on board. This entertainment group also will appear on the Winnipeg floats in the big Grey Cup parade.

CAKE BAKING:

Many cook books have such a large number of cake recipes that it might seem hard to believe that there are basically only two kinds of cakes . . . butter cakes and sponge cakes.

Butter cakes are so named because they are made with butter or some other shortening. They use leavening like baking powder to make them light. Sponge cakes are usually made without shortening and are often leavened just by beating air into the eggs. These cakes include sponge cakes, angel food and chiffon cakes.

YOUR EQUIPMENT:

Use standard measuring cups. You'll need two standard measuring cups . . . one for dry ingredients, the other for liquids. These cups cost very little and you use them in all baking. A set of graduated measuring cups is convenient for measuring for part-cup amounts. These hold exactly one, one-half, one-third and one-quarter cup. Also include in your equipment standard measuring spoons, a straight edge knife or spatula for levelling and a rubber scraper.

MEASURING DRY INGREDIENTS:

Flour tends to pack on standing so always sift it once just before measuring. Should you omit this step you might easily put an extra quarter cup or more of flour into your cake. Sift the flour into a square of wax paper, a paper plate or into bowl. Then lift the sifted flour with a spoon into a measuring cup until the cup is heaping full. Now level off by drawing the edge of the spatula across the top. Do not tap or shake the cup.

MEASURING EGGS & SHORTENINGS:

Most recipes are developed with medium sized eggs. If you use large eggs, use 2 large eggs in place of 3 medium sized ones. Should you use small eggs, use 3 small eggs in place of 2 medium sized ones.

If shortening is soft and pliable simply scoop it from can or package and press it firmly to proper line of measuring cup or into spoon, then level off. Small amounts such as ¼ cup or less of shortening are more easily measured by tablespoon. If shortening is in pound prints, measure by weight: one pound equals two cups.

MIXING AND BAKING:

Follow the directions for mixing and baking given in the recipe. This is just as important as measuring the ingredients correctly. The cake is done when the top surface of the cake springs back when pressed lightly with the finger. If you prefer, use a toothpick or wire tester. Insert this in the cake. When the cake is baked the toothpick should come out clean and dry. A cake (except sponge cakes) should have shrunk or pulled away slightly from the sides of the pan when baked.

Silver Cross Mother Had Ten In Service — Lost Three Sons

OTTAWA, Ont. — An 80-year old mother who came to Canada from France in 1896 and later married an American immigrant has been chosen to represent Canadian motherhood at the national Remembrance Day ceremony here on November 11. She is Mrs. A. J. Cantin of McCreary, Manitoba, who had nine sons and one daughter in the forces during World War II. Three of her sons were killed.

The Canadian Legion today announced that Mrs. Cantin will place one of the four official wreaths at the National War Memorial. Her wreath on behalf of the 104,000 Canadian mothers who lost sons in war, will be placed following that of the Governor General. Other official wreaths will be placed by the Prime Minister and the Legion's Dominion President, Mervyn Woods of Saskatoon.

Two of Mrs. Cantin's sons were killed while serving in the air force, a third while in the army. Flying Officer Clement F. Cantin went missing at El Alemain in October 1942. Flying Officer Maurice R. Cantin was killed over Germany 13 months later. Both were pilots. A third brother, Sgt. Major Wilfred R. Cantin, was killed in November 1940, while serving with the Fort Gary Horse. Five sons were in the R. C. A. F. and four joined the Fort Gary regiment.

A daughter, Marie, a nursing sister, was with the Army Medical Corps and served from Normandy to Germany in the campaign in Northwest Europe. Today Captain Marie Cantin is stationed at the Fort Osborne Barracks, Winnipeg.

Mrs. Amedee Cantin holds the French Legion of Honour. It was presented to her in 1947 by the then Ambassador of France, Count Jean de Hauteclocque. She was selected by the French government as a symbol of all Canadian mothers for her contribution to the liberation of France.

Born in Brittany, France, in 1880, Mrs. Cantin came to Canada with her parents in 1896. They settled in Somerset, Manitoba. In 1910, she married Amedee Cantin who came to Canada about the same time from Boston. All of their ten children, one of them adopted, served in the forces.

Vancouver's Empire Stadium is Canada's largest; for the 1958 Grey Cup game there were over 41,000 in the Vancouver stadium.

Canada's Twenty-ninth National 4-H Club Week at Ottawa

OTTAWA. — Young farmers from all corners of the North American continent will join in Canada's 29th National 4-H club week being held Nov. 13 to 17.

From Alaska to Florida and from Newfoundland to British Columbia, the boys and girls will leave their farms for an exciting, eventful week at Toronto and Ottawa as guests of the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs.

Each province in Canada will be represented by 14 club members between the ages of 16 and 21. Accompanying them will be about 35 representatives of provincial departments of agriculture. Attending from this area is Miss Linda Mayowsff of Paradise Valley, a 4-H Clothing Club member.

For the [illegible] consecutive year, a delegation from United States will take part. Eight 4-H members and one State 4-H extension leader will represent the States of Connecticut, Maryland, Iowa, Kansas, Florida, Arkansas, Alaska and Colorado.

A ten-member Canadian delegation attended the National 4-H conference in Washington last April as part of an exchange program.

Theme of the week's program is "4-H and Education" and this will be reflected in discussion periods and other events.

Speakers will include Federal Agriculture Minister Hon. A. Hamilton, Clarence Campbell, President of the National Hockey League and Dr. E. J. Tyler, professor in the Psychology department, Brandon College Inc., Brandon, Man.

The group will hold discussion periods under the direction of Dr. Tyler, spend half a day at the Royal Ontario Museum, attend the Royal Winter Fair and spend the concluding day in Ottawa.

In addition, they will attend a professional hockey game in Toronto, tour the city and visit Niagara Falls.

National 4-H Club week, besides offering an award trip to outstanding club members, provides an opportunity for them to gain an insight into industry and government at the national level.

Membership in the Canadian 4-H movement has been climbing steadily and this year it is estimated to be at a record 70,000.

Sector Plan Organized at Paradise Valley at Enthused Fellowship Dinner

The Paradise Valley United Church held their Sector Fellowship dinner in the new banquet room of the church on Friday, November 4th to about 140 or 150 guests. The Committee would like to thank all who came for the fellowship to the Pot Luck supper and for all the help given to make this a wonderful evening of friendship and fellowship. We were happy to welcome Mr Steele and Mr Dan Odegard from the Edgerton Sector and thank Dan for running the projector for the film "On the Platter".

When Sector was first talked about M R Robertson and H Dougan of Lloydminster came out here to a meeting and gave a very fine outline of the Sector plan. It was expected to be connected with the Lloyd congregation but Edgerton Anglican and United congregations decided to join the Sector too so it became more practical for Paradise Valley to link up with Wainwright.

Mr George Venner was elected to general chairman of this congregation with a general committee of five. Mrs. J. Gordon, program chairman; Mrs W Gunn, resources; Mr C Elliott, visitation; Mr George Guy, materials; and Mr Frank Brassington, follow up chairman. Each chairman with the help of the general committee chose each of their committees to help in their particular work. By the Sector, all who have no church home are invited to come and worship in our church. It is a plan by which it is hoped to bring new life to the church both spiritually and financially.

Mr Venner opened the supper program by asking Rev I MacDonald to say Grace. After all had partaken of the food Rev MacDonald led in a short worship service. Mrs Shirley Leighton assisted on the organ for hymns sung during the program.

A dedication service followed. When the Sunday school room was started for school class room it became necessary to provide more Sunday school accommodation for the large enrollment of Sunday school pupils. The basement under the Sunday school room was considered for this. The [illegible] catering by the W A has been heavy this year with moving tables, dishes etc. back and forth it was felt that a banquet room should be built if possible by extending the church basement and putting a temporary roof over this.

A committee of Mrs J Gordon and Mrs F Sirett from the W A and Mrs J Gordon elder and Mrs F Sirett member of committee of Stewards was chosen to get estimates. Mr. W. Sirett was given the contract and plans went ahead and we now have a fine classroom for Sunday school which will later be the kitchen when the regular Sunday school will be available. Also a nice large banquet room. The committee of Stewards was chosen to get estimates. Mr W Sirett and his assistants Mr Les Lever and R Hallett did a good job too. It was not an easy one.

Mrs F Sirett, President of the W A, gave a short speech telling the reasons for the extension work done and since this was entirely a W A project she turned the new building over to the church by presenting it to Mr Frank Brassington, elder. He asked Rev I MacDonald to dedicate the building and Mr Sirett Sr to cut the ribbon. Mr Venner gave a speech on Sector, how it was started and on the work up to date.

The program chairman, Mrs J Gordon gave the proposals outlined by her committee which was later accepted by the congregation present. Mrs Gunn felt that not only money is needed in any church but men and women who are interested in building up the spiritual life of the church.

The visitation chairman, Charlie Elliott, asked that visitors be well received on Visitation Sunday.

After a short recess tables were cleared and the film "Ship [illegible]" [illegible] the latter was enjoyed. Question period followed and a motion on the proposals was passed. Several hymns were sung during the program. Benediction was led by Rev I MacDonald.

Highlights of the evening were a real old timers talk given by the guest speaker Dr R. B Layton, relieving minister at the First United church, who is himself an octogenarian, an upward trend in the [illegible], an excellent banquet served by the ladies' auxiliary to the Canadian Legion and the [illegible] air of sociability, friendliness and fellowship which prevailed at the gathering.

Anyone who was west of the Great Lakes for the past 45 years is eligible for membership in the Vermilion Old Timers or who is a member of a family which qualifies. There are sadly enough a few less of the first generation of old timers and pioneers at each succeeding round-up.

Donald Taylor who was later elected president of the Old Timers [illegible] er for the enjoyable program which followed the banquet.

The first toast proposed was by Miss Sylvia Wilson. On proposing the toast to the old timers, she expressed appreciation and thanks for their part in making this country such a fine place in which to live. Miss Wilson, a high school student is the third generation of a pioneer Vermilion family.

The reply was by Hugh B. Evans one of the earliest living settlers in this district who in company with Lance Playne, who was also present came here in 1903. It was wonderful to view the development since that early year, said Mr Evans, and the stories he [illegible] of the old days were endless.

Mayor C J McCormick, on behalf of the town of Vermilion, extended a welcome to the pioneers who made it possible for us to enjoy the comforts of today.

Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., in bringing greetings on behalf of the Government of Alberta, remarked that this province in providing beautiful senior citizens lodges as a tribute to the pioneer a gesture of appreciation and recognition never equalled anywhere.

Two piano selections were beautifully rendered by Mavis MacCauley, a solo dedicated to old timers was sung by John Webb, and Stanley Clark sang a solo, "Rose of Tralee".

The guest speaker, Dr R. B Layton, who has been a minister since the year 1900 was introduced by Mr. Carl Heckbert.

Mr George Webb, president of the organization for several years also thanked the speaker, his executive and all who helped to make this event so successful with special mention of the efforts of the energetic secretary Mrs Hilda Cross.

Executive: Mrs Ina Webb, Mrs. Helen Bell, Mrs. Mabel Waldenberger, Mrs. Annie Cameron, Mrs. Jim Miller, Mr Orley Omness, Mr. Gordon Larsen, Mr. Gus Throndson.

An hour of chatting and visiting generally, brought the pleasant and successful evening to completion.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Things were really happening at the Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. on Tuesday, Nov. 9. Every pen for cattle was full, and also for hogs. As a matter of fact, we sold 220 hogs off trucks because there were no more pens available.

It was another great sale. The prices were good and there was a good selection for every buyer to choose from. The bulk of the feeder cattle were purchased for near-by and local feed lots. An estimated 700 people were on hand. One viewer counted over 200 vehicles from the roof top of the Auction Mart, while the sale was on. Let's keep the good work up. Remember, every time you buy or sell at the Vermilion Auction Mart it's like a vote for a good home town market. We've got it — let's keep it.

Dan MacCall of Innisfree contributed one of several lots of steers averaging 495 lbs. selling for $20.70 per cwt. to Mr. Clarence Barr. Heifers were comfortably stronger, bulk of stock heifers 50c to $1.00 higher.

Following prices prevailed:

Good to choice Steer Calves	$20.25	to	$20.85
Medium	$18.00	to	$20.00
Good to choice Heifer Calves	$17.50	to	$18.50
Medium	$16.50	to	$17.50
Replacement Steers or Yearlings	$19.00	to	$20.25
Replacement Heifers or Yearlings	$16.00	to	$17.75
Fat Steers, up to			$20.50
Fat Heifers up to			$19.50
Good Calves	$11.50	to	$12.25
Medium Calves	$10.00	to	$11.00
Bred stock cows av.			$132.00

Veal calves, short in supply, selling up to $21.75.

Hogs found a good outlet for all sizes and kinds. Prices were pretty well in keeping with the previous reports.

We would appreciate it if you as contributors can be in with your hogs before 11 a.m.

REMEMBER — We are the only sale ring in Alberta where you are allowed two bids, and no sale, no charge. It's a guarantee of satisfaction. Market your livestock with a firm that is interested in your satisfaction.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Etunda Hill And Allan Krause

The Christian and Missionary Alliance Chapel of Vermilion was the scene of a pretty wedding on the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 15th when Miss Etunda Hill and Mr. Allan Krause were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. M. Schroeder.

The bridal couple exchanged vows at the altar under an archway decorated in autumn colors, over the top of which were the words "United in Him". Guest pews were marked with white chrysanthemums and satin ribbon.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride proceeded up to the altar to the strains of "Praise My Soul, Oh King of Heaven", played by Miss Donna Isley.

For her wedding the radiant bride wore a floor-length gown of white nylon lace over chiffon, with a fitted bodice topped by a lace jacket designed with lily point sleeves and Peter Pan collar. The bouffant skirt, poised over crinoline was accented by lace applique. A tiara of seeded pearls held in place her fingertip veil of illusion net, which was decorated with iridescent sequins.

Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and rose tinted carnations.

Identical gowns of American Beauty rose nylon crystaline styled with fitted bodices and bell skirts were worn by the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Krause, sister of the groom and Miss Alice Skinner. Each wore a matching headpiece and mittens as their dress. They carried bouquets of white baby mums.

Roger Krause, brother of the groom, was best man, and James Zilkie, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. Ushers were Jerry Zilkie, cousin of the groom and George Jensen.

Miss Melrose Krause, sister of the groom, was soloist during the wedding service, singing "The Wedding Prayer" while the bridal couple knelt at the altar and "Oh Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Miss Donna Isley accompanied Miss Krause at the piano.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the United church hall.

Receiving her guests the mother of the bride chose a dress of blue-grey worsted silk, complemented by accessories in blush pink. Her corsage was pink carnations. The mother of the groom wore a gown of black crepe with blue accessories and her corsage was of yellow carnations.

The bridal table was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake nested in a bed of blue net and tulle, flanked by rosebuds.

Before being seated, Rev. Wilfred Dickau asked the blessing following which 127 guests sat down to the wedding supper served by the ladies of the First United church.

Misses Betty and Beverly Krause, sisters of the groom were in charge of the gifts.

Mrs. Mahan Hill, sister-in-law of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

Master of ceremonies was the Rev. Wm. Sibley of Wetaskiwin. During the reception Rev. Schroeder and Mr. Albert Mix sang a duet accompanied by Mrs. J. M. Schroeder at the piano. The guests were then favored with a solo "Others" rendered by Miss Alice Skinner.

Rev. Sibley read telegrams of congratulations and best wishes from the staff of Whitehorse Baptist Mission, Rev. and Mrs. Ellwood Hill and family, Whitehorse, Yukon.

Later on during the reception the guests were again favored with a duet. The singers were Miss Janet Merrit and Miss Shirley Stolee. Rev. Sibley then called on Mr. Roland Pahal to deliver a few words which he did, much to the amusement of the bridal party and guests alike. This highlight of the evening was followed by a solo by Mr. LeRoy Dickau accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dickau.

The master of ceremonies then called on Rev. [illegible] to propose the toast to which the groom suitably responded.

Wildmere Winds

Hello again everyone! Sure nice to be home after a busy two weeks. Thanks to Mrs. Waldon Westman and my sister-in-law Mrs. Eric Madill for keeping everything going so nicely while I was away.

Marlene Smith spent from Thursday to Monday away from her duties at the Ponoka hospital visiting with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Madill have moved into the former John Wilson house for the winter.

Mrs. Waldon Westman accompanied her mother Mrs. Hazel Batke to Lloydminster on Monday staying overnight with Bud Batke and family.

The 4-H Beef club held their annual meeting on Oct. 28th. They aren't sure whether they can continue this year or not owing to a scarcity of boys in the right age group.

The rink has progressed very nicely at the school under the hands of many willing workers. Now for some colder weather to make ice and by the looks of the thermometer this morning it won't be long. No kick on the weather this fall however when the eighth of November has been reached with the lowest reading here 5 above.

Mrs. Wm. Steele has taken a position at the School of Agriculture for the winter.

We are all glad to learn that Darlene Cruthers, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cruthers, is home and coming along nicely.

Marwayne F.W.U.A.

The Marwayne F.W.U.A. met at the home of Anne Nohnychuk on October 24th with 21 members and three visitors in attendance. The meeting opened by the singing of "Hymn of All Nations", after which the president read a poem of autumn. Margaret Miller volunteered to act as secretary in the absence of Betty Hale who is attending a two-week course in leadership at Banff. The roll call was answered by items donated to the Oliver Mental Hospital bazaar. The members also brought a good supply of vegetables to be delivered to the Jubilee Home.

The club books are to be audited by Mr. Smith before the annual meeting in November. A donation of $10.00 was made to the C.N.I.B. drive for funds.

Twelve quilt blocks were distributed among members to be embroidered and turned in at the next meeting.

A Poppy Wreath is to be laid on the Cenotaph by the president Mildred Sinclair at the Remembrance Day service.

Lil Quist gave an inspiring talk on You and the Community.

Methods for replenishing the club funds were discussed and it was finally decided to hold a smorgasbord sometime in January. Two delegates are required for the F.W.U.A. convention in Edmonton in December.

An alphabet game was played by everyone with Alice Milne and Anne Nohnychuk holding the lucky letters. An enjoyable lunch served by Anne Nohnychuck, Gladys Hutchinson and Dorothy Milne brought the evening to a close.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ella Quist on November 28th with Mildred Sinclair and Lil Quist helping.

29 Whoopers Make It Back To Refuge

Twenty-nine whooping cranes have made it safely to the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas, according to word received in Edmonton Friday of last week by the Canadian Wildlife Service.

Wildlife authorities are hopeful another eight will show up — if they have survived the rigors of the long migration flight from the wilderness of northern Alberta.

Whooping cranes are faced with extinction. There are possibly only 43 of the big white birds left in the world. Five are in captivity in a zoo in New Orleans, another in a zoo at San Antonio, Texas.

Of the 29 which have returned to Aransas this fall, six are young birds. This leaves eight adults unaccounted for. If they haven't died of old age or fallen prey to some [illegible] and hunters, they should be arriving in the wildlife refuge soon.

About three weeks ago five of the big cranes were spotted in flight near Thorsby west of Leduc, and the wildlife service issued its usual warning to all hunters to avoid firing at the whoopers by mistake.

The big birds are protected by law all over North America, but every fall when the waterfowl migration starts wildlife authorities and conservationists keep their fingers crossed until all the cranes are accounted for at Aransas Refuge.

Local Rotarians To Observe "The Rotary Foundation Week"

Vermilion Rotarians will join with nearly half a million Rotarians in 11[illegible] countries next week for a special observance of "The Rotary Foundation Week", it was announced by Elmore Stewart, president of the Rotary [illegible] of Vermilion.

The Rotary Foundation seeks friendly relations between the peoples of different nations. Its major activity is granting Rotary Foundation Fellowships to outstanding graduate students for one year of study abroad as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since this program was established in 1947 as a memorial to Paul P. Harris, the founder of Rotary, [illegible] young men and women from 6[illegible] countries have received Rotary Foundation Fellowships for study in 4[illegible] countries with grants averaging over $2,500. Total grants by the Rotary Foundation for this activity now exceed $[illegible].

Rotary Fellowships are unique in that with more than 10,600 Rotary clubs throughout the world, the student is in direct contact with Rotarians and their families wherever he is studying. He attends their Rotary club meetings, visits in their homes and places of business and also travels as much as possible during his school holidays. In this way he sees at first hand how the people in his host country live [illegible] the foundation for increased international understanding which is one of Rotary's principal objectives.

Local Rotarians will [illegible] their observance of "The Rotary Foundation Week" at their meeting on Nov. 18th in the Hub Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer [illegible] have returned home to Cochrane after being in the district for a long stay.

The ladies' meeting was held at the home of Mrs. [illegible] Dura[illegible], with sixteen members present and one visitor. A [illegible] was held after the meeting which was very successful. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

MANNVILLE. — The weather around Mannville was so much [illegible] spring [illegible] that even the geese think it "might as well be spring". Anyway a goose at [illegible] proudly appeared after an absence of about three weeks or more with seven newly-hatched goslings in tow.

The family had previously thought that the goose had fallen prey to coyotes and were truly amazed at seeing her and the new family.

Town Council Set for Year's Work with New Mayor

Shortly after being sworn into office last week, Vermilion's new mayor, Clifford J. McCormick, was hard at work in session with council, secretary-treasurer and town foreman. In his opening address to council, Mayor McCormick gave promise that no rash spending would take place but that the policy of the town would be progressive. He urged the councillors to speak their own thoughts and vote on issues as they saw them.

Vandalism Reported On Hallowe'en At Mannville School

MANNVILLE. — Reported to have come from neighboring towns as well as our own, miscreants who were old enough to know better, caused much clean-up work to be done by the school janitor as goats and chickens were turned loose in the halls of learning and eggs smashed all over the rooms.

Other mischief done was a truck, which was needed early the next morning, greased over the entire surface with dirty grease, necessitating a complete cleansing by the owner before it could be used. A place of business was found to have a goat inside, power poles were removed from the ground near construction work which could easily have caused a fire.

Minor Hallowe'en tricks are amusing and citizens often stand for more than they should, but when wilful damage is done the sense of humor suffers a severe set-back and brings the day closer when a real crack-down will be made.

Legion Auxiliary At Mannville Active Group

MANNVILLE. — The regular monthly meeting of the Mannville Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion BESL met in the Legion hall on Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. After the usual opening ceremonies the meeting was declared open for business with fourteen members present.

Plans were completed for the Poppy Day tea which was held on Nov. 5th. This is the ladies only money-making function during the year. Poppies were distributed among the members to be sold during a house-to-house canvass of the town. Appointment cards were filled out for the forthcoming TB chest X-ray clinic.

The hospital visitor reported that regular calls had been made at the hospital and the usual treats passed around.

Each member was asked to bring a loaf of sandwiches to the Legion hall on Nov. 11 to be served after the church parade and service. All visiting veterans and auxiliary members welcome.

Gladioli and Fern Deck Church For Paradise Valley Autumn Wedding

Waterfield—Brassington

Bouquets of gladioli and fern formed the background in the Paradise Valley United church on August 23rd when Eva Millicent only daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Brassington of Paradise Valley became the bride of Ar[illegible] John eldest son of Mr and Mrs Harry Waterfield of Islay. [illegible] C. MacKay of Vermilion officiated at the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father while the wedding music was played by Mrs Lila Waterfield.

The bride was beautiful in a full-length gown of white delustered satin appliqued with butterflies of lace trimmed with simulated pearl sequins. The fitted bodice featured lily point sleeves. Her ensemble was completed with pearl earrings and matching pearl droplet gift of the groom. Her chapel-length veil was held in place by a bandeau also trimmed with pearl sequins and a spray of orange blossoms worn by her Grandmother Brassington forty one years ago on her wedding day. She carried a cascade of deep red roses.

Attending the bride were three [illegible] friends, Sharon Walter, [illegible] Howe and Marion Holgate. They were dressed in identical street-length gowns of apple green, eyelet nylon over taffeta with matching sweetheart headdresses. Their ensembles were complete with pink bouquets and crystal pendants which were a gift from the bride.

The best man was Joe Waterfield, brother of the groom and the groomsmen were Ed Waterfield and Keith Shirreff, brother and friend of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Brassington wore a copen blue organza-over lace sheath. The mother of the groom chose a blue print terylene jersey. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

A reception, catered to by the United Church W.A., followed in the Paradise Valley hall where Miss Lynne Davidson was in charge of the guest book.

Mr Frank Flint asked the blessing. Mr E. Walter was a very capable master of ceremonies. Mr Harold Fair proposed the toast to the bride, replied to by the groom. Mr Joe Waterfield spoke on behalf of the groom's attendants, of the pleasures they had in accompanying the bridesmaids. Mr. Walter also called on the bride's father, her grandfathers, Hugh Redmond and Fred Brassington, the uncle of the groom, Bill Waterfield and Mr Shirreff, a friend of the Waterfield family. Mr Fred Weeks, a member of the bride's class in high school, also spoke.

During the reception, Mrs Janet McLennan beautifully rendered "Through the Years". She was accompanied by Mrs. Lila Waterfield.

A three tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table which was decorated with vases of sweet peas. After the cake was cut by the bride and groom, David and Gordon, brothers of the bride served it to the guests.

Open house was held at the farm home of the bride's parents during the afternoon and evening.

Later in the evening a dance was held in the Paradise Valley hall with the Western Aces supplying the music.

The bride's going away outfit was a copper-colored dressmaker suit. They left on a honeymoon to Banff and Jasper and are now at home at Islay.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. Joe Waterfield, Ottawa; Mr and Mrs. Bill Waterfield, Mr and Mrs. Lyle Anson and Iris, Mr and Mrs. Ulva MacFadyen, Mr and Mrs. Don MacFadyen, Mr and Mrs. E. [illegible] and Mr and Mrs. Harold Roebuck, all from Islay. Mr and Mrs. Jim Beggs, Mr and Mrs. John Kelly, Mr and Mrs. Fred Glover of Lloydminster. Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKerihan, Robert and Philip, Mr and Mrs. Merrill McKerihan, Helen and Dorothy, all of Kitscoty. Betty and Barbara Paulsen, Red Deer; Fred and Carol Weeks and Joe Eddleston. Mc Laughlin. Mr and Mrs Ken McLennan. Mr and Mrs. D. Shirreff and Elaine. Mr and Mrs. Stan Davidson and Lynne, Carol Armstrong, from Vermilion, Mr and Mrs. Lloyd Chambers, Deadwood. Clifford and Ivan Brassington, Vancouver, B.C.; Mrs. Elma Redmond, Edgerton.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

$16 Million Program To Provide Hospital Beds For Chronic Patients

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Details of Alberta's chronic hospital program were announced last week by Health Minister Dr. J (for Joseph) Donovan Ross.

He took the wraps off a $16,000,000.00 program to provide 2,000 hospital beds at 25 locations throughout the province. What it amounts to is a crash program to provide, within four years, all the chronic hospital facilities the province requires.

The plan calls for the building of 100-bed units in urban areas and 30-bed units to serve the needs of rural communities.

Dr. Ross said the plan will result in Albertans having the best hospital services in North America, and he has some justification for making the statement because Alberta's program certainly is unique on the continent.

Fifty-bed hospitals will be built at Lacombe, Wetaskiwin, Wainwright, Vegreville, Edson, Lamont, Westlock, Athabasca, McLennan, Peace River, Spirit River, Vulcan, Hanna, Brooks and Didsbury. A 35-bed hospital will be built at Coronation. Hundred-bed units are slated for Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat.

Financing of the hospitals will be similar to that for active treatment hospitals, with the provincial government bearing the full capital cost.

Here's how the program will work. Municipalities in an area to be served by a chronic unit will name representatives to an auxiliary hospital board. The board will have to obtain a site and arrange to borrow money to finance the construction. In all likelihood it will borrow from the government-sponsored Municipal Financing Corporation. When plans are approved and construction under way, the government will take over the repayment of principal and interest.

CONSTRUCTION TO START IN SPRING

Officials of the health department now are outlining details of the plan to municipal officers, and it is expected councils will soon start naming representatives to auxiliary boards. If everything goes on schedule construction of the first hospitals will start in the spring.

Dr. Ross said the decision to hold the hospitals to a maximum size of 100 beds is aimed at maintaining a personal approach to the care of chronic patients which is impossible in larger institutions.

He said the auxiliary hospitals will be located adjacent to active treatment centres in an effort to avoid duplication of X-ray and laboratory facilities and other medical services.

TWO-FOLD BENEFIT

Building of the new chronic hospitals will bring a two-fold benefit to Albertans. Besides providing care for thousands of chronically-ill patients, it will release a large number of active treatment hospital beds which now are occupied by chronic patients.

Alberta's hospital program is unlike anything else in North America.

Last year the government announced it would take over the full capital cost of all hospitals regardless of who operated them. This [illegible] picking up debenture repayments on new hospitals as well as existing ones.

Understandably, the government reserved the right to decide where and when new hospitals shall be built. Thus, if a municipality, religious order or charitable group wants to build a new hospital it must get the government's O.K.

The only thing that suffers is local autonomy in hospital administration and this doesn't seem to have resulted in many complaints. The government has tried to maintain some semblance of autonomy by having local authorities go through the motions of borrowing money to finance new construction, but there are some people who regard this as unnecessary red tape.

What is important is that Albertans are getting the hospital facilities they require.

Tuberculosis . . . The Disease

Health Unit Notes

The tubercle bacillus, the germ which causes tuberculosis, was discovered by Robert Koch, a German doctor, in 1882. Up to that time most people considered "consumption", as it was then called, a hereditary disease although there were prominent physicians who had maintained that it was an infectious disease and should be considered in the same category as typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases. When Koch isolated the germ he proved conclusively that there was no tuberculosis without it.

Tuberculosis is an infectious disease and is spread when persons with active, open tuberculosis cough germs into the air where they are breathed in by others, or get germs on eating utensils or other articles used by people with tuberculosis. Although tuberculosis is an infectious disease it is rarely contracted from very brief exposure. In the vast majority of cases the disease is contracted by continuous exposure, such as living, rooming or working with a person who has TB without taking the careful precautions which are used in hospitals to avoid infection. Those who live in the same household or work close to a person with active tuberculosis are in grave danger of getting the disease.

Some people have more resistance to tuberculosis than others and the resistance of any one person may differ from time to time. A rested, well-nourished body is much more resistant than one which is undernourished, or tired out by lack of sleep or illness. Tuberculosis can attack almost any part of the body, but its most frequent attack is on the lungs. This is called pulmonary tuberculosis and it is responsible for about 85% of all tuberculosis in Canada.

Tuberculosis is not inherited. It is true that several members of a family often get it, but that is because of the way the disease is contracted. Our bodies are generally able to cope with a few germs encountered here and there, but when one member of a family has active TB other members get germs week after week, month after month, with the result that by the time the most serious case is discovered one or more other members of the family may also have it.

Tuberculosis does not announce itself quickly or obviously as do mumps, measles, whooping cough or smallpox. Nor does the patient become ill so quickly that there is alarm as in the case of typhoid. In the huge majority of cases the patient does not suspect tuberculosis until the disease has a rather firm foothold. In the early stages there are seldom any symptoms to alarm the victim.

Diagnosing Tuberculosis

Even though there are no symptoms when TB first strikes, pulmonary tuberculosis can be detected even in the early stages by a chest X-ray. The chest X-ray is the most efficient tool yet discovered for finding tuberculosis of the lungs. By chest X-ray examination TB can be detected before symptoms warn that something is wrong. Although X-ray films are indispensable to a doctor diagnosing tuberculosis, he does not depend on them alone. Other tests are made, such as those which determine whether or not there are tuberculosis germs in the sputum.

Treating Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis can be cured. Thousands of persons are cured of it every year. Rest is fundamental to the treatment of tuberculosis. Complete rest under medical supervision at a sanatorium is best. Bed rest is sometimes supplemented by other treatment. Sometimes it is helped by surgical procedures which collapse the lung either temporarily or permanently.

The most common of these procedures is pneumothorax, a simple method of temporary collapse brought about by injecting air into the space between the chest wall and the lung. Thoracoplasty is an operation to collapse the diseased portion of the lung permanently. It is done by removing a section of the ribs which permits the lung to relax. Two other ways sometimes employed to put the lung at rest are lobectomy, which is the removal of a lobe of the lung, and pneumonectomy, removal of the entire lung, a step taken when it seems the only course to arrest the disease.

Hundreds of drugs have been tried through the centuries in an effort to find one which would cure tuberculosis. Streptomycin, an antibiotic discovered 12 years ago by Selman A. Waksman has proved the most effective so far. It is not a perfect drug for treatment of TB because some forms of the disease do not respond to it and tubercle bacilli have a tendency to develop resistance to it. Notwithstanding these shortcomings it has helped in thousands of cases.

Because of the limitations in the success of streptomycin, scientists are trying to find other drugs which either alone or in combination with streptomycin will help a greater number of patients. So far best results have been obtained from one called PAS, which is short for para-amino-salicylic acid. No drug or surgical procedure takes the place of rest in the treatment of tuberculosis. They are adjuncts, not substitutes, for rest. The climate is not important in the treatment of tuberculosis. People are cured of it in every climate.

If a patient has been told by the medical staff that he may safely leave the sanatorium because his disease is arrested, that person is not a danger to others. He would not have the permission of the medical staff to leave if he were spreading infection.

As soon as the effectiveness of vaccination in preventing smallpox was fully realized, scientists began trying to find a vaccine which would be equally powerful in prevention of tuberculosis. Two French scientists, Calmette and Geurin, developed BCG — Bacillus Calmette Geurin — which seems to provide a measure of protection against infection though it does not give the immunity which so fortunately can be obtained against smallpox. It is considered helpful, however, in the case of those who have never previously been exposed to infection but who live and work in situations where they may have to meet considerable infection.

Tuberculosis — Community Health Problem

Although tuberculosis is a preventable disease it kills nearly twenty Canadians a week, which is about three every day. It is the peculiar feature of tuberculosis that the brunt of the attack is borne by the working force of the community. The bulk of the victims are between 20 and [illegible] young men and women starting on their careers, the mothers of young children, and fathers with families to support.

Tuberculosis is a leading cause of death in the 20 to 60 age group, a group which can normally expect good health. It is, however, far from being confined to this group. More than three-quarters of the deaths from this disease in Canada are of people over 30. Tuberculosis causes more than one in nine of the deaths in the 20-29 age group. It causes more than one in 7 of the deaths among women in this age group.

No group is immune to tuberculosis but deaths from the disease occur seven times as frequently among skilled workers as among professional people.

Though more than 1,[illegible] Canadians die yearly of tuberculosis this by no means tells the whole story of disaster. It does not take into account the fact that many of the victims of tuberculosis were young, that they could have expected 35 or 40 more years of active life and that the majority of them could have expected at least twenty more working years. The loss of years of life from tuberculosis is much greater than the bare total of deaths indicates. Tuberculosis economically is a serious drain on the community not only because of the length of treatment required but because it takes thousands of working men and women from their jobs for [illegible].

The Role of the TB Association

It is now sixty years since the founding of the Canadian [illegible] Association. It was founded [illegible] interested public spirited men and women [illegible] though they were neither doctors nor nurses, could and would help in the fight against tuberculosis. This has proved to be the case to a far greater degree than even the greatest expectations of the founders. There are now associations in all ten provinces and over [illegible] local associations. Since the Canadian Tuberculosis Association was formed in 1900 the death rate has been pushed down from [illegible] per 100,000 to 6.0 per 100,000 in 1958.

Tuberculosis, first cause of death in 1900, has now been pushed down into [illegible] place. However, despite the miraculous decline in the death rate as a result of new drugs and improved treatment methods the number of new active cases being discovered has not kept pace as there were over [illegible] new cases reported in 1959 placing TB in fourth place with respect to ALL infectious disease.

The campaign carried on jointly by the Canadian Tuberculosis Association and the provincial and local associations has been based on education, case finding, rehabilitation and medical research.

Canada's tuberculosis associations began their campaign by building sanatoria. When official bodies took over this part of the program to control tuberculosis the voluntary associations began to improve diagnostic services. When the development of the miniature X-ray made mass chest X-ray examination possible the voluntary associations undertook the task of making this service available to their communities. Even when this service has been fully installed all over Canada they will still have the task of rehabilitation.

It is estimated that only slightly more than two-thirds of the cases of TB in this country are known to health authorities. The others are unknown cases and there is every likelihood that they will spread their disease to others.

The mobile mass X-ray unit will be at the following centres at the specified dates:

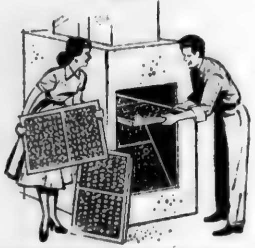
IT'S FURNACE CHECK-UP TIME



Before winter sets in, we suggest you make sure your home and your heating system are ready to provide complete warmth and comfort during the cold weather.

DO-IT-YOURSELF HOME HEATING CHECK:

1. Forced-air filters should be checked and cleaned regularly. Cleaning your filters is a simple operation. Choked filters will restrict the output of hot air from your furnace.
2. Furnace motor and fan bearings should be lubricated according to manufacturer's directions.
3. Every gas appliance with the exception of late-model gas ranges and dryers must be properly vented. Chimneys and vents should be checked for blockage and state of repair.
4. If doors and windows are loose fitting and drafty, weather stripping will help to eliminate this condition and prevent heat loss.
5. Furniture should be placed so that the registers are not obstructed.
6. Registers should be free of dust and foreign objects.

A do-it-yourself home heating check-up NOW will pay off in comfort and lower heating bills THROUGHOUT THE SEASON.

The gas company service department is ready at all times to assist you and adjust your heating equipment. If alterations are required, call your local plumber or heating contractor.

Province-Wide Ceremonies Held Amidst Atmosphere of Happiness

Amid an atmosphere of luxury and sociability, the Vermilion Valley Senior Citizens Lodge was officially opened last Wednesday afternoon when the member for Vermilion constituency completed the short program of speeches with the words "I dedicate this lodge to the security, happiness and contentment of our beloved senior citizens."

The interesting program was tied in with the provincial broadcast. Immediately after the Hon. Alfred Hooke, acting premier, announced that the scrolls would be presented to the chairman of the foundation, Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. with appropriate remarks presented Mr. Melvin Hill, chairman of the Vermilion Valley foundation, with the beautiful, framed lithographed scroll.

Mr. Melvin Hill who acted as chairman for the afternoon, and to whom great credit is due for organizing all the details of the event spoke briefly and called on the following representatives of various organizations: Rev. W. A. Champness, Rev. Dr. Layton, Lieut. D. Reynolds and James Champion, representing churches and all of whom spoke briefly paying tribute to a government whose great interest was in the welfare of its citizens. Mr. Hill also called on Mayor-elect C. J. McCormick of Vermilion and two members of the local management committee of the lodge, E. A. Locke and E. H. Buckingham. Rev. W. A. Champness gave the dedication prayer and M.L.A. Cooper then cut the ribbon, signifying the official opening of the new and luxurious home.

Greeting the guests on their arrival was the hostess, the matron Mrs. Winnifred Torrence.

Following the program women of numerous groups of the town served coffee and refreshments in a social atmosphere which was greatly enjoyed by the estimated 200 present. The main sitting room was opened up into the large dining room to accommodate the crowd, while many also sat in the games room and the library. The committee had radios in each room so that the program was followed throughout.

The Vermilion Valley Lodge has now twelve old time citizens as permanent residents. They are Mrs. Ada Fraser, Mrs. Maude Calvert, Mrs. Pinder, Miss Gertrude Craig, Mrs. C. Wilson, Mrs. Patterson, Mr. Moise Maire, A. W. Elliott, George Hill, Alf Nichols, Mike Pigeila, Dr. Carmichael.

The new home attracted people from widespread points to the opening program but it has also attracted from outside points, several of the residents in the home. Mrs. Calvert comes from Edmonton, Mrs. Pinder from Elk Point, Mrs. Patterson from Lloydminster, Wib Elliott, Fort Saskatchewan, Mike Pigeila of Andrew and Dr. Carmichael from Onion Lake.

The matron reports that the present residents are just one big happy family with the most congenial and happy conditions prevailing.

FOUNDATION DIRECTORS

Ownership of the completed home is now vested in the Vermilion River Foundation of which the following are members:

Melvin Hill of Vermilion is chairman of the directors of the Foundation with other members being F. Meiklejohn, Marwayne, Reeve Jack Kelly of Vermilion River, M. D. Nickolas Evanovich of Lloydminster and Allan Batty of Kitscoty. As he has retired from the Town of Vermilion council Mr. Hill will shortly be replaced by Mayor-elect Cliff McCormack. The senior citizens home at Lloydminster when completed will also be under the jurisdiction of this board of directors.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

The Vermilion Valley Lodge also has a local management committee with Melvin Hill as chairman, Tom Wilson secretary and members E. H. Buckingham, E. A. Locke, Chas. E. Thompson, Allan Batty.

STAFF

The staff at the home now numbers four full time ladies, Mrs. Torrance the matron, Miss Ellen McDonough, Mrs. Doris Wilson and Miss Emma Howgate. John Maxwell is engaged as caretaker on a part time basis.

PROVINCE-WIDE OPENING

All 31 of the Alberta Homes for the Aged were opened simultaneously with the program broadcast and televised all over the province emanating from Westlock, home town of the Minister of Welfare, the Hon. R. D. Jorgenson, under whose department the plan was launched. Speaking honors were by the Hon. A. J. Hooke, Acting Premier, Mr. Jorgenson, His Worship Lt. Elmer Roper, Mayor of Edmonton, The Very Reverend Gerald Burch, Bishop of Edmonton, His Excellency J. H. McDonald, Roman Catholic Bishop, Rev. Gerald Hutchinson, President Alberta Council United Church.

This part of the program was broadcast over a network of eight Alberta stations.

INTERESTING DATA

The Vermilion home was located here following the representations of the present member of the Legislature, Ashley Cooper, to the Minister of Welfare.

Cost of the building and furnishings was approximately $200,000. The government pays all cost of construction and furnishings. Ownership of the homes is now vested in the Foundation organized and incorporated to administer each home.

Each home is located in one of [illegible] administrative areas based on population, the areas having approximately 300 persons 70 years of age or over.

The home has accommodation for 30 residents. There are 12 double bedrooms and 14 single bedrooms. All are equipped with toilet and water facilities.

Other features of the Vermilion home are five lounges, a large and well appointed dining room, a recreation room and a small laundry.

NO AGE RESTRICTIONS

There are no age or residence restrictions. Each application is reviewed on the basis of the need of the applicant for the type of accommodation available. There is no means test. The maintenance rates are $65.00 per month if a single bedroom is occupied; sharing a bedroom with double occupancy $60.00 per month.

The homes are equipped and furnished with all the amenities to provide pleasant living.

Older folk through their efforts and sacrifices have contributed in a very substantial way to the good life which we, in this province now enjoy and of which we are so proud. These homes are a gesture of appreciation for the contribution which the old timers have made to this fair province Alberta. These pioneers have earned and rightfully deserve the comfort, tranquility and peace which these homes provide for them.

Business Men Donate $8,000

A canvass of the business men of Vermilion for additional funds for the completion of the agricultural and recreation centre now so evident on the fair grounds has resulted in another $8000.00 being contributed in donations of $100.00 each. The canvass has not yet been completed of the business section. This has been a marvellous response.

Private citizens have also asked that a canvass be made of the residents apart from the business section and this will be done commencing on Dec. 1st and will be completed by Dec. 10th. One retired citizen has already donated $100.00. This is a big undertaking and requires thinking in big terms. When a fellow citizen calls on you for a donation, treat him kindly and generously, he is doing a job for the community.

Master Farmer To Be Banquet Guest

The annual Town and Country banquet sponsored by the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Elks' Hall this coming Monday, Nov. 21st at 6:30 p.m.

This event is held annually and invited guests are the officials of farm groups throughout the district.

This year the gathering is to be honored by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Oester, who have been named the Master Farm Family for this section of Alberta. They farm in the Paradise Valley district.

The Vermilion Chamber of Commerce is fortunate in having secured Mr. Sydney Wood, Q.C. of Edmonton as the guest speaker for the Town and Country banquet. Mr. Wood is the head of one of the largest law firms in the city of Edmonton and a specialist in insurance law.

He is a veteran of the first world war from which he emerged minus one leg. During the last war he was Assistant Judge Advocate General of Military District No. 13 at Edmonton.

Mr. Wood is keenly interested in public affairs and will speak on the Position of Canada today in World Affairs.

Everyone is invited to attend this enjoyable event and tickets at $1.50 are available from any business place in town.

Craigs' Complete 55 Years in Business

Craig Bros. Ltd. are now celebrating the completion of 55 years of business in Vermilion and are celebrating the event with a mammoth anniversary sale. Fifty-five years is a long time especially in a new country, and means that this pioneer firm has played a yeoman part in the history of the town of Vermilion and district since the very beginning. See page 8, section 1 for the anniversary announcement.

Grand Auction Sale Nov. 19 To Aid New Centre

Clarence Lovig and his crew will be right on the job on Saturday, Nov. 19th at 1:00 o'clock at the Vermilion Auction Mart to wield the hammer on a choice selection of calves and hogs, along with some used but first class furniture, and the entire district is cordially invited to mount the bleachers for a real hoe-down sale.

The entire crew at the auction market are donating their time and energies with this sale, all proceeds of which will go towards the new agricultural recreation centre which is fast taking shape in the exhibition grounds in Vermilion.

Designed to be the finest building of its kind in Northeastern Alberta, the structure is designed to serve the agricultural and recreational needs of the broad area for generations to come. In addition to the huge central part designed for the exhibition for livestock sales, etc. there will be two huge rooms suitable for district gatherings of all kinds, as well as a dozen rooms, suitable for smaller groups such as Women's Institutes, F. U. A. groups, community clubs and so on, and the official opening will not be too far in the future as excellent progress is being made.

The canvass of the town is under way and folks are responding wonderfully. In addition to the town canvass the district is scoured for calves, hogs, etc. in addition to cash donations and it is hoped that the response will enable the entire building cost to be met as required.

All who are not directly canvassed are invited herewith to make their donations to any member of the Chamber of Commerce or the Agricultural Society.

Town as well as district people are urged to ATTEND THE GIANT SALE ON SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 19 at 1 o'clock.

Lady Curlers Seek Ways To Increase Members, Rejuvenate Club

The ladies' curling club members are very anxious to increase the membership and to generally rejuvenate the club. Therefore they would like suggestions from anyone who wishes to curl. Under consideration, for instance, is afternoon curling; would an afternoon league be acceptable, possibly hiring a baby sitter for those with children. This and any other ideas which would increase the number of ladies curling would be welcomed by the executive.

There is no other sport at which you can get exercise and fresh air in comfort. Temperature in the Vermilion rink is unique in that it is usually 30 above, except in extremely cold weather when it drops to a mere 20 degrees above zero. Dressing is therefore no problem, as all that is required is a warm sweater, slacks and rubber-soled shoes.

Curling appears to be the answer for women seeking a sport they can enjoy with their husbands (or that husbands can enjoy with their wives). There is little doubt that now any lady can curl.

FREE CURLING WEDNESDAY, NOV. 23rd

There will be free curling on Wednesday, Nov. 23rd at 2 p.m. for everyone, with a short meeting to follow at 3:30 p.m. This is a chance for beginners to try the roaring game. A large turnout is requested and all suggestions leading to a good season will be [illegible].

Tenders are still open for anyone interested in the concession at the curling rink. See the advertisement elsewhere in this Standard.

Shoprite Changes Ownership

Shoprite Foods formerly owned and operated by Mr. Lee Hathaway changed ownership this week, the new proprietors being Mr. and Mrs. Russell [illegible] of Edmonton. The change was effective on Monday, Nov. 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and their two children have already taken up permanent residence [illegible]. Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway have no definite plans as yet except a good rest, as Lee has been bothered by quite severe arthritis in his back for some time.

Carol Concert Is Being Planned

Anyone wishing to participate in the annual carol concert is invited to the practice in the old high school on Monday, Nov. 21 at 8:30 p.m.

The mixed chorus is a non-profit, non-denominational organization and presents a carol concert yearly, giving all the proceeds to charity. If you like singing be at the old high school next Monday evening.

Honor War Dead on November 11

On November 11th, the traditional Remembrance Day, war veterans in this town and district marched to the cenotaph as they have done for many years past. There were more than one hundred returned men in the parade this year. Sgt. Bob Allan was parade marshall.

The ex-servicemen were accompanied by "A" Coy. L.E.R. under the command of Captain Jim Kaiser, and the Army Cadets under Sgt. Good. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion paraded, as well as the local detachment of the R.C.M.P.

In the parade also were the Vermilion Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, Girl Guides, C.G.I.T. and students from V.S.A. The pipe band of "A" Coy. L.E.R. played military marches during the parade.

For the first time the Army Cadets took up positions as sentries at the four corners of the [illegible] was in charge of the party. [illegible] Cadet Corporal [illegible] and [illegible] Porter [illegible].

After the [illegible] depositing [illegible] Rev. W. A. Champness [illegible] the Vermilion Legion [illegible] prayer [illegible] wreaths were placed by [illegible] organizations and individuals.

Major Fane Speaks At Remembrance Service

Major Frank Fane, M.P. for the Vegreville constituency, and a member of the Vegreville Legion, a man who saw active service in the first world war as well as serving during the second combat, was the speaker on this solemn occasion. In his opening remarks he paid a tribute to Vermilion as a community [illegible] in both world wars as more men enlisted from Vermilion than in any other similar community. He was impressed too by the attendance at the services and complimented the many organizations which participated. Remembrance Day said Major Fane is the day we make outward and visible signs of the inward feeling we have at all times.

The speaker warned that we [illegible] are menaced by an ideology foreign to us and we must do all we can to maintain the freedom we fought for. [illegible] Russia. Russia [illegible] true communist [illegible] example of state [illegible] and the greatest danger comes from this type of [illegible]. The greatest deterrent against world war is preparedness maintained Major Fane. He ended his talk by quoting the [illegible] poem "We shall Remember them."

The regular Remembrance Day order of service was followed with Rev. J. Schroeder, Rev. Dr. R. B. Layton, Lieut. Reynolds and Alex Callas, president of the Legion assisting Rev. Champness. Dr. C. W. Stephens was the accompanist.

ROLL OF HONOR

To complete the service the Roll of Honor listing the names of service men from the area who died in the service or since returning home was shown on the screen with appropriate sound effects.

APPRECIATION

President Alex Callas of Canadian Legion Post 11 wishes to thank the following for their help in making the Remembrance Day services so successful and memorable: The Columbia Theatre management for use of the theatre, Tom Conboy for showing the film, Ernie Schurman for supplying the public address system, Vermilion Standard for publicity, all those organizations who laid wreaths, and the general public for joining in at the cenotaph and the service.

An Opportunity For Service Club And Community Organizations

The opening of the Vermilion Valley Senior Citizens Lodge presents an admirable opportunity for projects by service clubs and community organizations. There is a need for numerous of the comforts of life, such as a television set, which would be a boon to the old folks. A cabinet model radio with good speaker would be welcome. These and many other gifts, such as a piano and organ have already been presented to some of the Lodges by Rotary, Elks, Legion, W. I., I.O.D.E. and Kinsmen, to mention but a few. What organization is going to lead the way in this kindly move?

Sincerely Yours . . Frank Trumpane

(Reprinted from The Telegram)

The boy and his father boarded the subway train one stop after me and sat down opposite. The father was middle-aged, solemn-faced, dressed in a white sports shirt for the summer's heat, and looked like any one of a thousand other middle-aged fathers who mow lawns, read newspapers, eat dinners, drive low-priced cars and raise families.

The boy was, perhaps, 10 or 11 years old, and looked tall for his age. He was a well-groomed boy with a short haircut and a striped sports shirt, blue shorts, black socks and shoes. He looked as if he had the kind of mother who took good care of him and made sure he had a clean shirt and pressed shorts and that his fingernails were clean, before he went downtown with his father.

MENTALLY RETARDED

The boy was mentally retarded. He had that quick, shy smile, that meaningless smile, that darted across his face every once in a while as if something secret and away inside amused him.

It was the first car in the train and the boy was fascinated at the way we rounded the curves. His arms and legs didn't co-operate very well and he sat awkwardly. He looked and smiled and I smiled back, but the father looked too, and I looked away again. I didn't want to let the father know I was watching.

Every once in a while, the son, seeking some kind of assurance, would move closer to the father. "How can the father stand it?" I thought. "How can he stand it without getting the heart scalded out of him?"

And then I thought "Of course he can stand it, because he has to. He's been standing it ever since his son was born."

BAWLED HIM OUT

I had just left my own son, a little older than the boy, and I had just bawled him out for not doing his chores properly. I'm not sorry about that. Boys have to be bawled out occasionally. But I thought of him, straight and healthy and able to remember and think and speculate and read books and ask riddles and tell jokes.

We left at the same station and got on the escalator together and the boy clutched his father's arm and walked close to him with those uncertain steps, warily.

And all this time, the father accepted it and took it as a matter of course and I knew the father knew he had to help his son and would always have to help him. The boy looked around at me and gave that funny, shy smile as if I were somebody interesting and strange who was standing behind him and then he hesitated again and stepped off the escalator.

WATCHED THEM

And then they walked across the street, and, free from their eyes, I watched them as they walked into the sunlight of the summer's day. Where were they going? I do not know. Are you happy, sonny? I do not know. What do you feel? I do not know. What will happen later? I do not know.

But this I do know. I know that educators have discovered they can teach these children many things that, until very recently, it was thought impossible for them to learn.

And I know that if we, the mothers and fathers and aunts and uncles and grandmothers and grandfathers of healthy children desire it, the facilities can be provided to make life more useful and happy for this boy and others like him.

JUST MONEY

And it only takes money—our tax money—to do it. What's money compared with a greater chance in life for a boy like the one who rode the subway?

If any politician stands for greater spending on facilities for children such as this one, I'll stand with him.

Advice To New Parents

Here's some advice to new parents from HEALTH Magazine. Propping an infant's feeding bottle in his mouth when he is left alone may result in the child being drowned by the liquid flowing into his lungs unless he is old enough to move his head away from the fixed bottle. A baby should be held in someone's arms during feeding time. If the youngster is bottle-fed this should be done while he is being held in an upright position until he is at least three months old. This prevents the possibility of ear infection from milk entering the eustachian space. Also, make sure milk is pasteurized. Unpasteurized milk often carries disease germs.

Health Magazine also lists some safety precautions for toddlers. Make sure your children's toys, playroom furniture and playpen are inspected regularly so that any damage to them will not leave splinters or sharp edges where they could injure the youngster. It's a good idea too to buy only toys that can be washed at high temperatures since most younger children lead a hand-to-mouth existence and this is the only effective way of keeping toys germ-free. If you use mothballs, which are highly poisonous, put them in a perforated container, so your child won't be tempted to swallow them. Cover all unused light sockets. Finally, set a good example for children by following your own safety precautions around the house.

WINTER OFFICE HOURS

The North Eastern Artificial Breeders Association Ltd. commonly known as the A.I. Unit in Vermilion, is operating winter office hours from Nov. 1 to Mar. 31st. Calls are received between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. seven days a week. Several farmers, some of them small beef cattlemen, have bred upwards of twenty cows during the summer with apparently good success. The winter off season would be a good time to try artificial breeding. Phone 626 Vermilion, for service. Increased use of this service will bring about lower service fees.

WELDING SCHOOLS

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is sponsoring welding clinics at Paradise Valley on Nov. 28th to Dec. 2nd and at Kitscoty municipal shop Dec. 5 to 9. The welding clinic at Paradise Valley is over subscribed but any one wishing to attend a welding clinic may do so by applying to Mr. Hozack, M.D. office, Kitscoty. Applicants must leave $5 which is the cost of the five-day welding course, with Mr. Hozack at the time of the application. The first 24 farmer applicants will be accepted.

RATS ON DEWBERRY FARMS

Serious infestations of rats were discovered on several Dewberry farms, range 4. This fact points out the importance of constant vigilance wherever the premises may be. Bait is available at the M.D. office Kitscoty or the D.A. office in Vermilion. A stack of feed or straw provides a natural harbourage for rats so do what the farmers in range 1 are doing "bait the stacks and kill the rats."

WARFARIN

Warfarin is the chemical which makes rolled oat bait so effective in the control of rats. Warfarin is the trade name for the substance called coumarin which is [illegible] Sweet Clover disease. The same substance is now used to some extent in the treatment of thrombosis. Coumarin or Warfarin is a blood thinner. It prevents the clotting of blood to the extent that after several consecutive days of feeding an animal dies from hemorrhage. Hemorrhaging only develops after repeated feedings of mouldy sweet clover in the case of cattle and warfarin bait in the case of rats. Humans have been known to have eaten Warfarin rat bait on occasion with no ill effects but frequent feedings can be dangerous. The smaller the animal the more dangerous Warfarin seems to be. Special precautions should be taken when baiting rats where young pigs may get at the bait. Remember Warfarin is safe to use but treat it as a poison and keep it away from children or pets.

FARMERS' SURVIVAL

High farm output and restricted demand indicate continued pressure on farming incomes. With prospects of further rises in the price of all other commodities and the fact that farm product prices show little sign of gain, the Alberta Extension Service feels that to survive at all farmers must become better managers. Ask your D.A. about management schools.

COMMUNITY SALE

Saturday, Nov. 19th a community auction sale will be held at the Vermilion Auction Market of purebred bulls, calves, weanling and feeder pigs, furniture, machinery etc. The receipts of this sale will be turned over to the Vermilion Agriculture and Civic Centre building fund. Contributions to this sale will be taken Saturday morning. If you want a good buy and would like to help the Agricultural and Civic Centre, come to the auction sale at the Vermilion Auction Market on Nov. 19 at 1 p.m.

MAKE SEWING A PLEASURE:

Every homemaker who sews has thought at some time how ideal it would be to have a sewing room fully equipped. Since this situation doesn't fall within the average budget you must content yourselves with a corner in some room or even use the kitchen at convenient hours. Regardless of what you use as your "sewing spot" you will find greater pleasure with good equipment — the best you can afford.

YOUR SEWING EQUIPMENT:

If you do not already have a sewing machine select the one which best suits your requirements. The straight stitch sewing machine usually satisfies the needs of the home sewer. This machine can be made more versatile with the zig-zag attachment. With this attachment your machine will do a limited amount of fancy stitching.

Good cutting shears are a must. Keep them sharp and reserve them only for fabrics. True dressmakers shears have bent handles which permit the fabric to lie flat when it is being cut. If you own smaller scissors use these for trimming seams, slashing etc. Pinking shears are useful for finishing seam edges.

Pins should be thin and sharp. The points should be smoothly finished so they will not injure fine fabrics. Use strong needles for hard sewing. The most suitable sizes for general sewing are 7 and 8. The higher the number the finer the needle.

Other useful aids are a thimble, a measuring tape, tracing wheel and tracing paper for marking darts, pleats etc.

SEWING CLINICS:

A number of these have been held in Wainwright Vermilion districts during the past year. If there are 7 or 8 ladies in your area who would like to have a sewing clinic arranged please let me know. These clinics last for four days and are held in a hall or school. A home is not satisfactory. You are requested to bring your machine. You make the garment of your choice but an attempt is made to keep beginners and more advanced sewers in one group. For further details write to this office in Wainwright or phone me at Wainwright No. 31. If you live in the [illegible] area you might call [illegible] 75 on the first and [illegible] Tuesdays of each month.

Rat Infestation On Decline This Season

Fewer rat infestations occurred along Alberta's eastern border in the first ten months of 1960 than during any similar period in the last six years. This information was released at the annual provincial Rat Control Conference at Oyen.

Municipal pest control officers, field supervisors and Department of Agriculture officials taking part in the Conference, reviewed the progress that has been achieved in rat control during the past ten years. Workers who initiated the rat extermination campaign, described the original rat harborages in garbage dumps, field storage bins, farmsteads and under grain elevators. Reports on present day conditions indicated the tremendous improvement that has taken place in this respect. Ten years ago nearly all garbage from the towns and villages was dumped on the ground but today over ninety per cent is disposed of in sanitary land-fills. This achievement is the direct result of Department of Health sanitary inspectors and engineers working in co-operation with pest control officers.

Also since the inauguration of the original campaign, many grain elevators have been rebuilt on rat-proof cement slabs and hundreds of farm storage bins have been raised to a safe height above the ground. Piles of rotten manure and straw have been spread on the fields and many farmers have removed everything on their premises which might provide shelter for rats. In addition to these precautions, the placing of poisoned bait in and around feed stacks has become an accepted practice in Ranges 1, 2 and 3 west of the Alberta-Saskatchewan border.

Most residents along Alberta's eastern border now subscribe to the theory that prevention is the only permanent solution to the rat problem. It is hoped that others will follow their lead so that this province will eventually become a rat proof province.

CHEMISTS FOR [illegible]

Vermilion W. I.

The November meeting of Vermilion W.I. was held in the kitchen of the Legion hall at 4 p.m. Twelve members were present and three visitors, Mrs. A. Davis, Mrs. A. Cameron and Mrs. Johnson.

The president, Mrs. W. J. Bell, was in the chair. After repeating the creed, the minutes were read and approved and treasurer's report accepted. Three new pairs of crutches have been received.

During the month five get-well cards and four sympathy cards were sent and nineteen sick calls made.

A very successful raffle, tea and bake sale was held on Oct. 29th. Mrs. T. Davis won the grocery hamper. Correspondence was read and a donation will be made to the CNIB and the "Foot of Nickels" cards will be filled for the Cerebral Palsy fund.

Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Jones were nominated to attend the official opening of the Vermilion Valley Lodge and help serve tea. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Maskell will be the phoning committee for the TB X-ray unit. Mrs. Davis reported on the meeting of the handicraft conveners and the list was read.

Allandale W. A. Hostess At Enjoyable Party

On the evening of Sept. 15th the Allandale W. A. members were hostesses at a party held in the hall. The program opened with a sing-song of old hymns. Mrs. Sheppard of Kitscoty then showed several reels of home movies taken by various people in the district while on holidays at various times.

In a round table discussion Mrs. Laird, assisted by Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Cooper, gave a report on the Presbytery W.A. and W.M.S. fall rally held at Cold Lake. Mrs. Laird is the W.A. representative on the Camp Whitney committee.

Due to extra expenses, namely the purchase of a propane refrigerator for the Whitney camp, funds are needed badly to clear the books. Any donation however small would be greatly appreciated.

Following a final selection by Mrs. Laird, a vocal solo, the evening ended with lunch served by the ladies.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

Pastor Schroeder preached at both services on Sunday, Nov. 13 at the Alliance Chapel. The morning topic was "So, You're a Christian". In the evening he gave the eighth in the series on the Ten Commandments "Thou Shalt Not Steal".

Music was provided for the services by Mrs. Al Curtis who sang a solo; a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Francisco and a vocal solo by Albert Mix. Pianists were James Teasdale and Margaret Clendenning.

Visitors in the services were Miss Minnie Nelmes and her mother Mrs. J. Nelmes of Calgary visiting at the home of Mrs. Albert Tovell. A special guest was little Miss Grace Isabel Tovell, recently chosen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tovell. Other guests were residents of Vermilion Valley Lodge to all of whom a sincere welcome is extended at all services. Transportation will be provided as the need is made known.

A good group of the Chapel Young People attended the zone rally of the Alliance Youth Fellowship held in Marwayne on Friday Nov. 11. Several of the local Y.P.'s took part and a good time was reported by all.

The first census taken in Canada, in 1666, was the first modern census taken anywhere in the world and the population then was 3,215, exclusive of Indians and Eskimos.

In 1959 the value of Canada's mineral production was 2.4 billion, farm cash income from the sale of farm products was $2.8 billion, value of manufacturing production was $22.2 billion.

Winners of Columbia Theatre Treasure Hunt

Bob McDowell and Andy La Gasse, well-known young men of the town, are shown here with wide and happy smiles as they have just successfully run down the big $100.00 prize in the treasure hunt being conducted by the Columbia Theatre. Bob is on the left and Andy on the right. The $100.00 bill which they are holding was found in the little bottle, while Bob has a good hold on the real mazuma.

The hidden treasure was in a tree right along 50th avenue situated in the Elks playground next to the Kinsmen wading pool grounds. The treasure was tied up in a tree and was plainly visible both from the back alley and from the main street.

Due to the popularity of the hunt and the interest created, Mrs. Joan Kowalchuk announces that the Columbia will have another one starting on Dec. 1st. Everyone will want to get in on it — you can all see how easy it is. — A Standard Staff Photo

The following is a complete list of the clues in the order in which they were issued from the theatre and in the Standard with an explanation of the more difficult ones.

1. I am a note in a bottle.
2. I am within the town limits and not in the theatre.
3. Many pass me every day to work and school and even play.
4. A doctor's prescription has some connection (in a prescription bottle).
5. I am in a northerly direction of the theatre.
6. Right where I am could be a home that one might be proud to own (either bird's nest, or [illegible])

How to recognize the new VW

First of all, there's 10% more power to play with. Now the Volkswagen leaps away from lights! Increased torque means more reserve power in every gear for safer passing. But although the engine's stepped up to 40 horsepower, it's still as easy on the gas as ever.

And there's the synchronized first gear. You no longer have to stop the car to change down to first. From second gear you can shift down smartly into first and whip away. And all the gear ratios have been changed to take advantage of the new engine performance.

The luggage space is bigger. There's now ten cubic feet. A full 5 up front and another 5 behind the back seat. Now you can stand all your shopping bags upright under the hood. Or take a family vacation with all your luggage neatly packed away.

The Volkswagen is constantly being improved. Unless you drive the new Volkswagen (or know what to look for) you can't tell it from last year's model. Or the one before that. Or the one before that. In fact since 1948 no less than [illegible] improvements have been made to this remarkable car yet it still remains basically the same. That's why the VW retains its value. [illegible] are other improvements [illegible] change for the sake of change [illegible] proven good ideas.

Some of these improvements [illegible] the De Luxe Volkswagen [illegible] model. Whichever you buy, we think you get the best car value in the world. There's so much to say about the new VW why not get it first hand at your Volkswagen dealer's tonight!

MRS. WINNIFRED TORRANCE Matron, Vermilion Valley Lodge

Mrs Winnifred Torrance formerly of Islay received the appointment as matron of Vermilion Valley senior citizens lodge. Mrs Torrance came to the Lloydminster district in 1906 accompanying her parents from England. In 1907 they moved to the Islay district which was the family home for many years.

In 1916 she was married to Mr Thomas A. Torrance who had come west from Ontario, and they raised a family of five now all grown up. Mr and Mrs Torrance lived on a farm near Islay until the death of Mr Torrance eight years ago. Since then Mrs. Torrance has made her home in town with the exception of serving as assistant matron at the Women's Home in Calgary. She has also done considerable nursing in Vermilion.

Mrs Torrance states that she is enjoying her new position and that she finds the senior citizens in the lodge are just like a big happy family.

U. F. A. Co-op Set Patronage Dividend Rate of 9.6 p.c.

The Twenty-Ninth Annual Meeting of the U. F. A. Co-op has concluded in Calgary and the delegates and Board of Directors have approved the following:

1. A patronage dividend rate of 9.6% has been declared on petroleum purchases for the fiscal year ended July 31st, 1960. This rate will represent a distribution of $758,000.00 to our farm members.

2. Dividends deferred in 1954 and 1955 will be paid in cash in December. This payment will total approximately $128,000.00. As you know, the dividends earned on each year's operation are deferred and placed in the Revolving Door Plan. The payment at this time of two years' deferment will reduce the Revolving Door Plan to a five-year cycle.

A patronage dividend of 9.6% means that a farmer who purchased $1,000.00 of fuel requirements received a dividend allocation of $96.00, which you will agree, is a story that is well worth telling to both present and prospective customers.

We know you were enthusiastic in telling the story in your community last year of the Co-op's progress, and we believe with the increase in the patronage dividend rate this year, plus the fact that the Revolving Door Plan has been reduced to a five-year cycle, that you will certainly be eager to pass this information on to farm people in your district.

Comic Opera 'Merry Wives of Windsor' At Lloyd. Nov. 23

The beloved comic opera "The Merry Wives of Windsor" will be sung by the Canadian Opera Company, and sponsored by Lloydminster Overture Concert Association in Lloydminster on Wed., Nov. 23rd at the high school auditorium.

The opera itself is extremely amusing and contains a delightful score with charming melodies and masterfully handled ensembles. This work was performed for the first time a little over 100 years ago, on March 9, 1849.

Since then it has made a triumphal journey across every European stage, and remains one of the most beloved of comic operas.

Mrs. Ed Brimacombe and Mrs. Bliss Dixon assisted in the opening of the gifts. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

On Monday afternoon, Nov. 14, Mr. W. A. Kibblewhite entertained at a trousseau tea in honor of her daughter Miss Jean Kibblewhite.

Annual Farm Forum Rally Heralds Beginning Of New Season

Members of eight local Farm Forums answered the roll call at the annual Fall Farm Forum rally held Monday, Nov. 7 at the Elks hall, Vegreville, when over sixty persons gathered to begin the forum season. Chairman Herb Walker introduced special guests to the meeting including Mrs. Laura Gibreau, the provincial farm forum council chairman, Jim McFall, provincial secretary, Claire Anderson, vice-president F.U.A., while Mr. N. Chomik, D.A., introduced Mr. Charlie Cheeshire, Supervisor of D.A.s Extension Branch, Department of Agriculture.

Following the radio broadcast at 8:30 p.m. over CBC, eight discussion groups were formed of those attending, representing forums including Martinoe, Waskawa Park, Grove, Fairwood, River Park, Rosegarland, Lavoy and Amngridge, with the topic "Rural Service — Who Should Pay?" under consideration.

In addressing the group Mrs. Gibreau extended greetings from the Alberta F.F. Council, stating that things were shaping up for a good forum series. The F.W.U.A. were busily organizing listening groups in the fourteen districts in Alberta, for the Nov. 28th broadcast on "Hog Marketing" when they will use the farm forum technique of discussion groups to study this program.

Jim McFall, provincial secretary, elaborated on special features worked in on the Farm Forum series this year beginning with the Nov. 7 provincial radio broadcast on "Rural Services" the Nov. 28th program on "Hog Marketing" when farm organizations will have the basis to work on once farm opinions are received, and an instructive "Guide" will be printed for this program. An overall marketing picture will be presented with the CBC producing a regional broadcast. On Feb. 13 another regional or provincial broadcast is scheduled with the Feb. 20 broadcast featuring the C.F.A.'s 25th anniversary, in Ottawa. March 5th will feature a regional broadcast on "Disease Control". The annual National Farm Radio Forum conference is scheduled from June 10 to 12, tentatively at Banff when a good representation is anticipated. Completing his address, Mr. McFall asked: "After twenty years of Farm Forum do we need a broader look at extending using TV, radio, etc?" Mr. McFall stated "The provincial office is ready to be of assistance at any time and would appreciate being called on in any way, and welcomes comments regarding this question".

Mr. C. Cheeshire, in speaking to the group, stated his pleasure in being present at such a well-attended Forum gathering, as there is more talk about Forums than ever. The interest in Farm Forum is greater even at the district office level, and the D.A.s have been instructed to notify groups regarding the discussion on the Nov. 28 broadcast on "Hog Marketing". Mr. Cheeshire went on further to state that Forum technique might be used for the first time in many groups that night, meeting to study this program and he is looking forward to seeing the progress of forums and individual groups.

Mr. C. Anderson, vice-president F.U.A., stated that farm union locals can use forums to become better informed on topics affecting their farming business, as there is a need for well-informed farm people. Trends in hog marketing, production control will be taken under study on the and price support system, all Nov. 28th broadcast. After a study of the history of hog marketing boards in Ontario it has been concluded that some benefit has been received since inception but these benefits are not as much as expected. It is important the farmer get the most out of his product and the "Hog Marketing" broadcast is centred on this matter. Mr. Anderson stated "three packing plants take 80 per cent of the hogs produced in Alberta with 96 per cent coming directly from farmer to plant or from farmer to agent of plant. What action should we take? What will marketing boards do as to grading?", concluded Mr. Anderson.

A sing-song and folk dance was led by Mrs. L. L. Smiley and an action game was led by Mrs. Herb Walker with six participants. A short discussion on safety on the farm preceded a lunch and social time.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Tuesday, Nov. 15th saw another great sale at the Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. Hundreds of people and hundreds of hogs and cattle were in evidence. Prices were stronger, stock steer calves and heifers were a good 50c to $1.00 per cwt stronger. The bulk of the steers sold from $20.50 to $21.50 per cwt., stock heifers $18.00 to $19.50 per cwt. One lot of good breedy Hereford heifers contributed by J. Tondu, Wainwright and purchased by P. M. Hill sold for $22.00 per cwt. with a weight average of 540 lbs. All good classes of cattle found a ready outlet. After all, why shouldn't they when hundreds of buyers come for miles to buy. One lot of steers calves contributed by L. J. Bezaire sold for $21.40 to Vern Hines.

Stock cows were in good demand, selling at an average of $132.50. Hogs were generally in keeping with last week's report undertone.

We do have a good demand for all classes of livestock. For Tuesday, Nov. 22nd we have listed some good dairy cows and calves, also some purebred bulls.

Get your cattle in early, and remember the hogs go on sale at 11:00 a.m.

We guarantee you satisfaction. Compare our market here with any other ... you'll be surprised how good a home town deal you have got!

The twin-brother of the groom, Lieutenant S. Ratcliffe, officiated and was assisted by Lieutenant K. Oates of Lloydminster, Sask.

The wedding ceremony was a Salvation Army service and the bridal party were attired in Salvation army uniforms. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red and pink sweetheart roses.

Matron of honour, Mrs. S. Ratcliffe, sister-in-law of the groom, carried a nosegay of yellow roses. Bridesmaids Mrs. D. Moore and Lieutenant Diane May carried nosegays of pink roses and blue carnations respectively.

Miss Cathy Ratcliffe, niece of the groom, was flower girl and wore a yellow flocked nylon dress with matching bandeau and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Best man was Lieut. Roger Rooks, brother of the bride and ushers were Captain D. Moore and Mr. H. Sutton, brother of the bride.

Mrs. A. West played the wedding music and during the service Captain D. Moore sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love". Mrs. S. Ratcliffe also sang "A Wedding Prayer".

A reception followed in the church hall at which Lieutenant S. Ratcliffe was Master of Ceremonies. The ladies of the United Church W. A. catered to the 200 guests present. Seventeen telegrams were read by Lieut. R. Rooks and also a letter of congratulations from India.

During the evening Lieutenant and Mrs. S. Ratcliffe sang "Together" and Lieut. S. Ratcliffe also sang "Because". Miss Donna Isley sang "Bless This House".

Mrs. Rooks, the mother of the bride chose a green dress in summer silk for the happy occasion, with white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mother of the groom, Mrs. Ratcliffe, wore the traditional uniform of the Salvation Army. Her corsage was also of pink roses.

Mrs. Mary Isley proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Miss Linda Evans, cousin of the bride and Miss Deanna Currie were in charge of the guest book.

For a honeymoon to the U.S.A. and the West Coast the bride chose a white eyelet embroidery dress with blue duster and pink and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses from her wedding bouquet.

The young couple will make their home at Powell River, B.C., where they are Salvation Army officers.

Tolland District Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

On November 5th a kitchen shower was held at the home of Mrs. Mary McGrath in the afternoon for Susan Wolters whose marriage to Mr. Rolf Marthensen will take place Nov. 19th. A special chair was very appropriately decorated as a kitchen window with a hanging plant between the curtains cleverly included and here the guest of honor sat, to view with all the ladies there, slides shown by Mrs. Dorothy Selte of her European trip, taken last summer. These pictures were much enjoyed by all. Then a jean-clad gardener (Eleanor McGrath) appeared, pushing a large wheel barrow, full of sacks and boxes, into the room. Margaret McGrath made the presentation and Susan opened the bags, assisted by Margaret Watt and her sister, Irene Wasylik. They, of course, found no potatoes and turnips in them, but did find a great variety of lovely and useful presents for which Susan thanked everyone with a nice little speech.

Tea and refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughters bringing the very pleasant afternoon to an end, with everyone wishing Susan much happiness and expressing pleasure that she will stay in the Tolland district where she has lived all her life.

Melvin Grono Weds Gladys Olds, Islay

Lily of the valley, baby chrysanthemums and daisies were arranged in Norwood United Church when Miss Gladys Ruth Olds became bride of Mr. Melvin Thomas Grono.

Rev. Remond Smith conducted the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. Henry Olds and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Grono, all of Edmonton. Mr. Olds gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride chose a floor-length wedding gown of fine white Chantilly lace, the bouffant skirt poised over nylon tulle and satin. The yoke and bodice front were trimmed with lace and the skirt with layers of lace. A crown of seed pearls held in place her fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

The groom's brother and sister, twins Wanda and Wayne Grono, were flower girl and ring bearer. The flower girl wore a frock of pink nylon over satin, with matching bandeau. She carried a basket of flowers.

Attending the groom were his brother Mr. William Grono and Mr. Floyd Halls. Ushers were Mr. Jack Jones and Mr. Adam Dorzek.

A reception for 125 guests was held at Westwond Community Hall, where Mr. David Ryley, brother-in-law of the bride, proposed the bridal toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Grono will make their home in Edmonton.

Guests from out of town at the wedding include Mrs. V. Schaffer, Grace, Jim and Donald, Islay; Mrs. E. Dikkers and Jim McLaughlin; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dorzek, Vermilion; Mr. Douglas [illegible], Youngstown; Mrs. S. Mc[illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. William [illegible], Rosetown, Sask.; Mrs. Ed. Damaged Insulators Cause Electric Service Interruption

Pictures above indicate what a bullet will do to electric power line insulators. Breakage of these insulators cause the wires to come in almost direct contact with the power poles. This results in an interruption to electrical service and can sometimes start a fire of serious proportions. Top left photo shows a horizontal view of a glass-type insulator while below it are the remains of the same insulator, shattered by bullets. Panel at right shows suspended view of insulators and the results when they become rifle targets. On the right is a cluster of undamaged [illegible] while at left are the remaining cores with bullet marks outlined on each. This is only one of several instances of damaged electrical insulators found on Canadian Utilities lines in recent weeks. Shooting of power insulators is a criminal offense, punishable by law.

MANNVILLE. — With an unusually small attendance recorded, the Happy Hour W.A. met on the evening of Nov. 10th at the [illegible] of Mrs. Anne Malin. Following the prayers and worship period Mrs. H. Shell gave an interesting account of the Missionary study, in which racialism and nationalism, were outlined.

Reports of various committees were read and adopted. A large crowd was catered to at a recent banquet for the Old Timers' Association as 177 attended.

Circle Eight Notes

The Circle Eight Square Dance club held their regular dance on Oct. 28th. All were pleased to have visitors from the Cold Lake air base, Lloydminster, Blackfoot and Mannville. Johnny Maxwell was the caller for the evening which everyone appeared to enjoy. At that dance it was decided to cancel the dance which would fall on Nov. 11 rather than to choose another date that might conflict with neighboring clubs.

Five couples from the club travelled to the air base at Cold Lake on Nov. 10 to dance to the calling of Orv Johnson. All members were invited and able to remain over night. Needless to say there was never a dull moment. Members who have visited Rivercourse, Islay and Blackfoot clubs during the past week brought back very complimentary reports.

Members are looking forward to a good turnout to the next dance in Bowtell hall which will be the fourth Friday of the month Nov. 25. Harold Schacher will be guest caller for the evening. This will be Harold and Irene's first visit to this area so all square dancers are asked to be present then and on the second and fourth Fridays of each month thereafter.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

No Province Has Provided Homes For Aged on Such Lavish Scale As Alberta — Unique on Continent

By KEN [illegible]

EDMONTON. — In 31 Alberta communities one day last week dignitaries made speeches and citizens sat in on the official launching of a new concept in care for the aged.

Ceremonies were held simultaneously in the 31 centres to mark the official opening of the province's new homes for the aged, started last year as the first phase of the government's five-year development plan.

But the major ceremony was held in Westlock, which happens to be in the Pembina constituency, which happens to be represented in the Legislature by Welfare Minister R. D. Jorgenson.

Mr. Jorgenson attended the Westlock ceremony and the new home there was officially opened by Municipal Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke substituting for Premier Manning who was confined to his home last week with influenza. The ceremony opening the Westlock home was beamed to other parts of the province by radio and television.

In most of the other centres, local MLAs did the honors. At each home, a framed, lithographed scroll was presented to the chairman of the local foundation which operates the home. The scrolls will be hung in the homes as a permanent record of the official opening.

For the record, the other homes opened last week are at Bow Island, Raven, Cardston, Pincher Creek, Fort MacLeod, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Brooks, High River, Drumheller, Three Hills, Olds, Rocky Mountain House, Innisfail, Lacombe, Stettler, Camrose, Ponoka, Wetaskiwin, [illegible], Vermilion, [illegible], Edson, Mayerthorpe, St. Paul, Bonnyville, Athabasca, High Prairie, Berwyn and Spirit River.

Alberta's homes for senior citizens are unique in North America. So far as anyone here knows, no other place on the continent—or perhaps in the world—has provided homes for the aged on such a lavish scale.

The modern, comfortable homes built at a cost of around $200,000 apiece, are like posh clubs. The oldsters who live in them pay board and because the homes [illegible] for 30) the senior citizens don't have to move out of the area they call home.

FARMER MOVED FROM AIRPORT RUNWAYS

Government expropriation of land for public works is a nasty business, as any farmer who has lost land will testify.

But a strong case can be made for the argument that when expropriation is inevitable, the landowner may as well make the best of it and get as much money as he can from the government for his land.

But 65-year-old William Prysko doesn't see it that way. Mr. Prysko owned an 80-acre farm near Nisku, on the site of the new Edmonton International airport. Three years ago the federal government offered him $24,300 for his land. He held out for $80,650.

Later he reduced his asking price to $60,065 and the government upped its offer to $26,750. The case went to the Exchequer Court of Canada last year. The judge awarded Prysko $21,300 plus court costs of $350.

Prysko refused to accept the award and last week the Federal government evicted him. A sheriff's crew arrived at his farm, hauled his machinery and equipment away, moved furnishings and belongings from his four room shack and impounded his 63 head of Hereford cattle.

A government lawyer was on the scene before the operation started and offered Prysko a cheque for $20,650 but he refused it.

At week's end Prysko, his wife and their two children were living in a hotel at nearby Leduc still refusing to accept the money and still claiming unfair treatment by the government. Prysko claims that the money isn't enough to re-establish him.

Meanwhile several other farmers are continuing to live on the airport property under arrangement with the government, and the government will let them stay there so long as they get rid of their cattle. Government spokesmen say Prysko could have stayed, too, if he had co-operated and disposed of his cattle. The big new airport becomes operational this week and livestock represent a hazard to aircraft.

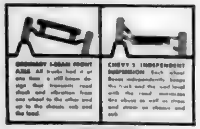
Model [illegible] Fleetside pickup. One of Chevrolet's job-whipping line of big lightweights.

HERE! THE TRUCKS THAT RIDE SMOOTHER, WORK HARDER, LAST LONGER!

Just a year ago, Chevy came up with a torsion bar independent front suspension and has already put some 300,000 Chevrolet trucks with it out on jobs.

The ride that results from Chevy's suspension design is making life a lot easier for drivers. (Just ask them!) It's taking better care of loads, the fragile kind that used to cost somebody money if they were bounced around. Chevy's ride also enables truck owners to revise their buying habits and work their trucks longer before they trade. This follows naturally. The trucks take less of a beating. There's less stress on sheet metal. Less abuse to tires. Less pounding to wear out parts before their time. The upshot of it is you either save money or earn more of it, or both. And you couldn't ask a truck to do more than that. See your dealer.



ORDINARY I-BEAM FRONT AXLE. All trucks had it at one time: a stiff beam design that transmits road shock and vibration from one wheel to the other and up to the chassis, cab and the load.
CHEVY'S INDEPENDENT SUSPENSION. Each wheel floats independently, keeps the truck and the road level with the road, minimizes the abuse as well as stress and strain on chassis and cab.

Wildmere Winks

Winter has arrived by the look of the snow that covered everything over the week-end. Jack Frost has the trees heavily laden too which makes a beautiful sight when the sun comes out.

The music fest sponsored by the Wildmere W.A. was a decided success. The school was packed to capacity and a nice sum was realized to carry on God's work in the community and the church.

Susan Wolters who returned from a deaconess course in Toronto in August, accompanied by her mother Mrs. Gladys Wolters and her fiance Ralph Martinson, gave a very inspiring and interesting talk to the W.A. on Nov. 8th. The deaconess work is very gratifying according to Miss Wolters and a challenge to all young people.

Adam Smith Sr., accompanied by his sister Mrs. Cruthers and Mr. Carey of Islay motored to Vancouver to spend the winter with his mother. Mrs. Ken Shepherd is looking after the household chores while her mother is away.

Roy Garnett spent the long week-end at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garnett.

Don't forget the Home and School meeting on Monday Nov. 21st. Mr. Stockbridge will be present to speak to the gathering.

A speedy recovery is wished Mrs. Abe Friesel in town and Fred Haines of our district both victims of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hughes and family visited the latter's parents on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Wear.

The Wildmere W.I. bake sale went off well on Nov. 12 under the capable supervision of Mrs. Gwen Garnett, Mrs. Betty Osterberg and Mrs. Lil Smith.

Noticed around: Bachelor purchasing car looking for a mate and thinking of travelling north. How about it Rollie?

Dewberry 4-H Beef Club Meets

The Dewberry 4-H Beef club held their regular meeting on Nov. 8th with thirteen members, our leader, several parents, Mr. Morley Douglas, D.A., and the 4-H supervisor for Northern Alberta Mr. C. A. Cheeshire.

The club will visit the farm of every member on Saturday, Nov. 19 for the purpose of inspecting the calves and taking pictures.

It was moved and seconded that during January an amateur program and dance be held to raise some much needed cash.

It would be appreciated if all those connected with the club would give some thought to the distribution of achievement day prizes. Mr. Douglas suggested that money isn't everything and Mr. Cheeshire advised us to get some small prizes that might be engraved and kept as souvenirs of 4-H days. However many 4-H'ers are like everyone else in North America and like the dollar prizes best.

Great Strides Being Made To Assist Mentally Retarded

A movement in Canada which is only ten years old has already reached a level of maturity in its fight to solve an acute problem which has plagued society for thousands of years.

In declaring Canadian Retarded Children's Week Nov 13 24 the Canadian Association for Re[illegible] announced that only ten years ago there was little or no future for the mentally retarded and only anguish and tribulation for their parents.

"The changes which have taken place during the past decade have been painfully slow," the announcement read, "but the past five years and particularly the past three years have shown a rate of progress in meeting the problem.

"Since the Canadian Association was founded in 1956 to federate local and provincial associations throughout Canada membership has increased from some 650 to 12,000 most of whom are parents of mentally retarded children. Number of local associations formed during the period has increased from 116 to 175.

The statement pointed out that the problem of mental retardation which afflicts three out of every 100 children born in Canada every year has reached a greater level of public [illegible] although there remains much to be done.

The Association stressed that with over 500,000 mentally retarded in Canada and with a potential of over 15,000 born every year there is cause for concern by all Canadians as the problem can strike anywhere regardless of social setting, race, color or creed.

The Association paid tribute to volunteer groups comprising parents and non-parents alike for giving the hard core of leadership in the development of help for mentally [illegible] children, adults and their families. "The increasing number of training schools, occupational training centres, sheltered workshops, parent guided programs, summer camps and day camps and recreational activities demonstrate beyond a doubt that retarded children can be helped and are being helped."

In conclusion the statement emphasized the need for the launching of a dynamic national research program to:

(1) Find the causes of mental retardation and determine preventive measures and then reduce the incidence of affliction.

(2) Develop teaching and training techniques which will help the mentally retarded to realize their potential in personal, social and vocational development.

The Association announced that its Scientific Advisory board is now developing objectives for a national research program.

Paradise Valley

Paradise Valley is gradually getting back to normal after the fire that at one time threatened to destroy the hamlet on Tuesday morning. Due to assistance of [illegible] from the country, McLaughlin and the Lloydminster fire brigade the fire was held to the Henry store and Greenwood cafe and home. Everything worked to the advantage of the firefighters in keeping the blaze from spreading over the entire hamlet south of Main street.

Mr and Mrs Bill Stoddart, Irene [illegible] and Grace, Mr and Mrs Ron Anderson and Debbie [illegible] were weekend visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs [illegible] Stoddart. They also visited Mr Stoddart's mother Mrs Viola Stoddart who is a patient in the Lloydminster hospital.

Business visitors to the city during the past week were Mr and Mrs J. Knot, Mrs G. Baxter, Mrs W A Gunn.

Mr and Mrs Vernon Phillippe and family of Provost visited relatives on Armistice day.

Mr and Mrs [illegible] Murray and daughter Terry and Mrs J. H. Murray of Campbell River, B.C. spent the weekend with Mr and Mrs A M Leavitt.

The Paradise Valley Square Dance club will hold their next dance on Nov 23. Ken Warinfi will be doing the calling and all square dancers are invited to watch on that date.

W. A. MEETS

The Paradise Valley W.A. met at the home of Mrs Frank Brassington for their regular meeting on Tuesday, Nov 1 at 2 p.m. with a good attendance. President Mrs F Sirett was in the chair and opened the meeting with the regular exercises, using creed card. Mrs. C Ball led in devotional and also read the "Statement of Faith." Plans were made for catering to the Venner and Teasdale wedding and to the banquet in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. Oester and family and Miss Linda Stepenoff.

The next meeting will be held Dec 6th and will be the annual one. All officers and conveners of committees are asked to have their reports ready for the meeting. Officers will be elected. The meeting will be held at the church at 2 p.m. Mrs. A. Nickle and Mrs G Henry are hostesses.

10-YEAR IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM SAVES CNR MILLIONS ANNUALLY

OTTAWA, Nov 7 — Canadian National Railways has improved its position by about $120 millions a year as a result of increased efficiency through modernization in the past ten years, the Royal Commission on Transportation was informed last week.

S. F. Dingle, Canadian National's system vice-president, said the railway had made capital expenditures totaling $1.5 billion since 1950. The result had been huge gains in efficiency reflected in road maintenance, [illegible] transportation and other operating accounts.

"If we had to do the work required of our railway plant today at the level of efficiency of 1950 without having made these [illegible] expenditures, it would have cost us about $120 millions more to do this work than it did," he said.

Corporation profits in Canada in 1959 totalled $3.3 billion, of which Ottawa took $1.5 billion in corporation income taxes, $857 million went back into business, and investors received $962 million in dividends.

There is a mentally retarded child born in Canada every 25 minutes. Some have hope . . . all need help. You can contribute.

KNOW YOUR HEART

MOST CARDIAC [illegible] ALLOW PATIENTS TO WORK

Contrary to popular belief, many persons with heart disease can lead happy, useful lives provided they work within the limits of their heart reserve.

[illegible] have been made of the number of Canadians affected by some form of heart or circulatory system disease. An overwhelming proportion of these are able to continue in their jobs or engage in other gainful work more suited to their condition.

Naturally each heart disease sufferer should return to work only after his physician has found that his condition permits him to do so. Also in many instances, physicians will decide that one kind of job is desirable for his patient while another definitely is dangerous. Each case must be evaluated on an individual basis.

Ability to work depends on the severity of the heart damage rather than on the type of disease. Occasionally, any kind of work is out of the question, but this is fairly rare although it may occur in any type of heart involvement.

A device called a "respirometer" is being used in some clinics to measure the amount of oxygen a patient consumes in performing a given task. This assists the physician to [illegible] a conclusion about the safe limits within which his patient can work.

In many industries personnel experts have conducted job analyses which chart in detail the physical demands of specific jobs. The amount of lifting, standing, sitting, climbing, pulling, walking and stooping the worker would do are made available to the personal physician so that he may determine his patient's ability to meet the stress of the job.

Studies have revealed that employees with known cardiac damage that are placed in the proper job have better performance records than those with normal hearts. There is less labor turnover, fewer accidents and less work spoilage. An employee with any physical impairment is more eager to keep his job and his work reflects that attitude.

Statistics show that rehabilitation and continued employment of all types of workers and executives suffering heart disorders have saved industry many thousands of dollars in productivity and experience and assured economic independence to the worker.

In the home, too—where it is virtually impossible for a wife with cardiac involvement to refrain from necessary chores—progress is being made in re-establishing near normal routine. "Heart of the Home" literature which is available from the Alberta Heart Foundation is teaching women with heart disease how to save precious energy and steps by careful planning of routine, placement of utensils and redesigning of work areas.

The millions who have learned to live with some form of heart disease constitute a vast labour pool vitally needed at this time. It is essential today more than ever before in the nation's history that all who are capable should devote their energies to productive channels instead of assuming needless invalidism.

There was just no stopping Auctioneer Clarence Lovig last Saturday at the big agricultural centre sale. Above he is shown almost auctioning off Ken Stone himself, after pretty well selling all of Ken's personal effects. Clarence was a victim of his own abilities as he auctioned off his hair, or at least what there is of it, and Dr. King will be removing it in his own style shortly. Good humor and lots of fun were handed out by Clarence and his associates, and those attending enjoyed every minute of it.

$2,500 Realized at Auction; New Agricultural Centre Benefits

Clarence Lovig and his staff of enthusiasts really went to work on Saturday last when they conducted a bang-up auction sale in aid of the fund now being raised to complete payment for the new agricultural building and recreation centre rapidly nearing completion on the exhibition grounds.

Following a most successful canvass of the business interests of the town which is still continuing, either cash or donations of hogs, calves, poultry, etc. and Saturday's sale was devised to dispose of donated livestock and other commodities.

Proprietor Lovig in his usual progressive manner infused into his staff a tremendous amount of enthusiasm and also sold prospective buyers with the idea that here was a sale that was really worthwhile. After some delightful cowboy numbers the sale started with the first item a galloping goose which was quickly sold, re-donated and sold again and again bringing in a substantial total for the fund. Turkeys, chickens, pigs, feeder hogs, breeding hogs and calves along with a truck that really would run and numerous household articles quickly went under the hammer to bring good prices. Numerous articles were re-donated and sold again, all of which was pleasing to those responsible for the raising of the money and to the auctioneering staff.

During the afternoon a student at the V.S.A. played several numbers on his accordion and Piper McPhee further added to the entertainment when he produced his bagpipes and delighted the large crowd in attendance.

A number of V.S.A. students present seeing the necessity for cash took up a collection, approximating $30 and using this fine gesture as an idea Auctioneer Lovig suggested passing the hat when a further $30 was gathered and turned over to the cashier. At the end of a highly interesting day the sum of just over $2,500 was realized as part of the Agricultural Society canvass of the rural area and the Society and the organizers of the new building construction are greatly pleased with the overall result. Acknowledgment is being made to donors by letter and if any are overlooked the [illegible] the directors of the Agricultural Society made the rounds of the rural areas soliciting, secretary-manager of the Society would be glad to be advised so that the oversight might be corrected. With the enthusiasm of the sale it may be that all the donations were not properly recorded and it is desired to express thanks to all who helped make this effort a [illegible] success.

A number of people have since indicated that they would have donated to the sale had they known of it in time. This has been overcome by the generous offer of Auctioneer Lovig to sell on each Tuesday at his regular sale anything donated to the cause and to turn the funds over to the building fund without any commission, deduction or expense, so please bear in mind that if you did not donate to the sale you may still do so and if you have not yet donated cash to the fund it will be gratefully [illegible] Secretary Manager Heckbert of the Vermilion Agricultural Society.

The co-operation of all town and district residents is solicited at this time in order that funds may be available for the completion of what is generally conceded to be the finest and most useful building anywhere in the West outside the major cities. The building is designed to serve not only the town of Vermilion but a wide area and when it is completed it will be found useful for farm organizations, sports groups and many others.

Let's get all out now to make sure that nothing is spared to complete the structure which is the envy of all towns in Western Canada.

Safe-Driving Week Dec. 1 to 7

Aimed at breaking down public apathy towards the toll of human life on Canada's highways, Safe-Driving Week will be sponsored across Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council between Dec. 1 and 7, inclusive. With active participation by provincial and industrial safety groups, women's organizations, the clergy, police, governments, service clubs and other bodies and individuals, Safe-Driving Week will begin at midnight, Nov. 30, and end at midnight, Dec. 7.

There will be a dual target — the apathy of the general public towards the slaughter on the highways, and the apathy of the motorist and pedestrian towards their responsibilities, as individuals, to reducing the accidents, injuries, deaths and economic loss in traffic. The Council reports that, while December has gone slightly down the scale among months showing traffic deaths and injuries, it remains the worst month for highway accidents.

Safe-Driving Week, a campaign to stress the dire need for safe driving and safe walking, will serve to lead-off the national month-long campaign against Holiday Hazards conducted by police forces from coast to coast.

Plight of Consumer: Farm Forum

There has been a great deal written in recent months about the plight of the consumer in today's competitive world. The high cost of consumer credit; the inaccuracies of some advertising; the wiles of certain door-to-door salesmen have all been recounted in detail in the magazines and newspapers of the nation.

How much protection does a consumer have against such fraudulent or misleading enticements? Is there a place where consumers can obtain unbiased information on sound business concerns? Is there a place where a bilked customer can appeal his case?

National Farm Radio Forum, on December 5, will look at the situation. The Farm Forum Guide contains twelve pages of facts and figures on the problem of misleading claims and outright fraud, as it exists in Canada. The half-hour broadcast, December 5th at 8:30 p.m., will feature Dr Wally Sackston of Macdonald College, P.Q., Dr C. A. Morrell, Director of the Food and Drug Division, Department of National Health and Welfare, and Mr. S. C. Bowen, General Manager, Toronto Better Business Bureau. Chairman will be Peter Stursberg.

The subject will be: How can the consumer ensure a fair deal? It promises to be an informative evening.

A CHEERFUL THOUGHT

Amid the gloomy reflections induced by the day-to-day following of international news, one cheerful thought emerges. It is: What would be the position of the free world if the United States had not bought Alaska from Russia in 1867?

* * *

"It is imperative that every Canadian realize at once his responsibility in preventing accidents on the highways. Their toll of injuries and deaths is an avoidable loss. Let no one therefore say 'Such a thing cannot happen to me', for while this attitude persists every driver is a threat to his neighbor. Road users must consider vehicles as potential weapons, able to wipe out human life without warning."

TREE ORDERING TIME

This is tree ordering time. P. D. McCalla, Alberta's Horticulturist reports that 2½ million trees will be distributed throughout Alberta in the spring of 1961. Available for next spring planting are one million [illegible] shrubs, 100,000 poplar [illegible] Manitoba maple, 25,000 elm [illegible] honeysuckle, 60,000 lilac [illegible] 200,000 spruce. The ideal farmstead shelterbelt consists of a hedge in front to act as a snow trap, a row of fast growing deciduous trees e.g. green ash and a fourth row of evergreen. A shelterbelt is always planted at least 100 feet from buildings and 125 feet from roadway or lane.

Mr Townsend and Dr. Todd both world famous apiculture scientists speaking to the Alberta School of beekeepers recently said if there was a general increase in honey consumption it would bring prosperity to all. The value of bees cannot be computed in terms of honey production. The role of bees as pollinators of legumes, fruits and vegetables is by far more important than the honey produced. It is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that [illegible] were no longer available [illegible] important crops would disappear from the land. Although Alberta produces twice as much honey as consumed in the province surveys indicate that there are not half enough bees available for adequate pollination of the clover crop grown in the province.

Farm management makes sense to those who want to farm. It makes sense because it is a businesslike approach to decision making. Good decisions can only be made by basing these decisions on good information. Thus a farm manager must keep records. A farm manager has to be able to read these records in order that he knows where his business is going.

HOGS ON INCREASE

Meat Packers Council of Canada report October hog survey shows a definite up swing in hog production. There is a good demand for feeder pigs and breeding stock all across the country. Prices and prospective prices for feeder hogs and a good grain harvest in Western Canada have supported a feeling of cautious optimism throughout the industry. When calculating the effects of this new trend of events in the entire industry time must be allowed for the gestation period plus the rearing time and consideration for the fact that new comers to the industry usually prefer spring farrowed hogs.

WELDING SCHOOLS

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is sponsoring a Welding Clinic at Kitscoty Municipal shop December 5th to 9th. Anyone wishing to attend this welding clinic may do so by applying to Mr Krause, M. D. office Kitscoty. Applicants must leave $5.00, the cost of the five day welding course at the time of application.

SMALL INSECTS

Every year new species of insects are [illegible] by scientists. The smallest insect so far known to [illegible] is the battle-dore wing fairy fly. It is only one one-hundredth and twenty-eighth of an inch long and could easily crawl through the eye of a needle.

A pedestrian's error doesn't deserve the death sentence. Watch for pedestrians as you drive in Safe-Driving Week and always. 20-1 20% of all persons killed on roads and highways in Canada were pedestrians.

Medical Health Officers Confer

Approximately 60 Medical Health Officers and Health Unit officials from many Alberta points attended a three-day meeting recently at Edmonton where they discussed details of Health Unit operations. Alberta Department of Health officials attended the annual meeting as consultants. Health Unit board members and secretary-treasurers also attended special discussion groups attended special discussion groups at which electoral procedures and administrative methods were outlined while the medical officers were addressed by Alberta Department of Health personnel and medical authorities on poison control, fluoridation, regulations and other Health Unit responsibilities. Pictured at a conference table at one of the combined sessions are left to right: F. Canadine, Stettler; C. M. Jesperson, Coaldale; Dr E. S. R. C. M. Police Seek Co-operation Of Citizens During Safe-Driving Week

The R.C.M. Police request the co-operation and assistance of all citizens during Safe-Driving Week — December 1st to December 7th, 1960 inclusive. They appeal to those apathetic motorists and pedestrians who refuse to heed the advice and pleas for safe-driving and safe-walking or to believe that such advice is directed towards them. These persons can and do make mistakes which result in traffic deaths and injuries.

From Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 this year in the Alberta areas policed by the R.C.M.P. 147 accidents occurred with 180 persons being killed. Of these accidents 72, or 50% involved only one vehicle and all of these accidents were preventable. There are still far too many single car accidents caused by inattentive driving, poor driving habits and too much speed for road conditions and curves. The number of rear end collisions is growing, which again is caused by inattention on the part of the drivers.

Fifteen pedestrians were killed in this period, which is an increase from the total figure for 1959 of 12 pedestrians killed, showing an appreciable increase in this type of death in the first nine months of 1960.

Eighty seven of the accidents occurred in the daylight hours with sixty occurring in the dark hours. As dark winter months are now with us it is expected that the percentage of accidents by night will increase. Five persons were killed while operating tractors on the highway. Tractor operators must appreciate the fact that the tractor is a dangerous vehicle to operate on the highways, particularly at night.

All drivers are requested to check their lighting and other equipment regularly. Make it a habit.

Police enforcement activities will be increased in Safe-Driving week December 1 to 7, and all citizens could assist by having an accident free week. . . . BE ALERT AND STAY ALIVE!

SEWING TECHNIQUES

Your techniques in sewing will be developed more skillfully if you take pains with your sewing. It is best not to sew when you are tense or tired. Hurrying through sewing may be more time consuming in the long run and you may not be satisfied with the results.

When you are ready to put your sewing away take a few extra minutes and put it away neatly. You will find it less trouble to get started again.

[illegible]

In making any garment, the first step is to select the pattern pieces for the design you have chosen. The extra pieces should be returned to the envelope. This helps avoid confusion and errors. Now is the time to test the pattern for fit. Pin pattern pieces together and fit them to the body. Make necessary alterations before laying the pattern on the fabric.

PATTERN MARKINGS:

Darts, tucks, pleats etc can be readily marked with tracing wheel and tracing paper available at notion counters. These markings should be placed on the wrong side of the fabric although in most cases they will wash out.

SEWING THE FABRIC:

Always test the tension and stitch length on a sample of the fabric you are working on. Use a double thickness of fabric and make machine adjustments if necessary. Follow the pattern instruction sheet for step by step directions. Be certain to use the ⅝ inch seam allowance.

PRESS AS YOU SEW:

This is a basic sewing rule and a very important one. Following this rule helps achieve a professional look in your sewing. A steam iron is preferred by many home sewers but if you do not have one, a damp cloth can be used satisfactorily. A press mitt is very valuable for pressing darts and for easing in the full ness in sleeves. Pressing, remember, differs from ironing in that it is an up and down motion. Ironing on the other hand is a backward and forward motion to remove wrinkles.

Rare Film Depicts Life in Canada's North; Here Soon

Well known Edmonton naturalist and photographer, Edgar T. Jones, has just returned from the Canadian Arctic coast where he has finished his six year project, a color motion picture entitled "Arctic Canada". Residents of Vermilion are being afforded the wonderful opportunity of seeing this film, one of the most unusual and complete ever produced in the Canadian Arctic and sub-arctic regions.

Features of the film are an Eskimo white whale hunt, the ways and lives of Eskimos, their children, their homes. His pictures were taken at Inuvik, Aklavik and many other far northern settlements.

A former bush pilot with some 4300 hours flying time and a lecturer for the National Audubon Society of New York, in wildlife, Mr Jones is well qualified to give a thorough and complete story of life in the Canadian Northland. No Canadian family should miss seeing such a complete film of this wonderful country.

"Arctic Canada" will be shown at the Vermilion high school auditorium on Wednesday Nov. 30th at 8:15 p.m. Admission tickets may be purchased at the door. See the large display advertisement elsewhere in this issue of the Standard for complete particulars.

Clandonald United Church W.A. Meets

The November 10th meeting of Clandonald United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. de Jong with twelve members present and two visitors. It was decided that $10 be sent to Naramata school. Mrs. Cooper is to buy and send a present to Miss Barbara Campbell who is enrolled at the University of Alberta and Miss Gail Goddard who is training for a nurse at Lamont. Best wishes girls in your chosen careers. It was also decided that a bake and farm produce sale would be held at Vermilion in the co-op store on Nov. 26th. The meeting on Dec. 8th will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Campbell. Roll call will be the Christmas gift exchange. Mrs. Goddard prepared a very interesting devotional about people themselves. Much thought should be given to this subject. "You can fool some of the people all of the time, some people most of the time, some people some of the time, but never all of the people all of the time."

When you change your oil, change your driving habits to suit new weather conditions. A good time to rehearse is Safe-Driving Week, Dec 1 to 7. 20-1

600,000 Canadians Will Buy New Cars, '61

More than 600,000 Canadians, it is estimated, will buy a new automobile during the 1961 model year, Ralph Young predicts in The Financial Post.

If each of them decided to try out every model of car for sale in this country, and they kept all the car salesmen in Canada running ragged demonstrating the 430 available at the rate of two each business day, the 1962 models would be almost ready for the showrooms before any potential buyer exhausted the list.

Travelling Art Exhibit Begins Circuit Alberta Communities

The first three of a series of ten art exhibits has begun a circuit of Alberta communities to be shown under the sponsorship of recreation department, schools, libraries and cultural organizations. The other seven exhibits will start their display tours during the next two months.

The travelling exhibit program, believed to be one of the largest in the country, is the result of a co-operative effort on the part of the Arts and Craft Division of the Cultural Activities Branch, the University of Alberta, the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art and the Allied Art Centre in Calgary. Previous to this year, several exhibits were made available to communities. However, this is the first time all organizations have beencombined to participate in such an extensive program.

Alberta communities were canvassed prior to the start of the tour to select the display desired. A maximum of three may be sent to any one point. The only requirement for the local group is to pay any express shipping charges to the next showing point. The enthusiastic response to the program will result in most of the exhibits being used until the end of April, 1961.

Represented in the exhibits are work from the Department of Extension, University of Alberta; Provincial Institute of Technology and Art; Grande Prairie Art Club; Fort McLeod Sketch Club; Lethbridge Sketch Club, Medicine Hat Community Art Club; Calgary Allied Arts, Red Deer-Lacombe-Sylvan Lake Art Club; Drumheller Art Club and the Department of Fine Arts, U. of A.

Shown as they examine paintings of one exhibit ready to be packed and shipped for display are left to right, J. B. Taylor, member of the Provincial Arts and Craft Board and staff member of the U. of A. Fine Arts Department; Professor H. G. Glyde, head of the U of A Fine Arts Department; and W. J. Notelenbos, supervisor of the Handicrafts and Visual Arts division of the Cultural Activities Branch.

Isabel Mix Becomes Bride of Darryl Trueman

November 5 anniversary of the bride's parents, was chosen as the date when Isabel Jean, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. R. Mix, Vermilion, and Darry Roy, eldest son of Mrs. Lillian Trueman and the late Mr. Clarence Trueman of Viking were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony held in the First United Church, was performed by Rev J M Schroeder.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride joined the groom at the altar to the strains of wedding music played by organist Jack Brown. The bride looked lovely in her floor length gown of pure silk taffeta with a brush train. A large Bertha collar with perky front and back bows accented a fitted bodice which extended into a full skirt of taffeta and appliqued hand-clipped Iris lace. Her chapel length veil of silk mist illusion with hand rolled scalloped edge was held in place by a cappulette of pure silk taffeta appliqued with Iris lace to match the wedding gown. The bride carried a bouquet of yellow roses and wore a cultured pearl necklace.

Identical gowns of burnt gold velvet were worn by matron of honor Mrs. Leta Francisco, the bride's sister and bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Porter. They wore white matching headpieces, gloves and cultured pearl necklaces. Their bouquets were bronze mums.

Flower girl Karen Lynn Curt is niece of the bride, carrying a basket of assorted flowers, looked sweet in a burnt gold velvet dress with matching headpiece and cultured pearl necklace.

Dean Francisco, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

John Trueman, brother of the groom and Earl Ireland attended the groom. Ushers were Mr Ben Gray, uncle of the groom and the bride's brother Mr Ron Mix.

"The Wedding Prayer" was sung before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register by Mr Albert Mix, cousin of the bride.

Brown figured silk was chosen by both the bride's mother and the groom's mother for their dresses. Accessories of the bride's mother were brown and beige with a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore accessories of yellow and brown with a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for one hundred and twenty guests was held in the banquet room of the Hub Cafe. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Yellow roses and candles added an autumn touch to the reception hall.

Mr Louis Mix of Edmonton, the bride's uncle, was master of ceremonies and Mr Gerald Kent [illegible] the toast to the bride. Many telegrams of congratulations to the bride and groom were read. Mr Louis Mix proposed a toast to the mother of the bride on her 30th anniversary. The humorous reply from the bride's father was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests.

Leaving for a wedding trip, the bride wore an avocado green suit of cashmere wool under a mouton mink-trimmed jacket. Yellow and brown accessories and an orchid completed her ensemble.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lillian Trueman, Mrs. Marge Gray, Mr John Trueman, Mrs. Blyth Gray and Gloria, Mr and Mrs. Max Gray, Mr and Mrs. Bill Ash, Mr and Mrs. Roy Maxwell, Mr and Mrs. Oscar Knudslien, Miss Selma Lokken, Mr and Mrs. Don Place, Mrs. Sophie Cumissrow and Melvin, and Mr. John Pullen, all of Viking. Mr and Mrs. Ben Gray, Donnabelle, Bonnie and Margie of Chauvin, Mrs. Muriel Tieman, Kamloops. Mr and Mrs. Louis Mix, Mrs Joey Mix and Jeanne, Mr Martin Mix, Mr and Mrs. Jack Mills, Mr and Mrs Wm. Singh Tells Conditions In South Africa

MANNVILLE It was noted with interest at the Nov. 17th meeting of the Home and School Association at Mannville that there were present an estimated crowd of 20[illegible] people. The usual routine of meeting was carried out, with Russell Whitson, president, in the chair. Rev. H. Shell reported on the newly formed group of badminton members, and asked for those interested to make the necessary contacts.

The guest speaker was introduced by Rev Harry Shell of Christ Church, Mannville, who gave a brief outline of Mr Singh's background. Raised in South Africa Mr Singh was obliged to practically fight for his education and when seeking further education was asked to leave Africa, as educated black men were not wanted there. Hewers of wood and drawers of water are most desired by that country. Mr Singh, a widely travelled and well educated young man, is a person with deep convictions, and has the courage to stand behind them.

Choosing as topics for discussion "What's Wrong With Our Schools" by Elsie Kerrigan and Marcus Van Steen, and "Critique of Education", which might be summed up in two questions: first, "Does the Uniformity of Canadian School systems leave much to be desired?" and, second, "Should one become Jack of All Trades and Master of None, or is specialization Needed?". Said topics drew a lively response from the large audience and certainly stimulated some deep thinking. As was evident by groups congregated all over the Auditorium at lunch time deep in discussion.

Rev Frank Andrews, in thanking Mr Singh heartily welcomed him into our midst as a Mannvilleite, and told the gathering of brutal beating necessitating hospitalization, when he achieved high honors on Education.

One wonders, if, by being democratic we HAVE managed to kill freedom somewhere along the line?

Standard Receives Honorable Mention

The item in question reads:

"Bouquets are due the Vermilion Standard for their original and effective illustration on 'How to be a blood donor in four easy steps' 1. Trepidation, 2. Resignation, 3. Relaxation, 4. Satisfaction (inside and out). The novel picture presentation and originality of captions in this illustrated feature merits a 'special bouquet of appreciation'."

The idea, photographs and captions were all the brain child of the Standard news photographer Percy Cooper.

Grain Handlers Strike Is Serious Threat to West

EDMONTON — The Grain Handlers strike in Vancouver will have very serious repercussions on farmers in Western Canada if it continues any length of time, states Mr Nelson, president of the F.U.A., and will create hardships that cannot be overcome. Mr Nelson has communicated with Mr Sims of Vancouver for some clarification of their position and outlined to him the position of the farmers.

The F.U.A. executive is also asking that the Federal department of labor intervene without delay because of the seriousness of the situation.

In the meantime farmers are coming forward to suggest they are ready to go to Vancouver to take over the work of handling grain in their elevators.

Northern Lights Upset Radio

Saturday night's brilliant display of Northern Lights in deep red in the northern sky may have looked beautiful to Edmontonians, but farther north they proved to be troublesome.

Communications across the north country were disrupted for more than a day during the display. The Edmonton weather office reported that temperature readings from the north were not received from mid-day Saturday until late Sunday night.

The display Saturday occurred at a distance of from 30 to 500 miles from the earth's surface, most commonly about 60 miles, and could be seen in both the northern and southern hemispheres.

The motion of sun [illegible] and hence the appearance of northern lights can be predicted. Communications from a Colorado observatory to the University of Alberta physics department indicated Sunday would be a day of [illegible] high activity.

U. F. A. Co-op Set Patronage Dividend Rate of 9.6 p.c.

The Twenty-Ninth Annual Meeting of the U. F. A. Co-op has concluded in Calgary and the delegates and Board of Directors have approved the following:

1. A patronage dividend rate of 9.6% has been declared on petroleum purchases for the fiscal year ended July 31st, 1960. This rate will represent a distribution of $758,000.00 to our farm members.

2. Dividends deferred in 1954 and 1955 will be paid in cash in December. This payment will total approximately $128,000.00. As you know, the dividends earned on each year's operation are deferred and placed in the Revolving Door Plan. The payment at this time of two years' deferment will reduce the Revolving Door Plan to a five-year cycle.

A patronage dividend of 9.6% means that a farmer who purchased $1,000.00 of fuel requirements received a dividend allocation of $96.00, which you will agree, is a story that is well worth telling to both present and prospective customers.

We know you were enthusiastic in telling the story in your community last year of the Co-op's progress, and we believe with the increase in the patronage dividend rate this year, plus the fact that the Revolving Door Plan has been reduced to a five-year cycle, that you will certainly be eager to pass this information on to farm people in your district.

Rotarians Learn Of American Politics

Members of the Vermilion Rotary club learned a lot about American politics at their meeting last Friday, the guest speaker being Mrs Eleanor Maddocks. Mrs. Maddocks came to Vermilion to teach high school in September, coming from Nebraska. As she had majored in political economy she was very well qualified to give the talk she did, naming it "How an American President is Elected".

While she didn't attempt to cover up shortcomings in the system, her enthusiasm and great interest in politics generally indicated to her listeners just why an American election campaign is he greatest show on earth.

Mrs. Maddocks was introduced by Mr J H Blocksidge and the thanks of the club for her very lively and interesting talk were voiced by Gus Mireault.

Alberta Receives Large Share Of Winter Works

Alberta will receive the largest share, $1,634,300, of the winter works program announced for national parks and national historic parks by federal resources minister Dinsdale. These projects will provide winter employment for an estimated 707 men. Of this amount $1,027,000 will be used mainly for road construction in Jasper National Park. Banff National Park received $282,300; Elk Island $167,400; Waterton Lakes $147,400. Alberta has the largest area set aside for national parks of any province in the Dominion.

Six Projects Winter Works Program For Elk Island Park

Six projects are planned for Elk Island National Park as part of the federal government's winter works program. Total cost of these projects will be $267,450 and it is expected they will provide winter employment for about 107 men who reside in the vicinity of the park. All projects are scheduled for completion by March 31, 1961.

Included are plans for long-awaited improvements to park buildings, roads and the campgrounds. Of the total, the major part has been allotted to cover the cost of widening the right-of-way along main roads in the park as well as clearing an access trail in the game isolation area.

CARS BY THE POUND

A supermarket in Los Angeles sells Ford Falcons by the pound, The Financial Post notes. Bought that way, the cars are cheaper than coffee.

The Junior Red Cross was officially established by Parliament in 1922 when the Canadian Red Cross Society Act was amended by Parliament to include peace-time activities.

However, as early as 1899, pupils of St. Mary's, Ontario, were organized to assist the work of the Red Cross during the Boer War. They made socks and other items of comfort to include in the packages sent by the Red Cross to the soldiers in the field.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

Tuesday November 22nd was the largest sale ever recorded at the Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. A great volume of livestock was in evidence, with a good clean-up and prices stronger all the way through. At 12:30 noon, trucks loaded with livestock extended from the Mart down to the western town limits. We feel certain in saying we have proved a point. Concentrate the bulk of livestock at one spot and you will find buyers in one big force.

Heifer and steer stock calves were in good demand. Henry Tonda from Wainwright again hit the high, one lot of steer calves selling for $22.50 per cwt. and one lot of heifers for $22.25. Mike Farkash and Eric Nelson were runners-up with lots of steer calves selling for $21.35.

Following prices prevailed:

Good Fat Steers	20.25	to	20.40
(There were no Choice Fat Steers)
Good Feeder Replacements
Steers	19.00	to	20.50
Heifers	17.00	to	18.50
Good Cows	12.00	to	13.25
Good Bulls	12.00	to	13.10
Stock Steer Calves	21.00	to	22.50
Stock Heifer Calves	18.50	to	22.25
Veal Calves	20.00	to	21.30

Stock cows averaged $158.00.

Hogs were in keeping with the previous week, good bred sows carrying a premium. Feeder hogs from 70 to 100 lbs. sold for high of $21.60.

We would appreciate it if the livestock could be brought in before 12 a.m. Avoid the big rush - come early!

Vermilion is really on the map for an outstanding livestock market. Buyers are coming from distant points such as Fort Saskatchewan, Camrose, Ryley, Saskatoon, Edmonton, etc.

We'll see you next Tuesday.

Betty Sharp Bride of Lorne Taylor At Candlelight Rite

At a candlelight ceremony at Metropolitan United Church, Miss Elsie Elizabeth Sharp recently became the bride of Mr. Lorne Edward Taylor.

The bride is the daughter of Sqdn. Ldr. A. M. Sharp and Mrs. Sharp and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor, all of Edmonton.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a short gown of white peau de soie, designed with a full skirt. A coronet held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a prayer book mounted with a mauve orchid and lily of the valley.

Best man was Mr. James Grot and ushering guests to their pews were Mr. Robert Sharp and Mr. Donald Sharp.

The groom's mother chose a plum-colored dressmaker suit of wool crepe. She wore rust accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride's travelling costume was a blue mohair and wool suit with which she wore a blue and bronze ribbon model hat and beige coat. Her accessories were beige and she wore a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

Upon returning from a motor trip through the United States, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will live in Edmonton.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

A popular speaker at the Alliance Chapel was Paul Edwardson, who has spent the two years since being in Vermilion, in the Islands of Hawaii as a missionary in the city of Honolulu.

Besides bringing an interesting message on his life and experiences in Hawaii, M. Edwardson showed colored films taken in the Islands, played a trumpet solo and sang.

In January he will leave with his family for the Philippine Islands where he will continue in missionary work for the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The "Contact for Christ" campaign is continuing in the Sunday school at the Alliance Chapel and John Love, the promoter, spoke briefly about the campaign on Sunday morning, Nov. 20th. Jim and Robert Teasdale played an instrumental duet on the piano and accordion.

During the morning service E. Clendenning spoke on the Alliance "Witness" subscription campaign which ends Nov. 27th.

Pastor J. M. Schroeder spoke at both services, in the morning the message was the ninth in the series on the Ten Commandments "Thou Shalt Not Bear False Witness". In the evening the topic was "Looking Up to God".

Pianists were Mrs. Ron Mix and Margaret McLennan and they accompanied vocal solos by Mrs. Wayne Mathews and Mr. H. Sorenson and a duet by Mrs. Everett Harris and Margwynne Clendenning. Mr. Albert Mix led the singing.

Work is progressing favorably on the new church residence and it is expected to have it completed before Christmas.

Princess Anne W. I. Notes

The November meeting of the Princess Anne W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Fred West on November 17. Eleven members were present and three visitors Mrs. Stan McCrae, Mrs. Frank Gibson and Mrs. Don Wilson.

The meeting opened with "O Canada" and the Creed. The roll call was answered with a favorite verse. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report accepted.

Correspondence was read and discussed.

There is to be a card party in the Island Hill school on November 25. There is also to be a sale the same evening.

The Christmas party is to be held Saturday, December 17 at Scotchpark. W. I. members are to take part in the concert, also any school children who wish to help entertain.

Mrs. Frank Gibson was our guest speaker and really enlightened us on W. I. work. She also told us some of the highlights during her two weeks at Banff which was very interesting.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Orl Strome and Mrs. Fred West.

Remember the card party Friday, November 25, folks.

Roll call for December meeting is a present for a mental health patient and a gift to your secret sister at Mrs. Allan Mead's.

Million $ Winter Work Program For Jasper Park

Over one million dollars will be spent this year on winter work projects in Jasper National Park, Resources Minister W. Dinsdale has announced. This is part of an extensive government program that will see close to $6,000,000 spent on winter work in sixteen national parks and seven historic parks across Canada.

Eight projects planned for Jasper involve a total expenditure of $1,087,000. It is expected that this program will provide 600 men from the area with employment during the winter. It will end on March 31, 1961.

Most of the work carried out under this program will involve the continuation of road construction on the Banff-Jasper highway as well as some clearing along the Medicine Lake-Maligne highway and the highway from Jasper to the eastern park boundary.

177 Attend Mannville Old Timers' Meeting

MANNVILLE. The Old Timers Association of Mannville and district had one of the best turn outs in years on Saturday evening Nov. 5th as 177 sat down to a turkey banquet in the Orange hall. Roy Hay pronounced the blessing and President Russell Whitson proposed the toast to the Queen. This was followed by a silence of one minute in respect to those departed members who had answered a call to higher service. A. E. Williams welcomed all visitors and old timers. Toast to the latter was proposed by Lloyd, who paid tribute to their pioneer spirit.

In replying, George Bennett suggested the main cause of the wheat surplus today might be the rapid cultivation of the farm lands.

In his toast to the ladies Norman Crooks lauded the pioneer spirit of women who had left comfortable living conditions for privation and no conveniences — women to whom we owed a great debt, and who leave us fulfillment of work accomplished. In reply Mrs. Lily Park thanked Mr. Crooks for his kind words and expressed pleasure at the honor given her in responding.

President Whitson moved a vote of thanks to the Anglican W.A. groups for a bountiful supper.

Acting Secretary Mrs. C. Finlay read minutes of the last meeting and the financial statement was given. Executive decided to publish and print 1000 copies of the Old Timers' book containing early events of Mannville and district, at a cost of $2,300. A small continuing committee was to be appoined to be in charge of publishing and selling the books. The word increase of the book now stands at 57,000 over a desired 40,000. Good paper of excellent quality has been selected while 625 copies will cover the cost at sale price of $4 each. Hearty thanks was given Charles Finlayson who has done a terrific amount of work on the project.

New officers elected were as follows: President — Maurice Smith; Vice-Pres. — Lloyd Boe; Sec'y. - Mrs. Mabel Finlay. The members of executive committee are: Bruce Hubbard, Douglas Clark, Mrs. A. Clark, Lister Emmert, Bill McCaskey.

The meeting was followed by enjoyable entertainment with Mrs. Myrtle Sargent capably discharging her duties as program convener.

Numbers were: a vocal solo, James Johnstone. Vocal duet by Gail Mercer and Dawn Koehler. Vocal quartet Mrs. A. Ross, Mrs. J. Hills, Roy Hay and Rev. F. Andrews; Violin solo, Laraine Younge. Vocal solo, Rev. F. Andrews; Step dance by Jack Chrysler. Mrs Sargent thanked all those who had donated of their time and talent.

The November social of the Golden Age Friendship club was held in the Legion hall on Wednesday evening Nov. 16th with seventy eight members attending. Bingo was the feature attraction of the evening, prizes consisting of groceries, which were very well received. After ten games of bingo had been played, a recess was called for the election of officers for the forthcoming year. Mr. L. Amos acted as chairman for this occasion, and he received a vote of thanks for the very efficient manner in which he conducted the proceedings. After some discussion it was moved by Mr. C. Thompson that the whole slate of officers be re-elected en masse for the coming year. This was seconded by Mr. George Webb and carried unanimously. The officers for this year are as follows: President, Mr. W. Waldenberger; Vice Pres., Mrs. Simonet; Secretary and Press, Mr. P. A. Cross; Treasurer, Mrs. W. Waldenberger; Entertainment Chairman, Mr. Carl Johnson, Mr. Roy Walker, Mr. Hugh Mitchell, Mr. H. Simmons; Kitchen Conveners, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Geo. Whyte, Mrs. Mabel Lee; Sick Convener, Mrs. E. Rivett; Property Conveners, Mrs. W. Waldenberger, Mrs. P. A. Cross; Registrar, Mr. Geo. Whyte.

Many were the nice remarks on the work being done by the president and the various committees.

After the election, five more games of bingo were played with everyone enjoying the fun. A special vote of thanks goes to the Foresters for their kindness in loaning the club the bingo cards and cage. After bingo was finished the girls of the kitchen committee took over and in their usual manner had lunch on in very quick time. The birthday cakes made by Mrs. Waldenberger were very much enjoyed by all. After lunch was disposed of Mr. Waldenberger on behalf of the various committees thanked the members for their support and trusted the club would grow bigger and better as time passed on. He went on to say that the next social would be held in the Legion hall Wednesday afternoon Dec. 21st at 2 p.m. sharp. Please note this change from evening to afternoon. This social will be bigger and better than anything the club has had so far, so please remember the time, place and date for an afternoon of real Christmas festivity. Bring a friend or friends along as they too will have much enjoyment.

All sincere wishes for a speedy recovery to all members who are sick at home or in hospital with the hope that all will be able to attend the Christmas social.

The evening came to a close with Mrs. Simonet accompanying the singing of the theme song followed by "The Queen."

Dewberry United Church W. A.

The November meeting of the Dewberry United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. N. F. Jones with nine members and four visitors present. After the singing of the hymn "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" Mrs. W. Kruger read from the Bible and Mrs. P. Porter gave the reading for the day from the Upper Room.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's report given. The secretary was instructed to write to the W. T. Rawleigh Co. and ask about procuring a coffee urn by selling vanilla. Plans were made for the Pre-Christmas Tea and Bazaar and committees were formed for the different departments. Happy Birthday was sung to one of the members.

The benediction brought the meeting to a close after which lunch was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Purser.

ALLANDALE

My apologies Mr Henry Lumsden of Deer Lake.

Dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hagen's of Clandonald on Nov. 7th were Mr Tom Souder of Edmonton, Mr Eddie Stark with and the Omnesses. A grand visit was enjoyed very much and thanks again to our host and hostess. On the 11th Tom was a guest at the Gus Throndson home in town. Tom accompanied Gus to Lloydminster that morning to call at the home of Mr and Mrs Johnny Nelson.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Alvin Throndson on the arrival of a son, 7 lbs. 7 ozs. on Nov. 12th — Theodore Clifford.

Mr and Mrs Gus Throndson [illegible] were at the Alvin Throndson home while mother was away.

[illegible] of Nov. 9th was [illegible] at the Charlie [illegible] Lake. The [illegible] lovely white pineapple design table [illegible] inches. Her [illegible] table cover [illegible] at the fair.

[illegible] at the [illegible] Nov. [illegible] was well attended. The largest gathering in many years. Melody Ranchers as usual were tops in music. The accordion filled in well with the orchestra.

Mr and Mrs W. C. Laird and daughters Margaret and Kathryn of Clandonald motored to Camrose Nov. 10 to visit daughter Clarice and Cy Trudel and son Colin. They went on to the city to visit son Wayne and Marjorie and daughter Heather Lynn. They returned home on Saturday evening.

Vernon Nelson and Peter Lacusta formed part of a group of hunters who left on Nov. 13 for Sundre. Mrs Anna Lacusta and son Ozzie visited with her parents, the Idelor Nelson home while Peter was away.

On Nov. [illegible] Mr and Mrs Alvin Throndson received a lovely bouquet of red and white mums and congratulations from the latter's sister Sylvia in Vancouver on their fourth wedding anniversary.

The unusual color of the sky the evening of Nov. 13th was odd, interesting and very beautiful. A complete arc was formed in the heavens from the north-west to the south-east; also appearing elsewhere in the sky during the evening. Comments were heard on the radio from Edmonton on this.

Misses Merna and Irene McPhee and Uncle Lorne McPhee from Pelican Lake accompanied Mr and Mrs John David of Vermilion to Edmonton on Nov 12. They attended the football game enjoying it very much but as far as the girls were concerned the wrong team won.

We are very proud of our niece Miss Irene Omness on her wonderful achievements in grade twelve. Congratulations and the best to you in your university studies Irene.

Mr Louis Garnier of Clandonald and his hunting party were successful on their recent trip. The elk steaks were delicious and greatly enjoyed by this correspondent.

Whist will be played at the community centre Dec 2 at 8:30. Proceeds are for Christmas tree treats.

Mrs Mabel Lee accompanied Mr and Mrs Milton Lee to the city for the week-end of Nov. 18. They were guests at the Jimmy Ronaghan home at Sherwood Park.

Very pleased to see so many of our friends and neighbors in town last Friday due perhaps to such a lovely day. Among them were Mr and Mrs C. Christman who are keeping very well.

Mr and Mrs John Pauls and sons from Rabbit Lake [illegible] were visiting at the [illegible] home last week-end. Son Benny Pauls kept the home fires burning.

The new home at the Woody Widen farm is coming along very well. Weather has been co-operating nicely.

Mr and Mrs Idelor Nelson motored to Ferguson Flats last week-end to visit the latter's father, brothers and families.

Mr and Mrs Louis Baldock from Camrose arrived in Vermilion on Nov 21. They will be visiting relatives and friends in town and Allandale district.

It was ten above the morning of Nov. 15th and very Christmas-like. No wind and the recent snow clung to the trees shining and sparkling in the sun with a beautiful blue sky for the background. It was a grand picture.

"Ringing, swinging, dashing they go
Over the crest of the beautiful snow.
Snow so pure when it falls from the sky
As to make one regret to see it lie
To be trampled and tracked by thousands of feet
Till it blends with the filth in the horrible street."

The School Lunch

Health Unit Notes

Mother, your child's health as well as his progress and interest in school may be affected by the meals he eats each day. Therefore, it is important to realize that the school lunch is more than a mid-day snack. It is a mid-day meal.

One of the best ways you can help is to make sure that this mid-day meal is a good one. Here are some suggestions for you. A good lunch has at least one food from each group:

Milk to drink or a milk dish.
Meat, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, dried peas and beans, peanut butter, nuts. Whole wheat bread, [illegible] muffins, cereal products. Fruit or vegetables raw or cooked.

Hints for Preparation of School Lunches

1. Have on hand a supply of wax paper and lunch utensils.
2. A well ventilated metal lunch box is recommended. This should be thoroughly scalded each day.
3. Use a tightly covered container for such foods as milk puddings or salads.
4. Introduce occasional surprises such as nuts or raisins to be eaten at the end of the meal.
5. Keep sandwiches moist by wrapping them in wax paper. If made the night before cover with a damp cloth and keep in a cool place.

Sandwiches

These are easy to carry and nutritious if you select ample portions of the right fillings. Here are a few suggested fillers:

Meat and Poultry — sliced with lettuce. To left-over meat loaf, bologna or liver, add grated onion, celery or carrot.

FISH — flaked with cucumber or tomato juice.

Egg — hard cooked or scrambled, chopped or mashed with diced celery, parsley or chopped onion.

Cheese — sliced or grated, plain or with onion, lettuce, celery, parsley, jam, jelly or nuts.

Peanut Butter — plain or with honey or molasses, banana or other fruit.

Fruit — chopped raisins, dates or prunes.

The Hot Jar Method

By taking a little more time, you may give your child a hot dish with his lunch. Select some food that can be successfully reheated. Place in a glass jar labelled with his name. This could be heated in a hot water bath at school.

HOT JAR

Creamed beef, vegetable, scalloped fish, chowder, stew, potato scallop with sausage, baked beans, thick vegetable soup, cream soups or cream of vegetable soup, mixed vegetables, cheese and rice scallop, rice fruit pudding.

LUNCH BOX

Raw carrot, [illegible] bread, cookies and milk. Cheese sandwiches, orange, cookies and milk. Bread and butter, turnip sticks, fruit juice and cake. Brown bread, orange, cookies and milk. Brown bread, apple and milk. Peanut butter sandwiches, raw prunes and milk. Brown bread, orange and milk. Meat sandwiches, celery, dates and cookies. Cole slaw, brown bread, cake and milk. Meat sandwiches, cookies and tomato juice. Egg sandwiches, grapes, cookies, milk. Vegetable sandwiches, banana, cookies and milk. Sardine sandwiches, tomato, cookies, milk.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Municipal Convention Listens to Tax Proposals

By KEN [illegible]

EDMONTON. — Delegates from all parts of the province converged on the capital city last week to attend the annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts.

Some of them, noting the impressive array of cabinet ministers and government officials listed as guest speakers, understandably expected they might hear something definite about a number of major municipal finance measures currently in the works — notably industrial tax reshuffle, pipeline and power line tax.

If this is what they expected they've gone home disappointed. Municipal Affairs Minister Alfred Hooke was one of the main speakers, but he didn't give away any secrets. Members of the provincial municipal advisory committee took part in a panel discussion which could have produced some significant information but they didn't answer any of the really significant questions either.

Mr Hooke said the new tax program being hammered together by the advisory committee cannot yet be made public. But he indicated that power lines and pipelines will be taxed.

These are the two big tax exemptions in Alberta today, the minister said, and they could produce major revenue to bolster the sagging finances of municipal governments.

All this, of course, is not new. But perhaps more significantly Mr Hooke said the committee's recommendations must be submitted to the provincial cabinet and approved by cabinet before any public disclosure is made.

Mr Hooke didn't say so but this and other recent statements by government officials — including Premier Manning — would seem to indicate the government is no longer absolutely certain it will reshuffle industrial tax revenue and allow municipalities to tax power lines and pipelines.

At this year's session of the legislature there appeared to be no doubt in the minds of government ministers that their program held the answer to many fiscal ills and all seemed in readiness to launch the program at the start of the year.

Since then the committee is known to have changed its opinions somewhat, but whether the proposals will ever be implemented is anyone's guess. At a recent press conference the Premier said the advisory committee's study will help the government decide if in fact the tax revamping is the best answer. This at the time looked like a major switch from the official government attitude of last session.

It will be interesting to see what finally develops. For one thing, the government is under a lot of pressure. On the one hand municipal administrators are shouting for a better deal. On the other oil and gas companies are lobbying against the proposed rural municipal tax on pipelines. And, of course, there's the possibility that cabinet ministers are undecided among themselves over the proposals.

Net result at the moment, in spite of all the talk emanating from Edmonton, is that the public is still in the dark so far as the much-heralded new deal for municipalities is concerned.

PROVINCIAL TREASURER SPEAKS

Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman also addressed the convention and had some interesting thoughts on how government has taken over duties and responsibilities which used to belong to the individual.

Governments must assure prosperity, must guarantee annual wages whether there is any work or not and must provide enough old age security for senior citizens to get along rather handsomely.

The more people demand from the government the more they must pay, and they know it, he said. But they keep deferring the payment in hopes that [illegible] until they're dead. Oddly enough, he said, it seems people would rather have the government steal money from them than take it while they're looking. Maybe we should set up a government pickpocket division, he said.

Mr Hinman was playing on one of his favorite themes. While he handles the purse strings of one of the richest provincial governments in Canada, he is right when he says he doesn't like the way citizens are continually demanding more services without being willing to pay for them.

EARTH'S MOST POWERFUL CREATURE

That's right. Appearance to the contrary, man is the most powerful creature on the face of the earth.

Man—of all creatures—put his brain to work instead of his muscles, shaping energy sources to his own use and betterment.

In Canada we've put our energy sources to work so well we enjoy one of the world's highest standards of living. Take oil for example. Because it has been made available at reasonable prices wherever it is needed, Canadians use more than 1,070,000 gallons an hour. And speaking of reasonable prices, Imperial Oil gets less for a gallon of gasoline today than it did ten years ago.

Mannville Grade 4 Do It Again

MANNVILLE. The Mannville Firecrackers had their annual Apple Day on Monday Oct. 31st. Because of wonderful co-operation from teachers, pupils, parents, storekeepers and others, this was a very successful Junior Red Cross project. In all $91.44 was collected. After expenses were paid a cheque for $82 was sent to the director of Junior Red Cross.

Preparation for Apple Day which includes letters, posters, map work, lessons in courtesy and a tour of the town, were all a part of the regular school work. Making change and counting money of course were added practice in arithmetic.

Apple Day is one way of celebrating Halloween. A big thank you from grade four pupils and Mrs. Logg on behalf of the Junior Red Cross.

Two New Counties Bring Alberta's Total to Fourteen

The Alberta Government has the Counties of Lacombe and Smoky Lake, effective Jan. 1, 1961.

The area now designated as the Municipal District of Smoky Lake No. 80 and the Smoky Lake School Division No. 29 located northeast of Edmonton, will become the County of Smoky Lake No. 13.

The County of Lacombe No. 14 will be geographically the same as the present M.D. of Lacombe No. 64 and the Lacombe School Division No. 56.

School administration will be incorporated into this system with members of the council serving on a school committee instead of creating an independent school board. Local representation is provided by appointing urban representatives from the villages and towns in the county to serve on the school committee. These representatives are not councillors but serve only on one particular committee.

Shop Wisely – Save

A saving of ten per cent on an annual food bill of $1,250 means an extra $125.00 to spend on something else. To get your moneys worth out of every dollar you must always bear in mind the principles of food buymanship, says Patricia Mesrobian, District Home Economist with the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

The first rule is to buy the most economical [illegible]. In the case of meat, the less expensive cuts offer the same food value at less money. Buying the most economical quantity is important too. Bulk buying is recommended for large families with adequate storage facilities. Regarding problem of weight, it is much cheaper to buy one large tin of fish than to buy the equivalent in two small tins.

Always buy the most economical form; do not pay for the wrappings when the product is identical to the one in the less attractive container, warns Miss Mesrobian. Buying by grade should not be overlooked either. All food is graded on the basis of quality and the grade mark appears on the container or product itself. Fancy, choice, standard and sub-standard are the fruit and vegetable grades. Compare the prices of the different grades and choose the most economical one for your purpose. When appearance is not of primary importance the fancy grade would be extravagance. Finally if you want to keep your food bills down, don't buy commodities that are out of season.

The staff of Permasteel Limited, Edmonton; Louis Victor Limited of Red Deer, masonry contractors; Vermilion Plumbing & Heating, charged with installation of plumbing and heating; and Moren Electric who are installing lighting in the new agricultural and recreation centre, are putting forth their best efforts to complete the fine new building on schedule, and district residents are showing a remarkable interest in the project.

The canvass for funds with which to complete payments that will soon be due under the various contracts, is also coming along well and the splendid response of district and town folks a matter for the greatest satisfaction. Already the rural canvass has netted just over $4000 and there are still quite a number who have not as yet made their contributions. Auctioneer Clarence Lovig makes it a point to auction donated articles at each of his Tuesday sales and all who wish to donate in this manner will greatly oblige by contacting the Auction Mart in advance of the Tuesday weekly sale day. Cash donations may be left with S. C. Heckbert, the secretary-manager of the Agricultural Society or with any director of that body.

The town canvass is continuing and it is hoped that the very generous donations of $250 each on the part of some thirty-five business firms may set the pace for all who are interested, so that the building once completed will be entirely free of encumbrance. Members of the Chamber of Commerce are conducting the soliciting in town and all citizens are urged to be ready for the canvassers so that each one may have a part in making available such a fine structure for the future use of young and old. A considerable sum is still required to entirely pay for the unusually useful town and district building and any help financially is certainly appreciated.

Tragedy At Lamont

The greatest tragedy ever to strike an Alberta community was that of Tuesday morning November 29 when a school bus carrying forty-two high school students was struck by a through freight train at a crossing near Lamont. The result was seventeen young people were killed, six seriously injured, with twelve more hospitalized.

Much will be written, much will be said of the tragedy. Bus drivers over the whole of Canada will become more careful, will realize more forcibly than ever the tremendous responsibility of human lives resting entirely on the driver's shoulders. One careless second is all that is needed for a fatal accident.

The town and district of Vermilion was shocked and saddened by the catastrophe. Sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended to the communities of Lamont and Chipman in this the saddest hour of their history.

Private Citizens Asked To Donate To Agricultural Recreation Centre

The recent canvass conducted by the Chamber of Commerce has met with outstanding success, the businesses being very generous indeed with thirty-three donation of $250.00 each topping the list. A number of private citizens have indicated a desire to donate. In order to give each and every person in the town of Vermilion an opportunity to do this, the Chamber of Commerce under the direction of President Angus MacMillan has arranged a door-to-door canvass of the houses so that every citizen will have an the opportunity to do his share for Vermilion's new and outstanding centre.

The canvass will start on Monday Dec 5th and it is planned to have it completed by Dec 10th. In case it is inconvenient to pay right now, post-dated cheques will be quite acceptable. A generous response is anticipated, as this has been the general reception of all plans for the agricultural centre.

Alcoholism Recognized As Major Public Health Problem

"If alcoholism were a communicable disease, a national emergency would be declared," said Dr Wm C. Menninger, the eminent psychiatrist. But alcoholism is in effect a communicable disease, in that its ill effects are felt by so many people other than the alcoholics themselves.

Alcoholism has more victims, direct and indirect. It lasts longer, more dramatically impairs the very structure of society and entails immeasurably greater costs than most of the other public health problems that receive concerted and highly-organized attack from voluntary societies, foundations and governments. Alcoholism actually is not just a problem; it is a massive cluster of problems: medical, social and economic.

Information about problem drinking is available to anyone who is concerned, whether for himself or herself, or for a relative or friend, or for an employee, from the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta or from Alcoholics Anonymous. Both of these organizations operate on a principle that has been responsible for the rehabilitation of many thousands of alcoholics, restoring hope and happiness and life itself to many homes that were broken or near the breaking point.

The principle is contained in the following three parts: 1. Alcoholism is a treatable illness. 2. The alcoholic is a sick person who needs help, and is worth helping. 3. Alcoholism is a public health problem, therefore a public responsibility.

The Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta has two treatment clinics, in Edmonton at 9910 - 103rd Street, and in Calgary at 737 - 13th Avenue S.W. Consultation clinics are held monthly in Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and Grande Prairie. It is hoped that similar services will soon be established in [illegible].

PROFICIENT MILKING

Be regular with your milking and feeding. Always be gentle and don't excite the cows. Don't try to operate more units than you can look after properly and [illegible] yourself. [illegible] massage the cows' udders with hot water [illegible] degrees [illegible] to keep the milking [illegible].

WINTERING CATTLE

[illegible] entering the winter [illegible] be expected to [illegible] some weight. They can be wintered [illegible] on good roughages but to maintain body weight a cow requires 2 pounds of some grain per 100 pounds of body weight per day. Cattle require plenty of water, free access to iodized block salt and a mineral mixture of ½ bonemeal and ½ limestone. Animals on a heavy grain ration require a mineral mixture of ½ limestone and one-half iodized salt. To ensure trouble-free calving and healthy calves, pregnant cows on poor roughage need a vitamin A supplement and 1½ to 2 lbs. of protein supplement per head per day.

COSTS

The costs of resources from or which we produce goods for sale are not always readily recognized. Most [illegible] are [illegible]. Fixed costs are those [illegible] because of ownership regardless of operation and include depreciation, insurance, taxes and interest that would have resulted [illegible]. Variable costs are those that result [illegible] fuel, feed, repairs, grease [illegible]. Total costs divided by units of production equal average cost of production. Marginal costs are what it would cost to produce one more unit of production. Getting any one or all of these costs proves nothing unless they are compared to an equivalent and used to plan for the future. Using these costs and anticipating a conservative production and price expected is basically budgeting.

Letters to the Editor

Toronto, ONT.
Nov. 18, 1960

The Editor,

Christmas will soon be upon us and those of us who love children know that there are few gifts that small fry look forward to with more excitement than watches, mitts, tricycles, [illegible], skates and [illegible]. They help active youngsters get the most out of our great outdoors, the wonderful playgrounds that our country offers in summer and winter.

Some children however cannot take advantage of these recreational pleasures, not because their parents cannot afford the equipment, not because they lack space to play, but because they are crippled by muscular dystrophy. What use are skates to paralysed legs, what use is a baseball bat to arms too weak to hold it? It would be a cruel joke to give MD victims such gifts. The only thing we can give thousands of such handicapped children is hope, hope born of our faith in the ultimate victory of medical research over muscular dystrophy.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association of Canada will be canvassing your readers during the week of Nov. 20-26 for money to finance that kind of research. I hope that every one will give generously, for only in this way can we bring to an end the long wait on the sidelines endured by the victims of MD and a place in their eager hands the treasures they have dreamed of holding.

Yours truly,
Gus Ryden
Honorary Campaign Chairman

United Church W. A. Plan Christmas Party

First United Church W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Webb for the regular monthly meeting. There were only fourteen ladies present to answer the roll call.

The devotional service was led by Mrs. Herbert. Minutes of the October meeting were read and approved. Several reports were given by the committee leaders. A great deal of information was given in the correspondence received and read.

New business was: Conveners for the two wedding receptions, representative to attend official opening of V.V. Lodge, convener and committee for the Dec. 3 bazaar, also a nominating committee. The annual reports should be ready to tabulate on the forms.

Mrs. Layton was then called upon for a few words relating to the manse as the congregation's "Church Home". This was very interesting and informative.

Mrs. Layton invited the W.A. to hold the December meeting at the manse. This is the Xmas exchange party night so a large turnout of ladies is hoped for.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah and a delicious lunch served by the hostesses.

Awards Presented By Islay Home And School Assoc.

Two awards were presented to outstanding Islay students on the evening of Nov. 16 by Mr. King on behalf of the Islay Home and School. The students were Gerald Inman who received $20 for obtaining highest marks in the grade 9 exams last June, and Miss Sandra Ball, $10. Sandra was second in the grade 9 standings for the Islay school.

Shower Honors Susan Wolters

A shower was held in honor of Susan Wolters in the Woodvale home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Watt by her bridesmaid, Margaret Watt. On arrival Susan was seated under a lovely blue umbrella with blue streamers, and watched the thirty guests make a scrap book for her, full of helpful hints illustrated by magazine cuttings, useful for brides. Later on everyone indulged in a contest unscrambling words pertaining to a wedding.

A beautifully decorated box filled to overflowing with presents was then brought in and presented to Susan with a nice speech by Miss Cookie Nelson. A great variety of lovely gifts were received. The mother of the bride-to-be helped with the opening of the parcels and found herself decorated with all the pretty ribbons. Susan very sincerely thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness and Margaret for her kindness in having the shower and hoped all would come and visit her in their new home in the Tolland district.

A delicious lunch, abounding in fancy cookies and cake was served to bring a delightful afternoon to a close.

Shorthorn Steer Brings $8,900

Traditionally the stronghold of beef cattle in Canada, Alberta [illegible] again came through at the Royal Agricultural Winter fair, held at Toronto. A flashy, white Shorthorn steer, bred and exhibited by Leo Halstead and Sons, Carbon, Alberta, was made Grand Champion of the show.

He sold at a modern record price of $10 per pound to Dominion Stores Ltd. He weighed 890 pounds, and, accordingly, brought $8,900.

Adding to Alberta's laurels, the Grand Champion car lot of steers (12 head) was a win for Byers' Flour Mills, Camrose. This superb pen of Shorthorn steers repeated the Byers' win of last year at the same great show.

The Alberta touch was maintained in that the sire of Halstead's champion came from Remitall Farms, Olds, Alta., and the Byers' winners were from cattle purchased at the sale of Hills Ranching Co., Camrose.

Diane Trachuk and Paul Hrabec Wed In Holy Ghost Church, Derwent

MR. and MRS. PAUL HRABEC (Diane Trachuk) of Myrnam

MYRNAM. — Miss Diane Trachuk recently became the bride of Mr. Paul Hrabec at a candlelight service in the Holy Ghost church in Derwent. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Trachuk of Clandonald and the groom is the son of Mr. and [illegible] Nick Hrabec of Myrnam. [illegible] Father Cherkowsky performed the double-ring ceremony.

A floor-length gown of lace over satin styled with a train was worn by the bride. A bateau neckline and lily point sleeves complimented the fitted bodice of lace. A pill box crown fashioned with iridescent sequins held in place the bride's chapel veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Mary Pawlyk, who wore a dress of royal blue wool blend with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The three bridesmaids, Miss Kay Kiziak, Miss Carmen Pawlyk and Miss Vivian Gueutal, wore white cocktail gowns of silk organza over taffeta, blue hats, and carried blue nosegays.

The best man was Mr. Mike Syniuga and the ushers were Mr. Peter Hrabec, the groom's brother, Mr. Mike Krawchuk and Mr. Henry Melnyk.

RECEPTION AND DANCE

A reception and dance for 300 guests was held in the Elks hall where Mr. Syniuga proposed a toast to the bride. For her wedding trip to Rochester, Minnesota, and the eastern U.S., the bride donned a three-piece suit ensemble of shag in moss green tones with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hrabec plan to make their home in Myrnam.

Mr. Michael Bielech and Miss Adeline Kiziak were united in marriage at the St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church at Derwent on November 5th.

TOLLAND TOPICS

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ross who celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 27. May they enjoy many more years of health and happiness together.

Leo Lyness and Freddie McGrath have accompanied Herman Wolters on a short visit to the States.

Visiting for a few days at the writer's home recently was her mother Mrs. Curtis Wilson.

Mrs. Fred Kottmeier accompanied Miss Rosa Wolters to the city after attending the wedding of their niece, Susan Wolters.

Sympathy of the district is extended to the McGrath and McQuid families on the loss of Mrs. McGrath's brother Mr. Harvey Ganton, and Mrs. Raymond McQuid's sister, Mrs. Mary McTavish.

We hope Miss McKerthan is well again soon as she went home Thursday evening with pneumonia. Mrs. Roger Watt is kindly filling in for her.

The annual meeting of the Ganton - Watson Red Cross auxiliary will be held at the home of Mrs. Esma Lyness on the afternoon of Dec. 7th when members are asked to please bring used clothing for the Unitarian Service Committee.

There is quite a bit of activity around Wildmere curling rink these days getting the ice ready for another season of curling.

The last Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Portsmith. The slides on Russia shown by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Portsmith were much enjoyed. Noticed in the pictures were very wide streets, the absence of cars and many beautiful old churches and spires.

Church will be held at Tolland the usual time on Dec. 18th, a Christmas service. We are very sorry to say this will be Mr. Nugent's last service with us as he is leaving for B.C. in January. The family will follow in June when school is out.

Mannville Locals

Two births took place this week, of interest to Mannville and district as both ladies hail from our town. First to arrive was a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dowicki of Edmonton. The second bundle of joy was a boy born on Friday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bennett, now of Edmonton, and who are presently moving to Vermilion we understand.

Edmonton visitors this last week included Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ewing accompanied by Mrs. Jim McLuckie, Mrs. Don Hanning and Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott of Myrnam.

Bereaved By Death of Grandson

On November 25, John Alfred Sinclair aged six years, passed away at the University hospital in Edmonton. He was the beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Sinclair (the former Betty [illegible]) and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kaser of Vermilion. The little boy is survived by one brother Robert and one sister Margaret.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday Nov. 29th at Howard and McBride's Chapel. Rev. G.E. Ball officiated. Interment followed in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Thos. Henderson At Mannville

There passed away at Mannville hospital Nov. 13th a much respected lady of the Ramsay district, Mrs. Thomas Henderson. Born in 1884 at Kent County, Ontario she went to Manitoba in 1899 where she completed high school studies and attended normal school there at Brandon. She taught school until her marriage to Thomas Henderson at Napinka Jan. 1st 1909.

She lived until 192? in Saskatchewan when they came to Alberta. An ardent supporter of the W. I. she was instrumental in forming the W. I. group at Ramsay district where the family farmed. She also was responsible for the Heartaven Homemakers Club at Creelman, Sask. while there. While not a musician, this quietly spoken lady of gentle nature loved nothing better than music and flowers and those of her four children desiring musical training received it. Mrs. Henderson led a completely unselfish life—and one of loyalty and devotion to her husband and family as well as friends and neighbors. Even in the latter days of her illness, which was lengthy, her first concern was for others, and their welfare, with never a word of complaint.

She leaves to mourn her loss her loving husband Thomas, one son Alex of Mannville and four daughters, Beth of Edmonton, Ruth (Mrs. Geo. Campbell) Edmonton, Helen (Mrs. Cotter) of Edmonton, Genevieve (Mrs. Patterson) of Lloydminster and ten grandchildren.

Funeral service was held at Christ Church, Mannville, Rev. Harry Shell officiating. Meyer's Funeral Home of Vermilion was in charge of arrangements.

"Arctic Canada" Proves Outstanding

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the film production "Arctic Canada" shown at the high school auditorium on Wednesday night enjoyed a truly interesting entertainment. The film is an outstanding method of absorbing a lot of education about our northland in a very enjoyable manner. It is a film which could well be included in the school film library.

The showing was accompanied by a running commentary by Mr. Edgar T. Jones, bush pilot of the north, and depicted this land in all its phases — topographical, geographical, climate, wild life, including the many breeds of game native life, their food and habits. In fact it was an absorbing film and should certainly have been viewed by every student and adult. An excellent idea of Canada's north, right up to the Arctic coast can be obtained from viewing these pictures.

Overture Concert Delights Audience of One Thousand

The thunderous applause at the final curtain, was a clear indication of the delight of almost 1000 people, when they attended the performance by the Canadian Opera Company, of "The Merry Wives of Windsor", made possible through membership in the Lloydminster Overture Concert Association and also by a subsidy of the Canada Council. This happened on Wednesday, Nov. 23rd and was at the Lloydminster high school auditorium.

Many were in attendance from North Battleford, students of the Lloydminster high school and others in like organizations, who were associated with this group. It is interesting to note that there are some ninety-five members from the Vermilion area. Eight top trained voices, along with an excellent pianist, gave a wonderful performance, and it is doubtful if this audience would be privileged to have a pleasure of this kind many times, under like circumstances. All the performers were completely in character, gave generously, and when called, appeared five times for curtain calls. Anyone wishing to get memberships in the organization will have an opportunity next May when the usual drive is made for members, and it is at this time that you can do so. Only through the efforts of the committee, driven by Mrs. Iris Skinner of Lloydminster, are these things made possible.

Edwin Torrance Merits Praise

MANNVILLE. — With thirty contributions of blood to his credit at Canadian Red Cross headquarters in Edmonton, Edwin Torrance was recently given a pin with that information contained thereon. The pin is a most attractive one with white mother of pearl and the Red Cross in the centre. Mannville is justly proud of this fine spirit of citizenship which endears Edwin to his many friends.

Mannville District Supports Chest Clinic 90%

MANNVILLE. — Mannville and district people are well pleased with the response to the chest X-ray clinic held here and sponsored by the Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, locally. Well over 90 per cent turned out for the clinic, and it was pointed out that the number of elderly people in attendance was very gratifying. The Legion ladies devoted a good deal of time and effort to this venture and, as usual, did a good job. The staff of the clinic was assisted by these ladies who also provided coffee and lunches, much appreciated by the X-ray personnel.

SAFETY REQUIRES ATTENTION TO DETAILS

Every prescription a pharmacist compounds is a challenge. From thousands of drugs about us, we must select the exact one specified.

An error is unthinkable, for a mistake or overdose could cost a life and our career. Each ingredient must be checked and rechecked for accuracy. The directions must be clearly explained. Each prescription must be permanently recorded for future reference. Careful attention to every detail is necessary for a safe prescription compounding.

Scenes at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Clires Oester of Paradise Valley, Alberta Master Farm Family

UPPER RIGHT—Canning preserves takes up some of Mrs. Oester's time during the busy fall season. Her fully modern kitchen has hot and cold running water, refrigerator, electric stove plus many other electrical conveniences and labor saving devices. A deep freeze, vegetable and preserve area and laundry facilities are located in the basement.

UPPER LEFT—Mr. Oester who recalls working on a farm one summer during the early thirties as a hired hand for his keep and $20, decided several years ago after frost and hail had wiped out two consecutive crops to protect the farm's earning power by fattening cattle for market. Here, he and his son, Fred, examine several head which will be marketed when they reach 1,000 pounds.

LOWER RIGHT—After a day in school where he is in Grade Eleven, Fred has his share of chores to perform. He is seen receiving instructions from his father. The tractor is one of two used on the farm and, along with other machinery, is well maintained and kept in good working order. The farm equipment inventory valued at slightly more than $18,000 has been kept to a minimum.

LOWER LEFT—This is the attractive Oester home, built ten years ago. An attractive lawn and garden grace the farmyard while plentiful shrubs and trees provide summer shade and winter wind protection. The home itself has two rooms upstairs, and four downstairs plus a bath.

RETROSPECT . . . Carry On, Greenlawn Old Timers, Carry On!

Back in 1913 the U.F.A. locals of our district held the first 1st of July picnic on the east side of the Vermilion River close to where Dick Hines now lives. I have the financial statement for 1916 and 1917. The 1916 statement is as follows: Receipts and balance from 1915, $17.24; by sale of badges $56.90; entrance fees (sports) $21.90; booth takings $165.95; total $263.09. Expenses printing etc. $18.95; supplies for booth $103.95; prizes $79.00; cream, milk and eggs $6 (for making ice cream; the ice was obtained from a spring on the bank of the Saskatchewan River); wages $4; cash on hand $54.19. Total $263.09.

We next moved the 1st of July U.F.A. picnic west to St. Wannamaker's homestead. The main attraction at this picnic was a ball game between Bill Mead's team from the west composed of Rock, Bill, George and Tom Mead, Les Read, Slim Robinson and I think Ed Corson and other stalwarts. Tom Eccs' team from the east included Archie Wood pitcher, Dave [illegible] catcher, Jack [illegible] 1st base and Bill McMullen [illegible]. [illegible] was umpire. [illegible] Main interest to the kids at this time was a peanut scramble.

The picnic site was next moved to Black Horse Lake with Billy Dunfield, Acheson, Fred Maddex, Alty Stone and Frank Gray the committee in charge. We remember Alty Stone, Andy Wilson and Bob Braithwaite in charge of the horse racing and Archie Wood getting the foot races going without the aid of a megaphone. What great times we had! Generally the first day of July was grand picnic weather. The over 40 softball game was fun for the players and perhaps more fun for the spectators.

During this period the Greenlawn U.F.A. hall was built first of logs and later enlarged with a lumber addition. Sometimes we were not too warm in there until we got to dancing a good square dance or a fast polka with Bill McMullen operating the fiddle. In the hall we held our meetings, box socials, funerals, Christmas entertainments and church. From the proceeds of our picnics and other fund raising activities many a worthwhile contribution was made to the Red Cross, soldiers' cigarette fund and other worthwhile projects. As the originators grew older and the 1st of July picnic became more popular taking in much more territory, the name was changed to the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association and is now run almost entirely by the younger generation with [illegible] the present president. [illegible] have been very active and valuable workers for the organization. Many others I could mention [illegible]

The Black Horse Lake picnic location was U.F.A. land and was sold so the problem was to find another suitable location so that the 1st of July Greenlawn Old Timers picnic could continue to give pleasure. The problem was solved by the executive completing a long term low rental agreement with [illegible] Any person seventy years or older is given a guest ticket and no admission charged them for the picnic. Small children are also admitted free.

People come from long distances to take in the Greenlawn Old Timers' picnic and renew acquaintances.

Monday evening Nov. 21st invitations were sent to fifty old timers of the district to be guests at a sumptuous banquet, topped off with delicious pie and ice cream. After the banquet slides were shown of Okinawa, Formosa and Japan to finish off an enjoyable evening. Bill Holman showed some most interesting movies of the antics of guests at last year's banquet.

Carry on Greenlawn Old Timers, carry on.

Alberta To Fore In Retarded Schools

The semi-annual meeting of the Alberta Association for Retarded Children was held in the Winnifred Stewart School in Edmonton on Nov 19 and 20. The dates of the meeting coincided with National Retarded Children's Week and about thirty delegates from throughout the province were in attendance. Local associations represented were Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Calgary, Drumheller, Red Deer, Hinton, Edmonton and Grande Prairie. Schools are operating in all of these areas as well as in Vermilion and Vegreville.

Recent figures show that approximately 332 children are attending school in the province, and that 41 full-time teachers are employed along with several part-time teachers and volunteer assistants.

Of special interest at this time was the fact that the Medicine Hat school had just held its official opening on Nov 10th. It is a completely modern unit and is built along the same lines as the school at Lethbridge and Grande Prairie. Edmonton's new school is under construction and Calgary has plans for a second school in that city.

President Dr. L. B. McCallum, who attended the Canadian Association conference in Montreal in September, advised delegates that Alberta has made such rapid progress in the field of educating the retarded that it is no longer necessary for us to look east or south for guidance and direction. Alberta is abreast of developments in both Canada and the United States, and ahead of developments with regard to some of the problems that confront us.

Dr. McCallum urged the delegates to keep in mind and make known what has been accomplished in the short time since the Alberta Association was formed. The next C.A.R.C. conference will be held in Vancouver in September of 1961 and it is hoped that all of the Alberta Associations will be represented there.

It was with regret that the resignation of Mrs. Alice Hollington of Hinton was accepted. Mrs Ken Alexander, also of Hinton, accepted the position of recording secretary for the remainder of the year. The annual meeting of the Alberta Association is scheduled for Calgary on April 8th and 9th, 1961.

Drive Seeks Sense Only

"Canada has many national campaigns each year asking for our dollars to help preserve life and health. This is one that asks only for our sense," said Ira G. Needles of Kitchener, Ont., chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Council, national sponsors of the nation-wide Safe-Driving Week campaign, Dec 1 to 7 inclusive.

Mr Needles recently elected to a second term as CHSC chairman, declared, "Common sense is all anyone needs to keep from killing and being killed in traffic. Without it, Canada's highways will continue to be battle arenas between motorist and motorist, motorist and pedestrian. The loss of human life will continue to exceed that of many a war between nations. Let us walk and drive sensibly and we will save thousands of lives and prevent scores of thousands of crippling, costly accidents."

He pointed out that Safe-Driving Week is an "awareness" campaign designed to reduce traffic deaths, injuries and accidents by emphasizing, for a week, the dire need for safer driving and walking.

Ear Trouble

Health Unit Notes

In the past more than half of adult deafness resulted from the neglect of such infections in childhood. But this need no longer be the case. If a doctor is called promptly whenever a child shows any signs of ear trouble, he can check the infection and guard against loss of hearing.

There are two main causes for serious ear trouble and defective hearing in children.

One is acute infection of the middle ear, and the other is mild or chronic infection which blocks the Eustachian tube and causes mild inflammation of the ear drum. A third cause of defective hearing is the presence of wax or some small object in the outer ear canal.

What the Ear is Like

The ear has three parts: outer, middle and inner. The outer ear canal is about an inch long and the inner end of it is the thin flexible ear drum. Behind the drum lies the small middle ear cavity which passes directly to the throat through a narrow passage about an inch and a half long, called the Eustachian tube. Across the middle ear cavity is a tiny chain of jointed bones called the hammer, anvil and stirrup and beyond these bones is the inner ear, consisting of a labyrinth filled with fluid and semi-circular canals. The labyrinth is a rolled-up passage something like a slice of jelly roll and is the hearing mechanism. The semi-circular canals control balance and unusual pressure or change in the fluid may cause dizziness or sea sickness.

How We Hear

The outer ear helps to gather sound which travels down the outer ear canal to the ear drum. The sound causes the ear drum to vibrate, and the vibrations pass into the middle ear and through the chain of little bones into the inner ear. There the agitation of the fluid creates nerve impulses which travel to the brain and are heard in the form of sound. Hearing is dulled when infection or injury damages the ear drum or blocks the Eustachian tube or the outer ear canal.

Acute Middle Ear Infection

Acute ear infection is usually a complication of some childhood disease such as measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough or influenza. If your child has any general infection, watch for signs of ear trouble such as earache, a sudden rise in temperature, difficulty in hearing and a noticeable turn for the worse in the illness. If your child is too young to tell you about earache and dull hearing he may show signs of ear trouble by a sharp rise in temperature, increased illness, restlessness, crying with pain and sometimes pulling at his ears.

If your child shows some or all of these signs, call your doctor without delay.

He can often check the ear complication before serious damage is done. An acute infection in the ear can develop so fast that an abscess may be formed in the middle ear within a matter of hours, so promptness in calling the doctor and starting treatment is of the greatest importance.

A Running Ear

An abscess in the middle ear may grow so fast that the pressure may burst the eardrum. Pus from the abscess will escape through the hole in the ear drum and appear in the outer ear. This is a running ear. The rupture of the drum will ease the pain which is caused by pressure in the middle ear. But it does not mean that the infection has subsided, so a doctor must treat the infection to prevent it becoming chronic and to save the child's hearing.

Without treatment the discharge may stop after a few days if the infection has not spread beyond the middle ear, and the child's hearing may return to normal. But in many such untreated cases the ear continues to run painlessly for a month or longer, eventually turning into a chronic middle ear infection. When this happens a head cold or exposure to damp and cold weather may cause the ear drum to run again, with more loss of hearing after each attack. There is often an unhealed hole in the ear drum in such cases. Children with this condition need the particular attention of a doctor who can do much to clear it up.

When an ear is running, do not block the canal with absorbent cotton. Let the discharge escape freely, wiping it off when necessary with absorbent cotton moistened with warm water. If there is a hole in the drum, take care to prevent water getting into the ear as it sets up an irritation which may cause a fresh discharge. For this reason ear plugs should be worn while swimming. There are other causes for a running ear such as infection reaching the outer canal from outside. This is uncommon in children.

Mastoiditis

This is a serious complication of acute ear trouble. It usually develops a week or so after the acute infection is over, but in infants it may occur during the acute stage. In older children however it usually develops after the infection seems to be subsiding and the discharge from the ear has slowed up or has stopped although there is still some earache. Suddenly the child's temperature rises, he complains of increased earache and tenderness behind the ear and he becomes very ill. Later there is swelling behind the ear.

What has happened is that the middle ear abscess has not drained completely through the ruptured ear drum and the infection has been forced into the air cells in the bone of the skull behind the ear.

These cells become filled with pus which cannot escape and unless the child is operated on immediately he may lose his hearing or even his life. Fortunately mastoiditis is becoming much less common because more acute ear infections are being treated during their early stages.

Obstructive Deafness

Obstructive deafness is a milder form of ear trouble that occurs more commonly in older children and is caused by comparatively mild infections in the nose or throat. Usually there is no earache but the child may have difficulty in hearing if he has a cold or sore, or his hearing may gradually be getting worse all the time. The difficulty in hearing is caused by infection blocking or obstructing the Eustachian tube running from each side of the throat to slight inflammation of the middle ear with only mild discomfort.

Although there are no acute symptoms, such ear conditions urgently require medical treatment. The doctor can usually check the infection and relieve the ear obstruction which will improve the child's hearing.

Foreign Bodies in the Ear

A common cause of defective hearing in children is the presence of some object in the outer ear canal. Usually it [illegible] wax which may swell up over night and produce sudden deafness. It is easily treated by a doctor or a nurse who can syringe it out. Sometimes a plug of wax an inch long may be removed. Adeline Kiziak, Derwent, Bride of Michael Bielech

On Saturday November 5th the St Joseph's Roman Catholic church at Derwent was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Adeline Kiziak, only daughter of Mr and Mrs. Peter G Kiziak became the bride of Michael Bielech, second son of Mr and Mrs. Carl Bielech, all of Derwent. Father Leszczynski performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She chose a floor-length gown of white net and lace trimmed with simulated pearls and sequins. fitted bodice featured lace lily point sleeves. Her ensemble was completed with a pearl necklet and matching earrings a gift of the groom. Her chapel length veil was of net and lace that was held in a tiara hat trimmed with sequins and pearls matching her gown. The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses, white lily-of-the-valley and green fern.

The bride's attendants were Mrs Ann Hanasyk, godmother of the bride as matron of honor who wore a two-piece ivory beige brocade sheath dress. Her hat and shoes were purple matching her accessories. The bridesmaids were Betty Chomayk, cousin of the bride and Lillian Bielech, sister of the groom. They wore dresses of applegreen and coral shades. Their headpieces were rhinestone tiaras, gifts of the bride with matching jewelry. They carried white apple blossoms with lily of-the-valley sprigs and green fern.

Attending the groom as best man was John Bielech, brother of the groom. Ushers were Edward Bykovich, friend of the groom and Orest Kiziak brother of the bride. They were white sport jackets and black trousers with yellow ties that were gifts of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs Kiziak chose a midler blue dress complemented by an orange hat and orange accessories. The groom's mother chose a dress of medium blue with blue hat and pink accessories.

Following the marriage ceremony the bridal supper was held at the Derwent National hall where guests awaited their arrival. The table was covered with white tablecloths centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The hall was decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells. Mrs. Ann Hanasyk was in charge of the guest book.

The happy couple met most of their wedding guests during donation where they received many good wishes and donations of lovely gifts. The bride and groom then thanked the guests gathered to celebrate this wonderful occasion.

Later that evening an enjoyable time was spent dancing to the music of the Jamboree Boys.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Cabinet Ministers Warn Against Increasing Province Expenditure

By KEN MASON

Over 400 Attend Annual Social Credit Convention

EDMONTON — If last week's annual convention of the Alberta Social Credit League is remembered for anything, it will be for the stern lectures delivered by cabinet ministers on the virtues of thrift.

Money was the theme of nearly every major address, and the gist was that there isn't enough of it to go around under our out-moded, debt-creating monetary system.

Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke was the first one to get into the act by urging municipal administrators to have some second thoughts about putting themselves into debt to provide new services.

Crux of the problem is that the government no longer has enough money to grant low-interest loans to municipalities and if it has to be borrowed outside the interest rate is around 5%. This means, said Mr. Hooke, that the people must pay twice over for the services they buy themselves.

NEW INDUSTRIAL TAX

In reference to the new industrial tax program currently under study, he said it will bring about a more equitable distribution of the tax dollar, but it won't add a single dollar to the overall provincial economy.

The next lecture came from Provincial Treasurer Edgar Hinman and Education Minister Anders Aalborg, speaking in a panel discussion on education and finance. They said bluntly that Albertans can expect to pay higher school taxes or cut back in their school services.

Mr Hinman, who has been delivering similar warnings for several years, said Alberta has reserves totalling $385,000,000, which more than offset direct funded debt of $35,000,000 and indirect guarantee debt of $198,000,000. The government's policy is to keep the treasury in a net debt free position, he said, but in view of circumstances "we are beginning to worry".

RISE IN SCHOOL GRANTS

He revealed that in pre-budget studies this summer all the departments were ordered to calculate for no more than a five per cent increase in their spending. But in some departments even the normal increase, without adding any services, amounts to more than five per cent. The biggest "natural increase" is likely to be in school grants, which have been rising spectacularly as school population soars.

One of the big worries is the guarantee debt. Most of it is money owed by municipalities to the government-sponsored Municipal Financing Corporation, and the principal and interest is backed by the government. Within the foreseeable future the guarantee debt could rise to the point where provincial reserves wouldn't cover it.

Under the bookkeeping system the province uses, this guarantee debt isn't counted as provincial debt, but no matter how you look at it, it is part of the overall debt owed by Albertans.

MONEY PROBLEMS

All in all, speakers at the convention painted a rather gloomy picture. Even Premier Manning joined in when he gave the main address at the annual banquet. Unless something is done to solve the country's money problem, he said, the financial system will collapse and "democracy as we know it, will end".

THREE CRISES

This was one of three crises coming to a head in the next decade, the premier said. The other two are the political crisis of western survival against communist ideology, and moral survival.

Mr Manning said the free world must come up with a philosophy potent enough to counteract the evil ideologies of communism. And he said the world's moral decline must be replaced with a return to the old "absolutes" of right and wrong which would give the free world a potent weapon against communism.

The premier said there are no physical barriers against world peace, but that it can't be attained so long as communism refuses to be satisfied with anything less than world domination.

The 325 delegates and eighty visitors attending the convention also spent a lot of time debating resolutions. They went through their annual discussion on colored margarine and defeated by a narrow five votes a resolution asking the government to permit its sale.

Delegates defeated two motions concerning tax-free purple gasoline. On asked the government to allow service stations to sell it, the other asked that farmers be able to use it in jeeps.

Road Safety Is Personal

J. C. Jefferson, President of the Alberta Safety Council said in opening Safe Driving Week: "We regard Safe Driving Week as a part of our effort to make every motorist and pedestrian realize once and forever that he is the only one who can prevent a traffic accident."

Safe Driving Week is sponsored at the National level by the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Each province carries out the campaign through its own safety organization.

The traffic death toll in Alberta this year is at an all time high although accidents have not increased and injuries are down ten per cent.

On the national scene the death toll is nine persons per day. Injuries occur at the rate of 10 per hour and an accident happens every 80 seconds. 20% of all persons killed are pedestrians. 20% of all drivers involved in accidents are between the ages of 13 and 25 years and about ten per cent are from 16 to 19 years. About 60% of the fatal injuries are skull and spine fractures.

Three-Legged Calf Healthy, Active on Dewberry Farm

The perfectly healthy and very active three-legged calf shown above was born on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Elliott in the Dewberry district. It was calved on May 10th, 1960, and has grown and developed normally ever since. There is, as will be noted in the photo, just a small tuft of skin projecting where the leg should be. Asked if the animal had difficulty in moving about, Mr. Elliott said that it could move very fast on occasion and was very difficult to catch. Apart from the absence of the leg it appears to be a perfectly health, normal heifer calf.

Agricultural Society Annual Meeting Dec. 16

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Agricultural Society will be held in the Masonic Temple on Friday evening, December 16th at 8:00 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is issued to anyone interested in the work of the Society to attend the meeting.

Reports of the executive officers will be presented to the meeting along with the financial statements, and a free discussion of the aims and objectives of Society will be welcome.

The Vermilion Agricultural Society has been operating since 1906 and has each year conducted what has come to be recognized as one of the outstanding B Class fairs in Canada. In addition to a number of agricultural events as seed fairs, summer camps for young farm people short courses for adults, sales of purebred livestock, etc. It meets a need in a community that has seen several of its prominent livestock breeders develop to the point where they have successfully exhibited at the largest fairs in Canada including the Winter Fair. A past president of the Society has, on several occasions, acted as judge at major fairs throughout the country including two years judging at the "Royal," and the Vermilion Society's contacts have doubtless contributed in some measure to the notable success of those who have been granted national recognition.

At the present time the Society is engaged, with other groups of the community in the erection of what will be recognized as one of the finest buildings in Western Canada. With the co-operation of the Dominion government and the town of Vermilion through the generous donation of reserve funds, and a recreation grant made to the town through the Five Year Plan of the provincial government, the Society has the building approaching completion. A board of management will shortly be constituted by the council of Town of Vermilion and the Agricultural Society and it is felt that the structure will serve a most useful purpose in this area for many years to come.

In addition to the notable co-operation of the governments and the Town of Vermilion the [illegible] substantial donations to the building [illegible] canvasses have resulted in very substantial amounts of money being raised, the funds to be utilized in freeing the new building from [illegible].

All citizens are reminded that contribution lists are still open and a fairly large amount of money is still required to entirely pay for the building.

The annual meeting of the Society will see plans advanced for the continuation of the work of the community organization which has carried on so successfully for more than fifty years and all will find a ready welcome [illegible] members of the Society on Friday evening December 16th at the Masonic Temple when the annual meeting is held. Membership in the Society costs only a single dollar and everyone is invited to join and assist in the work that has been carried on for such a long period.

Tigers To Play St. Paul Darts On Vermilion Ice December 14

The Tigers meet the newly organized St. Paul Darts on Vermilion ice on Wednesday next. The famous Hornets have dropped out of the picture at St. Paul and have left a tidy little deficit of close to $5000 to remember them by, as well as some thrilling hockey campaigns and games. Despite this somewhat sad ending, it can be truly said the Hornets brought plenty of exciting entertainment to St Paul and lots of valuable publicity.

The Darts are the new St Paul entry and this organization will rely, like Vermilion has, on local and district talent. If the idea sticks, they will no doubt have a good home brew team in a couple of years.

Lloyd. Sports Writer Back in The Middle '20s

Occasioning much laughter and many wisecracks along coffee row last Thursday was the following article in the Lloydminster "Times".

"While the hockey wars have not commenced as yet, the prospects are bright. Probably not the gruesome knock-'em-down and carry-'em-out kind that used to keep the fans in an uproar when Vegreville paid their visit to our 'air city', but Vermilion — with the help of Archie Miller — now have a covered rink and should provide plenty of competition . . ."

The truth of the whole matter is, of course, that Vermilion built its first covered ice palace in 1927 and is presently in the last stages of erecting a second arena, costing in the neighborhood of one-quarter of a million bucks complete with artificial ice plant, and claimed to top anything in the west.

KNOW YOUR HEART

GREAT SURGICAL ADVANCES ACHIEVED IN RECENT YEARS

One medical authority estimates that in the past 25 years science has learned more about the heart diseases than in all previous centuries. Another prominent physician has stated "if the conquest of these diseases continues at the rate which characterized the 15 years just past, within the life time of physicians now living there will be no cardiovascular disease which cannot be prevented or corrected."

Less than ten years ago — June 1950 — a physician for the first time reported [illegible] operation within a living heart to [illegible] blockage to the flow of blood. The technique has been performed many times, and although an insufficient period has elapsed to permit full evaluation of results, there is reason to believe that the technique has opened a new horizon to life for many.

Research workers are attempting to perfect a [illegible] that will pump and purify blood as a "mechanical heart" for operative purposes. Success in some applications have already been achieved thus permitting the surgeon to divert the blood stream through the "mechanical heart" to perform needed surgery in a bloodless field, thus making possible even greater advances in heart surgery.

Among other dramatic recent advances is the surgical method developed to [illegible] the "blue babies". A fairly large artery branching out from the aorta (the great artery that leads from the heart) is severed and then tied into the pulmonary artery (the vessel carrying blood from the heart to the lungs) increasing very [illegible] the amount of blood sent to the lungs for oxygenation. The "blue" baby disappears almost immediately as the oxygen supply of the blood is [illegible].

How permanent the effects of this operation are remains to be seen. The ten years that have elapsed since it first was performed are not enough to show whether it will overcome permanently some of the harmful effects of the many elements present in this condition. The heart sometimes enlarges after the operation and it may be that further difficulties will develop but obviously there has been a great gain.

Twenty years ago another technique was first demonstrated in the fight against heart diseases. At birth, a duct connects the aorta and the pulmonary artery. This duct normally shrivels away when the baby begins to use his lungs for breathing. If the duct fails to disappear it interferes with the proper oxygenation of the vital blood supply.

In 1938 a surgeon succeeded in tying off this duct. A short time later a method was found to remove the duct entirely, thus reducing possibilities of infection.

Still another recent advance in surgery was the successful "peeling of scar tissue" from the outer walls of damaged hearts. In this operation the surgeon seeks to remove constricting [illegible] that prevents proper action of the heart muscles.

These advances in surgery, coupled with the tremendous strides made in prevention, care and treatment, are only the beginning of the fight against a disease that claimed 66,000 lives in Canada according to the latest official figures and inflicted a million more in a recent year. But they are substantial advances — advances that point the way to new hope for hearts.

SEEKS OF PEACE

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

Many are asking the question "why do we have to blood test for brucellosis?" The Federal Health of Animals branch did not ask for blood testing nor did the provincial or municipal governments. Compulsory blood testing of cattle for brucellosis was demanded by the citizens of this country by stockmen, shippers and people in general. Each has their reason but possibly the threat of undulant fever to man and the threat of abortion [illegible] herds were the determining factors.

[illegible] has undulant fever or who knows someone who has it strongly favors anything to eradicate brucellosis. The compulsory vaccination program has cut down abortions [illegible] to the stage where some people forget. But as long as animals are in our [illegible] the organism in [illegible] they are a threat to man and beast.

Although most of the beef produced in Alberta is marketed in Canada a small significant number of cattle are drained off annually exported to the U.S.A. In itself this export market is not too significant but if it were cut off the price of cattle in Canada would be much lower. Remember what happened when foot and mouth disease broke out. American livestock men are not too happy to see Canadian cattle entering their market. The American farmers are influencial in Washington and what is a better way to keep competition out of their market than barring cattle from non brucellosis free areas. They have done through our eyes apparently more ridiculous things in the past.

FEEDING SWINE

Pigs fed balanced rations require 600 to 750 pounds of feed from weaning to market. A sow requires 2500 to 3000 pounds of feed per year and this has to be charged up against the pigs she raises. Because the sow eats regardless of the litters she raises a farmer must get two litters a year for the enterprise to be profitable. A swine ration should contain from 25 to 30 per cent oats and the rest barley or wheat depending on the pigs' stage of growth and the availability of the the grain. Rations are most easily balanced for protein by adding 15 to 18 per cent commercial protein supplement in the starter, 12 per cent in the grower and 6 per cent in the finishing ration. Your District Agriculturist is always pleased to discuss rations with you.

4-H POULTRY SHOW

The Vermilion-Mannville 4-H Turkey Club held their live-bird Achievement Day November 26th at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. Barry McDonald of Mannville won the Championship in both the Tom and Hen classes. December 17th, 1960, the same 4-H club will hold their annual dressed Turkey show and sale in the Elks Hall, Vermilion. The exhibit will be open to the public at 1:00 p.m. and the sale will start at 2:30 p.m. Birds that do not come up to the judges' standards because of underfinish, bruises, poor bleeding or other damage will not be offered. Everyone is welcome to attend and it will be an opportunity to purchase freshly killed birds for the festive season.

Miss Shirley Hale of Marwayne won the Vermilion River Agricultural Service Board Weed Essay Contest for 1960. The contest is run annually in which young farm people describe how weeds are controlled on their farm. Shirley placed third in the Alberta [illegible].

What Records Can Do

An outstanding example of what Dairy Herd Improvement Records can do for a farmer was illustrated recently when Walter [illegible] of 37 Holstein cows. The 33 head which had been on test with the Provincial Cow Testing Service, averaged $350 each while the remainder of the herd averaged less than $250.

The cows that produced over 10,000 pounds of milk and over 350 pounds of butterfat brought the highest prices. Many of these animals sold for as high as $400.00. Cows with a lower milk production and butterfat rate were down in price accordingly. The buyers paid some attention to type but not very much to date of freshening.

Considering the cows were all grade animals bred to a medium quality Holstein bull these prices were outstanding. None of them had been fitted for the sale which was only decided upon a month before it took place.

Mr. J. L. Kerns, District Agriculturist for the Ponoka district, feels that in view of the above factors, the high prices can be credited to Dairy Herd Improvement Records. Catalogues were printed for the sale which gave the number of days each animal had been milking and the number of pounds of milk and butterfat she had given.

Madge Walker Dies in England

Word was received on Monday morning by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Walker telling of the passing of Miss Madge Walker in Upholland, Lancs, England. Miss Walker was a sister of Mr. Walker and resided in Vermilion from 1912 to 1920 at which time she returned to England. She was in her 81st year. During her stay in Vermilion she was employed by Craig Bros.

Out of a family of nine there are now three living, Mr. Sam Walker, Mrs. H. B. Wilkins at Fort William and Mrs. Annie Aspey in Wigan, Lancs, England.

Special musical selections for the services at Alliance Chapel on Sunday, Dec. 4th were as follows. A ladies' trio by Miss Bertha Wilson, Mrs. Al Curtis and Mrs. Ben Francisco, a piano and accordion duet by Jim and Robert Teasdale and a male quartet by Ross Mix, Albert Mix, Ben Francisco and Rev. J. J. Schroeder. Miss D. Grinde was pianist for the services.

Pastor J. M. Schroeder spoke on "The price that was paid for our souls" in the morning and in the evening service the sermon subject was "Enemies of the Spiritual Life".

The sacrament of Holy Communion was observed in the [illegible].

The final report on the Alliance "Witness" subscription campaign was made by E. Clendenning, indicating that the objective of 100 subscriptions had been exceeded.

Favorable progress is being made on the new church residence and it is expected that the pastor and his family will be able to occupy it before Christmas.

Items of coming interest in the Chapel are AYF banquet on Dec. 13th with Wes Aarum as guest speaker. Sunday school Christmas program Dec. 16 and AYF Candlelight service, Sunday, Dec. 18th. The public is cordially invited to the latter two services.

CHRISTMAS CANDLES

For many of us candles seem to be linked with the traditions of Christmas. While it is true that we can purchase various sizes, shapes and colors, wouldn't you like to spend an afternoon making and decorating your own. The procedure is a simple one and the recipe is as follows:

1½ boxes paraffin, cream of tartar, piece of heavy string. (Decorations such as sequins, holly, sparkle dust, etc.)

Method: Place ½ box (2 slabs) wax into the top of a double boiler and melt over hot water. Meanwhile, take the full box of wax, make [illegible] down the centre (length) of each of the two slabs, lay the string in the ridges, leaving enough for a wick at the top (about 2 inches). Trim later if necessary. Pour a little of the melted paraffin on the slabs and press them firmly together. Now seal on the additional two slabs.

Beating the Melted Wax: When the wax in the double boiler has completely melted, add one tablespoon cream of tartar and start whipping up the mixture with an egg beater as the mixture cools it will foam, when it is firm enough to hold its shape, stop beating and spread the mixture on the outside of the paraffin block. It looks like snow. Work quickly so you can get the block covered before the wax hardens. Cover the top right to the wick. While the wax is still soft, add decorations. Put something sparkly on like gold dust or use holly if you have some.

FLOATING CANDLES

Use a cookie cutter as a mold or make one from cardboard. Pour tinted (use wax crayon green) paraffin to about one inch depth into these molds. When set stick a birthday candle into the middle. Let these lighted candles float in a crystal bowl of tinted water. Nestle the bowl in pine boughs and cones, sprinkle with glitter.

DOORWAY DECORATIONS

With Christmas almost here be certain to say welcome to your guests with a gaily decorated doorway. A few branches of greenery, a saucy red bow and a cluster of pine cones will add warmth and friendliness to the Christmas scene.

Pleasant Valley News

It is anything but pleasant at time of writing here in the valley, cold winds with drifting snow. The chilly weather is certainly noticeable after the long mild spell.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mercier on the arrival of a son.

Mrs. Cummings is, we are glad to report feeling much better following her recent operation.

Mrs. Gillies visited for the week-end at the home of Mrs. Bert Gould. On Friday a trip was made to Lloydminster.

Several beautiful pheasants were noted on the highway of late.

It looked like spring in Lloydminster as there were some lovely white narcissus all in full bloom in the store windows, and a lovely pink begonia as well. This is the time of the year when flowers really make one happy.

News is rather scarce folks, how about telling the writer a few happenings.

Susan Wolters Becomes Bride of Rolf Marthinsen at Vermilion

On Nov. 19th, 1960, Susan Alice Wolters became the bride of Rolf Marthinsen in the First United church, Vermilion, when the Rev. W. O. Nugent of Edmonton united them in a double-ring ceremony.

Susan, the eldest daughter of Mrs. Gladys Wolters, and the late Mr. Otto Wolters of Tolland, entered the church on the arm of her brother Elmer, who gave her in marriage. She wore a white waltz-length gown, with a velvet bodice wide satin skirt with deep pleats, and full-length sleeves. Her waistline veil was held in place by a band of sequins and pearls. Her only jewelry was a set of cultured pearls, a gift from the groom.

She was preceded in church by the two ushers Franklin Wolters and Keith Lyons and her two bridesmaids, Irene Wasylik, sister of the bride and Margaret Watt, a close friend of the bride. The bridesmaids were identically dressed in dusky rose velvet waltz length, princess style gowns, feather hats and matching accessories of the same color. They carried matching cascade bouquets of white carnations.

The groom was supported by Bill McGrath as his best man, and John Wasylik.

During the signing of the register, Miss Rosa [illegible], aunt of the bride sang "I'll Walk Beside You", accompanied by Mrs. Sutherland.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wolters chose a two-piece ensemble of green figured silk with a beige hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Kaare Selte who, with her husband, took the place of the groom's parents who live in Norway, chose a navy blue silk dress with a rose colored hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

At 5:00 o'clock a reception was held in the church basement followed by a delicious turkey supper, served by the church W.A. to which eighty guests were invited.

The room was tastefully decorated with lacy pink streamers and large and small white bells. In the centre of the bridal table stood a lovely wedding cake on a lace cloth, flanked by white candles. Two large baskets of pink gladioli stood in front of the table, making a contrasting picture of beauty.

Rev. W. O. Nugent proposed a toast to the bride with a few well chosen compliments to which the groom wholeheartedly responded, and then in his turn toasted the bridesmaids.

Bill McGrath, the master of ceremonies, then congratulated Rolf and read two telegrams, one from the classmates of Susan in the Presbyterian Deaconess school in Toronto and one from Dr. de Vlieschauwer of the Montreal Immigration Department under whom Susan worked [illegible].

Miss Rosa Wolters then sang "Over the Rainbow" again accompanied by Mrs. Sutherland.

Numerous pictures were taken after the dinner and then of the ceremony of cutting the cake. Susan and Rolf served each of their guests a piece of wedding cake on a cut paper doily.

Out-of-town guests were Rev. W. O. Nugent and his daughter Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Foster, Heather and Ross, Miss Fay Wilson, Mr. Bob Waldeberger and Mr. and Mrs. Phill Dumontier, all of Edmonton.

The newlyweds, covered with confetti, left for a week's honeymoon to Edmonton and points south.

Lloydminster Cheviés spoiled the E.A.H.L. opener for Tiger fans here on Wednesday evening by dumping the Bengals 10 goals to 6. The fans were consoled by the fact that it was a good game and even if the homesters were outscored they had fully fifty per cent of the territorial play, were but slightly behind in shots on goal and this deficiency was in the first period, but lacked that net denting touch. This was a department the Border boys excelled in and then made their shots count on the score board.

Tigers have a promising team. They lacked at least two regulars last night. Andy Legasse who is a tower of strength, and Andy Radford, well known from former years. Put them on the ice last night and they could easily have been the turning point in the game. From the Clippers ranks the Tigers have Glen Velved and Neil Ehbreen along with Leon Manning who was with the team last year. Ehbreen was top scorer picking up two counters. The only other newcomer on the ice was Walter Fleming, a Lloydminster boy working in Vermilion. Two lads up from last year's juveniles, Pete Link and Ron Hemmingway took their regular turn on the ice and looked very much at home with the seniors. Murray Lowrie is back in the Tiger camp and on his performance will be a regular from now on.

Lloydminster trotted out a team built up around their veteran players of Strate, the King brothers, Don Stewart, the Armstrong brothers, Mills and Boyer. They have added a number of young players and as a result have a strong, experienced and exceptionally well balanced outfit.

It took the Tigers all of the first period and half the second to find their sea legs and by that time the Cheviés were in front 5 to 0. When they did get rolling the picture changed and the local supporters had plenty to yell about. At the end of the middle stanza Tigers had outscored their rivals 3 goals to 1 for the session and the score read Cheviés 6, Tigers 3.

Despite the fact the Tigers had more than half the territorial play in the last period, the scoring was decidedly against them. The best they could do was one counter with the visitors running their total to ten. Final count, 10 to 6.

Referees were A. Bidart and J. Kaupman, both of North Battleford. They kept a tight rein on activities from the opening whistle with the whole game being clean as a result.

Cash customers numbered 385.

"In The Land of The Black Bear" to be Shown at Kitscoty

This is a glorious two hour motion picture film depicting all the rugged scenery and animal and bird wonders as seen on a pack train trip with 35 head of horses from Dawson Creek, B.C. to Banff, Alberta. Throughout the world, the picture has been acclaimed as the finest ever seen on Canadian wildlife.

The film has wonderful music and all the natural sounds and voices of the wild creatures. It shows scenes never before taken by a cameraman, such as a huge black bear killing an elk, giant grizzlies and rare mountain caribou. This is a great classic—you will never see anything like it again.

Al Oeming, recognized as Canada's greatest naturalist will be on stage in person with his famous pet cheetah (the fellow who can run 75 miles an hour) to narrate the film. His commentary, witty, clever and humorous, will delight you. His knowledge of the animals of the vast wilderness is unchallenged by any living today.

In the Land of the Black Bear took over six months of hard travelling to film. Every member of your family will love it and no one will ever forget its beauty and its message.

The film will be shown at the Kitscoty auditorium December 14 at 8 p.m. It recently drew an attendance of 2300 when showing at the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton. The show is sponsored by the Kitscoty Chamber of Commerce.

Silver Wedding Is Marked By Family Gathering

A happy week-end gathering took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scott at Borradaile when their sons and daughter all arrived to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of their parents, the anniversary date actually being Nov. 30th.

One gift from the three sons, a beautiful television set, was installed in their parents' home in time to get the broadcast of the Grey Cup game Sunday evening. Other gifts received were a silver tea service "Silver Birch" chinaware and last but not least a [illegible] anniversary fruit cake.

Gordon and his wife [illegible] were celebrating their first wedding anniversary and at present make their home in Calgary. John and Dale were home from Edmonton, and the family circle was completed by daughter Dorothy at home.

MIX-UP IN DATES IN CALF CLUB STORY

[illegible] in some way, the dates became very mixed up in the story carried by the Standard last week regarding the re-organization of the 4-H calf club. Right here and now the Standard wishes to absolve the young reporter who wrote the good story, Donald Good, from all blame. [illegible] had the correct dates. In the process of rewrite two important dates were incorrect. The date set for the next meeting was Dec. 8th, not January 8th as appeared, and the date June 8th should have been Dec. 8th as the deadline for joining.

The Standard hopes that this mix-up will not deter Gordon from further stories. Fortunately such mistakes happen but rarely.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

On sale for Tuesday, Dec. 6th were the following: 199 hogs, 3 horses, 3 sheep and 232 cattle.

Prices were very good with a sharp increase on light stock steer calves. Metro Radish contributed one lot of good quality steer calves which sold for 23.20 per cwt. with an average weight of 475 lbs., the buyer being from Ontario. Hogs were selling in the same price brackets as before. Bred sows carried a higher premium.

Calves	22.00 to 23.20
Light Stocker Steer
Heavy Stocker Steer Calves over 500 lbs.	20.00 to 22.00
Heifer Calves	18.00 to 19.50
Top Yearling Steers 700 lbs. and over	18.50 to 19.00

Good Cows up to $12.50 per cwt.

We had two contributors for the Agricultural Centre. L. McIntosh contributed 2 pups selling for $2.00 and R. Garnett contributed 50 bushels of oats which were purchased by Jim Knudson for $20.50. Thanks fellows.

Dec. 13th is our big sale for W. R. Cornish. Have your hogs in early and also your cattle.

Sale starts at 11:00 a.m.

NEWS from ALLANDALE

Weatherwise it has been as low as 25 below, but milder temperatures followed. There is not much snow to date.

On Nov. 24 Mrs. Jim Martin's brother Dennis McCormick of Rusylvia who is foreman for Pool Construction, was working south of Wainwright at Heath when he was badly injured in a fall. He was rushed to the University hospital in Edmonton. On Sunday, Nov. 27 Mrs. Dennis McCormick, Jim, Edmon, Conn and Ann McCormick motored to the city to see Dennis. Mrs. McCormick stayed in the city to be near her husband.

A lady well known to the Nelson family, Mrs. Evelena Wilson who lives in the city, fell and broke her hip and has been in the Royal Alex hospital for the past month. It will be two months longer before she will be released.

Vernon Nelson recently spent ten days in Vermilion hospital with a throat condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nelson and family spent the week-end of Nov. 25th at Ferguson Flats visiting relatives.

Mr. John Ockerman and sons Arnold and John from Ferguson Flats were visitors at daughter Elsa and Idelore Nelson's home on Sunday, Nov. 27th. The boys had gone for their dad at Fort Saskatchewan where he had been visiting his daughter Lily and Harold Swanson and family.

Mr. Bruce Baldwin from the Jack Cross farm was admitted to the Vermilion hospital on Nov. 28th and underwent an operation the next day. Best wishes for a speedy recovery, Bruce.

Mrs. Wm. Wharry from Mannville is with her daughter Vivian Baldwin while her husband is in hospital.

Our thoughts and sympathy have been with the parents who lost loved ones in the tragic bus accident at Lamont.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlie Omness left in their little wagon on Nov. 21st for a week's holiday. To Edmonton visiting daughter Della, Jimmy and family, then on to Calgary Tuesday morning with a stop at Red Deer to call on Olive and Milton Trussler. They have moved and now have a lovely home among the pines, a large acreage on the outskirts of that city. It is an ideal location. Olive is caring for an invalid lady which she has been doing since her own parents Mr. and Mrs. John Young have passed on. At Lincoln Park we visited daughter Orlene, Paul and family. Paul's cousin's husband has been sent to the Congo and is in the middle of strife and unrest there. Journeying back we stopped at Ponoka on Friday to see sister Grace and Ed Magistad. Morley is doing very well in his training for a nurse. Georgetta is at Three Hills and is expected home for the long Xmas holidays. Stopping again at the Walsh home in Edmonton on Saturday and visited the lovely modern home of Beryl and Tom Greaves. Beryl's parents Mildred and Louis Baldock from Camrose were holidaying there. We enjoyed the football game although for us, the wrong team won. Tommy and a group of seven had just returned from a successful hunting trip. The elk roast was delicious. We arrived home Sunday. Our very efficient caretakers of the farm were sister Flora and Gus Thronsden.

Pleased and surprised to see Geraldine Kada from Clandonald on the bus one day in the city. She is working in Edmonton.

On Dec. 2 Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lacusta from Lloydminster spent the week-end in Edmonton. Son Owen stayed with his grandparents at the Nelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Martin motored to the city on Dec. 3 to visit the latter's brother Dennis McCormick.

A long letter was enjoyed from Ruth and Rufus Omness at Kelowna. They are enjoying their new home with all conveniences. TV is good there. Their daughter Irene is doing very well at University in Edmonton. Very interesting to note her P.T. teacher is Gino Fracas, an Eskimo football great.

Georgie Starko, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Starko was released from the Vermilion hospital recently after undergoing an appendectomy.

It was pleasing to hear Mr. George Braithwaite's voice over CKUA on the 2nd. Not long ago he was our Pool representative. He seems to be farming successfully at Red Deer and clinging to Pool ideas. Mr. Omness met George, a delegate from Red Deer, at Calgary at the Palliser hotel along with our own and other Pool delegates and leaders. He found the day very interesting.

Seven tables of whist were played at the centre on Dec. 2. Prizes went to ladies: Mrs. Mary Watson, Alvin Thronsden and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong, [illegible] Hack McKinnon, Joe Lacinsky and Wm. Armstrong. The prizes and coffee were donated.

A dance will be held at the centre Dec. 9. Proceeds for the Xmas tree. Melody Ranchers orchestra.

The Christmas tree and volunteer program will be held on Dec. 16th at 8 p.m.

Miss Edna Moore of Deer Lake spent the week-end of Dec. 3rd in Vegreville.

Mr. Henry Lumsden of Deer Lake was a recent patient in the Vermilion hospital for a few days.

Cold and very wintery weather visited us on Dec. 4th.

Closing thought: A friend may often be found and lost, but an old friend can never be found and nature has provided that they can not easily be lost.

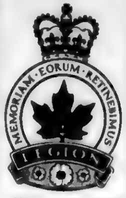
New Badge For The Legion



OTTAWA — The Canadian Legion this month celebrates its 35th anniversary with a new badge.

Although retaining the general shape of the old badge, the new one designed by heraldic expert Alan Beddoe of Ottawa incorporates many changes.

Chief change is in the dropping of the "British Empire Service League" after the name Canadian Legion. This was made necessary when the Commonwealth Association of which the Canadian Legion is a member changed its name in 1958. It is now known as the British Commonwealth Ex-Services League.

While still associated with the B.C.E.L., the Canadian Legion has deleted reference to the other organization in its new badge.

The Royal crown continues to denote service of Legion members in armed services. A single red maple leaf appears on a white background symbolizes Canadian and the word "Legion" appears [illegible] at the base. L.O.L. Lodge To Sponsor Ham and Turkey Bingo

MANNVILLE. — Members of L.O.L. No. 1946 Mannville, at a recent meeting, agreed to again sponsor a ham and turkey Xmas bingo to be held on Dec. 17 starting at 9 p.m. in the Orange hall. This has become an annual event and many lucky players obtain their Christmas dinner very cheaply in this manner. It was also decided to hold a New Year's Eve frolic with all the novelties and favors on Dec. 31 for all those who wish to dance the old year out and the new one in. Good music is promised.

WHAT DO PRESCRIPTIONS CONTAIN?

Sometimes you get a large bottlefull, or perhaps a few tiny tablets or capsules. But, each one also contains several priceless ingredients.

A prescription represents the accumulated knowledge of a physician acquired after many years of study. To compound it properly, a pharmacist had to attend a College of Pharmacy for a long time. The drugs in it took much research to perfect and extensive clinical testing to ensure safe use. Yet, the average prescription costs only about $3.00. Truly, an amazingly low price for better health.

On November 7, 1885, a group of bearded, frock-coated, beaver-hatted, Canadian Pacific officers and directors, surrounded by railway engineers and trackworkers, gathered in the chilly mist of Eagle Pass at Craigellachie, British Columbia, to watch the driving of the spike that completed Canada's first transcontinental railway. Historians say that Lord Strathcona's hammer-taps were literally heard around the world, since the linking of the rails at Craigellachie fulfilled the terms of Confederation, making Canada at last truly a nation "from sea unto sea". In Montreal, N. R. Crump, president of today's Canadian Pacific, commenting on the 75th anniversary of the event, said "While on this historic occasion we pay homage to the great figures of the past—the men who built Canada's first transcontinental railway—it should not be forgotten that it was their vision of the future which laid the economic foundations of nationhood and also established the basis of the world-wide transportation enterprise of CanadianPacific today". Canadian Pacific has grown in the seven and a half decades since Craigellachie into an integrated transportation system of 85,000 route miles serving Canada and the world by land, sea and air.

Church Bazaar Very Successful

MANNVILLE. — Saturday, Nov. 26th found one of the largest crowds in recent years at the United Church W.A. bazaar held in the social rooms. From the time of the prayer which was offered by Mrs. Frank Andrews officially opening the bazaar to the late afternoon hours and despite Grey Cup day the venture was exceptionally well attended. One could purchase goodies of home baking at one table and from others pick up Xmas gifts, mainly aprons of various styles and colors. The C.G.I.T. groups were [illegible] present, the senior group selling cards and gift wrappings while the juniors offered delicious candy.

Letters to the Editor

VERMILION RIVER COWS

Dear Editor

Regarding the blood test for brucellosis in cattle farmers are surprised that this should be necessary. We have been vaccinating heifers for eight years. So all the cows under nine years have been immunized. The only suspicion now is on the fraction not vaccinated. We are led to believe there is no danger in beef consumed, the only danger is in the milk. So blood test milk cows only. What a comfort if we don't have to wrestle with the wild rangers but only the gentle bossie. What special advantage in having the municipality a "declared" area? Let us look back to the time the farmers were fined with a threat of jail for having Canada thistle. This agitation soled off nicely. True enough bangs is a deadly disease but the rank and file are willing to depend on vaccination.

Kitscoty, Alberta

ON THIS AND THAT

Dear Editor

Once in awhile some subject stirs me and I write a letter to the editor of the paper. I often wonder if it is worth my trouble and the editor's trouble in printing them. I am trying once again. I usually read papers taking a little different slant from the general run of our papers which usually take their viewpoints from the Capitalist forms of view or the employers standpoint. There are usually two sides to a question and it is not fair just to look at one side. The Commonwealth Paper published in Regina Sask. usually takes the side of labor and is interested in the CCF party, a Socialist Democratic party. Now I don't think that there are many of your readers read this paper so for their information and enlightenment I would like to quote from an article in Nov. 9th paper by the Hon. W. G. Davies, member of Public Works, Saskatchewan. Mr Davies said there is a good deal of propaganda current to the effect that labor was pricing help out of the market because of better conditions and higher wages. He said that the figures disputed this thesis. Mr Davis said that from 1953 to 59 the increase in wages in West Germany and the United Kingdom had risen at almost twice the Canadian rate in this six year period wage rates had risen West Germany 48.4% 49% in the U.K. and only 26.5% in Canada and the same comparison held true for Italy and Japan.

We have all been subject to the above propaganda used just a bit to antagonize the farmers against the Labor Unions when there is no truth in it.

I also notice an article in the Nov. 16th issue of the Commonwealth which should be of interest to your readers this is speaking of U.S. Steel. For every dollar granted in a wage increase the Corporation gained $5 in increased prices. Ten years ago U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel shares were selling at $50 to $75. Today the market value is around [illegible] a share. The Governor of the Bank of Canada says Canada is the world's greatest debtor that 60 per cent of dividends paid by Canadian corporations go to non residents mainly in the U.S.A. This explains why a rich province like Alberta has to go cap in hand to borrow this money back to carry on at big interest. All the big sums of money paid by the oil interests to the Alberta government for oil rights has to be held as a debt to be collected back by these interests or they could not carry on.

The editor of the Edmonton Journal says at the finish of an editorial "All this country needs is hard thinking and hard work." and I would add remembering such things as the Pipe Line deal and what Mr Diefenbaker said about it and the Conversion Loan policy and interest rates went up 80% in one year put through by the present federal government.

It is time for a change in Government and there is only one party that would make any difference and that is the Socialist party.

I would like to make another socialist Technocracy Solution: we must shorten the work week to employ everybody and distribute plenty to all without profit or price. My solution too Social Credit promised basic dividends to all, a just price, [illegible] interest, no taxes and no millionaires. This would be fine why don't they do it?"

B. C. CHRISTMAS TREES GO CNR TO U. S. MARKET

VANCOUVER Dec. 3rd. Thick bushy Christmas trees from the Kamloops and North Okanagan regions of British Columbia about 150 thousand of them will be shipped by CNR to the United States this year.

Canadian National Railways is employing in excess of 100 box cars to make the shipments of young Douglas firs. Each car will carry between 1,200 and 1,500 trees to California, the Central and Southern States, all of them carefully handled and ready for the Christmas season.

The mean temperature in the Peace River area, on the year's average, is 33.3 degrees.

"Portrait Look" Party Frock

"Portrait look" party frocks will be popular this season with the young miss who shows a growing interest in her wardrobe. "Young Lass" party dresses like this one in a lustrous broadcloth of 65 per cent "Terylene" and 35 per cent combed cotton come in jewel tones of sapphire blue, amethyst and rose sapphire. Designed by Kiddie Craft these dresses are amazingly wrinkle-resistant. They can be machine or hand washed and worn with little or no ironing. The "portrait" dresses are available in sizes 3 to 14.

$9.5 Million Farm Land Bought Under New Act

Farm land valued at $9,500,000 has been approved for purchase under the Alberta Farm Purchase Credit Act. "The purpose of providing loans under this Act is to help farmers to acquire efficient production units," says G. R. Sheflin, Chairman of the provincial advisory committee. A loan can be used to make an initial land purchase or to enlarge an existing holding.

A total of 1153 applications have been received to date. Of this number 873 were approved. 35 temporarily tabled because of insufficient resources of the applicant to handle the proposed purchase were the usual reasons for rejection. When the property will provide the farm family with a livelihood and also enable the annual payments to be met, it is considered to be an economic unit.

Under the terms of the Act, the purchaser must make a down payment of 20 per cent of purchase price of the land while the government advances 80 per cent. The purchaser pays 5 per cent interest on the amount borrowed and may pay off his debt over a 20 year period. The loan may also be prepaid at any time without an additional premium. The life of the purchaser is insured by the government for the total amount outstanding on his contract.

To be eligible for a loan, an applicant must be a Canadian citizen or a British subject with good character references. He must also be under 55 but over 21 years of age and have had at least three years' farming experience in addition to three years' residence in Alberta. He must have or have access to the equipment and other resources necessary to farm the land.

Applications can be obtained from the Farm Purchase Board in the municipality in which the land to be purchased is situated. Since it usually takes from six weeks to two months to process an application, prospective applicants are advised to apply well in advance of the time they actually want to take possession of the land.

Soviet Students Spend Three Days At the U. of A.

Four students from the Soviet Union currently on a month-long tour of Canadian universities, were at the University of Alberta in Edmonton Tuesday, November 22nd.

The Soviet delegation, made up of three men and a woman, arrived in Halifax October 30th. They are scheduled to return to the Soviet Union about November 27th.

The four are Alexei Golubev, the leader of the group, Emmanuil [illegible], Boris Ponomarev and Miss Alla Tsetsarova, the only woman in the group.

The Canadian tour is sponsored by The National Federation of Canadian University Students, with each university to be visited contributing a share of the total expenses.

A group of Canadian university students is expected to make a similar tour of the Soviet Union in May of next year.

The exchange is designed to acquaint the students with the customs and activities of each other and to maintain good relations between the sponsoring student bodies in the two countries.

A 12-man committee, under the direction of local NFCUS chairman Dave McLean, was set up to plan the itinerary of the four during their stay in Edmonton.

The Soviet students were met by student officials at the new Municipal airport upon their arrival from Calgary at 9:15 P.M. on Monday, November 21st.

Their schedule for the following day included a tour of the fraternity houses, a shopping tour and an open discussion period with the Alberta students.

The local committee tried to keep the visit on an informal basis and allowed the visiting students as many opportunities as possible to learn more about the activities and the students on the Alberta campus.

News from Heinsburg

Mr and Mrs. Jimmy Gregor and family have moved to Fort St. John where Jimmy will be working in future. We wish them the best of luck.

Paul Juba has sold his house to Mr and Mrs. Bill Gregor who will move into town shortly. The Juba family have rented the Maxwell house where they have already taken up residence.

In spite of the temperature being below zero, the river is still unsafe for heavy traffic crossing. A Department of Transport truck broke through the ice but was able to get out without too much trouble. No one was hurt in the mishap. The bus driver for the schoolchildren isn't taking any chances, so they are walking across the river.

The skating rink is being well patronized by the youngsters every night but as yet they have no regular teams for hockey.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Cliff Smallwood, M.P.

This session of Parliament has started earlier than usual and it was very encouraging to see that the debate on the Speech from the Throne was shortened from ten days to one day.

This gave the Government a chance to bring forth important legislation such as amendments to encourage additional building, and the passing of the bill by which small business men will be improvements to their business premises and equipment. I feel this is legislation that is long overdue as these business men need this help to improve their premises in order that they can compete with the larger chain stores and large business firms. Before this session is over, the Unemployment Insurance Act will be placed before Parliament to safeguard the purpose of this Act and to strengthen the fund and correct abuses which have developed in its practice.

ACREAGE PAYMENTS FOR 1960

I would like to make a few remarks about the acreage payable to borrow money under guaranteed bank loans to finance ments which were paid last fall. At the time they were paid, it was on the basis of the 1959 permit book. I found that some of my constituents were missed out as they had neglected to take out a permit book in 1959. Other members of Parliament from Western Canada ran into the same circumstances in their constituencies and immediately upon our return to Ottawa we took this problem up with the new minister of Agriculture. I can assure you the Honorable Alvin Hamilton was very interested in the welfare of the farmers in Western Canada and, after a short conference with him, he made the following statement in the House of Commons:

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton told the House of Commons that because of climatic conditions, many grain producers did not bother to take out permits.

He explained that in order to allow these growers to share in the acreage payment program, they will now be eligible provided they held Wheat Board permits for the crops harvested in 1958 and 1960 and were producers in 1959.

An Order in Council August 31 this year authorized payment of $1 per acre to a maximum of 200 acres to holders of permits for the 1959-60 crop year, which is in lieu of a two-price system which is the equivalent of $1 a bushel for grain consumed domestically by humans.

The use of the 1959-60 permits, Mr. Hamilton said, allowed payments to be made much earlier than if the 1960-61 permits had been used. Payments were started September 12 and cheques were issued against eligible permits by October 7.

Value of cheques issued to date is about $40,070,000.

To qualify under the amendment producers will be required to complete an affidavit giving details of their operations. Applications will be mailed out shortly and they must be returned to the Canadian Wheat Board as agent of the Minister of Agriculture, by February 28, 1961.

There were 224,717 permits issued in 1959-60 and it is estimated that there may be another 3,000 farmers eligible under the terms of the amendment.

I would like to suggest to my constituents that regardless of whether you are dried out or frozen out, please be sure and obtain your 1961 grain permit book this summer.

District Delegates Attend Wheat Meeting, Calgary

Recent business visitors to Calgary were local delegates of the Alberta Wheat Pool. The annual meeting of this organization was held at the Palliser Hotel, Calgary from November 28 to December 2. In attendance from this area were delegates George Mead, of Vermilion; Parke Dobson, of Paradise Valley; Roy Kent, of Marwayne; Don Redmond of Edgerton, and Jim Jackson, of Irma. Also present were Milo Fleming, fieldman, and John Preston, superintendent. One of our local farmers, Mr. Orley Dimness of Alandale took in one of the afternoon sessions. Mr Dimness, who is an original contract holder with the Pool, was very impressed with the manner in which the meeting was conducted.

While a great deal of business was dealt with, the strike of the grain handlers at Vancouver was considered first. It was during the annual meeting that the Union allowed its members to go back to work.

An item that will soon be noticed locally was the disposition of almost two and one half million dollars in earnings. This will be on the basis of 4.56 cents per bushel on wheat, flax and rapeseed and 2.283 cents per bushel on oats, barley and rye. Reserves of all active members 72 years of age and over will be purchased. A cash refund of 4 per cent will be made to all members who purchased fertilizer from the Pool during the past year.

Under the Members' Accident Insurance Plan, which is cost free to Pool patrons, over 200 accident claims were settled. Involved were 19 fatalities, 21 claims of dismemberment and two for loss of eyesight. The remainder were for medical and various other expenses.

However all was not work. On Monday, November 28 a banquet and dance was held in the Palliser. Guest speaker was Mr Grant MacEwan who chose as his topic "One Hundred Years of Wheat." This was very cleverly related to the life history of the Pool's "Grand Old Man" Mr Henry Wise Wood.

The convention was saddened by the news of the [illegible] accident at Lamont. Several people at the convention had near relatives going to school at Lamont and it was late in the day before an accurate casualty list was available in Calgary. Mr Mike Ropchan of Willingdon organized a collection among the delegates and a substantial sum of money was sent to the Lions Club at Chipman for aid to the injured.

The meeting adjourned on Friday, December 2, and as usual was followed by a frantic scramble for transportation home.

Alcoholism . . What It Is

With the cooperation of the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, the Standard commences this week a series on alcoholism and its effect on the community. The first in the series is entitled "Alcoholism - What it is".

The kind of alcoholism we see in this country and in Alberta most frequently is properly known as a disease having a characteristic train of symptoms and following a generally predictable course. We can boil it down to two simple statements:

1. A condition that exists when a person's drinking is causing increasingly serious problems in one or more areas of his life, domestic, social or vocational.

2. Progressive loss of the ability to drink according to intention.

Alcoholism has been officially recognized as an illness by several medical and hospital associations, the World Health Organization and some Blue Cross, State and Provincial hospitalization plans.

The alcoholism that we see most frequently here has certain characteristics among which are:

1. It is progressive. Unless the person stops drinking altogether his illness gets worse and gets worse at a more rapid pace. If not arrested, the eventual outcome is loss of family, friends and job and probably premature death.

2. It is a persistent disease usually progressing through a number of years, the average being between ten and fifteen. There is some cases where alcoholism has developed in two or three years, others in which it has taken [illegible] thirty years.

3. Alcoholism is a treatable illness. [illegible] he is an alcoholic and he has forever lost the capacity to drink at all. Recovery is possible: recovery of sobriety, recovery of health and happiness, recovery of the ability to live as others do in the everyday world — citizen, parent, worker, acceptable member of society — recovery in short of every ordinary satisfying human function. Though an alcoholic may remain sober for long periods, 15, 20 years or more, he still remains an alcoholic and will inevitably revert to the old alcoholic patterns of drinking if he does not stay away from that first drink.

4. The patient is usually the last to recognize his illness. This is in fact one of the symptoms of the disease. In most cases it has been obvious to everyone for a long time that he is an alcoholic before he himself recognizes or admits it. He will avoid and probably resent strongly any intimation or hint that he is a problem drinker.

5. Treatment facilities are available providing hope to anyone wishing to recover. Even late stages are treatable provided that the person wants to recover. There is ample evidence of this fact in Alcoholics Anonymous with several hundred thousand members in 82 countries, and in the records of the professional treatment centres like the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta.

The next feature in this series will deal with the subject "Who are our Alcoholics?"

Future subjects will include: What causes alcoholism? Is there a cure for alcoholism? Phases in the development of Alcoholism; Blackouts and other [illegible]; Recovery from [illegible] treatment resources: Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, Alcoholics Anonymous [illegible]

[illegible] information [illegible] Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, [illegible] St. Edmonton [illegible] Alcoholics Anonymous [illegible] Jasper Ave. Edmonton.

Debbie Soames looks pretty pleased with herself, for not everyone has the chance to ring the bell on a fire engine. Debbie has muscular dystrophy, and her friend Platoon Chief Ashley has invited her to signal the start of the 1960 March for Muscular Dystrophy — a fund-raising drive to finance research into the disease. The success of the March will depend largely on the help of firefighters all over Canada.

Dewberry Home & School Association Sees Pictures of Okinawa and Tokyo

Large Attendance Enjoys Program

DEWBERRY — It was very gratifying to see so many people attend the November meeting of the Dewberry Home and School Association.

The following committees were appointed: Lunch committee for the next three months — Mrs [illegible], Mrs Collins, Mrs W. Southwaite; Parent Night — Mr Kruger, Mrs Wm Holman, Mrs W. Matheson, Mr Bachmann.

The highlight of the November meeting of Dewberry Home and School was Mr Ben Bachmann's guided tour of Okinawa and Tokyo via color slides, most of which he made himself while stationed at the big American military outpost on Okinawa in '58 and '59. Mr Bachmann is a native of Nebraska, and has come to teach in Dewberry as the first lap of an [illegible] educational tour. The [illegible] thought perhaps he intended to settle [illegible] fair city.

The [illegible] of Okinawa, about seventy miles long by seven, and situated half way between Formosa (Nationalist China) and the southernmost tip of Japan is the key far outpost of U.S.A. military might. Here is situated an important part of what our guide referred to as the American Propaganda Machine. The Voice of America radio station on Okinawa is so powerful that it [illegible] reach pretty well around the world.

One of the first slides depicted a highway and bus stop scene. It could have been anywhere on our own continent, but for the small three-wheeled truck approaching the camera. "And don't you see Dewberry printed right there on the post?" our guide asked.

The many vivid slides, so lifelike that one was frequently tricked into seeing motion, depicted a life very different from that of our own district. Typical of the contrast was a heavily loaded cart, which appeared almost as big as our two-wheeled automobile trailer. "Another common conveyance," our entertainer commented, "pull-it yourself." One scene a short way from a left-over sniper's nest where Japanese machine guns watched landing U. S. Marines, shows a group of elderly women crouched in the tide shallows, gathering seaweed and small life for their dinners. In another, huddled along both sides of a dirt track, little huts or stables about six or ten feet square, and roofed with tiles of thatch, turn out to be homes, where ordinary people live, work, and care for one another.

Of special interest to rural people were the numerous pictures of farming. The main crops are rice and sweet potatoes, two crops a year usually harvested, about April and October. The soil, though fairly productive, is light gray to red, and methods are intensive. Except for rock outcroppings, the hills of the northern part of the island seem to have been almost completely terraced, the soil dug by hand with crude implements, carried in baskets, and dumped where needed, to make steps about 4 yards wide whose main crop would be the sweet potatoes. The valleys where rice can be grown are divided into patchwork quilts of fields divided by narrow raised strips dark green with grass. Mr Bachmann told us that the largest of these fields would probably be big enough for an ox to turn around in, if they used one. The harvests are taken off by hand, much as our gardens are. To our surprise our guide told us that there are walls in some uncultivated land on Okinawa, and some of it seemed to be along the banks of an enchanting river straight out of an oriental painting. We were told that this was once a beautiful clear stream, but that the water has flowed muddy ever since World War II. Another picture was pointed out as unusual because there were birds in it, birds being rare in Okinawa and Japan since the end of the war.

There were good town and city pictures too, showing the low buildings, all of wood, with roof-high cement walls along the shore to protect against the typhoon winds. Almost no paint is used, except where the chief clientele is American. We were startled to see American cafe signs and a metal Coca-Cola sign tacked to one side wall. The open markets displayed piles of oversized vegetables and flower-like pieces of artificially colored coral. The stores seemed full of oranges, though they were particularly prized by hungry children.

The men in the audience yearned through the exciting display of dancing girls at a dancing academy revue, wearing a wide variety of traditional oriental costumes, ranging from the flamboyant to classic simplicity. Another exotic scent of the orient is in the Shinto and Buddhist temples. Mr Bachmann showed one slide with all the shuddery mystery of the Far East, the interior of a rich Buddhist temple at night. There was a shot of an Animist shrine to the local potato god; next, a good one of the god himself leaning against an ornamental pillar — a very good likeness.

I'm sure all Home and School members were particularly interested in slides dealing with education in Okinawa. The school and grounds pictured were scarcely recognized as such, so gray and bleak were they. Mr Bachmann told us that apart from the writing surface many of the desks were entirely of rough lumber. All other facilities and books are scarce, also. Because of this children begin in grade six to write crucial tests. Fail and you are "drowned"; pass, and you may have a chance to go higher. Only the very best students are able to go on to higher education. This may be why slides showing school uniforms seemed to point out only children under twelve. If the school and its interior appointments were bleak, the playgrounds were a study indeed. They looked absolutely barren, rock hard, and cindery, and overlooked a graveyard, where the ashes of the dead are interred in vaults.

The Japanese pictures included magnificent displays of Tokyo's night lights, with their reflections in water, brilliant and shimmering. Advertising balloons floating above the more familiar looking buildings of downtown Tokyo, were lighted at night, and the moving lights of autos and aircraft, caught in time exposures, added their own weird touch. We were told that there are scores of tiny shops tucked together along the capital city's main streets, where if you have six square feet of space, you can set up a business.

As well as a group of beautiful pictures of Japan's famous cherry blossoms, one including the largest statue of the Buddha in the world, there were a few scenes taken in the Odori theatre in Tokyo, where all the actors are women who play both male and female parts. Oddly enough, there were no slides showing the Kabuki theatre, where only male actors perform. There were, too, a quite complete set of pictures of the home of a "well-to-do" Tokyo man. Of interest were the magnificently landscaped garden, no "lot", this; a split level floor; the bed on the floor with no appearance of makeshift, and the deep tiled bath, into which one steps only after scrubbing and rinsing. Mr Bachmann told us that the water was heated to scalding temperatures by either a fire under the bath or electric elements built into the sides. We also learned that the "real reason" for removing shoes on entering a Japanese house is to avoid breaking the reed mats which cover the floor. Architecture is limited by the stock sizes of these mats, since a grouping of them must properly fit the room. However, the mats are over an inch deep; if you must do without chairs, what an improvement this is over Greenwich Village floors!

The Tokyo pictures permitted us to forget the poverty of Okinawa, the oranges, the birds, the sniper's nest and the muddy river. We came away charmed with cherry blossoms and Japanese grace, hoping that we will later be favoured with a similar showing of slides that Mr Bachmann has made in Formosa, and the United States.

Paradise Valley A.T.A. Sub-Local Meets

The regular meeting of the Paradise Valley Sub-Local of the A.T.A. was held Monday, Nov. 28th, in the Paradise Valley high school. Mrs Lillian [illegible], the president, called the meeting to order. The Christmas party to be held Dec. 17 at the home of Mr and Mrs Bert Welsh was planned. Mrs J. Taylor, our representative on the newly formed Curriculum committee of the Vermilion Local, chose her sub-committee: Mr Miller from the high school section, Mrs. J. Gallagher from junior high and Mrs. S. Leighton from elementary.

Mr [illegible] introduced the guest speaker of the evening in the person of Mr Jim Gardiner. Mr [illegible] attended the Banff School of Fine Arts this past summer and his subject for the evening was [illegible]. This talk was very informative and [illegible].

Mrs. Walter, Mrs. Gallagher and Miss Roberton served a delicious "Chinese dish" following the meeting.

We regret to hear that Miss C. Roberton met with a painful accident when she fell and fractured her hip. She is a patient in the Lloydminster hospital. Miss Roberton is on the P.V. school staff teaching grade 7.

Mrs Jim Gardiner is also in the Lloydminster hospital for treatment. We wish her a quick return to home.

A survey of nearly half a million workers in Canada puts the average payroll cost of fringe benefits at $1,000 per worker per year.

Children Work at Their Play

Health Unit Notes

It is often said that children work at their play. This is understandable for, to them, play can be a serious business since this is their way of exploring the world, of testing skills and ability, trying new things and making friends. Through play their mind is exercised and body strengthened. They choose their own play and as a rule they tend to pick what is "good" for their growth, physically, mentally, socially and emotionally.

THE VALUE OF PLAY

Children have many kinds of play. There is the exploratory play of a baby, dramatic play of whatever age; constructive play with puzzles, aeroplane models, or with dad's tools; creative play with paints, clay, etc. and finally, in outdoor games and sports. In the course of these activities a child may play with adults, older children, younger children, and children of the same age. Also, there are times when he will prefer to play alone.

Play is essential to growing up and to achieving physical and emotional maturity. Through play the child begins to learn more about himself and how to get along with others. In the give and take of play, he soon discovers the importance of self control and the adjusting of his actions to the interests of the group as a whole. By increasing his play skills he is, at the same time, developing an inner sense of confidence and self-assurance. Physical activities are building a healthy body and increasing his strength. Also, through play he is learning what things are made of, how they work and the reason why they work. This helps him to deal more effectively with the world about him. Good hard play is very important not only for children but for adults as well, for it encourages and channels in a constructive way the release of tensions and negative feelings so common in the hustle and bustle of everyday living.

DRAMATIC PLAY

Dramatic play has special value for children. In their play they act out the world as they see it. They will pretend they are mother at home, father going to work, the doctor or nurse in hospital, the teacher, the postman and so on. Play acting helps them to become more familiar with the world around them. It also enables them to express whatever anger, fear — even hate they may have stored up, since they are only doing this for fun. It is a mentally healthy outlet for children. But remember, you can learn a lot about your child's feelings and problems by the way he plays.

CREATIVE PLAY

Creative play gives tremendous satisfaction to the child. And if he is to remain creative and develop genuine self-expression, he must have praise and recognition for his work. Materials that can [illegible] large [illegible] sheets of paper [illegible] [illegible] how well you think they are doing.

WHAT ABOUT PLAYMATES?

A child needs playmates of about his own age for he first [illegible] compare himself with [illegible] begins to discover and [illegible] his own strengths and [illegible] [illegible] of assurance and confidence. Then too because children vary from one activity to another in their play, it is possible for each child in the group to excel at something and so share the satisfactions of being a leader.

YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY

In the beginning it was a question of who ate whom. For a while it must have been touch and go whether man went fishing or fish went manning. Looking around we assume man won out.

At first man competed with earth's other creatures — today men compete with other men to develop nature's energy sources. In the process our standard of living has sky-rocketed.

Competition has helped Canadians achieve one of the world's highest living standards. Take the way it works in the oil business — Imperial Oil and hundreds of other companies compete to supply Canadians with oil. As a result, oil is available at reasonable prices wherever it is needed — and Canadians have turned to oil for more than half their energy needs.

Whoopers Holding Their Own

It's just about beak-counting time for the whoopers, birdland's [illegible] widely publicized minority.

For the past month the rare birds have been checking in at their winter resort, the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Gulf Coast of Texas.

[illegible] the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will take a [illegible] and announce a number as important to bird lovers as [illegible] to a politician. [illegible] are there [illegible] Or less?

The total includes [illegible] who have given up their wandering ways: Crip and Josephine and their three offspring in the Audubon Park Zoo in New Orleans and a bachelor whooper in a zoo in San Antonio, Texas.

Even with the whooper population [illegible] growing from a [illegible] 1954, bird lovers [illegible] ready to predict a comeback and the Audubon Society [illegible] confident until 100 of the big birds turn up.

Although the whoopers once ranged from the Arctic to central Mexico and from New Jersey to the Rockies they numbered no more than 1400 in their heyday but always managed to attract attention. Their unforgettable call can be heard for more than a mile; they are nearly five feet tall and all white except for black wingtips and a scarlet topknot.

They have likeable habits. They mate for life, which may pass 40 years. They are protective to their young, until the time comes for the youngsters to go out on his own and they send him packing.

However, they have a contrary nature which, along with the encroachment of civilization and the relentless marksmanship of hunters, has brought them to the verge of extinction.

Whoopers tolerate other animals but because of their aversion to people they have pushed their breeding grounds northward from Eagle Lake, Iowa to Wood Buffalo Park in northernmost Alberta, 2500 miles from Aransas. Cruising at 40 miles an hour, but stopping often to feed, a whooper takes about two weeks to make its semi-annual trips between the two points.

Although most hunters have learned not to gun down whoopers, there are still many factors working against them, one of them being there simply isn't enough room to accommodate them in the [illegible]

WOOD BUFFALO TO BE TIMBERED

In the once inviolate Wood Buffalo Park a private company has gotten permission to cut timber and there are plans for a railroad in the area.

Robert Porter Allen, research director of the Audubon Society, says conditions in both the homes of the whooping crane are "critical."

"The wildlife services of both countries would like to do something to remove the present danger," he says. "There is grave doubt that they will have much success, however, unless there is a loud, long and indignant expression of public opinion."

Tree Ordering Time Again

Although trees for farm, field and roadside planting will not be shipped until next spring, Alberta's Horticulturist F. D. McCalla, urges farmers to avoid disappointment then by getting their orders in now. Over 2½ million trees will be shipped to all points in the province from the government nurseries at Brooks and Oliver.

The present tree planting program was started in 1900 when 90,000 free trees were supplied to Alberta farmers. Since that time the program has expanded continually and last year over 2 million trees went out to [illegible] farmers.

Next spring's shipment will be made of nearly a million caragana shrubs, 100,000 poplar, [illegible] Manitoba maple, 25,000 honeysuckle, 65,000 lilacs and [illegible] spruce.

According to Mr. McCalla the ideal farmstead shelterbelt consists of a hedge such as caragana (this acts as a snowtrap) in the front and then a row of fast-growing deciduous trees such as poplar, laurel leaf willow or Manitoba maple. The third row should be slow growing deciduous trees such as green ash or American elm and the fourth, evergreens such as Colorado or white spruce or Scotch or Lodgepole pine. The shelterbelt should always be planted 100 feet from buildings and 125 feet away from a roadside fence.

Application forms and details concerning the applicant's eligibility for the free trees can be obtained from all district agriculturists or from the Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Alberta's power resources, on [illegible] are expected to be [illegible] kilowatts by 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Novalkowsky Farewelled At Myrnam

MYRNAM. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Novalkowsky were feted recently at a farewell party sponsored by the Myrnam Elks Lodge.

A large gathering attended to bid farewell to the Novalkowsky family, residents here for 19 years. Mr. Novalkowsky, a druggist, and Mrs. Novalkowsky have been active members in this community, helping it grow and develop into a thriving modern farming centre.

Always an active member of the board of trade and a former mayor, Mr. Novalkowsky spearheaded drives for installation of waterworks, electrification, the development of recreational facilities for children, the building of the curling rink, as well as the building of the community centre, the Elks' hall.

ARDENT SPORTSMAN

An ardent sportsman, Mr. Novalkowsky was a goal tender with the Myrnam Penguins. Mrs. Novalkowsky was a charter member of the Women's Auxiliary to the Myrnam Municipal Hospital as well as the Order of the Royal Purple. Well wishes for continued success were expressed by the Mayor.

Mayor, Dr. Stephen Cholod expressed good wishes on behalf of the village. Many gifts were presented to the couple on behalf of several organizations and societies within the community.

MANY PRESENTATIONS

Among those making presentations included William Chorney, from the board of trade; Metro Metonyk, Memorial Park Society; Mrs. Mildred Demchuk, Women's Auxiliary; Joseph Sosnowski, curling club; Jack Yourwishen, the FUA; Rev. M. Krywchuk, Greek Orthodox parish; Mrs. Regine Proskiw, Royal Purple and Roger McMillan, the Elks.

Alex Leonty, master of ceremony, presented a purse of money and a signed autograph on behalf of those present. Mr. and Mrs. Novalkowsky, sons David and Dennis and a daughter Carla, will take up residence in Prince Albert, Sask., where Mr. Novalkowsky will pursue his vocation of druggist.

A buffet supper catered to by the ladies of the lodge, and dancing concluded the evening.

Acreage Payments Provided To Farmers Not Holding 1959 Wheat Board Permits

OTTAWA. The Government has announced plans for providing acreage payments to western farmers who missed out on the earlier payments because they did not hold 1959 Wheat Board permits, even though they actually grew grain that year.

Agriculture Minister A. Hamilton told the House of Commons that because of climatic conditions many grain producers did not bother to take out permits. He explained that in order to allow these growers to share in the acreage payment program, they will now be eligible provided they held Wheat Board permits for the crops harvested in 1958 and in 1960 and were producers in 1959.

An Order in Council Aug. 31st this year authorized payment of $1 per acre to a maximum of 200 acres to holders of permits for the 1959-60 crop year, which is in lieu of a two-price system which is the equivalent of $1 a bushel for grain consumed domestically by humans.

The use of the 1959-60 permits, Mr. Hamilton said, allowed payments to be made much earlier than if the 1960-61 permits had been used. Payments were started on Sept. 12 and cheques were issued against eligible permits by Oct. 7. Value of cheques issued to date is about $40,070,000.

To qualify under the amendment, producers will be required to complete an affidavit giving details of their operations. Applications are being mailed out and they must be returned to the Canadian Wheat Board, as agent of the minister of agriculture by Feb. 28, 1961.

There were 224,717 permits issued in 1959-60 and it is estimated that there may be another 3000 farmers eligible under the terms of the amendment.

Mannville Locals

Margaret and Don Morden, Rickey and Rosanne of Edmonton were week-end visitors recently at the parental home of Chris and Mrs. Hamilton.

Mrs. Smith of Vermilion has been a recent guest at the home of Mrs. R. Emmott.

Mrs. Lucille Hughes received high praise, which she justly deserved as a recent teacher in the Anglican Sunday School, at Sunday evening service when she was presented with a gift of appreciation by Rev. H. Shell. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and family were Sunday guests at the home of Carmen [illegible] who accompanied them to Mannville after having spent a few days at their new home in Holden.

Matt Armstrong, Mannville old timer, is a patient in the local hospital.

Jack and Doreen Persinger and family have moved into rooms over their store. An addition has been built in the form of a much needed warehouse.

Maurice and Ethel Mercer accompanied by their granddaughter Lorianne are spending a few days in Edmonton and meeting their new grandson.

the Snapshot Guild

In making silhouette snapshots your range of subject matter is as broad as your interests and imagination.

Silhouette Snapshots

Do you remember how much fun you used to have snipping silhouettes out of black paper and decorating the old schoolroom with your masterpieces?

Ever since those days, we've somehow had a nostalgic fondness for silhouettes—a feeling that carries over into picture-taking, too. That's why we thought we'd spend a few minutes today talking about silhouette snapshots—a very special kind of black-and-white picture you might enjoy snapping for a change.

Like any other snapshot, a silhouette picture may be shot indoors or out, in the daytime or at night. But unlike the usual type of picture, this time you want the subject black and the background white. Therefore, you have to change the normal position of your light to accomplish this "reverse" effect. And that, in brief, is the basic principle underlying all silhouette shots. Contrary to the usual rule of having the light fall on the subject from over your shoulder, the light must be behind the subject and coming toward your camera.

For a daytime silhouette shot to be taken indoors, stretch a sheet over a doorway or window opening to a bright outdoor scene. Pose your subject in profile against this luminous white background, darken the room, and make a short time exposure. That's all there is to it — except check to see that the sheet is smooth and unwrinkled, remember to set your camera on a tripod or some other firm support, and be sure your subject holds still during the entire length of the time exposure.

To get the same effect at night, stretch the sheet over an interior doorway and put a flood lamp behind it. Pose your subject — again in profile — in front of the sheet, turn off all the lights except the flood, and make a time exposure.

If you'd like to try an outdoor silhouette, the best time to shoot it is around sunset. Your subject should be directly between your camera and the setting sun. That way, his body will conceal the sun. (If this doesn't give you the angle you want, aim so that a tree or building will block out the sun instead.) You'll probably find it best to cut down on your exposure time a bit to keep foreground details from coming through.

ABOUT NANCY CLEAVER

Many of you who read this will also be familiar with Nancy Cleaver's column in the daily papers called "For Parents Only". It is always interesting, human and helpful.

Nancy Cleaver lives in Winnipeg so I've had the good fortune to meet her many times. In real life, as they sometimes put it, she is the wife of the well-known Canadian minister, Rev. Arnold Mathews. They have three children. I never know just what to call her because she's as much at home with her pen name as she is her real name — she's a fine person in either role.

Nancy is a professional writer. That means that seldom a day passes that she doesn't get a few paragraphs pounded out. At the same time as the wife of a popular minister she has enough chores to do to keep any ordinary woman busy.

Her new book is coming out November [illegible] just in time for the Christmas trade, will be called THE TREASURY OF FAMILY FUN. It is chock full of indoor and outdoor activities, ideas and projects to keep the family entertained and busy every month in the coming year. And the games aren't just fun games, they are creative and enjoyable activities.

I am sure that if you know Nancy you'd buy her book for your family. She's the kind of person who couldn't write a poor book.

Usually I'm a little bit afraid of minister's wives. I find myself using hushed pious tones when in their presence. But not with Nancy Cleaver. She accomplishes in a minute what I am sure many minister's wives would like to accomplish, a feeling of friendly ease, good comradeship with everyone she meets. And [illegible] it without any sacrifice of dignity.

And that's what her book accomplishes, too. Good family [illegible]. The illustrations, by another Manitoban, are right in tune with the text. Ask about it at your book store.

Bright Ideas

Everyday use of silver is the best possible way to care for it. But remember, when used daily, it's wise to rotate the pieces so each gets the same amount of wear.

When washing silver, if you think it's being protected from nicks and scratches by using a rubber sink mat, you're wrong. Rubber is brim-full of sulphur and will produce tarnish with lightning speed.

Wash [illegible] silver immediately after use in hot sudsy water. Rinse in clear hot water and dry while the silver is hot. Don't ever wash silver and let it dry by itself because there are tarnish-forming elements in the air and spotting and streaking can result.

In buying meat, remember price is no measure of food value. Some lower priced meats are very nutritious. Remember, too, in comparing prices it's the cost per pound of edible meat that counts.

At the cottage or on a picnic this summer why not keep sugar in a plastic topped syrup pitcher? That way it won't get lumpy or attract insects and it pours easily through the spout.

It's no trick at all to give a gourmet touch to fish. Try these bright ideas: scatter blanched almonds browned in melted butter over fish after it's been baked, broiled or sauteed. Or use [illegible] of broken walnuts [illegible].

[illegible] fish sticks are done, sprinkle with grated Cheddar or Parmesan cheese and return to the broiler to brown for a moment or two.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Chipman Saddest District In Western World

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — There was only one news story in Alberta last week.

On a crisp, cold Tuesday morning 41 youngsters in the farming district of Chipman, 50 miles northeast of Edmonton, packed up their schoolbooks and lunches and happily boarded the yellow school bus which would take them to the central high school at nearby Lamont.

Minutes later 16 of them were dead and during the night the 17th died in Alberta's worst disaster since the Frank Slide.

It was at 8:35 a.m. — twenty minutes before the start of classes — when the bus turned off highway 15 and started up the slight incline toward the CNR tracks. The driver stopped the bus, then, for reasons that may never be known, he started up again and the bus was hit broadside by a speeding CNR freight.

What followed were the saddest five days in Alberta's history.

What followed were the saddest five days in Alberta's history.

Archer Memorial hospital at Lamont went to work on the disaster plan officials hoped would never have to be used. Doctors and volunteers worked with amazing speed and within forty five minutes the dead were removed and the injured taken to hospital.

During the day and the night that followed a tragic procession of parents and relatives moved in and out of the hospital. Driving up in cars and trucks they rushed inside. Some emerged minutes later completely broken.

Then came the heartbreaking job of preparing to bury the dead. Parents and relatives attended a meeting in the Chipman village hall Tuesday night with parish priests and undertakers. They decided on a mass prayer service Friday night and mass funeral services for the dead of various faiths Saturday morning.

The highways department sent out a backhoe and a crew of men to dig graves in the frozen ground of the church cemeteries.

Friday's events leading up to the prayer service were the saddest this reporter has ever covered. Bells tolled mournfully from Roman Catholic, Ukrainian Catholic and Russian Orthodox churches as a shocking procession of sixteen hearses rolled slowly into the Chipman school yard.

Later in the afternoon the parents and relatives arrived to file solemnly past the open caskets and the scene was heartbreaking.

Men wept openly and women sobbed as they knelt and prayed before the identical white caskets of the girls and the blue and grey caskets holding the bodies of the two boys who were killed.

Newsmen grow accustomed to tragedy in their work and there were newsmen at Chipman who have covered some major disasters ... but to a man they found the scene in the Chipman school auditorium almost too much to take.

The evening prayer service was carried out by clergy of the Roman Catholic, Ukrainian Catholic, Ukrainian Orthodox, Russian Orthodox and Romanian Orthodox churches. After the service thousands more filed past the caskets and the priests continued to pray. By morning an estimated 10,000 or so had paid their last respects to the crash victims.

Meanwhile investigations were going on in an effort to determine how or why the bus driver made his tragic error. There will be a coroner's inquest. The federal transport board will hold a public inquiry. The provincial government launched its own investigation.

It probably will be months before all the investigations are finished, and even then there is no guarantee the answers will be brought out.

So far as can be determined, the day started normally for the 31-year-old driver, Frank Budney. He got out of bed at 6 a.m., sat down to his usual breakfast of toast and coffee, and set out on his rounds. First he picked up elementary school children and took them to the school at Chipman. Then he picked up the high school students at Chipman and set out for Lamont.

Budney was seriously injured in the crash, and at the time of writing police had been unable to interview him. The date of the inquest depends to some extent on whether he recovers sufficiently to tell his story.

When it's all over something may have been learned that will prevent similar accidents happening in the future but at what a cost ... the greatest traffic catastrophe in Alberta's history.

Pretty Wedding At Paradise Valley

VENNER—TEASDALE

St. Peter's Anglican church, Paradise Valley, was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss June Corrione Teasdale and LAC Kenneth Gordon Venner.

Bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums and blue hydrangeas decorated the church for the ceremony conducted by Rev. R. L. Brown of Wainwright.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Teasdale and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Venner, all of Paradise Valley.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of taffeta with mother-of-pearl sequins and seed pearls used to trim the sweetheart neckline. A coronet of pearls and sequins held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Adelia Hallett and Miss Lynn Venner, sister of the groom. They wore cocktail-length dresses in shades of royal blue and light blue with white accessories and carried bouquets of pink and white roses.

The groom was attended by LAC John Filgate and Mr. Dennis Teasdale, brother of the bride. Mr. Charles Teasdale, a cousin of the bride, acted as usher. The wedding music was played by Mrs. H. Leighton.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Teasdale chose a suit of rust colored wool. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of white roses.

The groom's mother wore a dress of blue nylon lace over taffeta. Rose accessories completed her ensemble and she wore white roses on corsage.

Mrs. Wm. Teasdale, grandmother of the bride, wore a two-piece grey taffeta dress with a corsage of red roses.

During the afternoon and early evening, open house was held at the home of the bride's parents.

At a reception for ninety guests in the Memorial hall in Paradise Valley, Mr. T. H. Rayson acted as the master of ceremonies and Mrs. John Filgate was in charge of the guest book. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, under which was a lace centrepiece made by her grandmother. An ornament on the cake had been used on the groom's great-grandparents diamond anniversary and grandparents' golden anniversary cakes.

Mr. Dolph Teasdale, the bride's uncle, proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded. The toast to the bridesmaids was made by LAC Filgate who also read a congratulatory telegram from the groom's grandparents and relatives at Stettler. A large crowd attended the wedding dance in the evening.

For travelling the bride wore a plaid suit of brown and green with white accessories. LAC and Mrs. K. G. Venner will make their home in Edmonton where Ken is stationed with the R.C.A.F.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. Heim and Marvilynne, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Venner and Brian, Mrs. H. Hill, [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Filgate and Mr. D. Churchill, all of Edmonton; Mr. Wm. Teasdale of Stettler; Mr. and Mrs. R. Bell, Mr. D. Teasdale and Mr. C. Teasdale of Wainwright; Mr. and Mrs. H. Teasdale of Vermilion; Rev. Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. R. Greene and Miss Sharon Walter of Kitscoty; Mr. J. Wolfe of Drayton Valley; Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevens of Lloydminster.

MARWAYNE NEWS

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Boothman in the passing of Mrs. Boothman's mother in Ontario.

Mr. Roy Kent attended the Alberta Wheat Pool convention in Calgary last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Kent.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Tupper and Mrs. Earl Gray are attending the F.U.A. convention in Edmonton as delegates from the two organizations here.

The one-roomed school on the hill has been re-opened for classes again. Grades 1 and 2 are being divided into three classes. The teacher for the extra class is Mrs. K. Taylor of Lloydminster. She will stay with Mrs. Holmes.

BASKETBALL SCORES

In the basketball games played here last Thursday evening scores were: Dewberry girls 24, Marwayne 22; Dewberry boys 28, Marwayne 41.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Kaczmarczyk who were married Thursday. They plan to make their home in Red Deer.

MOVES TO KITSCOTY

We are sorry to bid goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Murray Lowrie and son, who have moved to Kitscoty where Murray is taking over an oil business. We wish them every success in the new venture. They will be missed here very much.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY SERVICE

The ladies of St. George's W.A. had a most pleasant afternoon when they were invited to a St. Andrew's Day service on Nov. 30th at Irwinville church. The service was led by Mrs. Dorothy Romanick and Mrs. Sheila Kent. Following this lunch was served at the home of Mrs. Art Kent.

Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. John Doull who celebrated her 74th birthday Dec. 1 and to Mrs. J. Swan on Dec. 3rd.

Letters from the Marwayne F.W.U.A. have been mailed out to all local organizations appealing for donations to the Lamont Disaster fund which has been set up by the Lions' Club of Chipman. Cheques should be made payable to the Chipman Lions' Benefit Fund and be sent to the secretary of the Marwayne F.W.U.A. At this very busy season the ladies of the organization feel this is a better way than having a benefit tea.

The girls of the C.G.I.T. attended a rally in Lloydminster last week. The Deaconess from Loon Lake was the guest speaker. Mrs. Rea and Mrs. W. Hancock are the leaders of the Explorer group.

There was a very good attendance on Thursday evening when the United Church W.A. invited all women connected with the congregation to a program and social evening in the church.

Rotary Tree To Feature Yuletide

The Rotarians have a lovely big Christmas tree, prettily decorated, in the Bank of [illegible]. All the tree needs to complete the picture are several hundred gifts for distribution to needy children.

The gifts may be clothing or playthings, dolls, toys, etc., new or used. Simply wrap up your gift, write the age of the child for which the gift is suitable, and whether for a boy or girl, and place it under the tree in the bank.

The Rotarians have arranged with Lieut. Reynolds of the Salvation Army to distribute the gifts to the needy and less fortunate folks at Christmas time. Look after this little duty soon. It is more blessed to give than to receive. 23-4

The retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce under Rudi Renaud, convener, handed out treats to over 700 children 12 years and under on Saturday last. In addition all the children were guests at a free show in the Columbia.

Mrs. Kowalchuck had arranged a special and excellent children's program for the event. "Gulliver's Travels" and cartoons, and this along with the treats made a very nice party. Two shows were given, the 1 p.m. matinee was entirely filled with every one of the 440 seats taken, while 30 more were waiting for the 3 p.m. opening.

In reporting to the Chamber at the weekly meeting on Wednesday, Mr. Renaud recommended that the event be continued next year.

Bonnyville Pontiacs To Play Here Saturday Night in Hockey Attraction

The Bonnyville Pontiacs play here on Saturday night, Dec. 17, in a feature hockey attraction. The Tigers who have lost four starts now are out to break into the win column and intend to do it at the expense of the Bonnyville team. The Tigers will have all of their first line players on the ice and the best game of the season can be confidently expected. Be at the arena Saturday evening. Game time is 9 o'clock.

On Friday of next week Dec. 23rd the St. Paul Darts are back again for another three rounds with the local boys. Game time on this occasion is also 9 p.m. as the stores are open that night for extra hours of Xmas shopping. Centre Celebrates Third Anniversary

The Old Timers centre on 50th avenue east in Vermilion has now been open for the free use of senior citizens for three years.

The centre continues to be used daily by older citizens as a place of rest, fun and fellowship. Many are the games played and stories told by those who gather here for a friendly game of checkers or other games provided.

The sponsors of the centre, Schurman's Radio and Appliance Service and Clendenning's Family Wear, are happy to provide this stopping place for our [illegible] and they extend through the Standard sincere compliments of the season and best wishes for the coming new year.

All those who have in any way contributed to the success of the centre over the years are sincerely thanked for their efforts.

OPEN BRANCH AT KITSCOTY

The Canadian Bank of Commerce will open a branch at Kitscoty today (Thursday) Dec. 15th to serve the people of that district.

Clendenning's School Book Clearing House Proves A Success

The schoolbook clearing house operated by Clendenning's Family Wear last fall was a complete success. Mr. Clendenning reports that about [illegible] books were handled with over $700 being paid to 111 families for books which in many cases would have been left on shelves and become obsolete.

The clearing house was operated without charge of any kind being made and it is the intention of Mr. Clendenning to continue its operation in future years.

Rio Hosts At Free Dinner; C. of C. Recesses for Xmas

The Vermilion Chamber of Commerce decided to recess for the Christmas season, with the next dinner meeting being scheduled for Wednesday Jan. 4th. The local chamber is one of the few which meets every week at a luncheon meeting.

Wednesday of this week the members of the chamber were guests of the manager Suey Fore and staff of the Rio Cafe at a [illegible] Christmas dinner.

[illegible] good service rendered by the management and staff of the Rio. President [illegible] MacMillan presented Mr. Suey Fore with a gift, a cheque for $25. To the staff the members gave a generous Christmas tip.

St. Paul Darts Triumph Over Tigers In Scrappy Encounter

The Tigers came out on the short end of a 10-6 score in a scrappy encounter with St. Paul Darts on Wednesday night, and while the 340 fans on hand probably were disappointed with the final count they certainly got their money's worth in excitement and entertainment.

Plenty of penalties punctuated the game, with the visitors gathering in seven and the Tigers five. Four fights enlivened the proceedings, three on the ice and one in the penalty box.

The Darts look much like the old Hornets, even to the sweaters and lots of the personnel, only possibly they are a little better team.

For the Tigers Elmer Leahy scored 2, Hadley Dennill 2, Ron Hemmingway and Peter Link one each.

The Dart marksmen were Dehid 2, Buck 2, Kitt, Gauvreau, Pundik, Bashinsky, Tardiff and Robichaud one each.

The Dart player, No. 1, Tardiff, who gathered in three penalties and provided much of the excitement is a deaf mute.

Referees were Walter Eno and Tom Ambrose of Lloydminster.

The Standard regrets that owing to the proximity of the game to press time, the total detailed report of the game is not possible.

TIGERS LOSE AT ST. PAUL

This competition offers good curling, good fun, prizes, etc. to farmers [illegible] no expense. The Massey-Ferguson Co. and the local dealers, George Webb and Sons, will pay the expenses.

Sr. Citizens Lodge Scheduled for Myrnam

MYRNAM. A new Senior Citizens Lodge to be built at Myrnam to serve the Municipal District of Eagle was forecast on Monday when Ashley H. Cooper, the Vermilion constituency M.L.A., and Mr. J. K. C. Austin, director of Homes for the Aged, Dept. of Welfare, visited Myrnam and inspected a site for the new $200,000.00 building. Both Mr. Cooper and Mr. Austin expressed themselves as pleased with the location, and with the co-operation offered by the [illegible] municipalities.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ross Mark Golden Wedding

Tuesday, November 29th was the day of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross' golden wedding anniversary but the happy celebration of that event took place on Sunday, Nov. 27th at the home of their daughter Mrs. Wes Isley when all of the family could be present. It was quite a surprise for the bride of fifty years ago to be welcomed so vigorously and have a lovely corsage of yellow roses pinned to her dress while the bridegroom got a white carnation for his lapel. Then the gifts were presented, a lovely stainless set of tableware in a chest and a gold-colored teapot which was used right away that afternoon. The table was set for a party dinner with a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with golden leaves, a heart of flowers and golden ribbons in [illegible]. All the Isley children were home for the occasion, Dorothy with husband Bill Wells and three little daughters from Vermilion, Johnny and Hazel Isley from Barrhead, Ernest and Sheila Isley and Floyd from Brownfield, Jim and Betty from Vermilion, Lloyd, Mary, Loren and Helen who are still at home.

Although this was mainly a family party, a few friends joined them in the afternoon and evening and shared in the playing of cards and the happy play of the young children.

Barbara Cowie Low and James Davidson Ross were married in Aberdeenshire, Scotland on Nov. 29th, 1910 and came to Canada in 1928 with three children, Alec, Douglas and Mamie, to settle in the Woodvale district, leaving in Scotland an older son of Mrs. Ross. A little daughter, Dorothy, had died in Scotland in infancy, and Douglas passed away a few years after coming to Canada. In 1953 Mr. Ross sold his farm and retired, building a house on the farm of his son Alec in the Turkey Hill district where he and Mrs. Ross now reside.

They have twelve grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Many friends and neighbors old and new wish Mr. and Mrs. Ross many more years of health and happiness together.

Gifts and cards were received from friends and relatives, one corsage being all the way from Scotland. A telegram was received from Premier E. C. Manning, a scroll from the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, and a letter of congratulation from Ashley Cooper M.L.A.

POLICE ON SPECIAL ALERT FOR HOLIDAY DRIVING HAZARDS

"All police forces will be alert to take appropriate enforcement action against both the drinking driver and the drinking pedestrian," wrote Commissioner C. W. Harvison of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Mr Harvison's message, expressing his endorsement of Safe-Driving Week 1960, pointed to the seriousness of the problem of drinking and driving in holiday traffic. He also stressed the need for particular attention to senior citizens "many of whom are handicapped by advancing years and unable to cope with the hazards of modern traffic."

Safe-Driving Week December 1 to December 7 served as an introduction to the December-long nation-wide campaign against Holiday Hazards, sponsored by the police. Mr Harvison said "If all motorists and pedestrians co-operate in these worthwhile campaigns, much of the tragedy so prevalent during the holiday season will be eliminated."

Salvation Army Xmas Messages

On Sunday at the Salvation Army Lieut. D. Reynolds commenced a series of seasonal messages called "Visions of Christmas". "The Vision of the Prophets" was the topic of the first message in this series. During the service Sharon Isley was presented with a cheque awarded to her in connection with the Marion Mail Corps Cadet award which she gained recently. Corps Guardian Mrs. Ken Isley participated in this unique ceremony.

On Wednesday, December 21st at 8 p.m. the annual Christmas concert will be held. Orchestra, band and singing groups will be taking part and included in the program will be an original play "What The Inn" presented by the Senior Youth Group. In two acts the play probes the consciences of men and women of ancient and modern times and reflects their reactions to the coming of Christ. Suspense and intrigue emphasize the pointed messages of this dramatic duet.

The Salvation Army will again be helping to make this Christmas happier for those in need. Toys placed under the Christmas tree at the Bank of Commerce will be distributed to children of needy families. This scheme has been organized by the Rotary Club of Vermilion. Gift certificates for festive food fare will also be distributed. These efforts will be greatly aided by notifying Lieut. Reynolds as soon as possible phone 244 of those who will benefit by these gifts.

GREEN ACRES

By: H. MORLEY DOUGLAS
District Agriculturist

CORRECTIONS

In a recent Green Acres column the statement was made: a cow can be wintered primarily on a good roughage but to maintain body weight a cow requires two pounds of some kind of grain per 100 pounds of body weight per day. This should have read: Winter rations may consist primarily of roughages. Cows require about 2 pounds of feed per 100 pounds body weight (roughage and or grain) for maintenance.

PORK OUTLOOK 1961

It is expected that the supply of graded hog carcasses will decline 5% for the first half of 1961 over the same period in 1960. Hog prices are expected to remain at about the 1960 level throughout much of 1961 but will probably move lower the fall of 1961 because of larger Canadian supplies and lower U.S. prices.

BEEF OUTLOOK 1961

The build up of cattle on Canadian and U.S. farms is expected to continue in 1961 and probably reach a peak in '62 or '63. Marketing of beef cattle will be heavier in 1961 but the prices will not likely fall too much. The cattle population was over estimated in the U.S. last year and as a result of a new release of cheap corn, U.S. feeders are showing interest in the Canadian feeder market. American buying in Canada has always had a stabilizing influence on the Canadian market.

SHEEP

A high fence made up of slabs with an open sloped roof shed 20' by 24' deep across the north end of the corral is adequate housing. Allow approximately fifteen square feet of shed and twenty five square feet of corral space per ewe. A cheaply constructed lambing shed adjacent to the corral shed with artificial heat is required. Provide ten 4'x5' claiming pens for each 30 ewes. Confine the ewe and new born lamb in a claiming pen until the lamb is strong and nursing well. They may then be removed and penned with other nursing ewes. Where electrical power is available "lamb creeps" may be built with 4'x8' panels with heat bulbs suspended at safe heights. Such creeps may also be used to start lambs on creep feed of choice alfalfa and whole oats.

Sheds should be on high, well drained ground with southern exposure. Clean the corrals and sheds as soon as sheep are turned out on pasture. Frequent summer use of wintering quarters is not recommended if sheep parasites and diseases are to be kept to a minimum.

A PRIZE BIRD

200 dressed turkeys will be offered at the Vermilion-Mannville 4-H Turkey Club show on Dec. 17 in the Elks hall. Show commences at 1 p.m. Auction sale at 2.30 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Christmas is family time. A suggestion for an evening with the family at this season is to hold a tree trimming party. If members of your family are scattered hither and yon and unable to attend, then invite some friends and neighbors in. Set the atmosphere by playing Xmas carol records. Have the tree anchored in its stand before the guests arrive. Then all that's left is the fun of putting on the decorations. Everyone can lend a hand in "Operation Tree Trimming".

THE EVENING MENU

To finish off a pleasant evening, serve something that is nourishing and a little different. Add a festive touch if you like. Buffet style is perhaps the simplest way of serving your guests. A menu which is lighter than a meal, yet more substantial than sandwiches is almost certain to be popular and your guests will go home feeling satisfied. If you know your guests like spicy foods, they'll go back for seconds of Pizza Pie or Cocktail Sausages in Barbecue Sauce. Celery sticks and olives could complete the first course. If served dessert should be light and preferably tart. Most people like sherbert, orange, lemon or lime. This would be a good time for company to taste some of your shortbread. Steaming cups of hot coffee will complete the evening menu.

PIZZA PIE RECIPE
(Serves 6)

2 cups flour
4 tsps. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
2 tsp. chopped parsley
4 to 6 tbsp. shortening
¾ cup milk

PIZZA SAUCE

1 can tomato sauce
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 tbsps. prepared mustard
½ tsp. oregano (optional)
1 lb. bulk pork sausages, well cooked and drained
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

Mix the ingredients for the crust as if making biscuits adding the parsley to the dry ingredients. Roll out dough to fit a deep 9-inch pie pan, prick surface with a fork. Bake in a very hot oven (425°) for 5 to 7 minutes. Remove from oven to moderate (375°) while crust bakes.

Prepare sauce. To make the sauce mix tomato, onion, mustard and oregano and bring to a boil. Simmer 10 minutes. Pour into partially baked crust and top with layer of cheese, sausage then remaining cheese. Bake 15 to 18 minutes longer. Serve at once.

Bowtell Bulletin

We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to the Attfield family in their recent bereavement.

On Dec. 7th the annual meeting of the Burradale R.E.A. was well attended by members. Due to the resignation of Reg Mitchell Angus MacMillan took over as the new secretary. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Mitchell for all his work and a job well done as secretary over the past ten years. Charlie Pearman was re-elected president. The present directors are Frank Watson, Neil Shook, Steve Krushinsky, Tom Sherwood, Wes Funnell and Joe Ahlgren.

Mr. Pearman, Doris and David spent the week-end visiting the former's mother at Rimbey.

Mr. and Mrs. Freestone of Edmonton visited at the Robinson home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Repp and family were guests for supper on Sunday at the Wells home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Warawa journeyed to Edmonton to attend the F.U.A. convention last week.

Wildmere Winks

The Farmers' bonspiel is over for another year. Four of the five [illegible] from Wildmere brought home prizes. The weather stayed real nice so many wives and children accompanied the men folk to town and got their Christmas shopping done in between games.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Donily took their infant daughter to the hospital on Saturday for a few days' stay in order to clear up a bad cold she has had for the past two weeks.

Ronnie Lake is in Edmonton this week having an operation on his arm which was injured in an oil well accident some time ago.

The combined U.F.A. Co-op and Wildmere F.U.A. meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson Monday evening was well attended. The new officers for the U.F.A. Co-op are: Pres. — Frank Gibson; Sec.-Treas. — W. T. Garnett. For the F.U.A. officers are: Pres. — Dave Hughes; Sec.-Treas. — Noel Garnett; Vice-Pres. — Mrs. Frank Gibson. The next meeting will be followed by a bingo game and will be held at Preston school on March 21. Mark this date on your calendar.

Stomach flu has been making the rounds taking quite a few of the children out of school. A bad time too as many were practising for Xmas plays.

The season opened on Wednesday for buck deer in this area. We hope there are not the rash of shooting accidents that usually accompany so called big game hunting. The deer are so pretty and hereabouts are so tame it's indeed a shame to kill one.

Closing thought:
"Begin right now the good you mean to do,
The golden moments pass for me and you;
And life holds joy for those who work and pray,
And counts 'Well Done' at closing of the day."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sideroff (nee Jean Kibblewhite)

Hines Creek Man Weds Local Girl

On November 18 First United church Vermilion was the scene of a late fall wedding at which Mary Jean, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. A. Kibblewhite and Mr Thomas Sideroff of Hines Creek, were united in marriage. Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums, white candles and bows of yellow and white marked pews provided the setting for the ceremony performed by Dr. R. B. Layton.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a beautiful chapel train princess gown of lustre satin. The dress was designed with Alencon lace trimmed bodice featuring a sweet [illegible] neckline and lily point sleeves. Panels in the skirt were decorated with appliqued Alencon lace motifs beaded with iridescent sequins. Her only jewelry was a gold necklace. The bride carried a white Testament with a single purple-throated white orchid, white ribbon streamers and sprays of purple heather.

Attending the bride was Miss Irene Sideroff, sister of the groom. She wore a cocktail length gown of yellow nylon or [illegible] with white floral applique. Her head-dress was a white feather bandeau. She carried a bouquet of mauve and white baby mums.

Mr Thomas Kibblewhite, brother of the bride attended the groom. The ushers were Mr C E George and Mr E W E Bridgeman.

During the signing of the register the soloist Mr Thomas Watts sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Wedding Benediction." He was accompanied by Mr Jack Brown.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kibblewhite chose a jacket dress of blue silk brocade with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

At the reception held in the beautifully decorated church hall the bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake surrounded with pink tulle and flanked by white candles. The master of ceremonies was Mr W. L. Roebuck. The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's uncle Mr E. J Kibblewhite. Several telegrams of congratulations were read. Miss Laura Kibblewhite the bride's aunt was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests included Mrs L. J [illegible] Beverly and Richard of Ladner, B. C. R. Hogg and Douglas of Calgary. Mr and Mrs. C. E. George, Mrs. R. Roe of Fairview. Miss Irene Sideroff of Peace River. Mrs J. A. Johnston, Mr E. J Kibblewhite, Mr and Mrs J Walline of Edmonton. Mr and Mrs. R Roebuck of Islay.

Leaving for a trip to Calgary and Banff the bride wore a blue dress, blue fur trimmed coat with grey accessories. A white orchid completed her ensemble.

Golden Age Club Plans Biggest Xmas Social Ever

The committees of the Golden Age Friendship club met at the home of Mrs. M. Lee recently to arrange a program for the Christmas social, with very good results.

First, an invitation has been sent to the residents of the Vermilion Valley Lodge, to be our guests for this outstanding and happy event. Mrs. Terrance the matron at the Lodge, has accepted with great pleasure.

There is to be a picture show, community singing of carols, exchange of gifts, a decorated Christmas tree and a promise from your old friend Santa to make a special effort to attend. The lunch will be most delightful. It is hoped that as many as possible will attend this gala event as it is the [illegible] undertaking the committees have worked out for all our senior citizens of Vermilion and district.

The club would like to extend at this time, through the medium of the Vermilion Standard, sincere greetings to all Friendship clubs throughout the province, also to the many friends on the sick list, who will be in our thoughts that day.

To the Vermilion Standard many [illegible] for kindness in giving the club so much valuable publicity and may you have the merriest of Christmases.

Last but not least, it is to be hoped the founder of the Golden Age Friendship club, Mr I. Miller, and his charming wife, will try to be with us on the 21st.

To clear any confusion, the carolling already done in town has not been by the Salvation Army. The Salvation Army's Christmas Cheer Kettle will also be on the street this year on Saturday, December 24th. This is to aid the Army's Christmas welfare work in the community. Anyone willing to operate the kettle for a thirty minute period, please contact Lieut. D. Reynolds, phone 244. 23

Pleasant Valley News

It is lovely weather with lots of sunshine and warm temperatures. Let's hope that it stays nice over the festive season. The heavy hoar frost on the power wires caused a break on Sunday morning. One certainly misses the electricity when without it for even just a short while. The men of the Utilities soon came along and had it fixed.

Earl Clarke and family visited his brother Christie on Sunday. Gordon Gould and family were visitors at the parental home. Marvin and [illegible] are visiting relatives in Regina for awhile.

The writer hopes that Peggy is feeling much better and that she will be able to enjoy the Xmas season.

Last week's news should have read that the flowers were in bloom in the windows of the writer's home, not in Lloydminster, however it occasioned a hearty laugh and of course we all know how easy it is to make mistakes.

It won't be long now until we will be singing "Deck the halls with boughs of holly".

Mannville C.G.I.T. Sell Xmas Cards

MANNVILLE — The Senior CGIT recently held their annual campaign of selling Xmas cards, wrappings, etc. They are deeply grateful to those assisting in any way throughout the district. They also participated in a Vesper service which was largely attended, after which the members of A O T S served a lunch. The girls expressed appreciation to those providing the refreshments, the Men's club for serving lunch and to the choir for their inspiring music.

Their Christmas party will take the form of a hayride when [illegible] and a show after which they intend to sing carols to the senior members of the United church.

In case of fire it is easier to pass through smoke-filled rooms if the nose and throat are covered with several layers of thin gauze. A thick woolen blanket or coat wrapped around the body will help prevent burns. Remember too the air in a smoky room is always fresher near the floor.

A contribution of $15 was unanimously voted to be sent in with the money the Farm Women have gathered to send to the Lions' Chapman Benefit fund.

Mr Harvey Smith, who has been in the Royal Alex hospital Edmonton, for the past several weeks, returned home Tuesday evening on the Dayliner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cooper were in town from Edmonton for the week-end. 'Newt' is now taking a rehabilitation course in bookkeeping which is provided for polio victims by the provincial and federal governments.

Guests at the home of Mrs. John Kowalchuk for the week-end were Mr and Mrs. Mike Kowalchuk of Edmonton, and Mrs. Olga Skitsko and two little daughters, Lori and Patti.

Annual Vermilion Kinette party for Kinsmen, their wives and families, was held Sunday at the Legion hall. Films, games and a visit from Santa highlighted the day.

LIVESTOCK REPORT

On Tuesday Dec. 13th we had one of the largest crowds ever to assemble for a sale at the Vermilion Auction Mart Ltd. An estimated 1000 people were on hand to witness a successful sale of 27 purebred Shorthorns for W. R. Cornish, and 241 other cattle together with 225 hogs, 5 horses, 1 sheep and a large lot of turkeys, ducks, chickens etc.

Prices were all in keeping with the previous week. There was a good demand for stock steers, prices ranging from $22.00 to $23.50 per cwt. Stock cows were in stronger demand with a price average of $162.00. Hogs ran at the same price level with a somewhat stronger demand for good bred sows. Boars were selling considerably higher.

Prices all the way through were stronger on all classes and we anticipate an even stronger market next week.

Consign your livestock with your home town market . . . the place that establishes prices and fair dealings.

United Church W.A. Elect New Officers At Mannville

MANNVILLE. Meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Proudfoot on Thursday, Dec. 8th members of United Church W.A. reports of the year's activities were reviewed and accepted. Following a short worship service, the business part of the meeting was dispensed and election of officers took place. All retiring officers were given a warm vote of thanks. A minute's silence in respect to the recent schoolbus disaster at Lamont was observed.

It was noted with appreciation that a profitable year had been realized, a refugee had been adopted and money donations had been sent to W.M.S. with whom the group is affiliated, and Alberta College, which is under direction of the United Church of Canada. Following election of officers, the two hostesses, with Mrs Proudfoot served a delightful Xmas lunch and a social hour was enjoyed over the tea cups. Members were treated to viewings of slides taken by Miss Betty Proudfoot on her trip abroad earlier this year and a view of the recent Gerhart Bolding wedding.

Officers elected were as follows: President — Mrs. Mabel Gamble; Vice-Pres. — Mrs. Margaret Smith; Secretary — Mrs. Norma Ewing; Treas. Mrs. Mary Rostron; Literature — Miss A. R. Cain; Sewing Committee — Mrs. Annie Hubbard, Mrs Flora Schock and Mrs. Ed Wood; Devotional — Mrs. Annie Hubbard; Manse — Mrs. Helen Leitch, Mrs. Mary Larcombe; Sick & Visiting — Mrs. Erna Gerhart, Mrs. Mae Proudfoot.

Home League Hold Christmas Party

On Monday evening a number of Home League ladies of the Salvation Army accompanied by Lieut. Reynolds put on a Xmas party for the members and the matron of the Vermilion Valley Lodge.

The first half of the program was on the spiritual side. Christmas carols were sung with everyone joining in, accompanied by Sharon Isley on the accordion. Miss Craig led in prayer. Mrs. K. Isley read the scripture out of the Bible. Lieut. Reynolds gave a short Christmas sermon. Mrs. Geake and Sharon Isley sang a solo each; the Home League ladies sang a couple of carols. M. C. for the evening was Mrs. Jensen.

The second half of the program was on the lighter side with comic monologues and an amusing Christmas story. Mrs. Jensen kept everyone laughing with her comic readings.

At the close each one in the Lodge was given a little basket of Christmas treats, with the hope that they had enjoyed the program as much as the ladies had in giving it.

Mrs. Torrance heartily thanked everyone for their kindness in coming. May God bless each and every one this Christmas.

Circle Eight Notes

The last square dance was held [illegible] on Dec. 9 and took the form of a Pie and Ice Cream [illegible]. Club caller Johnny [illegible] kept things going [illegible] to make sure that [illegible] would really do justice [illegible] delicious pies. Members were pleased to have visitors [illegible]

[illegible] regular dance night would be on Dec. 23, the fourth Friday of the month. A vote was taken and it was decided to cancel this dance in view of the many Christmas activities that week.

The Circle Eight members take this opportunity to wish all fellow square dancers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and will be looking forward to seeing one and all at the first dance of the new year January 13th.

Mannville Language 21 Class Tours Standard

Successful Anglican Tea, Bazaar at Mannville

MANNVILLE — Saturday Dec. 3rd witnessed another successful Anglican W. A. bazaar tea and bake sale. Each group represented in the church family of ladies was there with their projects; the two W.A. groups, the Senior group in charge of the sewing and bake tables, the Happy Hour group serving tea, the G.A. with their pin cushion stall and the J.A. with a fish pond to gladden the heart of the very young.

Home baking of every description graced the one table, while the aprons went like the proverbial hotcakes. Fifty of these aprons were made by a lady in her late 70s, a wonderful contribution of work. The Sunday school sold Christmas cards and gift wrappings while a special table of miscellaneous articles sponsored by the Happy Hour group advertised the proceeds of same as special, earmarked for the [illegible] Refugee Relief fund. An outstanding success was recorded [illegible] profit at this annual event.

NEVER BE AFRAID OF ANY SICKNESS

Too many people suffer from constant pains and discomforts because they are afraid to go to a physician. They fear they may learn they have a serious condition.

How foolish. Your doctor can now do more for you than was ever before possible. Modern improved diagnosis plus recently perfected drugs almost insure quick help. There are so few incurable diseases and even those, if detected early can be more comfortably lived with.

Mannville Anglican Group Elects Nancy Coxford President

MANNVILLE — Meeting at the home of acting president Mrs. R. Lagg, members of the Happy Hour W.A. participated in a short service of devotion and then proceeded with business of the meeting after all reports were turned in. A good profit was reported from the two recent projects of catering, and a specific donation made to the [illegible] of Christ Church. Little Helpers' secretary Mrs. Laid[illegible] received the usual gift of money to spend on her group for presents. Decision was made to hold a parish supper in the future as well as cater to a small banquet during January.

Donations were received from a recent wedding party as a token of appreciation as well as a donation towards tablecloths.

Officers elected were: President, Mrs. Nancy Coxford; 1st Vice-Pres., Mrs. Edith Laidler; 2nd, Mrs. Ida Norman; [illegible]; Treas., Mrs. Muriel McLarkie; Dorcas Sec., Mrs. Edith Pedersen; G.A. Sec., Mrs. Joan Lugg; assistant, Jane Laidler; J.A. Sec., Mrs. Joan Lugg; Little Helpers Sec., Mrs. Edith Laidler; CTO and DTO, Mrs. Edith Pedersen; Living Message Sec., Mrs. Margaret Machin; Educ. Sec., Mrs. Roberta Shell; Prayer Partner, Mrs. Kay Cackle; Sick and Visiting convener, Mrs. Joan Lugg.

Following the meeting, which was closed with prayers, a delicious lunch was enjoyed, provided by the hostess, Mrs. Frankie Kreller, and Mrs. Mary Morrison.

"Who Are Our Alcoholics?"

We have seen in an earlier article that alcoholism is a true, medically recognized illness. Now let us see who becomes an alcoholic.

It can be said that the alcoholic is Mr. or Mrs. or Miss Average Person. Alcoholics represent a cross-section of our population with a ratio of about four men to one woman and they come from every social, economic and educational background. The man or the woman next door may be an alcoholic, or the bus driver you ride to work with every day, the salesgirl at the department store or the salesman at the door. The alcoholic may wear a clerical collar or the gown of a judge; he may be a mechanic, a butcher or a University professor; she may be a wealthy widow, an average housewife or a hash-house waitress. He may be a doctor or a delivery man, an oil executive or a beer waiter. He may be the skilled worker at the next machine or the sweeper or the night watchman. He or she may be anyone.

No doubt there are still some people who think of alcoholics as "Skid Row" derelicts. They may still believe that alcoholics are weak-willed, spineless, irresponsible ne'er-do-wells whose ailment is self-inflicted, stubbornly pursued and held onto despite all the injury, suffering, and misery caused to themselves and others.

Undoubtedly some alcoholics are on [illegible] destitutes, but these make up less than 3 per cent of the total alcoholic population. The majority of alcoholics hold or have held positions involving special skills and responsibilities [illegible] occupational categories described as skilled, semiskilled, managerial, executive or professional.

The majority of alcoholics are between 30 and 45 years of age, are employed and supporting their families (though in some cases, employment and home are getting shaky) and have good work records. Most have held the same job for five to ten years, some for 20 years or more.

We must face the facts, and the fact is that we simply cannot dismiss the alcoholic with a contemptuous "just a drunk — he could straighten up if he wanted to but he's hopeless, no good, not worth bothering about." That attitude has served to perpetuate and multiply the difficulties in combatting alcoholism. The attitude of alcoholism clinics such as The Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta and of Alcoholics Anonymous is one of realism, acceptance of a very real disease, and a philosophy that has proved, in many thousands of cases, that he is not hopeless, that he can be helped, and that he is worth helping.

For further information, contact: The Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta. Telephone GA 4-7[illegible].

$6,000.00 Paid For Alberta Shorthorn Bull

The honor of having the highest selling animal at the International Shorthorn sale, held in Chicago recently, went to A. R. Cross, Midnapore, Alta. His 2 [illegible] bull, [illegible], sold at $6000, almost twice as much as the next highest priced animal. This bull had been grand champion at the Calgary Summer show in 1960.

Ontario breeders were next in line with bulls selling at $3150 and $[illegible]. The Manitoba herd of Richardson Stock Farms, Winnipeg, supplied a bull selling at $2000. A total of 11 Canadian Shorthorn bulls made an excellent average selling price of $1,[illegible].

New Post Offices

Canadians should be among the best post-officed people in the world by next spring, reports The Financial Post. Ninety are to be built this winter, 78 costing a maximum of $25,000, a dozen slightly more than that. This will bring to more than 200 the number built since 1958-59 across Canada.

OF MANY THINGS

by [illegible]

THE SOCIAL WORKER

This morning I chatted with an elderly woman who has been doing social work all her life. She is one of the finest persons I have ever met and I think she told me something that is of great value to everyone.

"Just about every person wanting help," she said, "would sit across from me and tell me of this problem or that one: unpaid rent, unsatisfactory job, illness, all sorts of immediate things to [illegible].

"I used to listen to it all, but in the back of my mind I knew that none of those things was the first problem. I knew in my heart the person had a bigger trouble somewhere inside and if he or she would face it and solve it, the other things would look after themselves — even the health problem, believe it or not."

She went on to say that she had once heard William Faulkner talking to fellow authors. He told them she recalled that "the problem of the human heart in conflict with itself alone can make good writing because only that is worth writing about, worth the agony and sweat."

She said that this struck her as being so very true. "I could have paid the rent for some of these unfortunates," she told me, "or even provided a better job, or obtained medical advice for them. But the first thing I knew I had to do if my help was to be of any lasting value was to get across to them the fact that their first and most vital problem was within themselves. They needed to win some sort of inner fight in order to be real men or women with character and strength. Otherwise, all their days and years would go by with others having to straighten this or that out for them. But if they could win the inner struggle it would not be too long before they would be standing on their own feet helping others instead of needing help."

I have repeated what this social worker said as best as I can. She is a woman who faced great personal problems herself and the fact that she licked them is apparent in her very carriage, the shine in her eyes, the assurance in her voice. She has made her own living and helped many others for a great part of her more than seventy years. She earns a good income today and recently won a valuable award for her services in competition with hundreds of young [illegible].

We all have problems, no doubt, and they often seem to loom large. But each of us, if the inner struggle is won, can take the worst the world can offer and transform it into something fine.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Public Meeting Discusses Possible Changes In Highway Traffic Act

by [illegible]

EDMONTON — Highways Minister Gordon Taylor, one of the most public-relations [illegible] ministers in the Alberta cabinet, held his annual meeting last week to discuss possible changes in the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

In some other departments of the government, changes in legislation are deep dark secrets until amending bills are presented in the Legislature.

But Gordon Taylor believes in calling in the people concerned and going through a thorough discussion before he amends the laws administered by his department.

Accordingly, he sat down last week in the Highways Building Conference room and presided over a day-long meeting attended by representatives of police forces, the Alberta Motor Association, trucking companies, auto insurance firms, home and school associations, in short, everyone who is interested in traffic safety and traffic laws.

As in past years organizations represented at the meeting suggested changes they would like to see in the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act.

As usual, all of the suggestions came in for lively discussion. Some of them were accepted by the meeting, while others were rejected. But all were noted down by the legal officers of the crown and will be taken into consideration when proposed amendments to the VHT act are drawn up for presentation to the Legislature early next year.

STIFFER PENALTIES

Among the proposed changes: Police forces asked for stiffer penalties against motorists who ignore police orders to stop. Officers at the meeting complained they are having increased difficulty with drivers who disregard a whistle or a hand signal and step on the gas rather than stop and be nabbed for illegal possession of liquor, driving while suspended, supplying liquor to a minor, or some other offence.

At least one of the suggestions may have arisen from the school bus disaster at Lamont in which 17 teen-agers lost their lives when a loaded bus was hit by a speeding CNR freight train at a level crossing. Insurance agents at the meeting suggested that the law be changed to permit only class A drivers over the age of 21 to drive school buses. (Under existing law class A drivers over 18 may drive schoolbuses.) The suggestion was voted down when it was pointed out that many school teachers of 19 and 20 drive schoolbuses, and when statistics were cited to show that drivers between 21 and 26 have the worst accident records.

Among suggestions approved by the meeting was one to the equipped with adequate brakes when they are used on the highways.

Another urged school divisions to rearrange the school bus routes in such a way that children alighting from buses don't have to walk across busy main highways.

MORE STRINGENT SCHOOL BUS REGULATIONS

The Lamont school bus disaster was still in the news last week. As if they hadn't had enough of a shock, residents of the Lamont-Chipman area learned that the school bus driver, 31-year-old Frank Budney, didn't have a class A license. Under Alberta law, a class A license is required before anyone can drive a school bus.

The highways department didn't have any record of Budney driving a school bus. The records showed he applied for a class B license in 1958 but failed to qualify on his knowledge of traffic laws and the rules of the road.

Last week it appeared almost certain that tougher school bus regulations would result from the Lamont disaster. And don't be surprised if the coroner's inquest recommends that henceforth all school bus operations be taken over by local school boards. The coroner doesn't like the idea of private owners hiring their buses to local boards under contract.

Play And Playmates

Health Unit Notes

While at the age of two, children still play pretty much alone. By three they will be playing side by side. In the fourth year the twosome has grown to three or four and they begin to co-operate in their play. A child's attitude towards other people is strongly influenced during this early stage of social play.

Whether a child will be outgoing and friendly, fearful or suspicious, is pretty much determined in the first few years of life.

When they start to school children should be allowed to choose their own friends and encouraged to bring them home. This is the way they learn how people have different ways of doing things and of behaving. If a child has been brought up to be a close member of his family, he will accept the family standards and learn to choose his friends wisely. However, sometimes you will not always approve of your child's friends. What then? It's no use being angry. Forbidding the friendship won't help either. More than likely it's only a temporary phase, but if it continues, try to find out what your child is experiencing. Maybe there just aren't other children of his age and interests in the neighborhood; consequently he needs help in finding them elsewhere. You will find that he may not be as bad as you thought and if he is, it won't take long before your child will begin to sense this himself and start looking for other friends. Then too, be sure that the difficulty isn't that you are perhaps too strict!

At nine and ten children move into the gang stage. They love to belong to small friendship groups and 'clubs' of their own sex. They need new and broader horizons to test and learn new skills and powers. This can be done in the Cubs, Scouts, Brownies, Guides, the boys' and girls' Ys, 4-H clubs, etc. Where there is an organized recreational program in the neighborhood, they should be encouraged to join.

PARENTS ARE PLAYMATES TOO

Parents should try to encourage as much initiative and independence in their children as possible. See that they have toys, protected open space and, as long as an eye is kept on them, they should be quite happy. When parents play with young children, or in fact with any children, it's better, whenever possible, to let the children take the lead. Adults are too apt to entertain — even compete — rather than play with children. The emphasis, too, should be placed on what the child can do. This positive approach will develop the child's self-confidence while a negative one threatens both self-confidence and initiative.

BEHAVIOR CLUES

Every now and then you will find it worthwhile to quietly observe your child at play without him knowing it. By the way he plays you may pick up little clues that will tell you a great deal about how he is growing up. For example, is he able to mix well? Does he always seem to have his own way? Sharing is not always easy but does he seem to find a lot of trouble doing so? Or, perhaps he is developing interests or skills which you would like to encourage but hadn't noticed before. There are a lot of little things we can find out about children in order to help them, for they tell us a great deal about themselves by the way they play.

ABOUT TOYS

Parents can be guided in their choice of toys by a few general principles. Toys should 1. be appealing and suitable to the child's age and abilities. 2. have several uses. 3. stimulate the child to more difficult, complicated activities. 4. be durable — but no sharp corners or poisonous paints. 5. be varied — some for construction and solitary play, and some for social play, so that they contribute to the total development of the child.

PLANNING TOGETHER

Parents can help [illegible] a general pattern for [illegible] play, so much time [illegible], so much time for rest, reading, radio, TV and finally so much time alone or with one or two other children either in or outdoors. As the child grows older he can take more part in planning his day. Time should be allowed for solitary and social play, reading, studying, helping around the home and, if he studies music, practising. This also allows the mother to arrange her day. Supervision becomes much easier and the child doesn't have to be embarrassed in front of his friends by being told to come in for his homework or to practise, if he has had a part in planning the day's routine.

It is desirable to have both indoor and outdoor spaces for play. It may be necessary to rearrange furniture in the living room or the bedroom but children must have plenty of room to play. It is also good to have a permanent space for the children's toys, preferably on shelves where mother and dad can help to keep order. Outdoors, the play area should be safe too. Planned play space will, in the long run, give greater peace of mind to both parent and child.

It is important to the growing child to know where he stands with adults and what he can expect from them. A little co-operation between families can do much to bring this about. It can also do a lot to prevent any neighborhood squabbles. For example, by working together, parents can see that their children obey roughly the same kind of neighborhood rules. In other words, a number of parents can agree beforehand that, when their children visit each other they will be expected to go by the rules of the parents in the home they visit. This sort of co-operation between parents in the neighborhood offers a consistent and stabilizing influence for their children.

AND REMEMBER — never underestimate the value of child's play. For through it and under wise adult guidance, a child is helped to mould a wholesome personality and the character traits so important for a happy and successful life.

How Farmers Should Apply For Acreage Payments

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 — Procedure to be followed by applicants for payment under recently amended Western Grain Producers Acreage Payment regulations has been laid down by the Canada Department of Agriculture.

Application forms will be mailed next week to producers who appear from the records of the Canadian Wheat Board to meet the requirements. The forms should be completed and submitted by Feb. 28, 1961, in order to collect.

The amendment extends eligibility to producers who grew grain in the 1959-60 and 1960-61 crop years.

Those who qualify under these conditions but do not receive an application form by December 19 may secure one from the Wheat Board.

An order-in-council on Aug. 31 this year authorized payment of $1 per acre to a maximum of 200 acres to holders of Wheat Board permits for the 1959-60 crop year. An amendment to the regulations was made when it was found that some otherwise eligible producers had failed to take out grain delivery permits in 1959.

Alberta has more than 9,000 oil wells and 2,000 gas wells.

WHEN FARMING WAS BEASTLY

The trouble with plowing by beast power, back in the days of primitive man, was that usually man's muscles gave out before the beast's.

Since then we have learned to harness more manageable sources of power to do our plowing and other work, and our standard of living has never been higher.

Today Canadian farmers rely on petroleum-powered horsepower rather than animal power, and Canadian farms are among the most efficient in the world. Canadian farmers can depend on oil supplies wherever and whenever they need them and at reasonable prices. The price Imperial receives for tractor gasoline has gone down rather than up, over the past ten years.

The Christmas Story...

On that night many years ago, as white stars glittered and angels' voices rang out triumphantly to proclaim his coming, there was born unto mankind, a Saviour. Humble shepherds, gathered in the fields tending their flocks, heard the message and came in haste to visit the babe lying in a manger, and they were filled with joy.

Far to the East, the Wise Men saw the great Star of Bethlehem and they followed it to where the Young Child was, bringing rare and precious gifts in their adoration.

Across the ages, the ever-wonderful story of the birth of Christ inspires mankind with a feeling of new hope. Today, in the spirit of the Holy Season, it is for us to rededicate ourselves to His teachings and humbly pray that the ideal of brotherhood will light the way to a lasting peace in this troubled world.

Let us rejoice in the true meaning of Christmas with sincere reverence and harken to the words of the angel, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Chamber of Commerce Organized At Mannville

Ralph G. Rudd Elected President

MANNVILLE. — Businessmen of Mannville met with chamber of commerce officials as their guests at a supper meeting, catered to by women of the Canadian Legion's Auxiliary, and which included turkey with all the trimmings.

Chairman R. G. Rudd gave an address of welcome as did Mayor Merle Malin who stated that the chamber at Mannville had met in [illegible] holding meetings in the C.N.R. station. The group has been inactive for some four or five years. Mr. Malin expressed a hope that with the formation of a chamber Mannville might be incorporated into a town. The first guest speaker was Lyall Roper, son of Edmonton's mayor, who explained in detail how a chamber group could assist the local council and all village interests. He paid special tribute to the cooks of the Ladies' Legion at Mannville. A former member of junior chamber of commerce, he was familiar with procedure. The stronger the representation, the greater the result, he said.

Edmonton's chamber of commerce secretary, Don Marlett, outlined three musts for formation: Good Chamber organization and officers chosen on said basis; Leadership, which all profound thinkers and statesmen advocate, leaders chosen from all sections in the community. Funds — a group has to have money, therefore do not set fees too low. The interest will be as large as the investment, he stated. Ladies are also eligible particularly from the welfare aspect. He also stressed the importance of Programme.

Reg Clarke, secretary-manager of Canadian Chamber of Commerce, formerly of Calgary and now in Edmonton, spoke of the chamber of commerce as "a vibrant force throughout Alberta's vast country." A personable speaker, he urged the chamber to use the provincial office, as well as that of the Canadian one in Montreal, and thereby glean many useful pamphlets on programming agricultural activities, tourist development and a host of other helps.

Mannville is in Zone 12, with Mr. Shortell of Lloydminster as director. There are 29 zone divisions. 85% of chambers come from communities under 5,000 people. Mr. Clarke advised groups to ascertain what was best for the most, ending with a challenge to make each citizen responsibility conscious.

The newly-formed chamber of commerce elected the following officers: President, Ralph G. Rudd, manager of the Treasury Branch; 1st Vice-President, Jack Persinger, groceteria owner; 2nd Vice-President, Clare Cavanaugh, CNR agent; Secretary, Ross Ewing, manager Beaver Lumber; Treasurer, James J. Goshko, manager N.A.D.P.; Directors at large: John McLeod, farmer and Ernest Prill, well known farmer and livestock breeder.

Mrs. Homer Campbell Elected President Of The Clandonald United Church W. A.

The annual meeting of the Clandonald United Church W.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Campbell on Dec. 6th with twelve members and three guests present.

After conducting the usual monthly business Mrs. Thompson, the president, asked Mrs. Goddard to take the chair and conduct the election of officers for the ensuing year. The election resulted as follows:

President — Mrs. H. Campbell
Vice-Pres. — Mrs. Geo. Carlton
Secretary — Mrs. W. Feenstra
Treasurer — Mrs. C. Laird
Devotional Secretary — Mrs. Fred Goddard
Sunshine Secretary — Mrs. H. Schoonmaker
Manse Secretary — Mrs. Harold Cooper

The guests, Mrs. Alex Sikora, Mrs. Louis Hill and Miss Marie Campbell were presented with corsages.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Schoonmaker. The roll call will be a bazaar item.

Everyone is pleased that Mrs. Roel Feenstra is now home from the hospital and making a good recovery from her recent operation.

The W. A. sincerely thanks the editor and staff of the Standard for free space given for W. A. publicity during the past year and to extend to them, and all of our readers everywhere best wishes for a merry Christmas and happy New Year.

ST. NICHOLAS

Talking about Santa, there was a time when he was known as St. Nicholas. In many countries good children receive holiday gifts from the saint on this day. And he is not only the patron of children and giver of gifts — but the saint of mariners, scholars and pawnbrokers. Now how did pawnbrokers, of all people, get into this? There are many legends about St. Nicholas. Once for three nights in a row he threw a bag of gold through the open window of a poor man who was desperately considering selling his daughters. Over the years the three bags of gold became the pawnbrokers' sign of three golden balls.

HOLY NIGHT

Tradition of Poppy

The poppy loaf, traditionally a part of Christmas Eve supper in Lithuania, is a small loaf made of bread dough and baked hard in a bread pan. When cool the loaves are dipped in a solution made of water and sugar and ground poppy seed which is also used as a traditional holiday beverage.

Tradition prescribes that the poppy seed should be ground in an iron kettle using an ax handle as a mallet, and no Lithuanian would think of grinding seeds for the Christmas poppy loaves by any other method.

Gideons Present Bibles To Vermilion Valley Senior Citizens Lodge

On Sunday afternoon several members of the Vermilion Gideons Camp, together with a number of friends gathered at the Vermilion Valley Lodge and presented 34 Bibles to the Matron, Mrs. W. Torrance, for use in each room of the Lodge.

Mr. Ken Isley, vice-president of the local camp, was chairman. Other members taking part in the service of presentation and dedication were H. Sorenson, E. Schurman and E. Clendenning. Miss Donna Isley accompanied the singing with the accordion.

The Western Field Secretary of the Gideons, Mr. William Sawyer of Chilliwack, B.C., spoke briefly and made the actual presentation of Bibles to Mrs. Torrance.

Mr. Ashley Cooper, M.L.A., represented the provincial government, speaking on its behalf and in respect to his experiences with the Gideons. Mr. Cooper mentioned that there would be many presentations made to the senior citizens in Vermilion Valley Lodge but he thought it most fitting that the presentation of the Word of God by the Gideons to the Lodge should be the first such presentation made.

Chorus Carol Service Annual Musical Treat

The Vermilion Mixed Voice chorus and the United Church Junior choir, rendered a real musical treat on Sunday evening when they sang the annual carol service commencing at 9 o'clock in the Columbia theatre. Due no doubt to the sudden drop in temperature only a half-filled theatre of some 200 people were in attendance. This fact however did not deter the chorus from giving one of their very best and most enjoyable concerts.

This choir has now given eleven annual concerts under the direction of Mr. Jack Brown. Commencing one year ago a new feature was added in that the junior choir of the United Church, some thirty voices, also sang a group of numbers. This choir is also trained by Mr. Brown.

The program on Sunday evening was divided into three parts. The senior chorus rendered seven numbers. The junior choir then sang seven carols, with the seniors completing an outstanding group with ten carols.

Adding variety were a number of solos, including one by Dr. Stephens, the accompanist of the evening. He played a piano solo "Trinity Chimes". Mrs. Ruby Hauer sang "Nazareth". Mr. Tom Watts rendered "The Holy City" and Mr. Stan Clarke sang "O Holy Night".

Ashley Cooper was chairman for the program, giving brief facts about the various carols.

Proceeds from the voluntary collection are for Christmas hampers for the needy. Distribution is by the Salvation Army.

At the conclusion of the program Mr. Brown thanked Mrs. Kowalchuk for donating the use of the theatre, and also the many others who helped in various ways.

100% Attendance Attained At December Kinsmen Meeting

If you see Bud Baddock walking around with a big smile on his face it is because, as attendance chairman, he has established a record that will be the envy of every future holder of that office. The December 12th 1960 meeting saw every Kinsman member present. It was achievement number one on President Jim Ferguson's list. The community should be proud to have a group of eager young men bent on making Vermilion one of the outstanding communities in Alberta.

Keep up the good work, fellows!

Sports committee chairman Paul Dessert advised that the Grand Centre Kinsmen have accepted the Vermilion club's challenge to a curling match just as soon as Grand Centre's ice is ready. It seems that they had too many balmy tropical breezes which have made it virtually impossible to build curling ice. The local Kinsmen are planning to have two rinks visit Grand Centre as soon as a date can be set. The local Kinettes will have their eyes trained in a northerly direction that day.

Perfect attendance pins were awarded to the following Kinsmen: Bob Anderson, for an outstanding eight years; Art Morgan, 2 years; Bob Rowe, 3 years; Joe Hart, 6 years; Bill Flechuk, 6 years.

The Kinsmen Christmas party for their children at the Legion hall on Dec. 11th was a tremendous success. About 90 kiddies eagerly and impatiently awaited Santa's arrival as they sat through two juvenile Christmas films which preceded his arrival. The white-bearded old gentleman had a gift for every child. The Kinettes served a lovely lunch despite the noise and confusion of rifles, trucks, helicopters, etc.

President Jim Ferguson was a guest at the Sedgewick, Alberta branch Kinsmen meeting while in that part of the country on a business trip.

Bill Flechuk reports that plans for the New Year's Eve dance are going full steam ahead. All the people who received invitations and are planning to attend are advised to get their tickets at Art's Cleaners as soon as possible as it seems that tickets are at a premium. The tab is $8.00 per couple, this including corsages for the ladies, a buffet supper and dancing which will continue until 2:00 a.m.

The Kinsmen Pee-Wee hockey team is progressing very well. Their new uniforms are with the compliments of Rowe & Rowe Ltd. As a matter of fact the idea of challenging the Tigers is uppermost in Kinsmen minds.

Unconfirmed sources report that the Kinsmen are planning a hockey team of their own. Stranger things have happened!

As 1960 draws to a close the Kinsmen wish to extend to the people of Vermilion and surrounding area the merriest of Christmases and best wishes for the New Year.

NEW YEARS AT THE CORNERS

"POP," Maw Lewis called from the kitchen, "you get your lazy bones out of that chair and wash up. Dinner'll be ready in two shakes of a lamb's tail."

Pop managed to lift his six feet of bone and sinew to his feet and headed for the kitchen sink.

"Don't you go usin' that clean towel neither," Maw admonished. "That's for company. Use the roller towel. Sakes alive, I do believe you'd wipe your dirty feet on the front door mat if I'd leave it out."

"What's a door mat for," Pop flared, "if it ain't to wipe feet on?"

Pop gave the roller towel a vicious jerk. "Y'know tonight bein' New Year's Eve, Maw, you 'nd me ought to step out somewheres. They're having a big shindig over at the Pop snorted disdainfully. "What'd I have to be jealous o' Jed Haley for? Tell me that."

"Plenty," Maw said, "I was going to marry him."

Pop dropped his fork. "You was a-goin' to marry Jed?"

"Sure. Only his folks wanted him to marry Edde Stout. She owned all the bottom land nearly in Clarke county. He couldn't marry me until he was of age on account o' his folks wantin' him to marry Edde. In a year he figures he can get all her money and then divorce her and marry me. Meanwhile he said I might as well marry you, then when he got all Edde's money I could divorce you and marry him. NEWS from KITSCOTY

To the editor and staff of the Standard and to all who read this column I would like to wish a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Miss Neta Trask, student at the U of A, Edmonton, was a recent week-end visitor here with her mother, Mrs. R. D. Trask.

A branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce opened here for business on Dec. 15 in the F. O. Seward block.

Miss Judy Lang who is attending a business college in Calgary arrived home last week-end for the holidays.

Princess Anne W. I.

The annual meeting of the Princess Anne W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Alan Mead on Dec. 13th with twelve members present. The meeting followed the usual procedure and the roll call was answered with a gift for a mental patient. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Final plans were made for the Christmas concert.

The president, Mrs. George Richardson, gave an address in which she thanked the branch for their cooperation and the help given her throughout the past year. She then gave her resignation. The secretary expressed regret at her resignation and thanked Mrs. Richardson for a job well done.

The secretary, Mrs. Norman Armstrong, outlined accomplishments for the year. Mrs. Wm. McIntyre, treasurer, gave her report. Mrs. George Mead reported for health and Mrs. Mike [illegible] reported for social ac[illegible].

Mrs. [illegible] Strome then took the chair for election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. [illegible] McIntyre; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Alan Mead; Secretary, [illegible] Norman Armstrong; Treas., [illegible] Mrs. Alf Searle; Direc[illegible] Mrs. Joe Parchewsky, [illegible] Richardson, Mrs. An[illegible] [illegible].

A special executive meeting [illegible] at the home of Mrs. George Richardson [illegible].

Following the business there was [illegible] exchange of [illegible] gifts and lunch was served by the hostess Mrs. Alan Mead, Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Armstrong.

Next meeting will be at Mrs. Wm. McIntyre's on Jan. 19. Mrs. [illegible] Mead and Mrs. G. Mead [illegible] serve lunch.

A card party and white elephant sale was held at the hall on Nov. 29th and a card party was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Mead on Dec. 10. A [illegible] successful Xmas concert was sponsored at the hall on Dec. 17.

Pleasant Valley

The sun is shining beautifully at time of writing and if only Jack Frost had flown away until after Christmas at least all would have been happier. Everyone is very busy getting [illegible] yuletide shopping done. [illegible] the kiddies are noticed buying gifts for mom, dad and friends.

Mrs. Lee and Miss Mayers are [illegible] to Kelowna for the winter and a fine time is wished them [illegible] think though ladies of the [illegible] bright Alberta sunshine [illegible] are going to miss [illegible] also the exhilarating below zero weather.

Best wishes are extended to Mrs. [illegible] out at the coast for better health.

With all the happy holidays don't forget those folks who cannot get out and do write. Remember—

There's many a friend who is lonely and sad
And many a heart we could make glad.

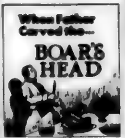
Best wishes for a very Merry Christmas to the editor and staff and all our friends everywhere.



WHAT ROAST TURKEY is to Christmas dinner today, the boar's head was to the Yuletide feasting of Medieval England.

Preparation for the feasting began during September or October when the boar's flesh was at its best. Hunters tracked the animal down with well-trained packs of boar-hounds and it was dangerous sport attacking the ferocious beast with spears or surrounding him and driving him into a net.

His ear was his most vulnerable spot, but before the dogs could get a grip on it and pin him down, his sharp teeth often wounded, sometimes even killed, the hunter and his dogs.

Nevertheless, the glorious [illegible] the [illegible] his [illegible] were [illegible] the marrow of the feasting when his head was borne to the Christmas table.

Misses Sylvia and Judy Kay who are attending the Anglican School for girls in Regina, arrived home on Sunday to spend the holiday season with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kay and Peter.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. E. Moss, who celebrated his 91st birthday on Dec. 9th. Mr. Moss enjoys fairly good health and does his own shopping when weather permits.

Mr. Norman McDonald and his small daughter Norma of Edmonton were week-end visitors here with the folks. Mr. and Mrs. M. K. McDonald returned to the city with them for the holiday season. They were accompanied to Edmonton by Mrs. J. R. Fox who will spend Xmas with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. G. Brennan and grandsons Garth and Gary Brennan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Potter left at the week-end for Fort Nelson, N.W.T., to spend the Christmas holidays with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jenkins and grandsons Alan and Dale Jenkins.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. H. J. Robertson who is at present a patient in Lloydminster hospital.

The stores and other places of business along with the street light standards are gaily decorated with strings of colored lights, many of the homes too are bright with outside lighting effects this Christmas which certainly adds a festive touch to our village streets.

A carol service will be held in the Anglican church, Kitscoty on Sunday, Dec. 25th at 10:30 a.m.

The members of Kitscoty Branch Post 1?? of the Canadian Legion are sponsoring a novelty dance in the town hall on New Year's Eve. Lunch will be served. Everybody welcome.

Blessings
To our many friends our wishes for a Christmas that will be rich in joy and good health.

THE sharp wind lashed furiously about Larry's head and shoulders, flirting momentarily with the idea of sending his brown fedora spiraling down the street, but he sensed its capricious tendencies and held the brim of his hat tightly between his forefinger and thumb as he ran toward his car parked on the [illegible].

It would be the last time he'd beat that particular path, he thought grimly. It was Christmas Eve and everybody was in a gay and anticipatory mood. Everybody, that is, except Larry. He had been reasonably happy until that morning when the whole world seemed to have crashed about him. Opening the door of the car, he slid in behind the wheel and started it toward home.

The face of Silas Henning, until fifteen minutes ago his boss, came to his mind and again he heard the words that he dreaded to repeat to Rosine. "I know you're not happy in your work, Larry, and it's not fair to either one of us when you don't put your best efforts into what you're doing. I think therefore that you'd better go elsewhere for a job. Today's as good a day as any to sever connections."

Fired on Christmas Eve! Of course, what Henning had said was true. Larry wasn't happy being a bookkeeper at Morrison's appliance shop. He had always yearned to be a writer, and wrote numerous short stories during his spare time.

When Rosine told him of their expected second child he had taken the job at Morrison's through sheer desperation. No longer could they live on their savings. He considered the job as temporary, but it had

Tigers Lose Game But Win Protest; Garner First Two Points of Season

Vermilion Tigers lost the game played Saturday night by a 6 to four score to Bonnyville Pontiacs but won the protest which followed and thereby gathered up the two points. The Tigers on the official statistics have four losses and one win for two points.

The protest arose out of the use of defenceman Mandrik, No 5 by the Pontiacs. He apparently is registered with an Edmonton Commercial league team in Intermediate B hockey. Regulations in the I A H L state that no played may play on two teams. It was a definite violation and the league manager awarded the points to Vermilion.

Even though it ended in a fight the game on Saturday night was a clean, fast skating set-to played before over 400 cash customers.

At the end of the first period the Tigers found themselves on the short end of a 2-1 score. Belcourt of the visitors opened the counting. Dave Lowrie combined with Andy Legasse and Ken Brown to even it at one-all, then Carp beat Scoggins to put the [illegible].

In the second goals by H. Sylvestre and Belcourt opened up a 3-goal margin, but the Tigers came back and notched two, by Andy Redford from Legasse, and Elmer Leahy from Ron Hemmingway and Pete Link. This made it 4-3 and things looked up for Tiger fans. Lowrie was penalized for slashing and the Pontiacs capitalized on the one-man advantage with Yates netting the disc from Carp.

Early in the third Gerry Schmidt cut the gap to one with Ken Brown and Ike Bronson in on the combination act. However Hebert just about put the game on ice for the visitors when he scored late in the period.

A fight at the end of he game broke out in the Bonnyville corner with Dave Lowrie taking exception to a wallop on the head from G. Sylvestre's stick. The two were squaring off nicely when Belcourt decided his teammate noded help and went to the rescue of Sylvestre. All three found their way to the sin bin just 14 seconds from the final bell.

Referees were Ed Robbins of North Battleford and Andy Deville of Lloydminster.

[illegible]

PONTIACS — Briggs, Wadden, Mandrik, G and R. Sylvestre, Belcourt, Yates, Carp, [illegible], Galloway, Hebert.

Dear Editor:

While at the hockey game in the arena Saturday night I could not help but notice numerous people lighting up their fags, this despite numerous no smoking signs displayed prominently throughout the building.

This dangerous practice should be squelched right now by those with the authority to do so, before a major disaster occurs.

Sincerely,

Short-Handed, Tigers Lose 6-3 At Bonnyville

Playing with only twelve players on Wednesday night at Bonnyville, the Vermilion Tigers lost a clean, fast game by a 6-3 score. With only six minutes left to play, the count was 4-3. The Tigers had to throw caution to the winds in attempting to get the equalizer and the Pontiacs notched two more in the dying moments of the game.

Scoring for the Tigers were Ken Brown, Andy Redford and Leo Manning.

The Tigers were able to ice only an even dozen players as Dave Lowrie and Hedley Dennill have joined the camp of the Lloydminster Chevies and Bronson and Warner were unable to make the trip.

Tigers Lose Two Hockey Players

Vermilion Tigers are short two hockey players this week as Dave Lowry, defenceman, and Hedley Dennill, forward, have defected to the Lloydminster Chevies. Apparently they told the management of the Tigers that [illegible] would play five games with the team and if no victories were chalked up in that time they were going to accept the coaxing of the Chevies to join their [illegible].

Accordingly they were in the Lloydminster line-up against St. Paul on Wednesday night, but their start was an inauspicious one as Lloyd. lost 6 to 4.

UFA Bulk Station Opens At Myrnam

A capacity crowd filled the Elks hall at Myrnam last Thursday evening to mark the official opening of the new U.F.A. Co-op bulk station there. Speakers included Dr S. Cholod, mayor of the village, Mr John Dutar, reeve of Eagle municipal district, Ralph Wilson, director of Dist. No. 7, F.U.A., Castle Scott, U.F.A. Co-op field man, and Arnie Olson, U.F.A. Co-op superintendent.

Mr Gordon Cramer, U.F.A. Co-op auditor, acted as projectionist and showed some very enjoyable films. Steve Melnyk, director of sub-district 1 of District 7 F.U.A., acted as master of [illegible].

An interesting and much enjoyed evening was brought to a close with the serving of coffee and doughnuts by the Myrnam ladies.

Starts 'Little Grey Cup' At Coast

A former Vermilion man, William P. Hobbis of Victoria, B.C., a brother of Cecil Hobbis of Vermilion, is given credit for starting the "Little Grey Cup" which was played at the Royal Athletic park in Victoria on Nov. 23rd. The opposing teams were the Winnipeg Junior Rams and the Victoria Juvenile All-Stars.

Mr Hobbis has been retired from the RCMP since 1949 but is busier than ever as he helps organize a lot of recreational and community projects. But he has never been as enthusiastic as he is now about the "Little Grey Cup". The idea has been well received in other western Canadian cities and this may expand into a Canadian Juvenile little game in future years. Incidentally Mr Hobbis is heading towards his 71st birthday.

Although a former soccer centre forward and a good one too, Hobbis says that this Canadian football is just about the best game of all.

OBITUARY

RICHARD ROGERS BRENNAN

Funeral services for the late Mr. Richard Rogers Brennan, who passed away in Calgary on December 9th, were held at St. Saviour's Anglican church, Vermilion on Monday, Dec. 12th at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment followed in the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. W. A. Champness officiated.

Mr Brennan was born at St. Patrick's, Beaurinage County, Quebec, on June 5, 1875. He grew to young manhood there and worked for a number of years in the Eastern States. He then returned to Parkhurst, Quebec to join with his father in the blacksmithing and horseshoeing business, attracted, no doubt, by the fact that he was always very fond of good driving horses. Mr. Brennan came to Vermilion in 1918 and worked for some time with the contracting and carpentering firm of Walker and Lipsey replacing the buildings destroyed when the business section of Vermilion was burned in April, 1918.

In 1919 he moved to the well known family farm one mile west of Vermilion, which was operated as a dairy farm for many years. Here he lived until he retired from active farming and he and Mrs. Brennan moved into Vermilion. Mrs. Brennan predeceased her husband in 1950, following which Mr Brennan again made his home on the farm [illegible] five years ago when he moved to Calgary and lived with [illegible]ter Jean and family.

Surviving members of the family are one daughter, Mrs J. E. Belyea (Jean) of Calgary, one son Claude N. of Vermilion and six grandchildren. One sister, Miss E. M. Brennan resides at South Burnaby and one brother Wilfred at Concord, N.H.

Pall bearers were Messrs. E M Stewart, Gordon Ross, Carman Long, Thos. Watts, Charles Stewart and Wilfred Little.

The Massey-Ferguson Co. Ltd. and their local dealer, George Webb & Sons, are sponsoring the Massey-Ferguson Curlorama "61". This is known as the "Farmers' Curling Brier".

In this area district clubs will hold playdowns with the winners advancing to a playdown at Vermilion. This will bring a representative from Wildmere, [illegible] Combe, Clandonald and [illegible] clubs, and the Vermilion club, to Vermilion for a one-day play-off.

The winner of this will advance to a district playdown and the winner in turn to the provincial finals in Edmonton. The winner of the provincial farmers curling title will represent Alberta in the Western Canada Playdowns.

On Dec. 14 the regular meeting was held with a one hundred per cent attendance. It was decided to hold an amateur night and dance on Jan. 27, also a debate on Hereford cattle vs. Aberdeen Angus at the next meeting.

C.G.I.T. HOLD VESPER SERVICE

The pleasing Vesper or Candle Lighting service was carried out at the United church on Sunday evening by the Canadian Girls in Training. It is a reverent and satisfying service and is entirely conducted by the girls. It gives the congregation the feeling that the young people of to-day are very efficient and well able to handle events and programs. The service too exemplifies the splendid training given in the C.G.I.T.

Joan Stephens, president of the C.G.I.T. was the leader and conducted the service. The C.G.I.T. choir led the congregational singing and rendered two anthems. Scripture readings were by Glenda Brennan and Ruth Stewart while Dorothy Tweed read the story.

The candle lighters were Louise Barr, Wendy Wright, Linda Evans and Anne Duncan. Lighting was done by Lois Cooper, Pamela King, Nancy Hill and Marie McCauley.

Despite the fact that there are a considerable number of items in the program the girls conducted it without a break of any kind, resulting in a very pleasing service.

Pamphlet on Selling To Government Now Available

The Canadian Government, the largest single buyer of goods and services in Canada, has just issued a manual on its requirements. Prepared by the Small Business Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce "Selling to the Canadian Government" is being distributed to businessmen attending the current Export Trade Promotion Conference in Ottawa.

[illegible] and procedures of Federal Government procurement with information about tenders and contracts. Services are divided into professional and commercial, with a complete analysis by type. Most construction it is explained is handled by the Department of Public Works but four other departments have the authority to contract in some measure on their own for public works.

The manual describes how purchasing is handled by the nine departments which handle 95% of all Federal government procurement. The purchasing offices of each department are listed.

An appendix notes 72 categories of goods and services purchased with a breakdown of each into as many as 20 individual items and a clear indication as to which are used by the various departments.

Copies of the pamphlet may be obtained from the Editorial and Art Services Division, Trade Publicity Branch, Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

Bethlehem Carollers Observe Tradition

As the angels sang on that first Christmas night, so will there be singing in the village of Bethlehem in this year.

Bethlehem caroling is in many languages. An Arab choir will join with the voices of tourists and pilgrims in a simple outdoor service in a grotto which might have been the sheepfold for the watching shepherds. The Christmas story will be read from the Gospel of St. Luke.

The stone buildings and churches of Bethlehem will be filled with thousands of pilgrims who have journeyed here for a particular mass at midnight in St. Catherine's Chapel and the procession which later leads down a flight of stone stairs to the grotto beneath the Church of the Nativity.

According to tradition, nearly 2,000 years old, the grotto is the site of the stable where Jesus was born when Joseph and Mary could find no room at the inn.

During the ceremony an infant figure of Christ is placed first on a silver star, then in a manger in a wooden crib where it will remain until the feast of Epiphany.

If twigs and foliage aren't reasonably resilient or needles feel dry and crumbly, better pass up the tree. Chances are it will look like a hatrack before Christmas day.

And if you're not quite sure by the touch method, bang the butt of the tree sharply on the floor. A shower of needles will [illegible] you if the tree's drying out. [illegible] Of course, the way the tree looks is an important factor, but an attractive tree that will lose its beauty in short order is hardly a bargain.

The ideal holiday tree boasts the traditional pyramid shape with [illegible] branches reaching to the base. The two favorites in the market stands are Balsam fir and Norway spruce. The slower-growing Balsam fir is more expensive than the spruce but it retains its [illegible] longer indoors.

Then how about decorating your windows and mirrors? Cotton, white spray paint or white paper snowflakes always look pretty. But if there's an artist in your family why not have him paint a scene of a jolly Santa on a window or mirror with tempera paint?

Doggie in the Window

By LILLIAN MITCHELL

SANDRA sighed and slipped into her white fur jacket.

Mabel laughed, her brown eyes crinkling at the corners. "Oh, well, maybe it isn't as much fun going out for New Year's Eve with a crowd of girls, Sandra. But at least, come Monday morning, we shall have something to tell at the office."

"I know, I know," agreed the grey-eyed Sandra. "Only if I'd guessed how very few men there would be here in Emeryton, I'd have chosen to stay in the City [illegible] from school days. And I'd never in the world have bought this fur jacket on the so-called easy term basis."

Arm in arm they left the boarding house and hurried towards the bus stop where they were to meet two other girls. The air was fresh and icy and Sandra pulled the collar of the white fur jacket closely.

In the darkness, a small dog crossed the sidewalk, nearly tripping them in the dragging leash.

"Come on," Mabel said. "The girls are waving that a bus is coming, Sandra."

"That must be the doggy in the window," Mabel laughed.

"That doggy must have a good home," Sandra chimed in. "What a coat! The golden fur drags on the sidewalk, for a fact."

The golden Pekingese looked up at her with enormous eyes and waited. Sandra stopped, looking closely at the collar that stated:

"I'm Tang. I live at 413 Euclid Avenue. Please take me home."

Sandra glanced up at the nearby house. "Well, Tang, you are home. Skip up those steps, Pup."

"Come on. The girls are waving that a bus is coming, Sandra," Mabel said.

"I'll meet you at the corner of State and Broadway. I'm going to ring the bell and tell them their dog is loose," Sandra said.

"Oh, the dog will get inside all right. Come along!"

But Sandra stooped again, swooped the tiny dog into her arms and ran lightly up the greystone steps. Her ring brought no one to the door although she could clearly hear the soft chime when she pressed the button. Opening the door that was unlocked, she called gently, "Here's Tang. Anyone at home?"

"Oh, come in, please," answered a silvery voice.

Sandra, still holding little Tang, moved along the hallway to an open doorway where a fireplace glowed and an elderly woman sat in a wheelchair. "Donny took him walking, my dear, and Tang must have got away, somehow."

"Ah, well, he couldn't have got himself lost," smiled Sandra. "He was right outside your door."

"Yes, but he chases cars. We even had him trained by a professional training school and they really trained him in everything except car-chasing, and with his leash dragging ..." she [illegible].

Then the door burst open and a tall dark haired young man rushed in. "Grandma, Tang, where's my little yellow rascal? You ..."

"He's not yellow, he's golden," interrupted his grandmother. "And I'll wager you took him in that convertible I got you for Christmas, and he jumped out, and then the blonde girl who lives down at 605 on this same street goes home every night with the brown haired girl at sixteen minutes after [illegible]. My grandson, Donny."

"How do you do," murmured Sandra, edging towards the doorway. "How in the world did you ever guess I lived at 605?"

"The lady who keeps [illegible] is a friend of mine, my dear. Me, I get to sit in the front window all the [illegible] because I fractured my hip [illegible] years ago."

[illegible] That girl and Donny ... they couldn't be righter for each other, eh?"

M.C. for the evening was popular Rev. Shell. Santa's appearance was welcomed with lively interest and the usual sound of happy sleigh bells.

Adeline Chanasyk and Paul Mistal Pledge Marriage Vows

On Saturday October 29th the Ukrainian Greek Catholic church at Derwent was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Miss Adeline Steva Chanasyk became the bride of Mr. Paul Leon Mistal, second oldest son of Mr. Stan Mistal and the late Mrs. Mistal, all of Derwent. Rev. Father Cherkowsky performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Chanasyk celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary that day.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of white net and lace complemented with an apron-shaped [illegible] trimmed with sequins from which flowed three tiers of permanent pleats. Her fitted bodice consisted of a square neckline trimmed with sequins and long lily point sleeves. The four tier veil was held in place by a matching sequin and rhinestone tiara. Her jewelry consisted of a rose necklace, a gift of the groom. The bride carried a bouquet of orange ice roses.

Mrs. Stephania Jacula, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink flowered [illegible] organdie dress with a wide cummerbund and a back bow of taffeta and matching white accessories. She carried a bouquet of blue apple blossoms.

Miss Betty Anne Chanasyk, sister of the bride and Miss Adeline Koziak, cousin of the bride were her bridesmaids. They wore apple green party dresses in the same style as that of the matron, orange picture hats and carried bouquets of light orange apple blossoms. Little Iris Nadorak, cousin of the bride acted as flower girl. She wore a pink [illegible] dress, pink shoes, pink tiara and carried a bouquet of [illegible] apple blossoms.

Mr. [illegible] [illegible] was the best man. Mr. Louis Mistal, a cousin of the groom and [illegible] [illegible] were ushers. They wore white sports coats and black trousers with black bow ties, a gift of the groom. Master Ray[illegible] Chanasyk, youngest brother of the bride was ring bearer. He wore a white sports coat and black trousers with a black bow tie. He carried a square-shaped ring bearer pillow from which flowed three streamers of blue apple blossom flowers.

The ring bearer pillow and the flower girl's basket of apple blossoms were designed by Mrs. Steve Chanasyk, aunt of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Chanasyk chose a blue lace dress with a wide cummerbund and bolero. Her accessories were orange.

On the way to the wedding ceremony the bride and groom visited the groom's mother's grave where a lovely pink corsage was placed.

Following the marriage ceremony a bridal supper and dance was held in the Derwent National hall where some 350 guests signed the guest book. Mrs. Stephania Jacula was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with white tablecloths centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. The hall was decorated beautifully with deep pink, turquoise and white streamers and wedding bells.

Mr. Louis Mistal proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom ably responded.

The many speakers who wished the bride and groom good wishes were Mr. Felix Woloshyn, Mr. Ashley Cooper, M.L.A. of Vermilion, Rev. Father Cherkowsky, Mr. Joe Chanasyk, grandfather of the bride and Mr. [illegible] Mistal, uncle of the groom.

Mr. Adam Mistal, brother of the groom and Mr. Paul Chanasyk, uncle of the bride ushered the guests to their seats.

The bride's travelling ensemble was a royal blue sheath dress in wool with a wide embroidered cummerbund and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of orange roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Mistal will make their home on the groom's farm east of Derwent.

Mannville Home & School Enjoy Christmas Party

On Thursday evening Dec. 15th, a crowd comprised of parents and members of Mannville H. and S. Association, and a small representation of teachers met in the auditorium, first for a short business meeting, and later to enjoy their annual party. Pres. Russell Whitson occupied the chair and following the approval of usual reports called upon Mrs. Nancy Coxford, chairman of the Mannville Recreational Community Council to give a report on same. This she did outlining fully the facts which have been made public in this paper as regards organization of each group — curling, hockey, badminton, etc.

Mrs. Coxford declared the recent survey made possible by the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary was most helpful, and most of all they were pleased with the offers of leadership in the various groups.

Most important is the fact that each age group is being looked after. In thanking Mrs. Coxford, Mrs. George Younge expressed the meeting's viewpoint as she commended the people's choice of this capable chairman for the Recreational Committee.

Following the business meeting and its adjournment Rev. H. Shel in charge of entertainment called upon Rev. Frank Andrews to lead the singing of carols which was much enjoyed after which games of lively interest were engaged in by all. Walter Donnennworth was M.C. in charge of dancing to the musical strains of the competent Weaver Orchestra. The evening was well planned, each committee discharging its duties with precision and efficiency.

Lunch provided under the guidance of Mrs. Nellie Cotter was delightfully served by chefs attractively attired in white and red hats with matching aprons and bearing signs provoking great amusement such as "I'm Harry, I mustn't tarry", "I'm Dave, I feel so brave", "I'm Ed, wish I was dead". Members of the regional board of trustees Joe Kufeldt and Albert Hinton and their wives were present. Support of Home and School is to be continued, as contribution is kept up towards the shop work and Home Ec. room awards. It is felt by both teachers that more interest is stimulated by this encouragement.

A father's biggest difficulty at Christmas time is convincing the children that he is Santa Claus — and his wife that he isn't!

By DANIEL F. LINDSAY

TOM LARKIN opened the kitchen door. His wife looked up with a hopeful smile as he entered. He just shook his head.

"No mail at all?" she said as she went on fixing dinner.

"Oh, there were a couple of ads and a bill from the seed company." He hung his hat on a hook and crossed to the pump. His white hair was damp around his face when he straightened up again.

"It's just not like B[illegible]," she sighed.

"Bill's got an ungivin' streak, always did have, even when he was a little feller." Pa's old briar gave off a pungent odor as he lit it.

"But this is different, Tom," she said, putting a pan of biscuits in the oven. "Tomorrow is Christmas. It's a long way to the coast. Maybe he wrote but didn't mail it in time."

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Motoring through Canada's winter wonderland can be as safe as it is exciting if you follow six common sense rules listed below.

1. Accept all in your power to do all in your power to drive without an accident. Don't blame the weather — be prepared to meet the situation.
2. Get the feel of the road by trying the brakes occasionally while driving slowly and away from traffic to find out just how slippery the road is. Always adjust your speed to road and weather conditions.
3. Keep the windshield and windows clear of snow and icing and frost. Be sure head lights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters are in top condition.
4. Be prepared for poor traction. Under any circumstances be sure your tires have good treads. Snow tires provide added traction. For emergency conditions carry a set of good tire chains. Chains help you start, move and stop safely in more severe weather conditions.
5. Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Jamming them on can lock the wheels and throw you into a dangerous skid.
6. Follow at a safe distance. Keep well back of the vehicle ahead to give yourself more room to stop. On snow and ice your stopping distance increases greatly.

VERMILION HEALTH UNIT NOTES

Some Regulations for the Control Of Communicable Diseases

Whenever a doctor ascertains or has reason to suspect that a person whom he is called to visit or examine has measles he shall communicate such fact or suspicion to the householder and shall within twelve hours give notice thereof in writing to the Health Unit. Whenever a householder ascertains or has reason to suspect that a person within his family or household has the measles he shall at once send notice to this effect to the Health Unit. Whenever the head teacher or other teacher in any school ascertains or suspect that any pupil has any communicable disease for which isolation and quarantine is required or that such a disease exists in the house of any pupil he shall forthwith notify the local Health Unit and inform the parent or guardian of such pupil and the pupil shall not be permitted to attend school until the end of the quarantine or isolation period.

MEASLES

Notification: Measles is a notifiable disease and should be notified to the Health Unit by parents, doctors and teachers.

Isolation: The patient should be isolated for ten days from the appearance of the rash.

Quarantine: Of susceptible contacts for 14 days. This means that all contacts of the case — whether children or adults that never had measles should remain at home for 14 days from the appearance of the rash. It also means that susceptible people should not go into a home where there is a case of measles during the quarantine.

Concurrent Disinfection: Of all articles soiled with the secretions of the nose and throat.

There are many cases of measles being notified daily to the Health Unit but some evidently are not. If measles occur in a home where there is a child under the age of three years, the Health Unit will if requested, give that young child some protection by inoculations of Gamma Globulin. Older children may also be protected when a case exists in the home if the family doctor thinks the child is debilitated ,and needs to be protected.

OF MANY THINGS

WHISPER TIME

Around our home there is much whispering these days, and small fingers are busy composing Christmas cards, preparing home made gifts, and sharing secrets about the plans it is hoped that Santa Claus has up his copious sleeves.

About this time of the year too, a few cynics will again start holding forth against the whole idea, damning it as too commercial, or claiming it is sinful that we should have so many good things here in Canada while so many nations have so little.

One listens to the cynics, agrees in part with some of their wailing and then goes home to get sold again on the warmth and kindliness and generosity this season brings. While feeling sorry for countries which have less it is still possible to thank God we have so much and that we have managed to earn it on our own in a land where the weather is harsh and the population small.

Canada has nothing to be ashamed of because her people are in the main healthy and relatively prosperous. Canadians have been hard workers, quick to make use of modern machinery and scientific research. We have adopted a system of government which is dynamic, leaving men a large degree of freedom both in religious and economic fields. There need be no guilt complex at Christmas or any other time about the abundance of our possessions.

True, it would be wonderful if every nation in the world could enjoy a high standard of living. Canadians, with the Americans and other open-hearted peoples have already given large sums of money to help other nations improve their positions. But money alone is not enough.

We should attempt to export some of the spirit of zeal and initiative that has helped us do well. We should try to encourage other nations to seek the kind of freedom we enjoy and value the kind of inventiveness that has made us wealthy. Furthermore, we should try harder to keep our prices down, so that other nations can afford to buy from us.

At any rate when Christmas comes, and your tree is laden with tinsel and your table with good Canadian food eat hearty! Abundance doesn't come unearned. Enjoy it all in the knowledge that you and your neighbors made it [illegible]

VANCOUVER, Dec. 12 — Canadian National Railways is handling carloads of holly — the traditional natural decorative shrub for use in homes across Canada during the festive season.

C. N. Express cars began leaving here last week for the prairie and eastern provinces loaded with thousands of packages of the popular red-berried holly.

This year, holly farms on Vancouver Island and British Columbia's lower mainland expect another heavy crop of the traditional festive greenery.

Salesmen Required To Produce Provincial License

A safeguard to the consumer are the individual licenses now required by Alberta statute by door to door salesmen in the province. The licenses which list the salesman's name, company and product, must be produced on request from a prospective customer.

The regulations requiring the licensing of direct salesmen are contained in amendments to the Licensing of Trades and Business Act which came into effect Aug. 1st, 1960.

Affected by the regulations are salesmen selling door to door soliciting orders for goods for future delivery and soliciting persons to enter into a contract whereby the person has the right to thereafter purchase goods. This includes direct mail and coupon solicitation. The order does not affect farmers selling produce raised in the province or an employee of a farmer who has written authority to sell goods direct to the consumer.

Any corporation or company engaged in direct selling is required to ensure their salesmen are properly licensed before they engage in business for that company.

The Licensing Branch of the Department of Industry and Development administers the new regulations and in accordance with the Act may require a company or individual to post bond in the province before engaging in business. Further protection is provided by the Act in requiring the salesman to produce for the customer a true copy of all contracts and orders at the time of the transaction.

Fees for the licenses are designed to offset the cost of administering the regulations and are as follows. A commercial agent hiring no salesmen but engaged in selling, $25, where up to five salesmen are employed, $100, over five salesmen, $200. The individual license fee is $5.

A person suffering from a bodily defect, injury or incapacity is eligible to receive a license at no fee upon receipt of a recommendation from the mayor or municipal reeve in the applicant's residence area.

It is expected the regulations will effect more than 1000 salesmen presently doing business in the province as well as many more interprovincial business men who carry on business in more than one province and visit Alberta only periodically.

Paradise Valley W. A. Re-elects Mrs. F. Sirett

PARADISE VALLEY. — The Paradise Valley W.A. met at the home of Mrs. G. Venner on Dec. 6th at 2 p.m. for their annual meeting. Mrs. W. A. Nickle and Mrs. G. Henry were hostesses. Mrs. Fred Sirett presided for the annual meeting.

Good fellowship and co-operation prevailed throughout the year and the various reports show a very active and successful year for this group of twenty-one members. Eleven regular and one executive meeting were held. 116 people, bereaved or ill were remembered with cards and 376 visits were made by members to hospitals or homes. The study for the year was "The Statement of Faith", with several members taking a part. One member, Mrs. Gunn, was nominated and elected as convener of Visiting and Christian Fellowship committee for the Presbytery W.A. The net proceeds for the year, $2,740.20, were raised by catering to three banquets and seven wedding receptions, a strawberry tea and sale chicken supper and bazaar. No bake sale can, cloth teas, tea collections at meetings and the sale of our range and a chest of drawers.

Besides a number of charitable donations some kitchen equipment was purchased and one screen door and light for the manse but the big project of the year was the extension made to the church basement for a banquet room and the basement under the Sunday school room made into a fine room to be used for a Sunday school room while the regular one is rented by the public school. This is later to be used for a kitchen.

A Red Cross campaign was sponsored. Two boys were sent to the religious leadership training course at Alberta college during Easter week. Sunday School Cradle Roll is also sponsored. One pot luck supper was taken charge of and lunch served to Lloydminster Choristers and family night and various meetings. The church was cleaned, painted and varnished and decorated for Thanksgiving Sunday. Used clothing was collected for the Salvation Army and nylons for a missionary project. Nabob coupons are being saved for new coffee pots and stamps of all kinds are being collected to send to Dr. Stewart Allen to be used in missionary work.

The W.A. would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all who made donations of material, work and cash and helped in any way during the year.

Rev. W. L. MacDonald presided for the election of officers and committees for 1961 which are as follows: President, Mrs. F. Sirett, re-elected; Vice-Pres., Mrs. F. B[illegible]; Sec'y, Mrs. G. Venner, re-elected; Treasurer, Mrs. E. Kragnes, re-elected; Christian Citizenship, Mrs. C. Ball and Mrs. G. Gus; Devotional, Mrs. J. Gordon, Mrs. S. Leighton; Manse committee, Mrs. H. Cross Elected President Agricultural Society

The annual meeting of the Vermilion Agricultural Society was held on Dec. 16th when reports of the executive officers were considered by the membership. Financial position of the society was proved to be in good shape and considerable discussion centred on the fine new agricultural building now nearing completion on the exhibition grounds, said to be one of the finest structures of its kind, the building will doubtless prove of inestimable value for the holding of livestock shows and sales in the main area, while ample space will be available for the showing of hall exhibits of various kinds.

EXTENSION OF SHORT COURSE PROJECTS

Plans were laid at the annual meeting for the extension of the short course projects which have proven so popular in recent years among farmers and their families. The 1961 program will include an extension of the summer camp for farm girls and boys in conjunction with the Provincial School of Agriculture.

JUMPING SWEEPSTAKES

Arrangements were initiated to hold a jumping sweepstakes with some of Canada's outstanding horses taking part. This equestrian feature will be held at Vermilion only and will include horses which have achieved notable success at classes of the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto and in competition in Mexico. The Vermilion Light Horse show has proved to be an unusually outstanding feature and this will be developed to an even higher level.

PLAN LIVESTOCK SALE

A sale of purebred beef cattle and hogs will be staged in the spring of 1961 with emphasis being placed on quality with specific culling of all animals of less than top quality.

Stock Owners in the Brucellosis-Control Area of the M. D. VERMILION RIVER, No. 71

CONTRIBUTED BY HEALTH OF ANIMALS DIVISION, 761 Federal Building, Edmonton, Alberta

Your full co-operation is requested and required to facilitate the smooth and efficient operation and progress of this Brucellosis Eradication programme.

It should be clearly understood that the blood testing of your adult cattle is the natural second phase of the whole plan which began several years ago when you elected to have compulsory calfhood vaccination in your Municipality.

Calfhood vaccination plays an important role in reducing Brucellosis infection to a point where a test and slaughter programme can be introduced to eliminate the disease. Cattlemen however must recognize that vaccination will not eradicate Brucellosis completely. Research trials and extensive field investigations have shown that on the average vaccination provides about 65-75 percent protection to animals that are exposed to infection.

For this reason it is obvious that to completely eliminate the disease a well organized programme of testing and removal of infected animals from the herd as well as a rigid checking of all additions before they are allowed to contact your home stock is essential.

When a vaccinated herd with no clinical abortion has positive animals, it has been found that in most cases the infection is in the udder and that the milk contains live Brucella organisms. Milk from such cows can readily spread the disease to other cattle and to humans.

Blood samples will be taken from all cattle except calves under 8 months, steers and vaccinates less than 3 years old providing proof of vaccination (ear tag or certificate) is present.

As the final certification of the area is based on the total cattle population, all animals will be counted and listed.

To collect blood samples the animals must be well restrained and equipment should be so modified that the animal's head and neck may be extended through the front of the chute and held firmly to one side.

If all necessary repairs and modification to equipment are made before the testing commences, much inconvenience and unnecessary delay will be avoided and the whole operation will be accomplished in a fraction of the time. If you do not have the necessary facilities on your farm for restricting animals for blood testing you are earnestly requested to prepare same.

As the work will be performed on a regular systematic basis by townships, you are requested not to postpone the test if at all possible.

CATTLE ENTERING BRUCELLOSIS CONTROL AREAS:

Cattle may only enter the B.C.A. under the following conditions:

(a) Calves under 8 mos., spayed heifers and steers may enter the Area.

(b) Official vaccinates under 36 mos. of age may enter without a test providing they are accompanied by a Health Certificate issued by a H. of A. Inspector or an Accredited Veterinarian.

(c) All other cattle shall not be permitted entry unless they have passed a negative test conducted within the previous 30 days and will require a re-test after 30 days isolation on the farm. The cost of the initial test of additions will be borne by the owner.

The work of general testing will commence within a short period.

CHRISTMAS . . . 1960

A Guest Editorial by the late Ken Hughes, Editor Yorkton Enterprise

Christmas Eve approaches. Bells throughout all Christendom are ringing out the most joyous proclamation of the gospel message:

"Fear not, for, behold, I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." (St. Luke 2 10-11).

Yes, 1960 years ago, the angels sang, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men," and those that followed the star in the east found the Saviour, Christ the Lord, lying in a manger, in the city of David.

But the first Christmas was a trying, painful time, despite all the manifestations of glory. Was not Joseph summoned from sleep to take unto himself Mary, who gave virgin birth to Christ Jesus? And were not Mary and Joseph summoned by decree from Caesar Augustus to go from Galilee to Bethlehem to be taxed? And were not all men of good will summoned by the angels to go to the manger in Bethlehem to find their king?

Mary and Joseph lived under a dictatorship in which life was cheap. Their income was more than likely in the lower third of the nation. When it came time for the Baby they were summoned to make a trip to meet the demands of their government. Whether the Baby lived or died was of no concern to the society in which they existed. As far as their own people were concerned Mary and Joseph could make out for themselves.

But because God reigned, they were not alone. The Wise Men brought gifts of great treasure. There was great rejoicing.

And so tonight there is rejoicing and there are visible tokens of Christmas. Most business sections have been bright with Christmas decorations for days past. Holly wreaths are found in many home windows, bells on doors and gaily lit Christmas trees, if not on the front lawn, visible in the living rooms, from the street. Stores, in most centres, will have closed for a three-day holiday. Everywhere about us, there seems to be a new spirit, a new life, a new hope, a new joy. Tomorrow children will go to bed assured that Santa Claus is on his way and will come down the chimney in our respective homes, to deliver a portion of his heavy load. Most of us will banish all thoughts of external troubles and for the next few days concentrate on internal joys.

It is, indeed, a time of Merry Christmas.

Christmas Season Fire Hazards

In addition to the exhortations for good cheer and happiness at Christmas time, A. E. Bridges, Alberta Fire Commissioner suggests that fire safety demands the careful consideration of special fire hazards at the Christmas season. consideration of special fire hazards at the Christmas season. trees and Christmas lights, and this is of course necessary.

Nevertheless, according to the Fire Commissioner's evaluation, the greatest fire cause of the season is careless smoking. Last year in the Province of Alberta there were 382 fires with a fire loss of $500,000 in the month of December. The day before Christmas there were 19 fires and on Christmas Day there were 27 fires, and of the total of 46 fires, 24 were caused by careless smoking. Other fire causes were accidents with heating equipment, electric wiring and accidents with Christmas candles. Careless smoking, coupled with social gatherings, can add up to a serious fire hazard.

During the festive days ahead common sense and common courtesy demand strict attention to smoking habits — if you smoke.

Planners Look At 1961

Business may be [illegible] but [illegible] before next year is out. That's the overall view of 1961 reflected in statements prepared by Canadian business leaders.

Most top Canadian planners see 1961 production schedules and capital spending [illegible].

They say prices should be stable, and wages slightly higher. They see stiff sales competition at home and abroad. They also think that efforts to pep exports may pay off, stimulating business across the country.

Several top executives believe that another round of industrial expansion may be near, bringing with it more jobs.

GREEN ACRES

STRONTIUM 90 IN MILK

Canada's Department of Health and Welfare decided some years ago that Canadians needed [illegible] to measure the amount of radio activity on food stuff. Unfortunately for milk it was chosen because of universal use and the fact that strontium 90 would replace the calcium therein. Consequently the amount of strontium 90 in milk gets wide publicity. As the per centage increases people stop using milk. The fact is that quite possibly the vegetables and other products outside at the time strontium 90 gets into the milk could actually have a higher radiation count than milk. The cow does more than convert grass into milk, she absorbs a lot of the radio activity from the feed.

DID YOU KNOW?

[illegible] of Alberta's turkey hatching eggs were imported in 1960. Because of the high Christmas market for turkeys this year there will most probably be an over supply in '61. White shelled [illegible] becoming increasingly popular on the retail market because of customer appeal and ease with which blood spots may be revealed. There were 264 so called producer vendors in the Alberta egg business in 1960 ranging from less than 3000 hens to more than 11,000. These producer vendors produced 60% of Alberta's eggs.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

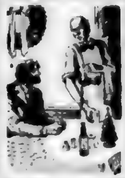
The season for rejoicing and happiness is upon us. To the people of this area the conclusion of 1960 must be particularly merry. It is the festival of the birth of Jesus our Saviour. But being a District Agriculturist I cannot help but take a look at last year. At this time last year most of my office calls and Green Acres columns were to answer questions about the snowed out bonus, freight assistance on feeds etc. In fact the Vermilion office recorded an all time high for office calls during the winter of 1959-60. There were no problems about feeder cattle to answer because there wasn't too much feed. This was all some kind of a record, a record that I am certain we are thankful we haven't made for Christmas 1960. So as your District Agriculturist and the staff serving you from the Vermilion office we wish you the Happiest Christmas ever.

Merry Christmas

A DRIZZLING rain seeped through Mike Duncan's threadbare coat and soaked him to the skin. Snow had preceded the rain that afternoon and the going was pretty tough. He wearily trudged along, endeavoring to keep out of the way of reckless herds of last-minute Christmas shoppers who thought of him only as a bar to their progress.

Ordinarily Duncan would not have thought of his wet skin, his tattered clothes or even of his empty stomach. They were all part of life on the road - but this night was different. It was Christmas Eve.

It must have been the holiday season—why else would someone thrust a fifty cent piece into his hand and then vanish into the shadows? He could only murmur a grateful "Thank you, sir, and a merry Christmas to you" before the donor disappeared into the swirling crowd.



"Are you sure that's all you want?"

Duncan reached into his left pocket, pulled out two dimes and five pennies, laid them with the half dollar in the palm of his other hand and stared at his entire fortune of seventy-five cents.

He smiled sardonically when it occurred to him presently that the building in front of which he stood was the United States Mint. He turned and, with a laugh that had a hysterical ring to it, jingled his handful of coins. His mirth attracted the cop who had been standing on the corner watching him. The officer said to him in a brogue so thick that it could have been cut with a knife, "Move on, blasht ye!" Mike wandered off down a deserted side street, clinking his money.

After about an hour of aimless roaming through endless alleys, he found himself directly opposite a brightly decorated restaurant. He crossed over and from sheer curiosity looked in the window.

There were only two patrons inside—an elderly man and woman seated at a front table who were avidly devouring with much relish a whole roast turkey with all the side dishes.

Duncan's mouth began to water—his stomach seemed hollow—he felt his legs go weak, and his ever-present hunger was getting the best of him. Suddenly he remembered the seventy-five cents. He thought quickly. A bed for the night at a flophouse would cost fifteen cents. That would leave him sixty. He decided to go in and order a roast turkey sandwich. He gave his hat a few deft pats and opened the door. He hung his battered hat and coat where he could grab them in case of an emergency, and made himself comfortable at a table in a corner. Duncan knew that his appearance was none to prepossessing and that a waiter would not dash up to some one from whom he could not get a tip. After a while a vinegar-faced man deigned to come to him. "What'll you have?" he asked, stifling a yawn.

"A hot roast turkey sandwich," replied Duncan.

"On toast or rye bread?"

"Rye."

"Anything else?"

Duncan shook his head. "No, nothing else."

"Are you sure that's all you want?"

"Yes, that's all. Just a roast turkey sandwich."

The waiter returned with the order, placed it before him, shook his head wonderingly and withdrew. Duncan virtually devoured the sandwich in three bites. He delicately wiped his mouth with a napkin, then beckoned the waiter. "Check, please," he said.

"Check?"

"Yes the check." Duncan raised his eyebrows.

"But there is no check."

"No check? What do you mean—no check?"

"There are none tonight. This is Christmas Eve. Didn't you see the sign in the window? Customers can order anything they want. It's on the house. You're the only guy who didn't order the whole darned menu. Well merry Christmas," he added.

Duncan's jaw dropped. His gaze fell on the half-dollar, two dimes and five pennies still clutched in his hand. Slumped in his chair, his eyes followed the back of the retreating waiter.

THE Homemaker

[illegible]
Wainwright, Alta.

[illegible]

The Yuletide season brings with it several days of holidays. The children are home from school and office workers are enjoying time off. Farm families do not have school bus time schedules to meet. With more time available in the morning this would be a good time to treat the family to some breakfast surprises. Late breakfasts are usually more substantial and are referred to by some as brunches.

WHAT'S ON THE MENU?

Eggs have been known as the breakfast classic for decades. There are countless ways of serving them if your family likes eggs. If your breakfast is later you'll have more time to prepare it. Why not make an omelet or souffle for a change or add variety to scrambled eggs with bits of chopped bacon or ham or add a dash of some herb like curry. Broiled sausages have a spot on the brunch menu too. Sliced tomatoes fried or broiled make a tasty accompaniment to any of these protein dishes.

IN THE BREAD BASKET

This should be full and interesting. Hot biscuits, muffins or toasted bun halves are not too difficult for a breakfast menu. If your brunch is late enough and is going to double as lunch then some food which is dessert like will satisfy those with a sweet tooth. Popular here are sweet rolls, coffee cake or Swedish tea ring. If you decide to serve either of these then plain toast would probably be the best accompaniment for the first course.

Swedish Tea Ring

2 cups flour
4 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
4 tbsp. shortening
¾ cup of milk
1 egg
½ cup sugar

FILLING: ½ cup brown sugar, 2 tsp. cinnamon, ½ cup raisins or candied cherries.

METHOD: Mix as for biscuits. Add egg to milk and add dry ingredients. Roll into rectangle [illegible]. Spread with butter then with filling. Roll up like jelly roll. Form into ring. With scissors make cuts 1 inch apart two-thirds of the way through from outside edge of ring. Turn each piece on its side and bake 20 to 25 minutes at 400F. When almost cool, ice with icing made from icing sugar, 2 tbsp. milk and ½ tsp. vanilla.

Choir Sings Carols At Hospital, Lodge

Delighting the patients and staff of the Vermilion Municipal hospital, the choir of the Canadian Girls in Training and their leaders visited the institution and sang carols on Monday evening.

Following the visit to the hospital the girls went to the Senior Citizens' Lodge and entertained the senior citizens there with carols. Some of the latter joined with the girls in singing the better known songs of joy.

The C.G.I.T. were then entertained at the home of Mrs. Harry Morris, one of the group leaders, who served hot chocolate and cake which was much enjoyed.

Rose Andriaschuk And Paul Yarmuch Pledge Vows In Derwent Ceremony

An afternoon ceremony in Derwent Greek Catholic Church recently united in marriage Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Andriaschuk and Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Yarmuch of Derwent. Rev. Fr. Cherkiewski performed the ceremony.

Entering the church with her father, the bride was lovely in a full-length gown of silk organza featuring a deep V neckline, trimmed with seed pearls, and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion net fell softly from a coronet of pearls and teardrop crystals and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Crystal teardrop earrings, gift of the groom, complemented her ensemble.

Identically fashioned dresses and matching headpieces were worn by the four bridesmaids Misses Lillian Malk, Amy Kapeluk, Sophie Andriaschuk and Lillian Buchorsky and they carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Olga Seniuk, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a beige sheath dress, matching headpiece and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's best men were Mr. Emil Yarmuch, Mr. Paul Myshak, Mr. Steve Fedechko and Mr. Walter Mayowski.

The reception and dance were held at the King George Hall. Mr. Johnny P. Mudryk of Derwent was master of ceremonies.

Following Ukrainian tradition and custom a substantial collection of money and gifts were received as a start for the young couple.

Out-of-town guests were from Edmonton, Two Hills, Peroka, Cold Lake, Lavoy and Athabasca.

On their return from their trip to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Yarmuch intend to reside in Edmonton.

Sunday At The Alliance Chapel

It was Missionary Sunday in the Alliance Chapel on Dec. 18 and a large offering was received which will be sent to workers in the district who have special needs at this time of year.

Accompanied by Miss Dorothy Grande at the piano Mr. H. Schroeder sang the solo "He Hideth My Soul".

LEGION'S TOP CURLING EVENT SET FOR TRAIL— MARCH 14

OTTAWA, ONT., Dec. 7. — The Canadian Legion's fifth national curling championship will be held in Trail, B.C. from March 14-18. A Legion team from each province will compete for the G and W Trophy which was won last year by Manitoba.

An estimated 3,000 curlers are now competing at branch level for the right to represent their branch in the finals. Competitions move from zone to district to provincial levels. Provincial finalists will be declared early in March.

Last year's national finals were held in Charlottetown, P.E.I. and Gordon Taylor's rink from Rivers, Man. kept the trophy in the west for the fourth year in a row. In 1959 Mac Scales of Winnipeg skipped the winning rink. John Dipple's Saskatoon rink won in 1958 and Joe McKinnon's Kamloops Legion rink won the first national ever.

Officially known as the Gooderham and Worts-Canadian Legion curling championships, the national event grew out of competitions in the prairie provinces which began ten years ago.

May we extend to you our very best wishes for a Holiday Season rich in happiness and joy.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Alison Lamb, Former Vermilion Lady, Designs Alberta Tartan

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON. — Alberta is going to have an official tartan.

The provincial cabinet decided last week to adopt one, and a bill will be introduced during the forthcoming session of the Legislature to make it official.

The pattern chosen is one which was designed and woven at the Edmonton Rehabilitation Centre. It combines colors of green, gold, black and pale pink.

Weavers working on four looms at the Rehabilitation centre have been busily turning out yards and yards of the tartan since last spring and handicapped persons working at the centre have been making it into scarves, caps, ties, shirts, etc., for sale at the Centre's gift shop. Demand is so great, officials say, that the weavers can't keep up with it.

The tartan was designed by Mrs. Alison Lamb, executive director of the Edmonton Rehabilitation Society and Mrs. Ella Nelson, weaving instructress. They designed it with official recognition in mind and as soon as the design was perfected they went to work persuading the government to adopt it.

Mrs. Lamb explains the choice of colors thusly: Green is the main color and it represents Alberta's forests. Gold is for Alberta sunshine and its fields of grain. Blue is for the clear skies above. Black is for coal and oil and the pale pink is for the wild rose, Alberta's floral emblem.

Currently, the Rehabilitation Society is in the process of having the design patented. Then officials hope to register the tartan with the office in London which keeps track of tartans, heraldic symbols and the like.

MAGISTRATE RULES ON TRADING STAMPS

Alberta appears to have lost a round in its fight to keep retail trading stamps out of the province.

In an Edmonton police court last week Magistrate Fred Barlow ruled that an Alberta regulation aimed at stamping out the stamps is not valid because the Criminal Code of Canada takes precedence over it.

The Alberta regulation was issued in 1959 in the form of a ministerial order under the Licensing of Trades and Businesses Act. In effect it prohibited the use of trading stamps and most other retail gimmicks, and said anyone who uses them stood to lose his provincial licence.

Last summer Edmonton grocer Joseph Keller began issuing trading stamps in his west Edmonton store. The government withdrew his licence, subsequently laid charges against him.

After numerous remands, the court handed down a decision in the case last week and dismissed the charges against Keller.

It was the first court test of the Alberta regulation, but it won't be the last. From here the case undoubtedly will go to the Supreme Court of Alberta, and before it's finished may reach the Supreme Court of Canada.

Watching with interest are the big grocery firms which operate in Alberta.

The Alberta regulation was passed shortly after two major chains — Loblaws and IGA — began issuing trading stamps in the province. The regulation had the effect of putting a stop to stamp schemes, but whether they can be stopped permanently remains to be seen.

INDUSTRIAL TAX STILL QUESTION MARK

The guessing game over the provincial government's new industrial tax proposals was no nearer to a solution last week.

Premier Manning was questioned about it at his press conference but said only that the program the government proposes to introduce is "considerably different" from the plan it was all set to proceed with last session.

He said the plan now being drafted has been "broadened" beyond the previous proposal, although it incorporates elements of it.

Just what this means is anyone's guess. But it seems clear there will be some sort of shuffling of industrial tax revenue, along with authority for rural areas to collect property taxes on power lines and pipelines.

Municipal officials are also hoping it will provide for some form of relief from school costs, which are giving them most of their problems about now. What Premier Manning's statement may indicate is that any disagreement among cabinet ministers over the proposals has been settled.

Greetings For Christmas From MacKay Family

45 Hammersmith Ave.,
Toronto 13, Ontario
December 14th, 1960

Dear Friends:

Almost three months have passed since we left Vermilion. Memories of our friends and activities remain fresh in our minds. These memories are precious to us as we begin a new work in this area. So often lately I have thought of words of James M. Barrie who said, "God gave us memories that we may gather roses in December."

At this blessed season of the year we think of the Christmas programs and events in all the churches carried on at this time and the happiness that these services brought to young and old.

We think of the fine fellowship that we enjoyed with members of all churches and rejoice that there was such a good spirit among these groups. We remember at this time the desire and prayer of the apostle Paul for unity when he said, "There is one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, Who is above all and through all and in you all."

Our very best wishes to the Rotary Club of Vermilion. We have fond memories of the fine fellowship that we enjoyed over the years. Our Lord's message was: "Peace on earth, good will to men." We feel that Rotary is helping to extend and promote peace among the nations of the world.

One closing thought I would like to leave with you. Our Lord came to be the Prince of Peace. [illegible] that peace which the world cannot give and cannot take away. It is quite evident that we shall never realize peace in home, community or nation until we have His peace in our hearts. Let us remember this about the peace He came to bring:

"Peace does not mean the end of all our striving,
Joy does not mean the drying of our tears,
Peace is the power that comes to souls arriving
Up to the place where God himself appears."

We wish all you fine friends a joyous and blessed Christmas season.

XMAS CONCERT ENJOYED

A good attendance at the Xmas tree and concert sponsored by the Princess Ann W.I. at Island Hill hall on the evening of Dec. 17th. The children all did very well and the adults took parts well in the humorous plays. Jolly Santa was in a fine mood and had gifts and candy bags for all the kiddies. Lunch and candy ended a pleasant evening. Lucky ticket draws were made on a lovely blanket and a turkey. Miss Viola Vaudreuil R.N. of Peace River hospital at High Prairie won the blanket and [illegible] the turkey. Mrs. Wm. McIntyre sold the [illegible] tickets.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Wilson and family and the [illegible] at United Church, Islay, Dec. 18. The cantata "Chimes of the Holy Night" was a wonderful message in music and song. Mrs. Lila Waterfield and choir are to be congratulated. Much effort and work had been done for the enjoyment of the congregation. May we abide too by Rev. Shortt's message, "Christmas means something".

Though a cool evening there was a good crowd at the hall for the Xmas tree on Dec. 19. The plays were very fitting for the occasion, recitations were well done and all numbers enjoyed very much. A film, "The Night Before Christmas," was an added attraction which the children and adults all appreciated. Santa came in and distributed gifts and candy bags to the children. [illegible]

World's Christmas Legends Numerous

Multitudinous legends claim to unearthable origins for the Christmas [illegible] legend concerns an early Christian [illegible] sometimes identified as St. Wilfred, who once came upon a group of Druids preparing to make a human sacrifice under a large oak.

He had the oak cut down and as it fell, a young fir tree sprang up in its place. The missionary seized the evidence and made the fir tree a symbol of the new faith: henceforth, the tribesmen were to set this symbol of immortality in the halls of their lodges at Christmastime and surround it with feasting and love and the laughter of children.

The legend of the Faithful Pine which sheltered the Holy Family during the flight to Egypt is less well known perhaps, but as very charming and touched by the mysticism appropriate to the Nativity theme.

With Herod's soldiers in pursuit [illegible] simply had to rest awhile and sought shelter within the hollow trunk of a huge fir tree. As the soldiers approached, the tree bent its branches to conceal the huddled little group. When the danger had passed, the baby Jesus [illegible] the old tree. And if you [illegible] a pine cone lengthwise at Christmastime, you can still see the imprint of His little hand.

Nor has legend overlooked the bright baubles which bedeck our modern Christmas trees. The first Christmas tree was really an apple tree, according to legends collected by Florence B. Robinson. And, although the fir tree long since has supplanted its predecessor for Christmas use, the popular tinsel bauble of today is the representative of the fruit which for the early Christians symbolized the fall of man in the Garden of Eden and his reclamation by the birth of [illegible]

A father [illegible] that the shortest night of the year is Christmas Eve — from sundown to 30% up.

IMPORT SALES DECLINE

UK and European automobiles which soared to take an unprecedented 37.6% of the new passenger car market in Canada in September dropped just as suddenly to 30.7% of total sales in October, reports [illegible] in The Financial Post.

This was before the new higher valuations on imported cars were announced. They went into effect Dec 1. Indicative of a possible levelling off or reduction of sales of UK and foreign automobiles, is a dispatch from London. It said exports of cars from the UK to Canada were cut by more than 50% in September.

JEWISH NEW YEAR'S LASTS TEN DAYS

The Jews observe a 10-day New Year season at the time of the autumn equinox. The observances begin on Rosh Hashana and end on Yom Kippur. Rosh Hashana commemorates the Day of Creation and is also the annual day of judgment, with judgment being irrevocably sealed on Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement), therefore the spirit of [illegible]

Penance is also a feature of the observances, [illegible] in accordance with the ancient [illegible] calendar [illegible]

The [illegible] calendar, which dates from [illegible] A. D. is unique since the twelve months of the year begin with the approximate new moon without any calculations to keep them geared to the seasonal equinoxes. Thus the months and New Years [illegible] retrograde through the entire year to about [illegible]

When Caesar set his experts to the task of revising the calendar in the 10th century they found they had to meet the problem of catching up with the sun. So two months were inserted between the months of November and December for the year 46 B. C.

REUNION CHRISTMAS

By HELEN PETROSK

JANET opened the door to her apartment, thinking as she did so that it had been only a week since Craig and she had shared this apartment they called their "ivory tower," named that because of its odd shape. It had been a storage room until the housing shortage became prevalent. Then old Mrs. Root, feeling sympathetic toward the plight of Janet and Craig Norris, newly married and homeless, had cleared it out, partitioned it off into two small rooms and rented it to them.

That was just 13 months ago, [illegible] remembered, dropping her gloves on the table and lighting the lamp with the same gesture. They had been married only three weeks, just long enough to realize they were imposing on Craig's family who were cramped for quarters themselves.

Just a week ago they had the quarrel that had sent Craig from the apartment. It had [illegible] a blow to his pride from the day of their wedding that Janet should continue working. She enjoyed her position in the advertising firm where she had risen from a clerk to copy writer in just two years. Since she left the house after Craig in the morning and returned before him at night, she never felt her working interfered in any way with her household duties. But friends had spoiled everything with their snide remarks about "poor Janet still working," and it was more than Craig could bear. "They think I can't support you!" he'd storm at her, but the more he pleaded the more adamant she had become. And now he was gone.

The whole thing seemed so unimportant now. She glanced at the telephone, half-inclined to call him home, but her own recalcitrant nature refused to allow such a move. [illegible] the radio instead and pretended the tears that welled in her eyes at the strains of "Silent Night" were merely tears of weariness after the preparation of the office party that morning. Deliberately she opened the dresser drawer to put away last night's ironing. Her souvenir box loomed temptingly before her. Lifting the cover, she stared at the items she had collected. Craig's class ring, exchanged for a diamond after their graduation from college, a pressed orchid, one of those she had carried at her wedding, various cards, Christmas, anniversary, birthday, valentine. She picked up a small gift card and read again, "To my dear wife, Janet, on our first Christmas." It was the card with the watch he had given her last year.

TREMBLING, she closed the box and turned quickly from the dresser. She had been a fool, she decided. Without Craig, Christmas could never hold the same meaning for her as it once had. She didn't stop to lock the door for there was nothing of value anyone could steal from her. Even her $100 Christmas bonus lying on the table went [illegible] The one thing she must [illegible] was happiness, and that was no longer in her home with Craig gone.

She hurried into her coat [illegible] she started breathlessly down the [illegible] of stairs. She looked at him almost in disbelief. Then, throwing her arms about him she gave full vent to her tears. "Oh Craig! Darling, I was just coming for you."

He kissed her and held her tight. "Janet, I've been such a fool. I didn't realize until tonight what an awful thing pride can be. Will you ever forgive me?"

She sighed. "There's [illegible] forgive Craig. I was the [illegible] was wrong. I'm going to [illegible] right away."

"No, you mustn't. I don't want to [illegible] you of any happiness and if you need to work, I'm not going to [illegible] you."

She laughed shakily. "[illegible] that out later, [illegible]" Arm in arm they [illegible] up the stairs.

Present 3-Act Comedy To Appreciative Audience

High School Dramatic Players Score Decided Success

The high school dramatic players scored a decided success with their 3-act comedy presented before a very appreciative audience in the auditorium on Friday Dec. 9th. The comedy "The Importance of Being Ernest" was directed by two members of the staff, Miss Margaret Watt and Miss Kathleen Fulcher.

The players in the gay sophisticated comedy rather felt themselves out in the first act, found their sea-legs and then really scored with a smashing presentation of the second and third acts.

Addressing the audience prior to and between acts was Roger Renaud, president of the students' union. Prior to the final act lovely bouquets were presented by the members of the cast to the directors, Miss Watt and Miss Fulcher.

Shown in the picture are the members of the cast. From left to right, front row: Frances Wilson as Cecily Cardew; Patricia Stewart as Lady Bracknell; Louise Shalka as Gwendolyn Fairfax; Sharon Martin as Miss Prism. Back row, left to right shows Raymond McGaughey who enacted Merriman the butler; Keith Mayhew who took the part of Algernon Moncrieff; John Seddon as Ernest (Jack) Worthing; Bryon Wilson, who on very short notice took the part of Dr Chasuble; Terry Cooper, as Lane the butler.

Assisting Miss Watt and Miss Fulcher as student directors were Margwynne Clendenning, Jane Mayer, and Frances Sherwood. In charge of make-up, Vivien Tillett; costumes, Dorothy Towell; scenery, Elaine Sheriff; props, Ed Waterfield and Allan Good; lights, Wynne Puckett.

109 Attend Christmas Party Golden Age Friendship Club

The Christmas social of the Golden Age Friendship club was held in the Legion hall on Wednesday, Dec. 21 in the afternoon with 109 members attending including guests from the Vermilion Valley lodge.

The first item on the program was the showing of pictures with commentary. A hearty vote of thanks to Mr. E. Schurman for his time. Everyone present really enjoyed the show. The pictures were followed by community singing of carols with Mrs. Ronaghan accompanying and Percy Cross as M.C. After a few carols had been sung Percy called upon Mrs. Rooks and Mr. and Mrs. Skinner to come up on stage and form the Golden Age Friendship club's first quartet. After the singing of "Jingle Bells" and the dying down of the applause, the quartet rendered "Noel" which was very well received. Following some more community singing a real treat was in store for all with Mrs. Muir accompanied by Mrs. Roebuck at the piano singing "The Holy City". That solo was the top hit of the afternoon and many thanks went to the ladies for their wonderful performance. After the conclusion of the singing the club was entertained by that well known old timer Mr. W. Williams, who played various selections on the violin. Mrs. Ada Fraser and Mr. Brimacomb were the recipients of the prizes.

After Santa had left the girls of the kitchen committee took over the task of getting lunch served and in their usual way did a wonderful job for which they received a well deserved thank you. Bowman of Robinson stores for the two lovely cakes donated to the club for the Christmas party, also to Mr. Tommy Watts of the Northern hardware for his [illegible] of the tree stand. $2,800,000 Extension Mooted For Canadian Utilities Plant

Canadian Utilities Limited, with headquarters in Edmonton, has scheduled an extensive electric generating plant expansion program involving an outlay of $7½ million.

Of this, $2,800,000.00 is earmarked for extensions to the Company's 17,500 kilowatt plant at Vermilion. Plans call for the replacement of an 8,500 k.w. gas turbine with a larger 30,000 kilowatt Westinghouse unit. Scheduled for completion in November 1961, the new unit will boost the Vermilion plant capacity to 39,000 kilowatts.

Almost $300,000.00 is set aside for the removal of the 8,500 kilowatt turbine from Vermilion to the company's Sturgeon plant in northwestern Alberta. This addition will increase the Sturgeon plant capacity to 18,500 kw's.

The plant buildings at Vermilion have already been expanded to accommodate the additional unit with Poole Construction Co. of Edmonton as general contractor.

The Vermilion plant will boast another "first" with the installation of the 30,000 kilowatt Westinghouse unit, as this is the first natural gas turbine to be manufactured in Canada, being built by Brown Boveri (Canada) Limited at Montreal. The present gas turbine which will be removed from the Vermilion plant, was the first of its kind to be installed in Canada and was brought from Switzerland.

New Subsidy Base for Western Grain

The government is searching for a formula on which to base a new permanent subsidy to western grain growers. Payments would total about $40 million. In effect, they would continue the assistance given by the acreage payments of 1958 and 1960 ($41 million and $43 million).

But the subsidy would be calculated differently and the cake would be shared out in a different way. The government hope the new methods will counter some of the criticisms in the West against the acreage payments. Precise details haven't been settled. But the government will unveil its proposals shortly, as a basis of discussion with western farm groups.

"Moonlighting" On The Upswing

Moonlighting — the practice of earning extra money by after-hours and week-end jobs — is on the upswing in Canada writes Norton Anderson in The Finacial Post. Businessmen say the surge results from tighter business conditions and the threat of unemployment.

Who are the moonlighters? Executives, supervisors and workers right down the line now take "extra" jobs to boost income and to fight boredom. And neither management nor the unions like this upswing in moonlighting.

Resort Office Jobs For Students

There may be more resort operators knocking on university and technical school doors next spring to line up a new kind of summer help. They'll probably be after students with a knowledge of basic, double-entry bookkeeping, or teachers with more advanced accounting experience. Many small seasonal resort hotels will need bookkeepers, if they want to get the new government-guaranteed bank loans. They won't get easy credit if their accounting systems are not up to standard.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION . . .

Here is a note of interest from the Health League of Canada for those opponents of fluoridation who still claim the practice is dangerous because fluoride, in sufficient quantity, is poisonous. Some 200,000,000 human beings suffer from endemic goitre yet the smallest fraction of them are Canadians. Why? Because our government had the foresight to make possible the addition of iodine to salt. Iodine is also a deadly poison yet millions of people use iodized salt several times daily without ill effects. In a similar vein, science has proved conclusively that the addition of fluoride to water in the proportion of one part per million is not harmful and will definitely reduce tooth decay by at least 60 per cent.

MORE FACTS ON FLUORIDATION

Here are some new figures on fluoridation from the United States Public Health Service, received by the Health League of Canada's National Fluoridation Committee. There are now 1,956 U. S. communities fluoridating their public water supplies as a means of reducing dental caries. The total population served in these communities is 37,431,-380. In Canada 74 communities fluoridate their water supplies, serving 1,220,975 people.

GRAIN MARKETING PROSPECTS, 1961

Canada's wheat carry-over is likely to increase in the 1960-61 year. This is the first time this situation has occurred in four years, according to Alberta's Agricultural statistician R. E. English. Mr. English recently returned from the Dominion Provincial Agriculture Outlook conference in Ottawa. Other conclusions reached at the conference were: (a) The 20-year average wheat plantings of 23.5 million acres in the prairie provinces are expected to be maintained. (b) The average wheat yields for western Canada in the '60s are likely to be maintained. During this period wheat yields averaged 21 bushels an acre compared to 17 bushels in the '50s, 13 bushels in the '30s and 17 bushels in the '20s. (c) Average wheat exports of nearly 300 million bushels are not likely to be exceeded during the next few years. (d) Domestic requirements of wheat will remain fairly stable at 150 to 160 million bushels during the next few years; (e) In view of these facts and the world wheat surplus situation, there is danger that Canada's wheat stocks may increase further. The outlook for feed grains is for lower domestic disappearance as compared to a year ago. The number of grain consuming animal units on farms are lower. The difficulties encountered in exporting feed grains are likely to continue. In view of a steadily increasing demand for livestock products however, the long-term outlook indicates an increase in the demand for feed grains. Alberta's position varies somewhat from the general forecasts outlined above, reports Mr English. The transfer of land from wheat to barley growing, and from hay to pasture has taken place to a degree not matched anywhere else in Canada. Provided relative prices for livestock and field crop products remain as they are at present the shift towards a livestock economy will continue.

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK 1961

Canadian hog prices next year will remain around the 1960 level until the fall when a downward trend is predicted. When making this statement, R. E. English pointed out that this downward trend is indicated because of expected lower hog prices in the U.S. Hog marketings in Canada during the first half of 1961 are expected to be 6% below marketings for the same period last year. Hog supplies however, will be greater next fall than they are at present.

According to the forecast, cattle marketings will increase somewhat in 1961 and prices will be moderately lower. The number of calves on farms is up compared to last year and a further increase is expected in 1961. The build-up in cattle numbers in Canada and in the U.S. is expected to continue at a slower rate and to reach its peak in 1962 or 1963.

Referring to the Alberta situation Mr English reports that ranches in the south of the province are fully stocked relative to the management practices now in effect. Current expansion in the industry is taking place in the mixed farming areas. A reduction in the expansion rate of the cattle industry is expected to come about as a result of increased production costs and lower prices.

Sheep and lamb numbers in Canada are expected to increase slightly in 1961. With world production of wool up and the demand down, prices will be lower next year than they were in 1960.

In Alberta, a tendency to reduce sheep ranching operations in favor of increased farm flocks exists. Mr English feels that the future of the industry depends upon competition from imported lamb.

Wishing everyone a Happy and Prosperous New Year!

UP TO DATE ON FLOOR COVERINGS

At the recent Department of Agriculture conference in Edmonton we were given information concerning current floor coverings. It seems that vinyl floor coverings are still receiving a lot of attention. As these are easily maintained, they are often the choice of the farm homemakers. They are, however, more expensive to install than linoleum.

MORE ABOUT VINYLS

Included in the characteristics of the vinyls are their resistance to grease, oils and alkalies. The surface is tough and flexible. To obtain some of these desirable qualities at a reduced cost the manufacturers are applying vinyl coatings over felt backings. These are known as rotovinyls and are an improvement over the old enamel congoleums. A disadvantage of the rotovinyls is that nonrecovering denting may take place. One manufacturer has come out with a product known as Crown Vinyl with a twelve year guarantee. It too is a rotovinyl but does not dent as much as the earlier ones which were manufactured. These are particularly recommended for non-heavy traffic areas such as bedrooms. Rotovinyls require a water base wax rather than a paste wax.

VINYL COATING ON CORK

Cork tiles with a vinyl coating are expensive but create a beautiful long-wearing and easily maintained floor. This is especially suitable for living or dining rooms. These may be applied above grade only.

VINYL ASBESTOS TILES

These are commonly referred to as Excelon vinyl tiles. This is misleading as the major components are asbestos and plastic. [illegible] resist staining more than pure asphalt tiles. They may be installed above or below ground. The cost is a little higher than for asbestos.

LINOLEUM PRODUCTS

These have carved a name as being a sound product. They require more care than the new vinyls, but it is expected they will outlast them. One of the [illegible] objections to linoleum has been its limited pattern range. This is gradually increasing to include more variety particularly in sheet linoleum.

Mannville Elks Sponsor Kiddies Day

MANNVILLE. Saturday Dec 17th was Kiddies Day at Mannville. Santa Claus arrived at the Elk's Hall at 2.30 p.m. and was escorted to the Alta Theatre where two fine shows were presented. Members of the B.P.O.E. No. 386, assisted Santa in distributing over 500 bags of treats to [illegible]. Santa was then accompanied to the hospital where treats were passed out to both patients and members of the staff.

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Here's a suggested Resolution for Canadians. If everyone adopted it, there's little doubt but what 1961 would turn out very well indeed. At any rate, you are welcome to adopt it.

"During the next 12 months I shall do my best to be a good citizen, a good neighbor, a useful person. I shall follow the precept of the great religious leader, John Wesley, who said, "Work all you can, gain all you can, give all you can."

"I shall do my level best to provide for all the needs of my family and myself, so that I shall not be a charge upon others. Indeed, it will be my goal to earn enough to give a helping hand to others if need be.

"I shall refrain from asking others to do for me anything which I might rightfully be expected to do for myself. And I shall encourage friends and neighbors to take a similar attitude.

"Whatever my job, I shall do it well, because I know that the best efforts of all men and women are required if Canada is to remain strong and free in these perilous times. I know that when I work efficiently my neighbor is able to buy the goods or services I produce at a more efficiently I work, the more goods or services can be bought with a dollar bill, whether it be the dollar of an old-age pensioner, or the dollar in my wife's purse when she goes out to shop for our family.

"I firmly resolve to be a force for good in my community by reforming myself rather than seeking to reform my neighbor. I shall look for the good in others and try to get rid of the bad in me.

"I know full well there will be many times when I shall be tempted to drag on society rather than a driving force. There will be times when the temptation to be small, or mean, or selfish will assert itself. On such occasions I shall ask myself if such an act will help or hurt Canada. If it hurts Canada, in the long run it will hurt me, too, and my children.

"In brief, each day of the New Year I shall direct my every act to this end: that I shall give full value to everyone with whom I deal."

Dewberry United Church Scene Of Pretty November Wedding

WILCOX—MATHISON

A pretty wedding was solemnized in Dewberry United church at 2 p.m., November 12th when Marjorie Jean, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Mathison, became the bride of Bruce Meredith, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilcox of Marwayne. Rev. Shortt of Kitscoty officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white Chantilly lace and net with lily point sleeves and skirt of nylon organza with lace panels over net and taffeta in bouffant style. Her fingertip veil was caught in a coronet of rhinestones, and her bouquet was a cascade of red roses and lilies of the valley with fern. The only jewelry she wore was a [illegible] Alaska diamond necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Barry (Angela) Breadner of Saskatoon, who wore a gown of coral silk organza over taffeta, and carried white apple blossoms. The bridesmaid was Miss Lynda Redmond, of Islay, wearing yellow organza over taffeta and carrying a bouquet of blue apple blossoms.

The little flower girls, cousins of the bride, were Beverley Honey, dressed in pink embossed nylon with a bouquet of white apple blossoms, and Cheryl Mathison in blue embossed nylon who carried blue apple blossoms.

The groom's attendants were Ronald Moses of Vermilion and Barry Breadner of Saskatoon. Bruce Brock of Dewberry and Raymond Blakely of Marwayne acted as usheres.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by her sister Mrs. Gerald Fulton.

The church was decorated with mauve and white mums and ferns.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece dress in lilac wool with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow apple blossoms. The groom's mother was dressed in blue wool with pink accessories and a corsage of rose apple b[illegible].

A reception for 239 guests was held in the Greenlawn community hall at 4 p.m. being ably catered to by the Greenlawn Goodwill club. The toast to the bride was proposed by Harold Berry, to which the groom fittingly responded. The head table was centred by the three-tiered wedding cake banked in tulle which was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Walter Jones. Dorothy Mathison, sister of the bride, looked after the guest book.

Open house was held at the home of the bride's parents from 6 to 8 p.m. followed by a dance in the Marwayne Elks hall from 9 to 12. Music being supplied by the Western Aces.

For travel the bride chose a two-piece dress in light beige brocaded taffeta with turquoise accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pearson and Lorna, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Barry Breander, of Saskatoon; Mr. and Mrs. John Lulu, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Courtney and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Corn oil, rapeseed oil and safflower oil are all agricultural products that can be grown profitably in Canada. All three cause a lowering of cholesterol in the bloodstream when mixed with the diet and cholesterol has been statistically linked with heart disease. Corn oil comes from corn, rapeseed and safflower are both being grown now in Saskatchewan.

About 20 to 30 per cent of first heart attacks are fatal, according to Chicago health authorities. If the first attack can be survived, modern treatment—frequently consisting of anticoagulant therapy—gives more hope than ever before.

With the increasing prosperity consumption of meats and dairy products, including eggs, has risen in Canada. This circumstance is now believed to be a contributing cause for the increase in heart disease in Canada.

Little Sick Girl Has Amazing Xmas

Readers of the Standard will recall the special appeal that Christmas cards be sent to Dorothy Ridgway, a little girl who is dying of cancer at R. R. 1 Hardy, Virginia. As a result of the appeal the child has enjoyed a most amazing Christmas, fully told in the following story.

Christmas 1960, the happiest and the most amazing, the most unbelievable Dorothy Ridgway has known in the past nine years. From all over the world Christmas greetings and gifts streamed into her tiny mountainside home.

An Army airplane flew in with presents from Fort Eustis, Virginia: a two foot tall dancing doll was flown from England by jet plane.

It all began because the little sick girl liked christmas cards. A plea for cards was mysteriously sent out over weather bureau teletype circuits on Wednesday before Christmas. The message found its way into newspapers and over the radio. First the greetings came trickling in. Then it became a flood: more than 1000 cards and three big mail sacks full of gifts arrived for Dorothy.

Messages of cheer have come from Italy, Japan, Germany, Korea, Canada, Greenland and every state in the Union.

Dorothy has been tiny and frail since the disease first struck her in 1952. The illness "schullerchristian syndrome" is usually fatal but Dorothy has had no progression of the disease in the past two years. Christmas has been the happiest time for Dorothy because of her love for cards. Newscasters and hill-billy singers have been making area appeals for years for the child but she has never seen anything like this.

And for Dorothy too it was the whitest Christmas ever in the remote mountains of Virginia, white with many thousands of empty envelopes that held christmas greetings and messages of greetings and cheer from all over the world.

Mannville Elks Entertain Widowers And Bachelors

Members of B. P. O. E. no. 386 served a Christmas Banquet at the Elk's Hall for widowers and bachelors of Mannville-Minburn district on Sunday Dec 18th.

Publicity Director Bro E. B. Allen had charge of the Guest Book, assisted by Bro Edwin Torrance who pinned on the lapel tags, and reported 47 guests signed the register. Exalted Ruler Jack Coxford welcomed the guests in the Lodge Room and an hour of sociability was enjoyed as carols were sung. Guests then assembled in the basement dining room and were introduced individually by David Doc Hasinoff who acted as M.C. Past exalted Ruler Edwin Donnenworth again welcomed the guests and outlined a few of the B P O E objectives.

A minute's silence was observed in honor of guests who had departed this life during the past year. Bro Hasinoff proposed the toast to the Queen.

Bro Cooks Lorne Scoggins was in charge of preparation and dishing of the meal assisted by a goodly team of brother Elks. Cigars, cigs and candies were passed around and Mr. Robert Weaver gave a reading reminiscent of the old days entitled "Hauling Wheat". Other guests speaking included Mr. James McFadzean, R. C. Johnson and Gwyn Morse, a newcomer to the district from Cardiff, Wales. The latter moved a vote of thanks to the cook and his kitchen staff.

Once again guests re-assembled in the Lodge room where Bro Nestor Bohaichuck showed pictures of the Royal visit to Edmonton, the Calgary Stampede, a trip to Yellowstone Park and Mannville Sports. During the evening pictures were taken by Bro Bohaichuck and prints may be obtained by applying to Bro Hasinoff or Bro Bohaichuck. The party then dispersed, both guests and hosts looking forward to the time when another banquet can be enjoyed.

Wildwood East

We hope that everyone had a very Merry Christmas and we extend best wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Franklin of Hinton were home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lund and little daughter and Mr. and Mrs. M. Currey and Linda of Edmonton, spent Xmas with Eileen and Doris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Jack.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Drysdale on the evening of Dec. 20th to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all, ending with a delicious lunch. Family and friends presented Sadie and Bob with an electric frying pan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Williams, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Drysdale, celebrated their third wedding anniversary on the same day and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Simmons of Vermilion, parents of Mrs. Drysdale, were married 56 years on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Jack spent Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob McKay at Tofield.

Early Xmas morning greetings by phone were received at the N. Bowen home from Murray and Nita Bowen of New Westminster, B.C.

Mrs. E. Jack was a recent Edmonton visitor.

Mr. Nugent held his last church service here on Dec. 18th. There was a social hour after the service at which Mr. Nugent was presented with a travelling case by the congregation.

We were pleased to see Mr. and Mrs. George Jack of Vermilion at the church service and the Christmas concert.

Almost the entire population of Wildwood turned out to the Christmas concert, also folks from Kinnaird and Lloydminster, making a full house. Much credit is due those taking part in the plays and to the teacher and pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Harvard and the R. Shattuck family spent Christmas with Mrs. Shattuck and Bud.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Gerbig entertained relatives from B.C. and Lloydminster on Xmas day.

The Stone families, Betty and Gerald Franklin, the Shook family and Marshall and Kay Bowen and boys gathered at the Norman Bowen home for Christmas dinner.

THE GREEKS HAD A WORD FOR THIS TOO

It was Archimedes who said "give me a lever long enough and a fulcrum strong enough and single handed I can move the world." It is a good thing to know no one things ever got that bad?

With devices like the lever, primitive man multiplied the power of his own muscles. Today he puts other energy sources to work.

Only a small fraction of work in Canada is done by man's muscles—the rest is done by machines. Oil to power these machines and to fill other energy needs has been made available by companies like Imperial at reasonable prices wherever it is needed. Because of this, Canadians have turned to oil for more than half their energy requirements—they use it at the rate of more than 1,000,000 gallons an hour.

LETTER FROM EDMONTON

Federal "Baby Budget" Causing Concern In Provincial Circles

By KEN MASON

EDMONTON — Certain provisions of Finance Minister Fleming's "baby budget" are already causing concern among provincial government officials in Alberta.

Causing the most concern is the proposal to put a 15 per cent tax on interest earnings of Canadian bonds held by U.S. investors. Purpose of this tax, it seems, is to encourage provinces and municipalities to sell their bonds in Canada. But there is widespread fear that it will do little more than increase the already high cost of capital borrowing.

Fred Stewart, deputy provincial treasurer, says he is afraid the tax move might close the New York money market to the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation. The trouble with this is, he says, that there may not be enough money available in Canada to meet municipal and provincial needs.

Last year the Municipal Financing Corporation borrowed $50,000,000 — $30,000,000 of it in the U.S., $20,000,000 in Canada. Interest on most of the money was between 5.17 and 5.6 per cent. Indications are that municipalities will want to borrow at least as much in the coming year.

If there isn't enough money available in Canada, the MFC will have to go to New York. And investors in New York won't be interested in buying unless they're guaranteed five per cent or more. To make up what they would lose through the new tax, they would up the interest rate and, in Mr. Stewart's words, "We'd have to pay through the nose."

DOESN'T TOUCH MAJOR PROBLEMS

Mr. Fleming's budget also drew a blast last week from Premier Manning. He said it doesn't touch the major problems of the Canadian economy and may possibly aggravate them by creating a poor climate for foreign investment.

Mr. Manning agrees with Mr. Fleming that it would be ideal to have Canadians finance the development of their own country. Unfortunately, he said, it doesn't work that way and foreign investment is absolutely necessary.

He said the finance minister's remarks about foreign capital are being interpreted as criticism of U.S. investments coming to Canada. He accused Mr. Fleming of catering to a small element of bigoted nationalists. Alberta's development of the past 13 years has been due in a large part to American investment, he said, and he recalled the province had tried without success to interest Canadian capital in Alberta's natural resources.

Some financial experts are saying the federal attempt to keep Canadian bond issues in Canada will be useless unless Ottawa finds some way of making the money available at reasonable interest rates.

BIG BUSINESS BUDGET

Earl Hastings, the new president of the Alberta Liberal Association, also took a swing at the federal budget last week. Addressing a meeting of Liberals in Edmonton, he described it as a "typical Conservative big-business budget."

NO SPLIT ON INDUSTRIAL TAX

There have been rumors over the past few months about a split in the provincial cabinet over the proposed industrial tax shuffle, the pipeline tax and the power line assessment. If there was any dissension (and some reliable sources insist there was) it appears to be resolved now.

Premier Manning said at a press conference last week there is not "one iota" of truth in reports that the cabinet is divided on the question. He said legislation is being drafted and will be ready for the 1961 session of the Legislature, opening in February.

TRADING STAMP ISSUE AGAIN

The government apparently has decided against appealing a police magistrate's ruling that Alberta's trading stamp regulations are ultra vires. Premier Manning said last week there will be no appeal of the case, in which an Edmonton grocer was charged under the Licensing Act. The magistrate ruled that Alberta regulations are invalid because they infringe on the Criminal Code.

Instead of appealing, the premier said, Alberta will ask the federal government to amend the Criminal Code to make trading stamp schemes illegal. This, he said, would clear the matter up once and for all.

In the meantime, it appears there is nothing to stop anyone issuing trading stamps in the province, so long as they don't run afoul of the Criminal Code.

But Premier Manning expressed the hope that promoters won't rush into Alberta with trading stamp schemes until the situation is clarified.

Is There A Cure For Alcoholism?

Alcoholism is treatable but we do not speak of "recovered" alcoholics as "cured." In this respect alcoholism is like diabetes. The progress of the disease can be arrested, and the patient can live a normal life with a satisfactory degree of comfort and adequacy, provided that certain conditions for living are observed. The alcoholic can achieve permanent happy sobriety. But he cannot regain the ability to drink with normal control. In that respect he is never "cured."

In an earlier article we described alcoholism as the "progressive loss of ability to drink according to intention." The alcoholic, once he one alcohol in his system, no longer has freedom of choice over how much he drinks, and that loss of control is permanent. he never regains it no matter how long he stays [illegible].

We do speak of "recovering" [illegible]. They are people who have realized that they have an illness that will respond to treatment and they have become strongly motivated to learn again how to live normal, happy useful lives without alcohol. They have come to the Alcoholism Foundation for treatment, or they have associated themselves with Alcoholics Anonymous, or both. They were not always dependent on alcohol and they can re-learn a constructive and satisfying way of life. They have strengths as well as weaknesses. The strengths can be increased, the weaknesses gradually reduced.

Many of us still regard alcoholics with scorn or contempt, even loathing. We try to change a problem drinker into sobriety through threatening, bargaining, scolding, or punishing. Some of us still do not recognize that these methods rarely if ever achieve their purpose. Alcoholics Anonymous and the professional treatment clinics such as the Alcoholism Foundation have earned their place. They do work that have been successful in the treatment and rehabilitation of hundreds of thousands of men and women who had been considered "hopeless drunks."

Information is readily available for anyone who has a problem with alcohol whether his own or of someone close to him. All enquiries and counselling interviews are confidential. Write to the Alcoholism Foundation of Alberta, 9910- 103rd St., Edmonton.

TRAMWAY IN THE SKY The steel framework of an aerial tramway tower juts boldly from a Yukon mountain peak. It is part of a system to hoist men, food and fuel to mountain-top sites on the 1,200-mile Canadian National Telegraphs microwave network between Grande Prairie, Alta., and the Yukon-Alaska border. When completed late in 1961, the network will be a vital defence and civilian communications link between Alaska and the United States and will improve telephone and telegraph communications throughout the Canadian northwest. For most of the route, the microwave towers follow the Alaska Highway.

Dating the Dentist

Health Unit Notes

As baby grows into childhood, the years begin to mark themselves off in certain patterns. There's Christmas every year, then there's his birthday; there's Hallowe'en, and there are certain special visits — the annual check-up by the doctor, for instance. By the time Junior is 2½ or 3, he is ready to add another excursion to his list — the first of many regular, twice-a-year visits to the dentist.

Why Start So Young?

Cavities don't wait for children to grow up. 60% of three-year old children already have tooth decay. If these cavities are filled while they are small, they won't get big. If they are neglected, the child may lose some of his first teeth before the permanent ones are ready to come in. This often means that the second teeth are crooked, making it easy for tooth decay and gum disease to develop. Many mothers don't realize that the primary teeth are far less sensitive to pain than permanent teeth, and small fillings are practically painless.

It's a good idea to start your child on the habit of regular dental visits at an age when they can be pleasant experiences. The child who makes a friend of his dentist at an early age, and who keeps having his teeth [illegible] while decay is in the first stage, will never fear dental work. Tooth decay is most active during childhood, yet it is then that the growth of the teeth and jaw goes on. It will save many discomforts and even illnesses in later years to see that the child's teeth are always in first class condition.

What Junior Can Do

Of course you have been telling your child to brush his teeth or rinse his mouth after every meal ever since he first had teeth. But now the dentist will tell him, too, and Junior will begin to think that maybe there is something to it. It will be years before he will brush his teeth without urging, but it should be possible before long to have him head for his toothbrush at the first reminder. Of course the best way to develop the tooth brushing habit is by example. If the whole family automatically makes for their toothbrushes as soon as they get up from a meal, Junior is going to tag along without being told.

The reason it is so important to brush your teeth immediately after eating is that tooth decay is caused by acids produced by bacteria feeding on sweet food particles in the mouth. Brush them away, and you've brushed out the possibility of decay. Decay is increased by sweet foods such as cake, jam, pies and candy. Encourage you child to eat the foods for health i.e. milk, fruits, vegtables, meat, fish, eggs, cheese and whole grain cereals. Limit his candy eating to after meals, just before tooth brushing. You child can: take pride in shining white teeth, get the habit of brushing them within ten minutes of eating, form the habit of eating protective foods such as milk, peanut butter, brown bread, nuts and cheese, instead of tooth-decaying food such as soft drinks, candy, gum and cake.

What the Mothers Can Do

It is mother who makes the appointments and it is also mother who prepares her child for his dental date. It should be treated as a matter of fact, not a subject for discussion. It should be described like any other excursion, particularly like a visit to the physician — only this doctor is specially interested in Junior's teeth. If buying a toy or an ice cream cone is part of the usual shopping routine the same kind of treat should be promised after the visit to the dentist. Above all mother should not give her child the idea of fear. Many adults like to exaggerate their sufferings in the dental chair, which may have been real enough in the days before local anaesthetics were widely used. Never frighten your child by tales of torture or threats of the drill or anything else so silly. If you do, you will be storing up trouble for him and for yourself.

It is not hypocrisy, but quite true to tell a child that if he goes to the dentist regularly and looks after his teeth at home he will enjoy his dental visits. Children brought up this way look forward to a session with their friend the dentist. Never try to fool your child. Don't tell him that you are just going down town and then suddenly swing him into the dental office with out warning. If he is faced with corrective work like straightening teeth, don't pretend that it won't be a nuisance. If your child trusts you, he can take bad news.

Praise him for behaving well in the dentist's chair. It will be [illegible] in the way. [illegible]

What the Dentist Can Do

[illegible]

[illegible] maintenance of his teeth [illegible] makes it possible [illegible] to adulthood without the loss of a single tooth. In Canada today, the average [illegible]-year-old has already lost two permanent teeth. This [illegible] often the cause of teeth growing crooked and [illegible] and not being able to chew well. Neglected [illegible] suffer from gum disease [illegible] but not uncommon sight to see people in their early 30s with complete sets of false teeth.

The dentist can make friendly visits out of dental appointments; repair decayed teeth while the damage is slight; look ahead to the later development of the teeth and jaw and take steps to prevent trouble developing, and tell your child how to care for his teeth at home.
